CREEK'S CHANGING SCENE — Corte Madera Creek behind the Ross Post Office—where flood control work was recently finished — had a placid look yesterday (left) before rains hit. This morning, the scene had changed markedly (right) as runoff from the first major storm of the season gushed toward San Francisco Bay. Viet Fighting Drops To Seven-Year Low

No U.S. Troops In Any Major Encounters

SAIGON (UPI) — The Vietnam War was reported at its lowest ebb in seven years today, with no ground action involving American troops and South Vietnamese taking part only in a series of minor clashes in which they killed 32 Communists and lost one man.

The air war continued, and B52s struck inside the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) with 90 tons of bombs today for the first time in more than five weeks, hitting North Vietnamese storage bunkers. A second wave of B52s hit Communist held areas of the A Shau Valley.

A U.S. AH1 Cobra gunship was downed by Communist ground fire near Khe Sanh. The two crewmen were wounded.

The heaviest fighting was reported in neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

In Laos, a barrage of 122mm rockets fire by Communists and apparently intended for a Laotian military outpost crashed into the village of Nong Sapang Wednesday night, killing 21 persons, mostly women and children, and injuring 21 others. The village is 125 miles southeast of the Laotian capital of Vientiane.

The U.S. command in Saigon said today eight Americans were killed in the war last week and 13 wounded, the lowest casualty total since March of 1965. Official spokesmen attributed the low number of wounded to a drop in Communist artillery attacks last week.

Allied spokesmen came up with statistics to show the war had fallen almost to the level when it was still being called a guerrillas insurrection.

"It is certainly the lowest level (of Communist-initiated incidents) for a week since early in 1965," military spokesmen said.

Meanwhile, an American sergeant kidnaped a senior U.S. adviser and commandeered a helicopter at gunpoint then changed his mind and surrendered to the pilot of the helicopter, the U.S. command reported today.

U.S. spokesmen declined to identify the gunman but said he was a staff sergeant and medical corpsman at Hue and that he told the seized adviser he wanted to return to his family in Billings, Mont.

Holding the adviser at gunpoint the sergeant ordered the helicopter to Da Nang where he said he planned to commandeer a jet to the United States. But during the 40-minute helicopter flight to Da Nang he turned in his gun to the 'copter pilot, spokesmen said.

U.S. officials refused to say where he was detained but said the case was under investigation and no charges had been filed.

Military sources indicated the man he kidnaped was Lt. Col. Donald J. Zubriggen, 39, of Lawton, Okla., but official spokesmen refused to confirm whether Zubriggen was the man seized.

And at Chu Lai, the American Division folded its colors on a windswept parade ground here today and waslaid to rest with a brass band and honors from U.S. and South Vietnamese officials.

The Americal, the hard luck division which symbolized much of the frustration with the war in Vietnam, had an honorable funeral.

Its resting place was marked with a chest-high cement monument dedicated today by Gen. Creighton W. Abrams and Vietnamese Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam.

In contrast to some sordid spots on its record, the division's awards ceremony and final parade came off without a hitch.

Abrams, the U.S. troop commander in Vietnam, said "the division, its colors and its history symbolize all those who served it as a family. They represented honor, devotion to duty and conviction—and that's what this division has been blessed with."

Berkeley Asylum For Protesters

BERKELEY (UPI) — The city council has offered its facilities for asylum for military deserts and draft resisters.

On Tuesday, 10 Bay Area churches, one of them in Marin City, offered their facilities as "sanctuary" for deserters and others resisting military service.

The council, in a 6-1 vote yesterday, approved a resolution "to provide a facility for sanctuary" for "any person who is unwilling to participate in military action."

The resolution was considered to be unprecedented for a city governing body in the United States.

Edward E. Kallgren, regarded as a moderate on the council, said the action was not defying the "supremacy of the United States government or its legitimate powers."

"We want to dramatize our opposition to this war and our belief that the war has a direct adverse effect on all the cities of the country."

Kallgren said the city of Berkeley would place facilities of its own — and others it can negotiate — at the disposal of the churches.

The resolution warned city employees against aiding "any investigation, public or clandestine, of the sanctuary" or joining in the arrest of any military dissenter. The councilman said city policemen were included in the ban.

A Marin City church, scene of a mass arrest of AWOL servicemen in 1968, is one of 10 Bay Area churches offering sanctuary to military deserters and draft resisters.

The churches announced Tuesday in Berkeley they would offer asylum to war dissenters, specifically to sailors from the aircraft carrier Coral Sea,

First Big Storm Of The Season

The first major storm of the season hit Marin and Southern Sonoma today, causing a series of auto wrecks and stalls on Highway 101.

The storm, which began before dawn, had dumped an inch on San Rafael by noon.

Public works officials had no report of major flooding or storm damage, although Norris M. Rawles, San Rafael public works director, said several catch basins downtown had been plugged with leaves.

Winds gusted up to 30 miles per hour in Tiburon.

The National Weather Service forecast an 80 per cent chance of continued rain throughout the night, with clearing tomorrow.

Morning commute traffic was snagged on Highway 101 by at least three accidents. No injury

10 Make Bid For Seat On Water District Panel

By DAVID DIETZ

Like job holders seeking better work, 10 men politely made a bid last night for a vacant seat on the Marin Municipal Water District board. (Another water district board story, page 23.)

One by one, the hopefuls paraded before the board to list their qualifications and air their views as the other challengers remained in a corridor outside.

Aside from the fact that the session had an employment agency look to it, the proceeding was unusual in that it was held in public, a departure from the closed-door technique employed by most public agencies in Marin.

The question-and-answer session, aimed at finding a replacement for Ray W. Foreaker Jr., recently appointed county public works director, produced few surprises. The candidates, ranging from a plumber to the operator of a youth camp, were in general agreement on most issues confronting the district.

They believed, with minor exceptions, that the district had a right, if not a duty, to enter the sewage treatment business; they suggested minimum, if any, development of district open space for recreational use, and they believed agency entry into the controversial field of population control would be presumptuous.

There are 11 candidates for the post, to be filled by the board at its Nov. 23 meeting, but one, Halsey H. Lyon of Sleepy Hollow, couldn't attend. Those who did appear were Calvin B. Colt of Upper Lucas Valley, Thomas Belway of Woodacre, Daniel Davis of Marinwood, Donald Duerr of Marinwood, Jack R. Felson of Forest Knolls, Robert Raab of Fairfax, Merritt A. Robinson of Sleepy Hollow, Arthur T. Roth of Sleepy Hollow, Frank Solomon Jr. of Marinwood and Leonard Tibbot of San Rafael.

The board decided it would interview Lyon at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Greatest wavering among the candidates came as a result of board questions on Measure B, defeated overwhelmingly at the polls last week. District voters had been asked to approve a multimillion-dollar contract

Peking's U.N. Envoy Arrives In New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuanhua arrived today in New York to take China's seat in the United Nations and pledged to work for world peace and better relations with the United States.

The six-foot Chiao, a dark overcoat covering his gray-blue Mao suit, flew in from Paris with other members of the 46member delegation in 46-member first class section of an Air France plane. He read an arrival statement rapidly in Chinese and sped to his midtown New York hotel.

He beamed at a group of pro-Peking demonstrators who held up a big picture of Chinese Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung and carried slogans saying "Long Live the People's Republic"—which has said its seat in the United Nations was wrongly and illegally withheld from it for 22 years.

Also arriving today was Huang Hua, who will be the permament Communist Chinese representative to the U.N., an experienced diplomat who is expected to hold a series of backstage meetings with U.S. officials to complete arrangements for President Nixon's trip to Peking.

Chiao pledged that his country will work with the United

A Military Aid Trim Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate rejected today, 64 to 24, an attempt to slash $185 million more from a trimmed down, $1.2 billion foreign military aid bill as Congress worked against a Monday deadline to continue the worldwide U.S. assistance program.

The measure is the second part of a two-bill package to revive aid legislation that the Senate voted to kill Oct. 29. Its companion $1.1 billion economic-humanitarian aid measure passed the Senate Wednesday.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., proposed to slash the military aid bill to an even $1 billion.

The administration originally wanted $2 billion and sought to increase the bill by $318 million, contending that more money was vital to support Vietnam's beleaguered neighbors and to permit continued U.S. troop withdrawals.

The Senate approved the economic bill 61 to 13 after turning back efforts to increase it and to relax its toughened lending requirements.

One of those requirements would force interest rates on foreign aid loans up to levels that most participating countries would not be able to afford. This restriction practically gutted what was left of a key section authorizing development loans to indigent nations.

In addition, the measure passed Wednesday was $425 million less than the administration requested.

A tougher test was ahead for the military aid bill, set for a vote today. Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said the measure would slow down withdrawals from Vietnam unless the money

Remap Bill Forces Behr-Marks Fight

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —With strong bipartisan support, the Senate today passed a reapportionment plan creating a Los Angeles Chicano district while forcing two Republican legislators to battle each other for political life.

The measure was sent to the Assembly on a 33 to 2 vote after just 20 minutes of debate. Intense negotiations on it were conducted behind closed doors the past few weeks.

"We have done as good as any reapportionment bill has done," said Sen. Mervyn Dymally, chairman of the Reapportionment Committee. "Under the circumstances, it was the best we could do."

Dymally, the Senate's only black member, told colleagues that additional minor changes would still be made in the measure, if bipartisan agreement can be achieved first.

Before the final vote was taken, the Senate beat back a last-minute attempt by Sen. Lawrence Walsh, D-Huntington Park, to amend the bill by redrawing new boundaries he said would make it a "fair and equitable" bill. His amendments were defeated 11-25.

Republican leaders said Gov. Ronald Reagan probably would sign the bill.

The reapportionment — required at least once every 10 years—is designed to preserve the Senate's present 21-19 Democratic majority, but not add to it.

One last-minute compromise extended Democratic Sen. Walter W. Stiern's Bakersfield district through a narrow corridor over the Coastal Mountains into the University of California at Santa Barbara, and down another corridor into San Bernardino.

To symbolize the compromise, Dymally displayed to newsmen a small red hatchet which he said Democrats and Republicans had buried.

Senate Republican Caucus Chairman John L. Harmer of Glendale agreed. It was Harmer who forced Democrats by indirectly threatening a gubernatorial veto, to alter their original plan to make the final

Patrick Must Take The Stand

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The president of Holiday Magic, Inc., of San Rafael has been called to testify before Federal Trade Commission hearings on the cosmetic company's alleged "unfair trade practices."

William Penn Patrick, an unsuccessful contender for the 1964 Republican gubernatorial nomination, will take the stand Friday to defend his firm against 28 pages of charges filed by the FTC.

The commission alleged that Holiday Magic's sales and distribution system tends to "hinder, frustrate, restrain, suppress and eliminate competition" and that it discriminates in its pricing of products.

Man Picked Up At Gate Alive Believed Leaper

An unidentified man was picked up alive today in the wind-whipped waters of San Francisco Bay after apparently leaping from the Golden Gate Bridge, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Only four persons previously have been known to survive leaps from the span.

The Coast Guard said the man, who reportedly jumped from the walkway near the bridge's south tower, was picked up by a cutter and taken to Fort Point to a waiting ambulance. The leap took place about 11:15 p.m.

Thomas C. Baker III of Chicago was the last to jump from the bridge and survive. In 1969, Baker plunged 260 feet, suffering a ruptured spleen and a broken leg.

Airplane, 56 Aboard, Missing

JAKARTA (UPI) — A Vickers Viscount four-engine turboprop of the Indonesian-run Merpati Nusantara Airlines was reported missing Thursday with 56 passengers and seven crew members on board. A company spokesman said two foreigners were aboard the missing plane, one a British subject and one of still unidentified nationality.

The plane was believed to have run into bad weather on its flight from Jakarta to Padang in West Sumatra Wednesday morning.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Broadcast Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reuven Frank, president of National Broadcasting Co. news, said today that the First Amendment's guarantee of free speech "was written not to protect the press but to protect Americans" and applies to broadcast media as well as print.

"If there is anyone in this room who still believes that the First Amendment is the cozy private property of the printed word I say to you that if the First Amendment does not apply to broadcasting it no longer exists," Frank said in remarks prepared for the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism fraternity.

Only Five Bodies

FT. MEADE, Md. (UPI) — The man who flew Col. Oran K. Henderson's command helicopter during the 1968 assault on May Lai said yesterday he saw the bodies of only five Vietnamese on the ground while circling the area.

13 Buried Alive

KAWASAKI, Japan (UPI) — A group of Japanese officials and newsmen were buried alive by a landslide today while studying a geological experiment to see how heavy rainfall could trigger such slides in the mountainous islands that make up Japan.

Preliminary figures by police said at least 13 persons were killed and eight others injured in the slide which was caused when a sprinkling system played the equivalent of 20 inches of rain on the hillside where they were standing.

Moon Once Active?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Information gathered by a satellite backs up the belief that the moon was geologically active at one time and perhaps still is, according to a UCLA report released yesterday. The report said the satellite data revealed the moon was girdled by a magnetic field that fluctuates according to the topography of its surface and strengthens the contention of geological lunar activity.

Dr. Paul J. Coleman Jr., head of the UCLA team that made preliminary analysis of the satellite data, said the crater-pocked backside of the moon has a much "bumpier" magnetic field than the front side, which is dominated by "mares," or smooth seas.

A Moon Adventure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — An aerospace executive says a group of businessmen approached him about a commercial moon flight which would cost at least $350 million and might gross twice that.

Milojko Vucelic, director of programs and experiments for North American Rockwell in the Apollo and Skylab programs, said an Apollo mission without scientific experiments would cost about $350 million. Vucelic said the businessmen, whom he did not identify, hope to bring back 500 pounds of moon rocks.

"If they can make them into some kind of mementos and sell them for just half the price of diamonds, that would bring in $500 million," he said.

Besides, Vucelic said, "They can take 1,000 pounds of material to the moon."

New Galaxies

TORONTO (UPI) A Dutch-born astronomer at the University of Toronto says he has discovered three new galaxies, raising to 20 the number known to comprise the "local group," those in the Earth's area of the universe.

The university said Sidney Van Den Bergh, 42, a professor of astronomy, had discovered three "dwarf spheroidal" galaxies, about two million light years away in space. One light year is equal to six trillion miles. It is the distance light travels at its speed of 186,000 miles per second.

The university said Van Den Bergh made the discovery using photographs taken with a 48-inch Schmidt telescope on Mount Palomar in California.

The new galaxies were described as "nearby but faint," one one-ten-thousandth as luminous as larger, spiral-shaped galaxies.

The Homely Look, Heart Disease Tie

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)— Children with a certain combination of homely facial features also may have a rare heart defect, two Canadian scientists said Wednesday.

They examined 13 youngsters age two weeks to 8 years who had flattened nasal bridges, elongated upper lips, low-set ears and wide-set eyes. The condition is known as hyper telorism.

Drs. Nigel K. Roberts and Dr. C. A. F. Mose of Toronto said all 13 of the youngsters who had the "peculiar facial appearance" had an abnormal narrowing of the artery that carries blood from the heart to the lungs.

They told the 44th annual scientific session of the American Heart Association that three of the subjects were mentally retarded and nine were physically undeveloped.

The heart defect, known as "supravalvular pulmonary stenosis," can be fatal, but two of the children had the artery widened surgically and "two years later are alive and well," Roberts and Mose said.

The heart condition is not believed to be inherited, but there is suspicion that it is caused in the embryonic stage, the way German measles can cause blindness in babies.

Hearing Ends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has ended its public hearings on President Nixon's two Supreme Court nominees Wednesday but it probably will be at least another week before nominations reach the Senate floor.

Baron Trial Opens In Santa Rosa

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—The prosecution said Wednesday it would prove that Joseph Barbosa Baron, reputed underworld enforcer, killed 26-year-old Clay Wilson in a dispute over $140,000 worth of stolen securities.

In his opening statement in Baron's murder trial, Prosecutor Ronald Fahey said Wilson had given the securities to Baron to dispose of but then later became distrustful of Baron and demanded the bonds be returned.

Baron was accused of murdering Wilson near Glen Ellen in Sonoma County in July ,1970.

Public defender Marteen Miller conceded the two men were involved in disposition of the securities, which were stolen in a 1969 residential burglary in Petaluma.

But he argued Baron, 39, shot Wilson in self-defense. He said Wilson normally carried a gun in a pocket and another smaller gun in his boot.

At the time of the shooting, he said, Wilson pulled the pocket weapon and fired at Baron, who took the gun away, knocked Wilson down, then shot him twice when Wilson went for the gun in his boot.

Miller said the shooting actually resulted from an address book belonging to Baron in which were listed names and telephone numbers of government agents which Baron had dealt with in 1968 when he testified against several Mafia members from the East Coast.

Miller contended that Wilson became distrustful of Baron after learning of the book.

The prosecution's first witness, Santa Rosa pathologist David T. Clary, testified that Wilson had been shot twice in the head and was very probably lying on the ground at the time.

The testimony began following jury selection which took three weeks.

Television Show Held Toy Plugger

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has been told that nearly half the kiddie television show "Romper Room" is used to plug toys and other products commercially linked with the "Romper Room" firm.

Testimony Wednesday also alleged that toys heavily advertised on television often are overpriced and of poor quality, that vitamin pill advertisements aimed at children could prompt harmful overdoses, and that possibly misleading camera techniques are used in commercials for several well known toys including the "Barbie" doll.

Advertising industry witnesses countered with claims that children's advertisements are honest and save parents shopping time because the child can write his want list from commercials and other advertisements.

The testimony came during FTC hearings on modern advertising practices. One issue facing the agency is whether it should impose special standards for policing ads aimed at children.

F. Earle Barcus, professor of communication research at Boston University, described a study of one week's run of "Romper Room," a syndicated program broadcast live with a local hostess.

Barcus said "Romper Room" brand toys and toys made by Hasbro, an associated firm, not only were advertised on the program but also demonstrated as part of the program format. Other product tie-ins also were used, he said, in several ways including this prayer-product sequence:

"God is great, God is good, let us thank him for our food. Now you may have your Tropicana orange juice from the Pleasant Hill Dairy."

"If we add up all of the commercials, tie-ins, promos, and time spent playing with brand name toys, we find that 45 per cent of the program for the week was commercially oriented —designed to promote its own products," Barcus testified.

Evelyn Sarson of Action for Children's Television, Inc., Newtonville, Mass., quoted this from a 1969 survey by Playthings, a toy industry trade publication:

"Repeatedly, both retailers and wholesalers returned surveys with harsh words for the TV-advertised toys; these items were most often labeled as overpriced and below standard."

Miss Sarson urged the FTC to ban drug and vitamin pill advertisements aimed at children. She said the messages contain no warnings although "children who eat too many vitamin pills fortified with iron can develop fatigue, vomiting, diarrhea, and possibly develop shock and go into a coma." She said an overdose meant about 35 tablets.

Firm Draws Warning On Marin City Land

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency has put California Development Co. on notice that the agency will file suit to regain control of lands in Marin City unless a scheduled round of negotiations bears fruit by Nov. 22.

The negotiations, in which the redevelopment agency seeks to force the development company to begin development of 167 Ridgeland Acres, will begin sometime next week, according to executive director Wallace K. Shepherd.

Through the negotiations — or the court action should it become necessary — the Marin County Housing Authority and the redevelopment agency hope to spur development of the ridge property and regain control of 60 acres of lowlands.

California Development, a New York-based firm, is still exclusive developer of Marin City and thus has legal control of the flatland property.

Shepherd said the agency has received permission from the department of Housing and Urban Development to sue California Development and voted Tuesday to do so unless progress in the negotiations is made before Nov. 22.

When the housing authority sold 167 acres of ridgeland to the company in 1961 for $441,000, the land was considered a plum for whatever company developed Marin City. The authority has held the company's final payment in escrow, however, because California Development has not undertaken the redevelopment.

In other action Tuesday, the agency board renewed the contract of its attorney, Leland H. Jordan, for the coming year. He will be paid $35 per hour up to a maximum of $8,000.

Oyster Kill A Puzzler

Cause of the oyster kill in Drake's and Tomales bays this fall remains a mystery to the marine resources station of the state Department of Fish and Game.

The largest kill occurred in the hot weather in September and ended about the first of October, Walter Bahstrom, associate marine biologist, said yesterday.

It hit in Drake's Bay for the first time, where it killed 50 to 66 per cent of the fat, mature oysters. In Tomales Bay, the kill ran 10 to 20 per cent, Bahstrom said.

"We can't say for sure what it is," he said. "We can't say it's a virus, but we think it's an algae."

A fine-feathered algae, entermortha, settles on the mature oysters and in hot weather produces hydrogen sulfide which kills the oysters, according to the biologist.

There is no chance of infected oysters getting to market because they die and float out of their shells, he said.

Gordon Sanford, owner of Tomales Bay Oyster Co. at Point Reyes, said that he has made a study of the summer kill in oysters, but without success.

"I have sent samples to the federal government, the state and other oyster experts, but no one can pinpoint the cause of the kill," Sanford said.

He has compared findings with other oystermen up and down the coast. He said that the kill is erratic, striking anywhere from Morro Bay to Humboldt Bay.

He also compared the resistance of strains of oysters. Seed oysters from Washington and British Columbia are more resistant to summer kill than Japanese seed. However, the northern seed is only available every four or five years and does not grow as fast as the Japanese seed, Sanford said.

Sanford said he normally loses 5 percent through natural causes and 15 to 20 per cent through summer kill. This fall the kill may run as high as 70 per cent.

He would not estimate his loss in money until he started harvesting oysters and actually got a count on the number of oysters killed.

Innocent Plea To Two Counts

Aurelio Mendoza, 35, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of petty theft and concealing stolen property.

Pretrial conference was set for Monday.

Mendoza and Pablo Isail Corcio, 22, of San Francisco, were arrested Oct. 23 at a Mill Valley restaurant after police said they found a stolen bicycle in their van.

Corcio has the same two misdemeanor charges pending against him in municipal court, although court records indicate he has been released to U.S. Immigration officials.

Dissolution Of Marriage Granted

Thomas E. McCormick Jr. of Ross, clinical director of the Ross Psychiatric Center, and his wife Shirley have been granted an interlocutory decree of dissolution in Marin Superior Court.

According to a petition he filed in court, they were married in 1952 in Oregon and separated on March 15, 1970. They have two children.

Boy Is Killed In 101 Truck Accident

An 8-year-old boy was killed and three other persons injured yesterday when a pickup truck slammed into the center divider on Highway 101 and rolled over three times, throwing the boy from the cab and crushing him.

Todd Craig suffered massive skull fractures in the 11:52 a.m. accident and was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital, according to the Marin County Coroner's office.

The California Highway Patrol said the boy's mother, Gloria F. Craig, 28, of 38 Main Street, San Quentin, was driving the truck north on Highway 101 near the truck scales in Marinwood when the vehicle careened into the center railing.

A highway patrol officer at the scales said the truck rolled over three or four times, ejecting the boy and running over him.

Mrs. Craig and another son, Brad, 4, and a third passenger, John Nelson, 2, of 15 Wiltshire Avenue, Larkspur, were taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for treatment.

Mrs. Craig was being held at the hospital today for observation of unspecified injuries. The two boys were treated for bruises.

The death was the county's 30th traffic fatality this year, compared with 36 this time last year.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

REMAP

redistricting version more favorable to GOP senators.

Harmer and Dymally said there probably would be a court suit challenging the constitutionality of the plan. But they said the measure should withstand the court test.

Neither legislator expressed support for suggestions that an independent commission be created to draw future reapportionment lines rather than keeping the job with the legislature.

The measure has been the subject of protracted negotiations between Republicans, who believed Democrats were unfair in their original redistricting measure, and Democrats who believed as the majority party they should call all the shots on reapportionment.

With the threat of a veto by Gov. Ronald Reagan of any bill failing to meet GOP specifications, Democrats were forced to concede to Republican demands in several cases.

Since the South grew faster the last 10 years in population, the North had to surrender a Senate seat, which the GOP was forced to give up by combining two of their senators into one district.

Sen. Milton Marks of San Francisco and Peter H. Behr of San Rafael will be thrown into a common district under the plan. Marks would run for reelection next year, but Behr, who was elected to a four-year term last year, would not have to run again until 1974.

If Behr chooses to seek reelection, he would have to face Marks presumably in 1974, which would give him two more years to become known in the new district which includes most of Marin County, an equal amount of population in San Francisco and a portion of San Mateo County.

The district surrendered by the North would be placed in central Los Angeles, where it would have a predominately Mexican-American voter registration which presumably would be Democratic.

But the district of Democratic Sen. Lawrence Walsh of Huntington Park would be shifted partially into Orange County, where he could be defeated by a Republican.

His defeat, the sacrifice of a Republican in the North and a win by a Chicano Democrat, according to the Democrats, would leave the Senate at its present 21-19 ratio of Democrats to Republicans.

WATER

with the Sonoma County Water Agency to deliver Russian River water.

Although most of the hopefuls didn't say whether or not they were opposed, two indicated support. "I would have liked to have seen it go through," said Davis, a retired banker. Roth, a civil engineer, held that arguments used by Measure B opponents were "distorted and misleading" and lamented that the district had been prevented from campaigning by court order.

Most blamed the defeat on public fear of growth. "People see what has happened to Southern California," said Belway, a plumber whose hair was pulled back in a pony tail. "Why, we're pumping water to a dying carcass."

Colt, chairman of the successful citizen campaign to keep the Renaissance Pleasure Faire and cultural center out of Upper Lucas Valley, said he believed the board now faces the difficult tasks of meeting projected growth through other means and involving the community more in its planning.

Tibbott, a retired printer, said the public felt it had been excluded from decision-making that led up to the election.

Belway, joined later by Raab, a public information officer for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., favored a program of public education on water conservation. Still, Raab said, "more water is going to be needed."

Duerr, business administrator at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and former Sausalito city manager, said the "years have gone by" when the district was charged merely with supplying water, adding that "we're in a whole new ball game" that "opens up challenges and problems."

While Solomon, an attorney and member of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District board, and Robinson, a consulting engineer, raised the possibility of using reclaimed water for irrigation purposes, Felson, operator of Forest Farm Camps in Forest Knolls, said if "you start talking about recycling and reclamation, you'd better be certain what you're doing."

Felson also said the district board should "get out of the board room and into the community" to offset complaints of bureaucratic indifference.

The candidates generally agreed that zoning laws, not a program of water restriction, must control population growth, although Solomon said the water district and local government should work together on planning.

Film And Lecture Scheduled Sunday

A film and lecture by British photographer John Pauling is scheduled for Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at Olney Hall on the College of Marin, the college has announced.

The film, entitled, "Filming in No Man's Land," and the lecture are sponsored by the college and the Marin Audubon Society.

ASYLUM

scheduled to depart for Vietnam tomorrow.

Rev. James E. Symons, copastor of Saint Andrews Presbyterian Church in Marin City said the decision to join the other churches was consistent with a vote four years ago by the church's governing board to offer sanctuary to war resisters.

Nine young men accepted the church offer in July 1968 and chained themselves to nine clergymen at Saint Andrews in a 12-hour protest of the Vietnam War.

The protest was broken up by a squad of military police who entered the church during a communion service and arrested the servicemen.

Reverend Symons said the offer of Asylum is "more than a symbolic gesture" in the light of the incident at the church three years ago.

"Although nobody has asked us for sanctuary yet, we're making this commitment for peace in case anyone wants to," he said. "We're not trying to convince anyone to desert or seek sanctuary, though."

He acknowledged the concept of sanctuary, rooted in antiquity, has no legal recognition today but he said he hoped military authorities "wouldn't disturb the people who come to this sacred place to express their witness."

If authorities were to come into the church to arrest servicemen, however, "we wouldn't stop them. We're committed to non-violence."

Other churches offering "sanctuary" are: University Lutheran Chapel, Berkeley; Sacred Heart and St. Benedict's Roman Catholic churches in San Francisco; Mary Help of Christians, a Catholic church in Oakland; The Session of the First Presbyterian Church, Palo Alto; the Community of St. Ann's, a Catholic parish in Palo Alto; Hayward Area Friends; Palo Alto Friends; Berkeley Friends; and the Jesuits for Peace and Justice at the Jesuit School of Theology, Berkeley.

AID

is increased, but opponents said it already was too much money.

Stennis introduced an amendment to increase the measure by $318 million. He claimed that the funds remaining in the bill would not be enough to pay for ammunition for the Cambodian army.

The Monday deadline resulted from a ruling by the General Accounting Office that the economic aid program will be out of business unless Congress acts to continue appropriations. The GAO said $4.7 billion left over from past Congressional appropriations may not be used to pay salaries or administer the program.

Even if the two-bill Senate package is passed, approved by the House and signed by the President, Congress still must pass an appropriations bill to fund the program.

Vacancy Filled On Fire Board

William J. Carter has been appointed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to replace William F. Carroll on the Tiburon Fire Protection District board and Fred C. Hannahs has been appointed to another term.

Board secretary Wellman J. Topham said the two were the only applicants to file for two vacancies on the board. If there is no contest in a race the supervisors may appoint those who file rather than require an election, Topham said.

The men will take office Tuesday and attend their first board meeting Dec. 8, Topham said.

Davis Case Prejudice Underlined

By MARY LEYDECKER

A pollster for the Angela Davis defense team testified today in Marin Superior Court that there is as much prejudice against Miss Davis in Santa Clara County as in Marin, and perhaps more.

Judge Richard E. Arnason last week ordered Miss Davis's trial moved to Santa Clara after saying her attorneys had shown she could not receive a fair trial in Marin.

Miss Davis's attorneys, however, are fighting the transfer to Santa Clara, holding to their original contention that only in San Francisco can she get a fair trial.

Today Jeffery Paige, a University of California sociology professor, returned to court to compare the polls he had taken in Marin and Santa Clara County.

He said the surveys showed there is an equal amount of prejudice against blacks and militants in the two counties but that Santa Clara residents are even more prejudiced against communists than are Marinites.

Also taking the stand today was a Chicano professor, Dr. Jorge T. Acevedo, who teaches at University of California at Berkeley and at San Jose State College.

Despite protests from Harris, Acevedo was allowed to start describing incidents which he said showed the "reaction of the majority community to minority activism" in Santa Clara County.

Acevedo, a bearded man with a rolling Spanish accent, told of a parade protest several years ago where he said a tactical squad was used against Chicano demonstrators.

"There is pervasive racism" in Santa Clara County, Margaret Burnham, one of Miss Davis's attorneys, said.

It was not known whether Arnason would rule today on whether to move the trial elsewhere or stick with his earlier decision to send it to Santa Clara County.

Among the spectators in the courtroom today was Rev. Ralph Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Abernathy said he has been arrested 32 times and had never seen "a worse court" than today's session.

STORM

was reported. The California Highway Patrol said the wrecks occurred in Greenbrae, Marinwood and near the Marin-Sonoma line, and at least one was a multicar pileup.

Besides San Rafael, these rainfall figures were reported in Marin and Southern Sonoma at 8 a.m. today: San Anselmo, .86 of an inch; Ross, .82; Woodacre, .81; Santa Venetia, .80; Point Reyes Station, .68; Novato, .60; Petaluma, .25, and Tiburon, .13. In addition, .72 of an inch had fallen in the Chevy Chase area of Larkspur by 10:30 a.m.

Car Accident Cuts Power

A large portion of Petaluma was without electricity last night after a car struck a guide wire and damaged lines on Lakeville Highway.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. officials said today the driver did not report the accident at 7:13 p.m., so repairmen spent nearly an hour looking for the cause of trouble.

Homes on the eastside and southside of Petaluma were without power for nearly two hours in some cases.

CHINA

Nations "for the cause of safeguarding international peace and promoting human progress" and that his country "has consistently stood for the establishment and development of normal relations with other countries.

"The people of the United States are a great people and there exists a profound friendship between the peoples of China and the United States," he said. He then pledged Sino-American friendship.

He spoke facing a barricaded area containing about 200 newsmen and photographers' Uniformed police—part of a security force of 200 at the airport—formed lines on each side of Chiao as he spoke.

The Chinese left the plane through a rear door about 15 minutes after the other passengers disembarked. There were no customs nor immigration formalities and the entire group set off in a cavalcade of cars for their hotel.

There was a minimumof protocol for the historic occasion and a maximum of security against possible anti-Communist demonstrations. There was no official welcome by the city, state or federal governments and only a small U.N. delegation was present.

A six-member advance Chinese delegation had made arrangements with immigration, customs and other authorities to waive the usual formalities and speed the entire 46-man delegation off to the Roosevelt Hotel in midtown Manhattan aboard a fleet of 17 rented, chauffeur driven cars.

The Chinese delegation had spent Wednesday night in Paris so it could arrive in a body, but because of reservation difficulties it was forced to split into two groups.

Chiao and Huang, until recently ambassador to Canada, are close associates of Premier Chou En-lai and accompanied him on his many diplomatic travels. Huang was reported to have met in Peking with Chou and Presidential adviser Henry Kissinger to plan the Nixon trip.

Man Treated In Stabbing

A 24-year-old man was hospitalized last night with a self-inflicted knife wound in the abdomen, Novato police reported.

Brice Anderson Sullivan of 1196 Simmons Lane, called police at 11:46 p.m. to report that he had stabbed himself. He told police that he was despondent over not finding work.

Police reported that he had used a three-inch knife and that the wound was superficial. Sullivan was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment.

Truck Found; Men Escape

San Anselmo police recovered a stolen pickup truck yesterday, but three men in the vehicle escaped on foot, police said.

A patrolmen saw the 1966 International pickup cross the center line on Sir Francis Drake, police said. However, when chased, the truck turned onto Oak Knoll Drive and stopped on Medway Road, where the men fled, police said.

Police said the vehicle had been reported stolen by John W. Grupe Jr. of 30 Novato Street, San Rafael.

OBITUARIES

WALTER VAN TILBURG CLARK

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Walter Van Tilburg Clark, author of "The Ox-Bow Incident" and winner of the O. Henry Short Story Award, died Wednesday of cancer. He was 62.

Clark, a resident of Mill Valley in the late 1950s and early 1960 while teaching at San Francisco State College, had been ill in recent years and hospitalized several times.

"The Ox-Bow Incident" was published in 1940 and was deemed by critics a masterpiece of psychological drama in the Western genre.

The short novel concerns a lynching and delves into the characters of the victims and perpetrators. It was later made into a motion picture and starred Henry Fonda.

Clark's other works included the "Track of the Cat" and "Reno, The City of Trembling Leaves."

Born in East Orland, Maine, Clark moved to Nevada at the age of eight. His father, Dr. Walter Ernest Clark, was president of the University of Nevada.

Clark's wife, Barbara, whom he married in 1933, died in 1969.

Clark held professorships in English at the Montana State University and San Francisco State College where he was chairman of the creative writing section of an English Department that included such authors as Mark Harris and Harvey Swados.

He resigned his position at San Francisco State in 1962 to become writer-in-residence at the University of Nevada but later quit his post there.

DORA GOODMAN

Dora Goodman, 78, of Larkspur, died yesterday in a local hospital following a two-month illness.

A native of New York, she had spent 57 years of her life in Washington, D.C. She was secretary to a Kansas congressman in the 1920s.

Mrs. Goodman moved to Marin two years ago to live near her daughter. Before entering the hospital she had lived briefly at the Tamalpais Retirement Residence in Larkspur.

She was a member of Hadassah.

Mrs. Goodman is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Leon Levintow of Kentfield and Mrs. Floyd Kessler of Palo Alto, and a sister, Ruth Klein, and brother, Ben Aronson, both of Washington, D.C.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

GRANT THOMPSON

Memorial service for Grant B. Thompson, former San Anselmo police sergeant who died yesterday, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Thompson, 39, lived at 119 Olema Drive, Fairfax.

MAE EKLUND

Private funeral for Mae N. Eklund, retired practical nurse, was held today in Novato.

Mrs. Eklund, 62, of 6 Romar Court, Apt. 13, Novato, was found dead in her apartment Tuesday. Cause of death is pending an autopsy, according to Keith C. Craig, deputy coroner.

She was born in Lovelock, Nev., and grew up in Fort Bragg. Her husband, Robert Eklund, is a veteran of World War II, serving 20 years in the Marine Corps. He owned the H. R. Eklund Electric Co. in San Rafael until he retired. Mrs. Eklund had worked as a practical nurse in San Francisco until she retired.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, Robert Eklund Jr. and a daughter, Naomi Digrazia both of Novato; another daughter, Carol Lundgren of Tahoe City, Calif.; eight grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Burial was in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Innocent Plea

William Perry Wolfe, 23, of 1323 Lincoln Avenue, Apt. 4, San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge that he sold a gram of heroin to a Marin narcotics agent on June 3.

Hardin May Leave The Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin, who has been under fire from some farm state congressmen for not aggressively protecting agriculture, is expected to leave President Nixon's cabinet by early 1972 or sooner.

One of the farm state critics, Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, said "reliable sources" high in the administration told him Tuesday night Hardin would be "quitting by the end of the year."

A Republican senator, who is a member of the Agriculture Committee and close to the administration, said he had heard Hardin's resignation would be effective in early 1972. The senator, who asked not to be identified said "a lot of political consideration" would focus on a successor. There were other indications that Hardin might be leaving sooner. White House officials refused comment, and Hardin, who returned Wednesday from a trip to Turkey, would not make himself available to reporters. Administration officials said there had been no dissatisfaction with Hardin's performance.

Hardin, 56, a native of Knightstown, Ind., joined Nixon's cabinet when the President took office in 1969. Hardin had spent the previous 14 years as chancellor of the University of Nebraska.

Hardin's selection to the cabinet came as a surprise, but he has built a reputation as a quiet, low-key but effective workman in the always-hectic arena of farm politics. In 1970, after a drawn-out series of negotiations with farm bloc lawmakers in both parties, he engineered passage of a major new farm bill which drew a surprising amount of bipartisan support in Congress.

The new program continued payments to farmers who idle acreage, but struck out in new directions by switching to a more flexible production control system which gives farmers more leeway in deciding which crops to grow.

It was this extra flexibility which contributed to some farm belt grumbling against Hardin this summer. When a feared attack of corn blight disease failed to materialize and grain production zoomed to record, price-depressing levels, critics attacked the move away from the old system of putting specific acreage limits on major grain crops.

Big Defense Bill Gains Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House Appropriations Committee approved a $71 billion defense money bill today after complaining that the military was doing too much spying and promoting too many generals.

The panel recommended to the House a reduction of $2.4 billion in the amount of funds sought by the Pentagon for the fiscal year which began July 1.

But despite its proposed cut, $1.5 billion remained above what Congress appropriated for the same purposes last year.

In a report accompanying the measure, the committee acknowledged that the increase over last year might seem strange in view of the winding down of the Vietnam war and the steady reduction in men under arms. It attributed the increase to inflation, the desire of the administration to avoid boosting the nation's unemployment total and the inclusion in the budget by the Pentagon of programs that could not be financed while the Vietnam war was at full swing.

In its most pronounced cut, the committee slashed the Defense Department's intelligence appropriation by $181 million. The committee explained that because the figure was classified it could not reveal how much had been asked. But it termed the reduction "sizeable."

Pentagon intelligence operations, which do not include the activities of the CIA or the State Department, have grown beyond the actual needs of the military, the panel asserted.

Although it took no direct budgetary action, the committee ordered the Pentagon to investigate "the obvious high proliferation of high ranking officers" in the 2.7 million member armed forces. It said it had already conducted its own review and was not happy with what it found.

"The review revealed that there are more three and four star generals and admirals in uniform today (190) than there were at the height of World War II (139), when there were over 12 million men and women in uniform," it said.

"Even more startling," added the committee, was the number of colonels and lieutenant colonels (and navy captains and commanders) today compared to June 30, 1945. There are nearly 6,000 more now than there were then, it pointed out, and yet there are 900,000 fewer officers in uniform.

President Millard Fillmore was born Jan. 7, 1800 in Cuyuga County, New York.

Senate Unit Eyes Court Nominees

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate Judiciary Committee began closed-door consideration of President Nixon's two Supreme Court nominees today with opponents of William H. Rehnquist seeking to delay a vote on his appointment.

Richmond attorney Lewis F. Powell, the other nominee, appeared to have no major obstacle to committee approval.

But Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said in advance of the meeting he intended to force a delay of at least a week in committee consideration of Rehnquist, an assistant attorney general.

As part of his maneuver, Bayh sought to have a separate committee vote on the two nominees. Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, also a committee member, served notice he would try to block separate votes.

Bayh argued at a news conference: "It is unheard of for two nominees to go like Hansel and Gretel on the Supreme Court."

Arraignment For Kidnap Figure

CONCORD (UPI) —Ex-convict Joseph Pontarelli, 29, was arraigned Wednesday on 15 criminal counts in the kidnaping of a 15-year-old girl he allegedly held captive for 44 hours.

Jack DeVore, father of the kidnaped girl, Debbie DeVore, had to be restrained by friends in court at the reading of the charges, which ranged from kidnap, assault and sex perversion to possessing an illegal weapon.

Mt. Diablo Municipal Court Judge Wroy F. Renaghan asked the suspect whether he wanted an attorney.

"No," said Pontarelli, "I'm ready to plead now."

The judge refused to hear the plea and continued the case until today so the Public Defender's office could become familiar with the situation. Bond was set at $250,000.

Pontarelli, who served time in a Washington State prison, was arrested without a struggle Tuesday several hours after about 30 police officers surrounded the house where the girl was being held.

She was dragged from the Pleasant Hill home of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitlow on Sunday. She had gone to spend the night there with the couple's daughter, Susan, also 15.

The Whitlow girl was struck on the head and her parents were shot and seriously wounded.

Police said the kidnaper saw the two girls at a carnival, followed them home and entered the house when the occupants were asleep.

New York's Rosy View

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Association for a Better New York takes a rosy view of New York's tourist industry, the city's second largest. The association reports that more than 16 million tourists and convention delegates came to New York during 1970, spending more than $1.25 billion. It said the industry continues as a vital force in the city's economy.

Marin Schools' High Test Marks

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin County public schools are, in most cases, among the best in the state according to scores their pupils made in statewide testing in May 1970.

Tabulation of the 1970 test results was presented to the state Board of Education today by Wilson C. Riles, superintendent of public instruction, in the form of a 620-page mimeographed book, full of statistical tables.

School districts were ranked from 1 to 99 on test scores and a number of other factors, 99 being the highest possible ranking.

Pupils of two Marin elementary school districts — Ross and Union — made the select 99 ranking in four categories. Nicasio School sixth grade pupils ranked 99 in reading.

Thirteen Marin elementary school districts were within the top 10 per cent in the state — ranked 90 or above — in one or more categories.

Three of them — Dixie, Ross and San Rafael — were in the top 10 per cent in all the tests: reading in first, second, third and sixth grades, and language, spelling and mathematics in sixth grade. Larkspur was in the top 10 per cent in all except first grade reading.

San Rafael and Tamalpais High School Districts both ranked at the top of the list, with 99 scores, in the 12th grade language test. Tamalpais district was also in the top 10 per cent in 12th grade reading and mathematics tests.

Ranking in the top 10 per cent in one or more of the tests were pupils in Dixie, Kentfield, Laguna, Lagunitas, Larkspur, Lincoln, Mill Valley, Nicasio, Reed, Ross, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Union elementary districts.

Statewide, California pupils averaged below the publisher's norms on most of the tests: in reading in first, second, third, sixth and 12th grades and in language, spelling and mathematics in sixth and 12th grades. There was wide variation among school districts. Individual schools' scores were not shown in the tabulation.

Most Marin districts, however, ranked uniformly high.

Here is how the Marin school districts scored, with 99 representing the highest group and 1 the lowest group in the state:

Bolinas-Stinson — First grade reading 42, second grade readcg 89, third grade reading 87, sixth grade reading 68, sixth grade language 34, sixth grade spelling 42, sixth grade mathematics 18.

Dixie — First grade reading 92, second grade reading 92, third grade reading 93, sixth grade reading 95, sixth grade language 92, sixth grade spelling 96, sixth grade mathematics 96.

Fairfax — First grade reading 40, second grade reading 56, third grade reading 75, sixth grade reading 80, sixth grade language 81, sixth grade spelling 75, sixth grade mathematics 75.

Kentfield — First grade reading 72, second grade reading 76, third grade reading 93, sixth grade reading 98, sixth grade language 94, sixth grade spelling 94, sixth grade mathematics 95.

Laguna — First grade reading 97, second grade reading 77, third grade reading 26, sixth grade reading 1, sixth grade language 7, sixth grade spelling 5, sixth grade mathematics 3.

Lagunitas — First grade reading 94, second grade reading 42, third grade reading 81, sixth grade reading 91, sixth grade language 69, sixth grade spelling 54, sixth grade mathematics 83.

Larkspur — First grade reading 89, second grade reading 97, third grade reading 95, sixth grade reading 94, sixth grade language 95, sixth grade spelling 96, sixth grade mathematics 95.

Lincoln — No first grade; second grade reading 95, third grade reading 25, sixth grade reading 8, sixth grade language 16, sixth grade spelling 5, sixth grade mathematics 80.

Mill Valley — First grade reading 87, second grade reading 86, third grade reading 91, sixth grade reading 93, sixth grade language 90, sixth grade spelling 90, sixth grade mathematics 91.

Nicasio — First grade reading 91, second grade reading 32, third grade reading 57, sixth grade reading 99, sixth grade language 97, sixth grade spelling 32, sixth grade mathematics 89.

Novato — Unified — First grade reading 71, second grade reading 78, third grade reading 82, sixth grade reading 83, sixth grade language 77, sixth grade spelling 85, sixth grade mathematics 78, 12th grade reading 41, 12th grade language 53, 12th grade spelling 26, 12th grade mathematics 50.

Reed — First grade reading 78, second grade reading 86, third grade reading 90, sixth grade reading 95, sixth grade language 87, sixth grade spelling 91, sixth grade mathematics 93.

ROSS — First grade reading 98, second grade reading 99, third grade reading 98, sixth grade reading 99, sixth grade language 98, sixth grade spelling 99, sixth grade mathematics 99.

San Anselmo — First grade reading 89, second grade reading 87, third grade reading 92, sixth grade reading 91, sixth grade language 90, sixth grade spelling 92, sixth grade mathematics 91.

San Rafael — First grade reading 91, second grade reading 91, third grade reading 91, sixth grade language 90, sixth grade spelling 91, sixth grade mathematics 90, 12th grade reading 82, 12th grade language 99, 12th grade spelling 83, 12th grade mathematics 81.

Sausalito — First grade reading 77, second grade reading 52, third grade reading 36, sixth grade reading 6, sixth grade language 17, sixth grade spelling 22, sixth grade mathematics 2.

Tamalpais High — Twelfth grade reading 92, 12th grade language 99, 12th grade spelling 88, 12th grade mathematics 92.

Union — First grade reading 16, second grade reading 23, third grade reading 99, sixth grade reading 20, sixth grade language 99, sixth grade spelling 99, sixth grade mathematics 99.

Shoreline Unified School District was not included in the report.

Scores for such small districts as Laguna (enrollment 23), Lincoln (15) and Union (12) depended largely on whether there happened to be one or two especially bright or slow children in a class. The Department of Education cautioned to "interpret with caution" the scores of such districts.

The report tabulated many other factors which might be expected to affect the pupils' accomplishment —teacher salaries, class sizes, family poverty, staff turnover, and expenses per pupil, among others. None, however, seemed to influence the pupils' scores consistently.

In expenditures for instruction, Ross, which was one of a handful of the top districts in the state in the test scores, spent $603 per pupil, according to the report, while Sausalito, where the pupil performance was lowest among the Marin districts, spent $1,312.

Four School Districts In Petaluma Area Place High

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Pupils in four Petaluma area school districts placed in the top 10 per cent statewide in average scores in the May, 1970, statewide testing program, as disclosed in a final report submitted today to the California Board of Education.

Little Dunham School District (52 pupils) was at the very top in sixth grade language and reading, ranking 99, the highest possible, in each, and was almost at the top in sixth grade mathematics, with 98, and reading, with 96.

Liberty School District also placed in the top 10 per cent in sixth grade language, spelling and mathematics tests. Two Rock School District sixth graders were in the top 10 per cent in reading.

Cinnabar School District placed in the top 10 per cent in first and second grade reading tests, and in sixth grade spelling.

Scores for the eight Petaluma area elementary school districts and Petaluma High School District were as follows, with 99 representing the highest possible ranking and 1 the lowest possible:

Family Found Slain In Rural Oregon Home

ROSEBURG, Ore. (UPI)—An elderly man, his wife, and their deaf-mute daughter were found shot to death Wednesday in their rural home near this western Oregon city.

Sheriff's deputies said robbery was the apparent motive in the slayings. The home had been ransacked.

The victims were Edward Williams, 79, a retired logger, his wife, Moble, 54, a waitress, and their daughter, Sharon, 27, who was an honor graduate of the State School of the Deaf in Salem in 1961.

The bodies were found after Mrs. Williams' employer telephoned a neighbor when she failed to show up for work.

Authorities said a purse belonging to one of the women was found in Cottage Grove, about 20 miles north of here, and the family car was found abandoned in Sutherlin, 15 miles south.

Restaurant Corporation Hit For Price Fixing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) accused Chock Full O' Nuts Corp. today of illegally fixing the prices charged by its 38 franchised restaurants in New York and New Jersey.

The FTC said Chock Full O' Nuts also illegally restrained competition by requiring the franchisees to buy food and supplies from the parent firm.

Under the agency's proposed consent order, Chock Full O' Nuts can agree to stop the allegedly illegal practices without admitting guilt, or contest the case before a federal hearing examiner.

In action yesterday, the FTC proposed rules designed to protect "own your own business" prospects from being bilked by franchisers. The rules would require the franchiser's initial sales pitch to include detailed financial disclosure, including how many franchisees lost money the year before.

The franchiser also would have to disclose whether the firm or its officers had been convicted of fraud or declared bankruptcy. Even after signing a contract, the franchisee would have 10 days to cancel it and get his money back.

The FTC said franchising has grown into a $100 billion a year business ranging from auto dealers to service stations to fried chicken stands. The agency scheduled public hearings Feb. 14 through 16 on the proposed rules.

Another Term For Lewd Films

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A nightclub owner was sentenced to another 180 days in the county jail Wednesday for showing lewd films — bringing his total time to 900 days.

Bernard (Happy) Koomer was already under a 720-day sentence for an earlier offense.

He also was fined $1,000 on his latest conviction of showing films at his El Rancho Club. The convictions are being appealed.

Jewish Council Is Shocked By Russian Report

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The Union of Councils for Soviet Jews said Wednesday it was "shocked" by State Department testimony in Congress that a Western picture of discrimination against Jews in Russia was overdrawn.

In a telegram to President Nixon, the group said the testimony "clearly indicates that our government does not think the situation of Soviet Jews is serious enough yet to take a firm stand against their oppression by the Kremlin."

Richard T. Davis, deputy assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs, told a House subcommittee of foreign affairs that the condition of Soviet Jewry had not worsened in recent years.

He said there were Jews prominent in government and the professions out of proportions to their number in Russia and there was little evidence of widespread antiSemitism there.

The union said "almost every other free World leader has already publicly criticized the Soviet authorities.

Two New Restaurants Approved At NWP Depot

San Rafael planning commissioners have allowed two new restaurants to go ahead with plans to be part of the old North-western Pacific Railroad depot, but had to ignore parking requirements to do it.

At first, planning director Herbert G. Hotchner told the commission Tuesday evening, that the only action they could take was to deny "Sub Hut" and "Salt Fish and Chips" the use of the Tamalpais Avenue building.

Hotchner said such use of the building would violate fire and building codes.

Biggest obstacle, however, was disputed ownership of adjacent land proposed to provide parking for the restaurants. E. T. Ghirardo of 45 Mitchell Boulevard, proposing the restaurant projects, showed a lease from Northwestern Pacific for such use. But Hotchner said the city claimed the land and planning commission recognition of the lease might prejudice the city's claim.

The developers had proposed to pave and stripe a strip of unused land east of the tracks to fulfill their parking requirements. But since rails have been pulled up from the strip, the city considers title to have reverted back to the original owner — San Rafael, planning staff told the commission.

Any stand taken on the property would lessen the chance of San Rafael working out agreements with the railroad on other city contested lands, Hotchner said.

Commissioner Thomas R. O'Toole thought this problem was of no concern. "Ever since we got Puerto Suello tunnel rebuilt, we'll never get anything else from them" he said.

House Acts; Lifts Lid On Rhodesia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has agreed to a partial lift of an embargo against Rhodesia, which is under a United Nations' boycott because of the white controlled government's racial policies toward the black majority.

The House voted 252 to 101 Wednesday night to lift the U.N.-backed embargo in order to import chrome ore. In London, the British Parliament, as it had done annually since 1965, extended economic sanctions against Rhodesia for another year. Government sources said the extension came without a vote because Foreign secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home was flying to Rhodesia Sunday for talks and did not want to be embarrassed by a vote. Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn., who led the unsuccessful fight to defeat the Houses' provision, charged that if the United States begins "to import chrome ore from Rhodesia, we will be in violation of international law."

The Rhodesian provision was part of a conference report on a $21 billion authorization for spending on weapons for the current fiscal year. The report has yet to pass the Senate, although the chrome amendment originated there.

The conference report also included a weakened version of an end-the-war amendment authored by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

The compromise retained Mansfield's controversial amendment establishing "the policy of the United States" to withdraw totally from Indochina subject only to one condition: release of prisoners of war and an accounting by the enemy for U.S. missing in action. But conferees stripped the requirement that disengagement be completed within six months after enactment of the bill.

The bill also contains these provisions:

A $350 million ceiling imposed by the Senate on U.S. aid to Laos, excluding U.S. air support and bombing. It is designed mainly to control CIA involvement.

Language restricting deployment authority of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile to two sites and advanced preparation to two others at a cost of $1.1 billion.

A $62.8 million House research and development effort, designed to produce six prototypes of the main battle tank as requested by the Senate.

Ranch Annexation Approved By Agency

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night approved the annexation of the 285-acre Thomas A. Nunes Ranch in Upper Lucas Valley to the Lucas Valley County Service Area.

Annexation of the property is the first step toward purchase of the land which the Lucas Valley Homeowners Association, advisory group to the service area, hopes to operate as a greenbelt park.

The property to be acquired is the hill to the north of Lucas Valley homes. It has an assessed valuation of about $74,000, based on an estimated market value of about $296,000.

In related action, the commission also authorized an expansion of authority for the Lucas Valley service area to include park and recreation functions.

The service area in the past has been authorized only to provide fire protection which it contracts from Marinwood.

Under its new authority, the service area with consent of the county board of supervisors will be able to tax for park and recreation operations.

The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission also:

NOVATO — Approved Novato's annexation of the 43-acre Roberts property on Trumbull Avenue. The property has a planned community zoning designation.

MARSHALL — Approved the annexation of the town of Marshall to the North Marin County Water District.

CEDARS SCHOOL — Approved annexation of the 19-acre Cedars Development School near San Anselmo to the Ross Valley Sanitary District. Septic tanks are failing on the property, located just south of Tamalpais Cemetery.

JUVENILE HALL — Approved the annexation of the county's Juvenile Hall property to the Marin Municipal Water District which has been servicing the property for years.

12-Vote Victory For Town's Mayor

MANILA (UPI)—Mayor Santiago Mangubat today was declared reelected by 12 votes in the town of Tungawan in the Philippines' Zamboanga del Sur province. His son, also a candidate, has filed a protest, contending many of his votes wound up in his father's favor.

Roberto Mangubat ran against his father, claiming he could provide better leadership as mayor.

'Ridiculous' Charges— Reinecke

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Armed with Gov. Ronald Reagan's vote of confidence, Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke today denied as "utterly ridiculous" an ex-aide's charges he is spending huge sums of public money to run for governor and conspiring against Reagan.

A Reagan spokesman termed Reinecke the best lieutenant governor in California history.

Reinecke acknowledged it is "my intention" to run for governor in 1974, when Reagan has announced he will not seek a third term, but insisted all his purely political expenses are paid out of a separate private kitty financed by Republican contributions.

As for a conspiracy against Reagan, Reinecke said "That's the best one of the bunch."

The Republican lieutenant governor also was accused of ignoring minority groups, not keeping abreast of the issues and cynically adopting positions designed to enhance his political ambitions.

"We've gone out of our way to work with ethnic, religious and minority groups and I'll stand on my record," Reinecke said in an interview.

The unprecedented charges were leveled at Reinecke by his former top assistant, Hal D. Steward, 49, who parted with the lieutenant governor Tuesday after only seven weeks on the job.

Crowds Please Grinning Castro

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro reflected on the tumultuous welcome he got Wednesday from a million Chileans, grinned and said, "I would sincerely recommend that they make a movie of this arrival and send it to Nixon."

Police said one-third of Santiago's population of three million lined the 14-mile route into town from Pudahuel Airport as Castro rode in an open convertible with President Salvador Allende. It was Castro's first visit outside Cuba in seven year.

"The imperialists have again lost the ideological battle, because this meeting (with Allende) would never have occurred if they had been able to bury the revolution in a sea of lies," Castro said.

"In spite of everything, the imperialists could not prevent us coming. If I would have listened to the threats of the imperialists, I would have had to bring an armored car."

Asked whether he was wearing a bullet-proof vest, Castro laughed.

"I am not even wearing an undershirt," he said, smiling.

Castro was completing the ceremonial part of his 10-day visit to Chile today with a courtesy call on Allende at La Moneda, the presidential palace. He will fly to the northern Chilean city of Antofasta Friday to start a tour that will take him nearly the length of this 2,600-mile-long nation.

Castro arrived aboard a Soviet-made Huyshin il2 jetliner with a Russian crew on a nonstop flight from Havana for his first trip abroad since visiting the Soviet Union in 1964.

As Castro's motorcade passed through some of Santiago's more poverty-stricken neighborhoods, the reception was wildly enthusiastic.

"Cuba Si! Yankee No!" children chanted. Thousands waved tiny Cuban flags.

But as the motorcade approached the Cuban ambassador's residence —Castro's destination—in the luxurious Vitacura section, well-dressed adults and students from private schools hissed and booed the motorcade. Several shoving incidents erupted as ers who walked into the neighborhood carrying red flags were repulsed by residents of the upper class neighborhood.

Hiring Of Firemen Requested

Representatives of four east Corte Madera homeowners' groups asked the town last night to hire enough firemen to keep town fire stations open at all times.

Herber C. Leney, president of the Mariner Cove Improvement Association which sponsored the gathering, said the call for immediate action was made because homeowners fear study of town fire coverage will drag out for months.

A special committee appointed by the town council has voted to hire consultants to study the town's fire protection, which was attacked after four homes burned down.

Leney said the request for action was made by his group and representatives of homeowners in Marina Village, Mariner Green and Mariner Highlands.

The groups also discussed fears of traffic congestion from the proposed Meadowsweet Station townhouse development which would place 540 units south of the Koch luggage plant, Leney said.

Senate Balks On Reagan Appointee

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate Rules Committee has balked at confirming Gov. Ronald Reagan's renomination of William Penn Mott Jr. as state parks and recreation director.

Acting committee chairman Robert S. Stevens, R-Los Angeles, told a newsman Wednesday after the committee's action that Mott "did not have the votes" needed for confirmation.

Forest Park Group Seats New Leader

David J. Warner was elected president last night of the Forest Park Homeowners Association at its annual meeting at San Jose Junior High School in Novato.

According to past president Mark E. Cory, the association voted to participate in the luminario decorations again this Christmas Eve and Christmas night, Cory said. It will try to get everyone in the area to participate, he said.

Innocent Plea To Check Fraud

Linda Marie Elliott, 20, of San Francisco pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to three counts of fraudulent possession of checks.

Her trial was set for the week of Feb. 14, 1972.

She was arrested in September for allegedly cashing stolen checks in San Rafael.

Balboa discovered the Pacific Ocean Sept. 25, 1513.

Fred Harris Exits—Broke

WASHINGTON (UPI) —After a quarter of a million dollars, the well went dry for Sen. Fred R. Harris, the poor man's candidate. He was a victim of poverty in the costly arena of presidential politics.

"... I'm broke," Harris said when he withdrew Wednesday as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. "I owe a lot of money and I'm out of money."

With that announcement, Harris ended a hectic six-week campaign in which he sought to form a coalition of new populists and win the nomination. He never was given much chance. He also announced he would not seek re-election to the Senate.

Harris' withdrawal was expected to have little, if any, effect on Democratic presidential politics. But the list of possible contenders continues to shrink.

The current lineup:

Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota the only announced candidate left.

Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington as certain to formally declare, probably before the end of the year.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York as strong possibilities to mount full campaigns for the nomination.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York committed to selected primaries and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas active but uncommitted.

In response to questions at a news conference, Harris acknowledged that he would not "absolutely foreclose" the possibility of again becoming a candidate for the 1972 nomination.

But as of now, Harris said, he was prepared to sign the required affidavits which would keep his name off the ballot in several primary states.

The 40-year-old Oklahoma senator said he could not support any of the potential candidates "because I don't see anybody speaking about the real issues." At the same time he rejected the possibility he would join a new party movement.

Harris said he spent between $250,000 and $300,000 since Sept. 24 when he announced his candidacy. He is now $40,000 in debt and added "I don't know how I'm going to raise that."

The senatorsaid "If I could see $50,000 a month up to the primaries, I would run," picking small and less costly states to wage his campaign.

The grassroots campaign raised a "considerable amount of small money," Harris said "but it did not develop rapidly enough to keep the campaign office open."

Harris said his outspoken campaign to break up big business monopolies "worried some people" who might have contributed. He also said that Mrs. Chisholm's candidacy hurt because both had to draw from the same financial sources.

Prison Panel Is Ready To Report

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Goldman committee, set up to protect the civil rights of prisoners following the Sept. 9-13 Attica Correctional Facility rebellion, will report soon that some inmates were not informed of their rights during questioning, it was learned Wednesday.

Robert P. Patterson, an attorney and one of the committee's five members, said a three-page report by the panel could be released Friday or Saturday, as soon as the last two members have signed it.

The two, Donald H. Goff, general secretary of the Correctional Association of New York, and Luis Nunez, head of Esperia of America Inc., were both out of the city.

Contacted by UPI, Patterson said the report would explain the committee's accomplishments in improving investigation procedures in the two-week period after the rebellion was put down.

Bound Over On Forgery

Jerry Ray Wade, 21, of San Rafael, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on charges of credit card forgery.

He is to be arraigned in superior court Monday.

Wade was arrested Oct. 27 when San Rafael police, acting on a tip, reportedly found stolen credit cards at his home.

Hike Seen In Production Of Recycled Paper

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Paper Institute predicted Wednesday the industry's use of recycled paper would increase 2.7 per cent this year, 2.8 per cent in 1972 and 3.0 per cent in 1973.

The institute, in its annual survey of paper, paperboard and wood pulp capacity, said this would mean consumption this year of recycled paper would be 12,345,000 tons and 13,071,000 tons by 1973.

By contrast, the industry's total capacity will rise only 2.5 per cent this year and 6.2 per cent in the three years from 1972 through 1974. In numbers, this would mean a total capacity of 60,400,000 tons this year and 64,214,000 tons in 1974.

Two Women Burned —Die-Together Pact

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Two young women who thought it would be "lovely to die together" were in critical condition today from extensive burns suffered in a double suicide attempt.

The two women, described as drifters, wrapped themselves in gift paper and set themselves on fire Wednesday. They still were burning when police discovered them sitting Indianstyle on the kitchen floor of a duplex near the University of Michigan.

"Two officers saw flames coming from the area and heard these girls screaming," Police Chief Walter krasny said. "They were not doing anything to put this fire out. They were on the floor, legs crossed, facing each other."

The officers took the women to the burn unit of the University of Michigan Medical Center after firemen smothered the flames by wrapping them in heavy blankets.

The victims were identified as Anita McQueen, 20, of Livonia, Mich., and Raell Weinstein, 26, of Skokie, Ill. Krasny described both as drifters, "Just sleeping where anyone would take them in. Someone who lived there apparently befriended them and took them in for the night."

Krasny said that in the ambulance, one victim placed her burned hand on the hand of the other and said, "It's lovely to die together."

"We have no idea why they would do something like this," Krasny said. "They didn't use gasoline or anything like this. We presume they were fully clothed in street clothing and just set themselves on fire."

Tryouts Set For Agatha Christie Play

Tryouts for Agatha Christie's "Witness for the Prosecution," will be held from noon to 5 p.m., Nov. 28 at the Novato Community House, according to Paul Terry, publicity chairman.

They will be repeated from 7 to 11 p.m., Nov. 29 at the same place.

The play will be presented by the Novato Community Players at 8:30 p.m., Feb. 25, 26, and March 3 and 4 at the community house.

Some of the main characters in the mystery are Leonard Voleland and his wife, Romaine, Sir Wilfred Robarts, Solicitor Mayhew and the judge. There are other supporting roles for men and women.

Hog-Tying Murder Is Charged

HOUSTON (UPI)—George Albert Whittington, 27, told police he got into trouble for the first time when he was 11 and tried to derail a freight train.

"I remember putting ties across the railroad tracks and trying to wreck the train," police quoted him as saying.

Whittington, a 6-foot-2, 220-pound former mental patient, was held today on charges of murder in the hogtying of a Tennessee teen-ager who was placed face down in a bathtub full of water.

The 18-year-old victim was abducted with four other teenagers who were hitchhiking from Tennessee to Texas Tuesday night. The others, including a married 16-year-old girl, were kept captive in a house in Houston and beaten, gagged, choked and tied with leather strips.

Three of them were dragged into a bedroom closet and the door nailed shut.

Whittington was arrested in the house with the surviving youths. He told police one of the teen-agers had some marijuana which they smoked.

Police said Whittington was released from an Austin, Tex., mental hospital eight years ago. His wife and child left him several months ago, police said. "He was crazy. He just babbled on," said Robert Franklin Davis, 16, who managed to escape from the house about dawn Wednesday and call police.

"He pulled me up off my feet with the cord. I got hot and blacked out. I gave it all up —I thought I was dead for sure. But I came to. I was on the floor. I had been pulled up by my neck on a door.

"Next, he got Eddie. He said he was going to take a bath."

Eddie Seat, 18, later was found lying face down under water in the bathtub, his hands tied behind his back to his legs.

Davis and his sister-in-law Candy Marie Davis, also 16, suffered bruises and rope burns and were hospitalized. Kenneth Mark Colvin, also 16, and Michael Wayne Davis, 19, Candy's husband, were not hospitalized. All were from Dyersburg, Tenn.

Connally Eyes Surcharge Lid

TOKYO (UPI)—Treasury Secretary John Connally said today the United States will remove its 10 per cent surcharge on foreign goods when its balance of payments problem is solved.

He ended two days of talks with Japanese leaders on the world monetary crisis by inviting three Japanese cabinet leaders to come to the United States within six weeks for detailed talks.

Connally's work day concluded with a two hour and 10 minute meeting with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato. The two men were alone except for two interpreters. Neither Japanese nor American officials discussed the content of the talks.

Japanese sources said Connally asked Sato that no information be given out on the meeting.

"We have made it abundantly clear we will remove the surcharge when it is clear that we can obtain an equilibrium in our balance of payments," the former Texas governor told a news conference before his meeting with Sato.

"I assure you it is a temporary measure. We are not protectionists."

Connally denied that he had given the Japanese a specific list of demands to help end the financial losses the United States has suffered almost yearly since the Korean War. However, he left little doubt that he wanted Japan's contribution to be substantial.

"It can be in many forms," he said. "It can be in the form of revaluation of currency— realignment of currency—it can be in the form of lifting restraints and restrictions and tariffs.

"It can be in the form of contributions to mutual security, or it can be part of all of these."

He predicted the United States would suffer a $3 billion deficit in trade with Japan this year, and would show a loss in its total international trade for the first time in 100 years.

Two More Policemen Killed In Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Gunmen shot and killed two policemen in Belfast today. And in Londonderry, Roman Catholic women publicly disgraced another girl, the third in 24 hours, for associating with British soldiers.

The slain policemen were the 10th and 11th police victims of extremist gunfire between predominantly Roman Catholic and Protestant groups. The double slaying was in the Ardoyne district where British oldiers seized an Irish Republican Army officer two days ago.

A spokesman said the two policemen were in uniform but off duty in the car park at the rear of the police station in Oldpark Road when they were fired on from the Ardoyne area by gunmen who apparently escaped into the Catholic area.

The deaths brought to 157 the number of persons killed in two years of Ulster violence and came as other gunmen sprayed bullets at a police station on the Irish Republic-Ulster border. Four gunmen fired about 50 shots from the Irish Republic and British soldiers returned the fire, apparently hitting one gunmen.

Two young girls accused of associating with British soldiers were publicly shorn by Catholic women earlier in the week. One was tarred and feathered and the other was threatened with death. The latest victim was in Londonderry.

Onlookers said several women tied the victim, identified as 17-year-old Dierdre Duffy by police, to the same post in the Bogside area used in the incident Tuesday night. Her hair was cropped, printer's ink poured on her and a sign saying "Soldier's Doll" was hung around her neck, they said.

Vigilantes on the barricades that nightly close off the Bogside waved away newsmen and photographers trying to approach warning them, "You better clear off in two minutes, mates, or you'll get the same treatment." The photographers left.

Witnesses said the girl stood with her head bowed, the ink streaming down her face for 15 minutes before being released.

One Fire Report Never Explained

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—The State Forestry Department requires that firefighters file a complete written report after the fire is out, and one of the questions is: "How was the fire controlled?"

One firefighter scribbled in that the fire was put out "by the use of a woman's blouse." But there was no further explanation.

Legislature Change Sought In Michigan

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Backers of a one-house legislature for Michigan hope to have 450,000 signatures by next Jan. 1 to get the question on the ballot for the following November.

Spearheading the drive for the unicameral legislature are the Michigan Jaycees. They need 300,000 valid petition signatures by next June to qualify the one-house proposal for a spot on the November, 1972, ballot.

Jamaica's Roads

NEW YORK (UPI)—Although there are more than 2,500 miles of arterial roads and 6,500 miles of second roads on the island of Jamaica, the American Automobile Association cautions that 95 per cent of them are "narrow, curving and unpredictable."

Mariner 9 Nearing Mars For Saturday Touch Down

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — America's Mariner 9 closed in on Mars today, its cameras taking a picture every hour to show scientists the extent of the most severe dust storm ever seen on the puzzling planet.

The $65 million spacecraft, less than half a million miles away, will attempt to orbit Mars late Saturday for the first time to give its two television cameras and other instruments an unmatched view of the planet for at least three months.

Mariner 9 began its scientific examination of Mars late Wednesday by starting a 24-hour sequence of photographs planned to show the whole planet during one Martian day. The camera also was programmed to snap six shots of the tiny Martian moon, Deimos.

Engineers at the Mariner Control Center at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory monitored the camera operation and reported the spacecraft was operating normally.

The pictures were being recorded on tape aboard Mariner and were to be radioed back to Earth, 72.5 million miles away, between 6:16 p.m. and 9:23 p.m. EST today.

Dr. Bradford Smith, a Mariner project scientist from New Mexico State University, reported Wednesday that the massive yellow dust storm first observed by Earth-based telescopes in September is still raging on Mars although recent observations indicated it might be starting to subside.

"We can, however, be quite certain that the storm will not have cleared up by the time we arrive Saturday," Smith said. "This provides us with a very unusual opportunity to study a dynamic atmospheric process in action on Mars. Those team members who are interested in atmospheric phenomena are getting an extra bonus out of the mission."

Mariner 9 took 55 pictures of Mars Monday and Tuesday as engineering tests.Those shots, however, showed that most of the planet was masked by the dust clouds. Scientists expect today's photographs to give them a better look at the extent of the dust coverage.

RESIGN THEIR NAVAL COMMISSIONS

These three officers, in a news conference yesterday, submitted their resignations to the Navy to voice their "moral opposition" to the Vietnam War. All are from the aircraft carrier Coral Sea which is scheduled to sail to Vietnam tomorrow from the Alameda Naval Air Station. In the news conference held in San Francisco the trio doubted the Navy would act before the sailing date. They said they would obey orders to ship out. The three are (left to right) Lt. (jg.) James R. Meyers, 26, of San Diego; Ens. Frank H. Phillips, 23, of Seattle, and Lt. (jg) James A. Lanius, 24, of Tampa, Fla. (UPI Telephoto)

New Framework In Price Control

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration has laid down the framework for the next phase of its economic controls. General Motors will be covered but your neighborhood used car dealer escapes scot-free.

Rents will remain under government control —except for houses or apartments which took in their first tenants after Aug. 15, or those on which major improvements have been made.

In the second of three major policy announcements on the post-freeze economy, the Cost of Living Council Wednesday revealed which companies will have to ask permission from the government to raise their prices and wages when the freeze officially ends at midnight Saturday.

It also unveiled a large list of items whose prices were frozen during the last three months but which will now be free of all controls. These included all used products —such as houses, cars and machinery —plus Army surplus equipment, antiques, wigs and even stuffed owls.

The Cost of Living Council decided Wednesday that all U.S. corporations with annual sales of $100 million or more must ask the government in advance for permission to increase prices. This will cover such giants as General Motors and, in general, the 1,300 biggest American firms doing 45 per cent of all U.S. business.

Firms with annual sales between $50 million and $100 million will have to report to the government every three months on changes in prices and profits and those with sales under $50 million will not have to report but will be monitored on a spot basis.

Companies with 5,000 or more employes will have to notify the government in advance if those employes are due for a pay raise. It is estimated that 10 per cent of the U.S. work force is employed by firms with payrolls of that size or larger.

Companies employing 1,000 to 5,000 persons will have to make reports to the government when their workers get raises, but not in advance.

Okinawan Pact Is Ratified In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Okinawa, whose capture by the United States nearly 27 years ago cost 122,591 lives and marked the end of World War II in the Pacific, is only a penstroke from being returned to Japanese dominion.

The Senate approved 84 to 6 Wednesday a treaty to return the Ryukyu Islands to Japan. The Senate action came amid reports of street riots on Okinawa where the United States maintains a strategic military base.

Actual ratification of the treaty will be delayed by President Nixon until Japanese legislators complete their approval of the document in about six months.

The battle for Okinawa began April 1, 1945 and ended 83 days later with the loss of 110,071 Japanese troops and 12,520 Americans.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said the "overwhelming" approval by the Senate "constitutes a ringing affirmation by the people of the United States to our Japanese friends and allies of the friendship, trust and mutuality of interests which form the basis of our relationship with that great nation."

Senate approval came on a roll call vote following mild debate Tuesday and three days of quiet hearings by the Foreign Relations Committee.

The only opposition to the treaty was from senators who expressed concern that the United States would be unable to fulfill military commitments in the Asian Pacific without full use of the base at Okinawa. The United States will have to seek permission from Japan to operate the base after the treaty takes effect.

Israel Reports Another MIG Flyover; Third Since August

By U.P.INTERNATIONAL

Two Syrian MIG21 jets flew over Israeli positions in the Golan Heights today and Israeli jets were sent up to meet the intruders, an Israeli military spokesman said in Tel Aviv. He did not say if contact was made.

It was the third such incident in the occupied Golan Heights area since a Middle East ceasefire was restored on Aug. 8, 1970. The spokesman said the jets flew in low over Quneitra, formerly the main community on the heights, and immediately streaked for home.

There were indications meanwhile of strong differences between Israel and the United States over ways to achieve peace in the Middle East and Israeli Ambassador Yitzhak Rabin flew home today from Washington for consultations.

At the same time, a spokesman announced that Defense Minister Moshe Dayan would visit the United States within the next two weeks on a fund-raising mission. Israeli newspapers said Dayan also would meet with top U.S. officials.

Israeli Foreign Ministry sources said Rabin was on a "purely private visit." But diplomatic sources said it was certain he would brief the Israeli government on developments in Washington.

Rabin slipped away from the Tel Aviv airport after a two-sentence statement to newsmen:

"I can't tell you how Washington considers the latest Israeli proposals for opening the Suez Canal separately from any agreement as such. I cannot tell you anything new about the supply of Phantom aircraft."

An Israeli cabinet minister said Wednesday that Washington's refusal to grant additional Phantom jet fighters to Israel had sabotaged chances for a peace settlement in the Middle East.

In other developments:

—Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan will visit the United States within the next two weeks, a defense ministry spokesman said. He said the exact date has not yet been fixed but Dayan "has a long-standing invitation from the United Jewish Appeal to make this visit." Israeli newspapers said Dayan also would meet with U.S. officials, including Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

A bomb believed set by Arab guerrillas exploded in the rear seats of a Tel Aviv-bound bus during the morning rush hour today, slightly injuring two passersby. None of the passengers aboard the bus from Tira, on the northern coast, were injured because they all were sitting in the front part of the vehicle.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said Murad Ghaleb, minister of state for foreign affairs, will fly to New York Nov. 24 to attend the U.N. General Assembly debate on the Middle East.

Policeman Didn't See Newton Gun

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—The partner of a policeman Black Panther leader Huey Newton is accused of slaying has conceded he did not see a gun in Newton's hand the night his partner was killed.

Patrolman Herbert Heanes, under cross examination Wednesday in Newton's third trial, said he saw gunfire from the direction where Newton and officer John Frey were struggling.

"You don't know where the shots came from, do you?" asked Newton's attorney, Charles Garry.

"I don't know for a fact," Heanes responded.

Garry tried to show the officer was not an objective witness to the incident.

"You are biased, aren't you?" The attorney asked.

"I have an interest because of what he did to officer Frey and me," Heanes said, "but it is not affecting the truth of what I'm saying."

Earlier, under direct examination by prosecutor Donald Whyte, Heanes said he saw Newton fire a weapon.

Heanes said Newton was taken into custody for giving false information and failing to identify himself when he and Frey stopped his car for an alleged traffic violation.

Newton and Frey were walking toward the police car, Heanes testified, when he "saw the defendant spin to his left and start shooting."

"I drew my weapon and raised it in their direction. Then there was another shot and I was hit in the right arm."

"Then I swung back and saw the two of them tussling by the fender of the patrol car. I raised my revolver at the defendant and fired at his midsection," Heanes said.

Newton's first trial verdict was overturned on grounds of judicial error and a second trial last summer ended with a hung jury.

Mitchell Cleans Out Red List

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Attorney General John N. Mitchell has asked the Subversive Activities Control Board — already accused of having virtually nothing to do —to declare nonexistent 54 organizations listed as Communist fronts.

Mitchell announced he was filing petitions with the five-member board to remove the organizations from the Justice Department's list, where some have been listed since 1939.

Among them was the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, a volunteer group of Americans which fought for the defeated Loyalist forces in the Spanish Civil War.

The original list was compiled in 1939 at the request of President Franklin D. Roosevelt when the German-American Bund, a pro-Nazi organization, was at the height of its popularity although the board has been rendered virtually powerless in a series of court rulings, the federal government still regards membership in organizations on the subversive list as "one factor to be considered in determining whether the employment of a particular individuat is consistent with the interests of national security."

Thus, even membership in the Abraham Lincoln Brigade would have to be acknowledged by a prospective employe and considered by the employer in a federal agency.

The board has had virtually no work since Dec. 12, 1969, when a three-judge panel of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia struck down a section of the Subversive Activities Control Act, holding that naming members of the Community Party of Communist front organizations was unconstitutional.

The other organizations that Mitchell asked to be declared non-existent included the American National Labor Party, the American Nationalist Socialist Party, the Boston School for Marxist Studies, Central Japanese Association of Southern California, the Black Dragon Society, Bridges-Robertson-Schmidt Defense Committee of San Francisco, American Polish League of Los Angeles, American Jewish Labor Council, American League Against War and Fascism, and American Committee for Reconstruction in Yugoslavia.

All-Out War Urged To Check Mosquito Sickness

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A state health official has urged an all-out campaign against mosquitoes to prevent the spread to California of the sleeping sickness that killed hundreds of horses in Texas last summer.

Dr. Richard F. Peters, chief of vector control for the state Department of Public Health, said "everything is needed" to control mosquitoes, which carry the disease known as Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis.

Testifying Wednesday before the Assembly Environmental Quality Committee, Peters said the biological control of mosquitoes "is not promising of immediate rescue."

He urged the use of all methods of mosquito control, including pesticides, land preparation and irrigation which will avoid stagnant ponds where mosquitoes breed.

Earlier in the hearing, Herald Wixom, assistant state agriculture director, testified that only 5 per cent of agricultural pests can be effectively checked without pesticides.

The department favors more nonchemical controls, Wixom said, adding that more research was needed before biological controls could be widely used in place of pesticides.

But Harold Reynolds, chairman of the Department of Entomology at the University of California, Riverside, disputed Wixom's testimony.

He said "hundreds" of insects are controlled by biological means and that more than 5 per cent of the pests could be handled without pesticides.

Innocent Plea In Heroin Case

Ernest Edwin Scott, 38, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of selling heroin.

Preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 23.

Scott was arrested Oct. 14 on a warrant charging he sold $380 worth of heroin to a Marin drug abuse agent on Aug. 17.

22 Teachers In Association

Membership in the Secondary Teachers Association at Marin Catholic High School numbers 22 of the 38 instructors, Rev. Francis A. Lacey, principal, said yesterday.

The Independent-Journal erroneously quoted Father Lacey in a story Tuesday as saying membership in the group is kept secret. He actually said he didn't know the membership but believed it totaled about 13 of 38 teachers.

The association said Monday a strike vote is planned among lay teachers in seven high schools operated by the Roman Catholic Church's Archdiocese of San Francisco.

Dixie Governors Snub 'Old South' For A-Age

ATLANTA (UPI)—The "Old South" fell even further into obscurity this week as a batch of new southern governors spent little time on racial matters at the 1971 southern governors' conference.

The governors spent as much time in their private sessions on nuclear energy as they did on all other issues combined. A growing complaint that the Southern Interstate Nuclear Board, which was formed in 1961 to attract nuclear industry to the south, was ineffective resulted in the resignation of the board's executive director, Robert H. Gifford.

The governors also spent considerable time talking about education in the south, tax matters, and such things as land use, transportation, and human resources.

The most obvious departure for the Dixie governors was on the stance the conference took on the busing of school children.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama and Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi wanted the conference to take a strong stand against busing.

But the conference's resolutions committee, headed by Gov. Luis A. Ferre of Puerto Rico, wrote its own relatively mild resolution.

Even that resolution was further watered down once it reached the floor of the conference.

The governors backed away from fully endorsing the Nov. 4 action of the House of Representatives. While the governors endorsed part of the House action as a "first step" in establishing a national school desegregation policy, the governors cautioned against prohibiting the use of federal funds for school busing purposes.

Even the mild resolution that ultimately passed drew some criticism from Gov. Louie Nunn of Kentucky.

Nunn felt the conference should spell out a national policy for school desegregation, instead of simply asking for a "single national policy."

Gov. Reubin Askew of Florida, who was absent when the resolution was considered, went one step further and said the south should accept busing as a "temporary expedient" to achieve school desegregation.

Sea Turtle Slaughter For Hides Is Revealed

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — South Texas ecologist says thousands of sea turtles — including three species listed as endangered — are being slaughtered so two American companies may make shoes from the hide of their front flippers.

"Hell," Dr. Warren Thomas said Wednesday. "They're all endangered."

Thomas, director of the Gladys Porter Zoo opened recently in Brownsville to protect endangered species of animals, said he and his associates have discovered that the two companies have already imported 19,000 turtle skins out of Mexico in the past few months. The companies — one in New York and another in Texas —have a permit from the U.S. Interior Department for 100,000 more.

"A lot of times they don't even save the back flippers if they're too small," he said. Even the meat is wasted since most hide hunters don't have the facilities to preserve it, Thomas said. He said the hunters usually clip off the front flippers and then throw the rest of the turtle to the sharks.

Thomas said the turtle skins have quickly replaced alligator and crocodile skin products which have been banned from the U.S. market.

The zoo director said he learned of the new, lucrative turtle skin trade recently when the Interior Department called on him to help identify some skins being imported into Brownsville. He said he found skins of the Leatherback, Hawkbill and Atlantic Ridley turtles — specified as endangered under President Nixon's 1970 Endangered Species Act — mixed in with the Loggerhead and Green Turtle hides.

Mexico has a law protecting all turtles, Thomas said.

"Laws exist in the U.S. protecting the Hawksbill, Atlantic Ridley and the Leatherback, but until all are protected and products made from them become illegal to sell or possess, the slaughter will continue," he said. "Government officials are doing what they can to protect the turtles but often hides are only in transit through American ports with seemingly legal documentation."

Thomas said he had formally requested that the interior Department place all sea turtles under the Endangered Species Act.

Militant Area Worries Army

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UPI) — Will McGaughty, head of a neighborhood health center in a black area, needed more dentists for the center's free dental program and asked the U.S. Army Reserve for help.

McGaughty thought that dentists of the 25th Surgical Hospital Reserve Corps, based in St. Louis, could work at the center of their reserve duty time on weekends.

However, the Army refused. It said the neighborhood is unsafe for its soldiers.

Lt. Col. Ralph Pinion, commander of the Reserve Dental Corps unit, said he is concerned about the "physical safety of uniformed military individuals in an area of recognized militant civilians."

Plane Skyjacked By 'Drugged' Man

MOLINE, Ill. (UPI) — A bearded young man, described by a doctor as "on a high flight of something or other," announced that there was a bomb aboard a 707 jetliner Wednesday, forcing the plane to make an emergency landing at Quad Cities Airport.

No one was injured in the landing, though one woman passenger was hospitalized for treatment of shock. There were 76 passengers and seven crew members aboard.

A demolition squad from the Army ordinance depot at Savanna, Ill., searched the plane but no explosives were found.

As the young man was hustled from the aircraft by FBI agents, he was overheard to say, "Just because I was scared I made all this up."

Carl Brooks, 23, Oswego, N.Y., was charged with knowingly giving false information that there was a bomb aboard an aircraft. He was being held in the Rock Island County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The flight, American Airlines Flight 101, originated in Syracuse, N.Y., and stopped in Detroit prior to the emergency landing here. It was scheduled to fly on to Los Angeles and San Diego.

One passenger, Ida Schmidt, 68, Detroit, collapsed during evacuation of the plane and was taken to Moline Public Hospital, where she was treated for shock. She was listed in good condition and a hospital spokesman said she probably would be released today.

An American Airlines spokesman in Chicago said the plane's captain, Norman Andrews, made the decision to land at Quad Cities—an airport unaccustomed to handling planes as large as a 707.

"He elected to land at Moline because the guy looked serious. He indicated he had a bomb," the spokesman said.

A doctor who boarded the plane at Detroit, Henry Schoch, said he saw the young man roaming the back of the plane.

"He appeared to be on drugs and looked ill so I went back to see if I could be of help," Schoch said. "He said he was all right but upon looking closer I felt he was on a high flight of something or other.

"The man said there was a bomb aboard that would explode at 3,000 feet."

DES Link To Cancer Is Denied

GREELEY Colo. (UPI)—The president of the American National Cattlemen's Association says a synthetic hormone which has been linked to cancer poses no threat to consumers' health when fed to the nation's beef cattle.

William D. Farr, a cattle feeder in the Greeley area, Wednesday defended the use of the hormone following a Food and Drug Administration warning to doctors not to give diethylstilbestrol (DES) to pregnant women.

The synthetic hormone has been administered in the past to prevent miscarriage. The FDA said it had been statistically linked to a rare vaginal cancer in the offspring of some of the women who received it.

Farr said DES has been fed to cattle since 1954 and, combined with high energy feed, adds 10 per cent growth or about 50 pounds per animal.

As a precaution, the U.S. Agriculture Department has proposed that all cattle be taken off DES-treated feed seven days before slaughter, and Farr said his group would support the proposal although it could reduce the average weight of cattle by about five pounds.

"I think DES in cattle feed is safe for the public, and I believe under the new rules, the USDA and the FDA feel it's absolutely safe so far as the consumer is concerned," Farr said.

"Cattle feeders are producers of food and they appreciate their responsibility. If there was any question in any technician's mind, they just wouldn't do it."

Lawyers Fined For Not Telling Judge Of Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Everyone knew the case was settled but the judge.

So the wallets of attorneys Wallace Adams of San Francisco and Ronald Schenck of San Rafael were $50 lighter Wednesday.

U.S. District Judge Robert H. Schnacke fined the lawyers because they did not inform him that a case they were to try before him had been settled out of court.

The trial was to have started Monday but none of those concerned showed up in Schnacke's court.

The judge then ordered the attorneys to appear before him to explain why.

Innocent Plea In Grass Fire

Herbert Daniel Rama, 18, of 50 Glen Road, Novato, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to starting a grass fire on Bugeia Lane, Novato, July 11.

Preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 23.

Rama was arrested on a warrant Monday.

Prehistoric Skates Found In Russia

MOSCOW (UPI) — Excavations at a Bronze Age settlement in Kazakhstan have revealed that the prehistoric residents used ice skates made from the bones of large domestic animals, the Tass news agency said today.

"The shape of the skates closely resembles modern ones," Tass said.

Cranston, Tunney Silence Ends On Antitrust Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) —California's two Senators, ending weeks of silence, yesterday announced opposition to the exemption of El Paso Natural Gas Co. from the antitrust laws.

Sens. Alan Cranston and John V. Tunney, both Democrats, called a news conference to say they would oppose the bill by chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Commerce Committee.

The Californians, in a joint statement, called the Magnuson bill "a gigantic private relief bill" that would throw out four Supreme Court decisions and 14 years of antitrust litigation.

The two Senators rejected arguments that El Paso should be allowed to keep control of the Pacific Northwest Pipeline Co., which the Supreme Court has said El Paso acquired illegally, in order to make El Paso better able to serve the West.

In explaining their delay in taking a stand, Cranston and Tunney recognized "that men of the highest integrity and good will believe that this legislation is essential both to the Pacific Northwest and to California." For that reason, they said, they had spent "considerable time and effort" in studying the measure.

"We believe there has been entirely too much political invective involved in this case. The interests of the people of California would not be well served by a knee jerk reaction to this legislation in either direction."

Magnuson, who was joined by 10 other western Senators in introducing the bill, has contended repeatedly that Pacific Northwest consumers will have to pay more for gas if El Paso must turn its Northwest Pipeline over to a smaller company.

The bill was to have been taken up by Magnuson's committee on Nov. 4 but action was postponed indefinitely as opposition to the measure grew.

Action on the bill was further delayed when Magnuson announced Tuesday that the committee would seek sworn testimony on "alleged misconduct" by El Paso in seeking support for the measure.

The committee will subpoena John H. Klas, Salt Lake City banker and Utah state Democratic chairman, to testify on charges that an El Paso official offered his bank an interest-free deposit of $100,000 if he would support the legislation.

The alleged offer was reported in October by Beverly C. Moore Jr., a Ralph Nader associate, during testimony against the bill before Magnuson's committee.

Moore —who did not name Klas in open testimony — testified that the banker did not wish to be identified because of the fear of "economic reprisals" by El Paso.

Klas later refused to give the committee an affidavit on the incident unless subpoenaed.

Scott Cuming, El Paso vice president and general counsel, said under oath that Moore's testimony was a lie.

In their statement opposing the Magnuson bill, Cranston and Tunney said the Washington Democrat's announcement of the investigation "demonstrates his deep concern for the truth."

"His action is evidence of the fact that he will not allow a cloud of suspicion to linger over this legislation, the committee or the U.S. Senate," the Californians said.

The California Senators then went on to say their study of the evidence had not convinced them that divestiture would so weaken El Paso that it could not serve the western market adequately.

"After divestiture, it will still have $1.6 billion in assets, and will be the second largest pipeline company in the country," they said.

THE BUG SINCE THREE

Marinite's Acting Career On Climb — In New Film

By JOAN LISETOR

When she was three years old she played the role of a Geisha girl in a nursery school play.

"That is when I decided on acting as a career," says Mrs. Robert F. Reynolds of Corte Madera. "Every year after that my parents had to buy me a parasol."

The daughter of opera singers, Nancy MacBurney Reynolds, was born in Chicago. Influenced also by an aunt and uncle who were in vaudeville, Nancy began a career modeling and on radio at 18.

THE ON again — off again career has taken her to both East and West coasts and may be on the rise again with her current role in the movie "One Is A Lonely Number" being filmed in the Bay Area. Nancy has the role of a secretary in the film starring Trish Van Devere, Melvyn Douglas, Janet Leigh and Paul Jenkins. She is also appearing in a television pilot being produced by Lee Mendelsohn.

She marks the beginning of her career as the day she was modeling in a Chicago department store and puppeteer Burr Tillstrom was performing nearby.

"I went over and started talking to Kukla and Ollie, the puppets, and sang to them a little. We started a little act, bantering and took it on the road selling war bonds and stamps and appeared in one show with Rita Hayworth, Orson Welles and Dorothy Kirsten.

"Years later Burr and I were both on the 'Hit Parade,' and he referred to me as the 'original Fran,'" says Nancy.

Nance met her husband when he visited Chicago on leave from the Royal Canadian Air Force. His job with British Overseas Airways took the couple to New York City.

"WE WERE so broke then that I had to borrow the money to buy an outfit to wear to pound the sidewalks. After six months it paid off," she recalls.

In New York she appeared regularly on live television shows and commercials. As the Noxema girl and the "she" of "She's Lovely, She's Engaged, She Uses Ponds," Nancy recalls she was making more money than her acting friends, Jack Klugman, Richard Kiley, Robert Middleton Edward Binns and others who have since become stars.

"They all told me I was going to ruin my career by doing commercials because it would spoil the content of a play. I was earning three times as much as an actress but couldn't get parts in the theater because they were afraid the audience would recognize me from commercials, point and whisper, 'She's the one who plays the part. . .'"

Her heydey was New York through the '50s, she recalls.

"I was on my way to the top and could have cleaned up when my husband was named West Coast manager of BOAC, and we moved to Hollywood in 1956," she says.

"My father always said, 'If a man marries you with a career he must accept it as part of you. It is only if you start the career after marriage that it hurts him because he feels he is not enough,'" says Nancy.

HER HUSBAND and children, Victoria, 15, a student at Redwood High School; and Roger, 20, in the Navy in Vietnam; have always been number one.

"I don't believe I have missed anything by putting my family first," she says. "But I believe in reincarnation, and I tell my family, 'Watch out, because when I am reincarnated I'm going to the top.'"

The Reynoldses lived in Southern California for six years, and during that time Nance appeared in several movies, including "Bells are Ringing," where she was in the famous party scene, and her biggest part was in "Ask Any Girl" with David Niven. Television filming came to the West about the same time as Nancy, so, despite agent troubles (one of her agents went into the real estate business), she did well on television as well as in theater and night clubs.

"I had some problem because at that time they were looking for pretty actresses in New York, but I was in Hollywood where they wanted characters," she says.

She met exciting people in Hollywood, she says, like Gary Cooper.

"I had always been in love with him, and when I met him I almost fainted," she says with a smile. "I had lunch with Cary Grant, and is he handsome. Many of the actors look pretty sloppy when they are off-camera and relaxing, but not him. He looked gorgeous."

DON'T BELIEVE all of the stories you hear about show business people, she warns, because good public relations men can twist a lot.

"The actors of today are rather dull because they are more serious. Few are glamorous, except for Yul Brunner, Burton and Taylor, and there really aren't any super stars besides Barbra Streisand, Mia Farrow, Paul Newman and maybe Steve McQueen, who isn't one of my favorites," she says.

Monte Markham, who is also appearing in "One is a Lonely Number," she predicts will be a big star some day because he has "it."

Mr. Reynolds was promoted to marketing director of BOAC in 1962, and the family returned to New York for six years. He left BOAC in 1968 and the family moved to Marin when he was appointed head of the Hong Kong Tourist Association for the United States. The Reynoldses have been around the world four times and have traveled throughout the Orient and Europe, but, says Nancy, it is time for her to get back to work.

"I AM AT an age right now when parts are limited. I can play the role of a very young grandmother or the mother of teen-agers or, as in "One Is A Lonely Number," a secretary," she says. "I could get roles as an extra, but I am too much of a ham."

Nancy is also finishing a book, which will be published by Pro Musica Press. It is the book people asked her father to write, she says.

"My father became a voice teacher and was always going to write a book for artists and singers. He was something of a philosopher and believed the public should be educated in the arts for leisure. He left me 400 lectures which I have used in the book. Mostly they are about techniques for craftsmen and artists," she says.

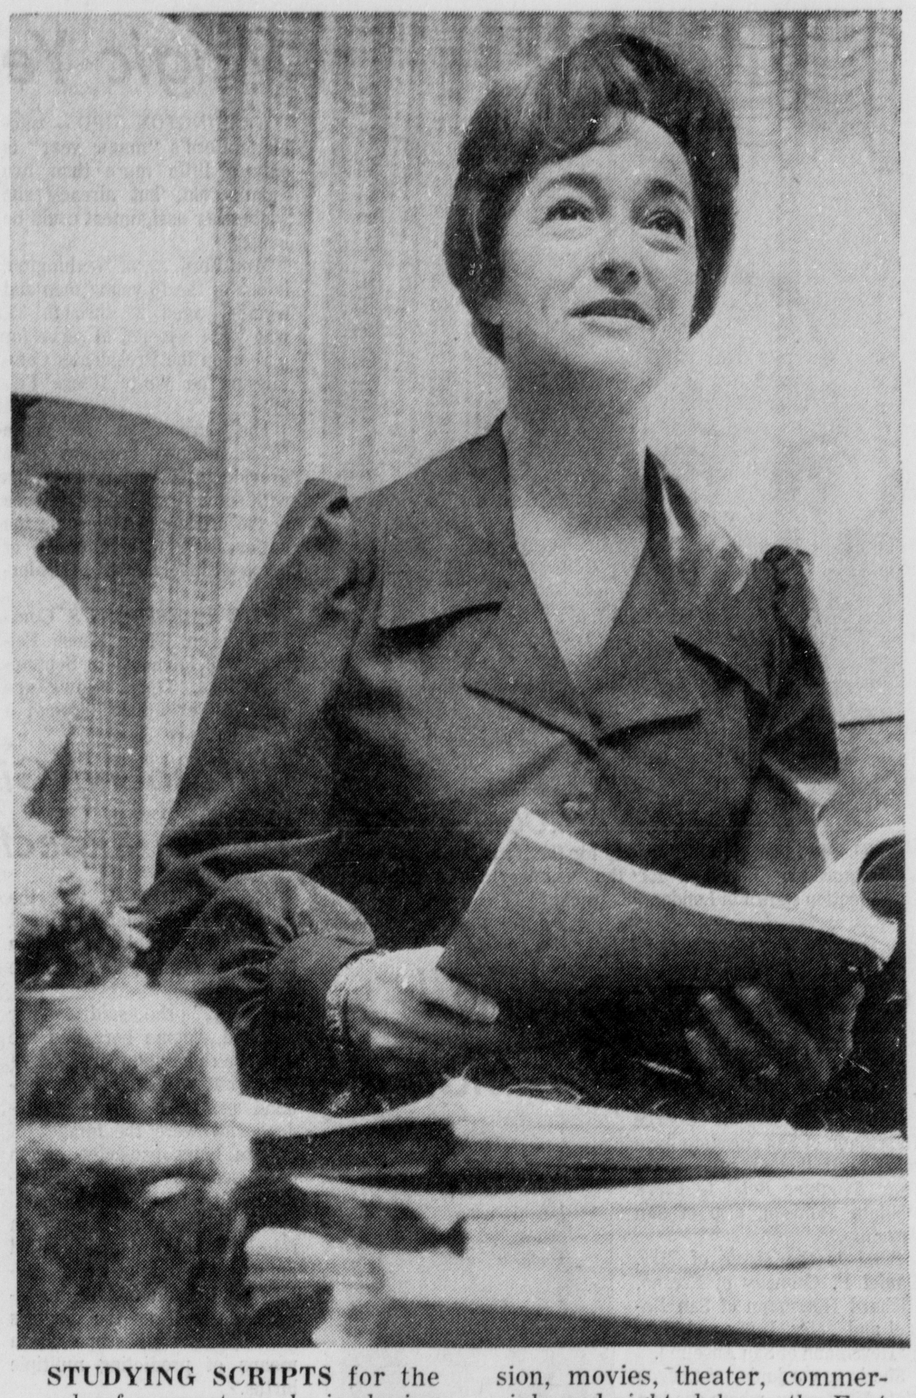
Nancy also has an actors workshop, which she conducts with another Marin actress, Reggie Waldon.

Young performers, Nancy says, want to begin by running.

"We have to convince them to learn to walk — to feel, see and hear, first. We prepare them for auditioning so when they do audition they don't think about 'how.'"

ADVISING ASPIRING performers, Nancy emphasises, "Learn your trade; work at it everyday, and, for God's sake, want it more than anything else."

"It isn't a glamorous life," she cautions. "Two-thirds, no, maybe three-fourths is bad to the one-fourth good, but it is worth it to feel alive on the stage."



STUDYING SCRIPTS for the role of a secretary she is playing in the film "One Is A Lonely Number" is Mrs. Robert F. Reynolds of Corte Madera. The 20-year acting career of Nancy Reynolds has including television, movies, theater, commercials and night clubs on the East and West Coast. She does not regret having put her family first but says when she is reincarnated she is going to the top.

SUBURBAN SCENE

Brief Rest Before More Adventures

By MOLLY MARIN

The John Churchills, former Sausalito residents, have just completed two years of service with the Peace Corps in Chile and are in Marin for a short visit before going on to more adventures.

John and Gertrude started a new life as Peace Corps volun teers when past the age of retirement for most persons. After visiting their daughter, Mrs. Hugh White (Alice), in St. Louis, Mo., the Churchills will go to Sao Paulo, Brazil, where Mr. Churchill will be working as a consultant in chemical engineering for the Drew Chemical Co., his employer before they entered the Peace Corps.

In Santiago Mr. Churchill said he worked with the urban development program of the Chilean government, supervising men who were building their own homes after their regular working hours.

When this program was terminated with the election of President Allende last year, he was asked to join the Santiago Forestry Institute to help set up research aimed toward improving the quality and increasing the production of pulp and paper.

He was then assigned to San Felipe, Chile, where he worked on the excavation of Indian mounds for a museum and set up programs for the training of prisoners in the construction trades and printing.

Mrs. Churchill, a registered nurse before her marriage, worked in a hospital and well-baby clinic, helped organize women's clubs and taught sewing and knitting in Santiago. Later she taught English to chemical engineers and other technical helpers at the forestry institute.

The Churchills' daughter Elaine attended the University of Chile for one year in Santiago while they were there and is now continuing her education at St. Louis University.

Mrs. Churchill was a member of the Sausalito Woman's Club, the Sausalito Salvage Shop and the Women's Guild of the Star of the Sea Church when the couple lived in Sausalito.

SUSAN AND Stephen Hicks of Mill Valley have just returned from a three-month camping and motoring trip through Europe.

They flew to Frankfurt, Germany, picked up an automobile and drove through Germany, the Scandinavian countries, Holland, Britain, France, Spain, Austria, Switzerland and Italy.

They said they were surprised to find the English people most friendly of all they encountered. The Hickses had a few difficulties camping out but recall mostly pleasant experiences.

Scholarship Fund Gains From Show

Some $300 of the proceeds from the sale of the paintings of the late Mill Valley artist Elsie Lower Pomeroy at Sunday's champagne preview of the memorial exhibit of her work at the Dick Ford Gallery in Mill Valley have been donated to a choreography scholarship fund.

This amount, approximately half of the total proceeds, was donated by the artist's daughter, Mrs. Harry H. Smith of Mill Valley, to the 1972 Craft of Choreography Scholarship Fund of the Mill Valley Chapter of the Pacific Dance Guild.

Mrs. Smith said this amount will enable six children to attend the Craft of Choreography Conference to be held at Dominican College. This is one of the four conferences held in different areas of the United States, sponsored by the National Association of Regional Ballet and made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Vatican Art In UNICEF Card Group

Paintings from the Vatican Art Collection have been added to the 1971 UNICEF greeting card collection and are being sold for the benefit of the United Nations Children's Fund.

Chairmen of the UNICEF card and calendar sales in Marin are Mmes. Robert S. Israel of Corte Madera and David M. Sheldon Jr. of San Rafael. The cards are being sold at Hastings in Northgate, the Photo Shop in San Rafael and Marin Co-Op in Corte Madera.

The fund works with the governments of 112 developing countries to provide health, education and nutrition assistance to the sick, unschooled and malnourished children in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East and is celebrating its 25th anniversary year, says Grace Israel.

In addition to the Vatican series, which includes two paintings from an 11th Century Byzantine manuscript and three 14th and 15th Century paintings, art for the cards has been contributed by museums and artists throughout the world.

Top Policewoman In New York City Lets Her Work Speak

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gertrude Schimmel was front page news when she became New York City's first woman police captain.

There was no fanfare, though, when the other day she became captain-commanding officer of the policewomen's bureau in the nation's largest city.

Actually, Captain Schimmel would just as soon have it that way. She's more of the quiet, unassuming type who lets her 30-plus years as one of New York's finest speak for themselves.

BUT YOU hear her speak out "loud and clear" when it comes to the number of women in the police department compared with the number of men, of some of the things she thinks should be done to improve women's role in law enforcement and thereby improve enforcement itself.

"There should be more policewomen, it's as simple as that," said Captain Schimmel. "When we have a full complement, there are 352 policemen," she said. "That is only one per cent of the total force."

The women are divided into four major areas of operation — youth aid, detective, patrol precincts and administrative jobs.

"WOMEN ARE not always used productively," said the police captain, commenting in an interview that policewomen are good at keeping their "cool" in dozens of situations where a man might find trouble. She cited the simple incident of a policewoman in uniform who could handle a drunk by bantering him as she told him to move on. A man, she said, might find the drunk turned antagonist.

One of the "naturals" for women is working with young criminals or in preventing youth crime, she continued.

Most of a policeman's duties do not involve "violent activity" anyway, she said. "About 85 per cent are on call for prevention work. The other 15 per cent is service calls."

What about the policeman as a symbol of authority — the father image? There may be some of it around, she said, "but if we'd had women doing all phases of police work for years, the public wouldn't give the matter a second thought."

MRS. SCHIMMEL, a handsome graying 52, was made a captain Aug. 26, the same day that liberationists marched to mark the 51st anniversary of women's suffrage.

FRONT PAGES at the time showed Mayor John V. Lindsay and Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy pinning captain's bars on the shoulders of her uniform. "The day of the appointment was no accident," she said with a smile.

Captain Schimmel is a supporter of the liberation movement — "wholeheartedly," she said. "Yes, the right to marches and demonstrations too. It is a basic right, as I've said before and will say again."

Recently the police officer quietly succeeded Mrs. Margaret Disco, an appointee who retired with rank of inspector-director of the policewomen's bureau.

MRS. SCHIMMEL won her bars through Civil Service promotions, and is one of the very few policewomen in the country who are called captain.

Her career began when she got out of Hunter College with an A.B. Degree, a Phi Beta Kappa key, and intentions of being a teacher. But she said "they just weren't hiring teachers, so all of us took every Civil Service exam that came along."

One such exam landed her the job as policewoman June 5, 1940. In September, she married Alfred Schimmel, now director of mortgage research for the New York City Planning Commission. The couple has two sons — Victor, 22, a lecturer in mathematics at City College of New York, and Edward, 18, a junior at CCNY.

AS EVERY other policeman or policewoman does, Captain Schimmel attended the Police Academy. And as every other member of the force does, she always carries her identification card, shield and gun.

Wearing a gun when you're not in uniform can pose some problems, she said. Especially if you have to be in evening clothes.

MARRIED IN SAN ANSELMO

Lynn Dale Jorgensen of San Anselmo and Kenneth Michael Kline of San Rafael were married Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo. After a reception at Alexander Hall they left on a Carmel and Lake Tahoe wedding trip.

THE GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

Your Dad Is Sick; Take Problem To Authorities For Better Life

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

I have a father who has made a habit of throwing my mother out of the house for the past 15 years. Now he's starting on me.

Last night he had his worst fit ever. He threw the vacuum cleaner down the stairs and broke it. He also smashed two statuettes against the wall and threw the dog across two rooms, then kicked him so hard he's still at the vet's. Our dog didn't do anything — my father hurt him because we love him, and that was a way of hurting my mother and me.

Next, because I tried to protect Mom, he told me to leave and never come back, then pushed me outside and locked the door. I stayed at a neighbor's.

Mom won't leave him because she says he's sick and needs her. He's well enough to keep a good job, but he lets out all his frustrations on us. The least little thing will set off a temper tantrum that won't quit. She says "Don't fight back," but when he calls me an SOB and screams at me and beats on me, should I just stand there and take it — like she does?

I'm back home now (home? — that's a laugh!) thanks to Mom, but if I stay here much longer I may kill my father. Besides, he keeps asking me to leave, even though I'm not quite 16.

Is there a better way of solving my problem — and Mom's? — TEMPTED

DEAR TEMPTED:

Your problem may be solved by a visit to the Juvenile Hall in your town, and a placement in a foster home. After all, your father threw you out, and expects you to stay out. Under these circumstances I believe you can become a ward of the county.

Let's hope this opens your mother's eyes: giving in to a psychopathic bully seldom helps anyone — including him — HELEN

DEAR TEMPTED:

Why doesn't your Mother turn the tables and throw the bum out? Or lock the door and not let him in? If he's as bad as you say, you need this "husband and father" like Vietnam needs another war! — SUE

DEAR "GENERATION RAP":

My sister is a blackmailer, too, like the one in your column not long ago. Only in a different way.

She has two pictures of me. She's good at sneaking up with her camera! One is of me smoking. The other is even worse: she got a shot of my mother spanking me across her knee — with my pants down. You know what that would do for a 13-year-old guy if it got shown around school.

And if my mother saw proof that I smoked, I'd get it again!

I'm no angel. I'm practically always in trouble, so I don't want any more or I won't be able to play on the football team, plus I'll get another sore bottom. My folks use a plywood paddle and that hurts!

So my sister demands $1.50 from my allowance every week, and makes me do most of the chores. I also have to let her watch her TV programs, which aren't mine. Otherwise, the pictures get shown around ... where they'll do the most harm.

This may sound corny, but I love my sister in spite of everything, and I don't want to get her in trouble by finking. Besides, it would get me in more trouble. What shall I do? — JOEY

DEAR JOEY:

In most parents' books, blackmailing is a worse crime than smoking. So why not try this: At the dinner table, hand your sister her "hush-money," and tell her you'll get her work done first thing in the morning. Naturally your folks will be curious, but shrug off any questions with "It's just a business deal."

Later, tell Sis you'll explain the whole "business" if she doesn't hand over the pictures — and the negatives! — and stay mum. Should she stay greedy — tell! One punishment isn't as bad as months of being broke and overworked. — SUE & HELEN

The Reconstituted Item Usually Water

When a recipe calls for a reconstituted ingredient, restore the concentrated food to its normal state, usually by adding water.

The term is usually applied to such foods as dry milk (for fluid milk) and frozen orange juice (for liquid juice.)

Clark Jamison Will Wed Betsi Herrmann

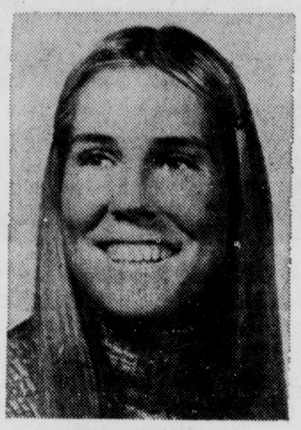
Mr. and Mrs. John George Herrmann of San Anselmo have announced the engagement of their daughter Betsi to Clark William Jamison, also of San Anselmo.

Betsi is the sister of Mrs. Daniel P. Connelly of Fresno, Richard Herrmann of San Rafael and Peter, Duffy and Nancy Herrmann of San Anselmo.

She is now a junior at Oregon State University, where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Betsi was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School.

Clark's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Jamison of San Anselmo. He also was graduated from Drake High School and is a junior at Oregon State University.

He is the brother of Lee Jamison of Portland, Ore., and Dani Jamison of San Anselmo.



BETSI HERRMANN
Engaged to be wed

The couple plans to be married next September.

Magic Year Is Proving 'Too Short'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Antoinette Ford's "magic year" is only a little more than two months old, but already she wishes her assignment could be longer.

Mrs. Ford, 29, of Washington, is one of the 16 young men and women, aged 23 through 35, who were selected to serve for a year on the President's Commission on White House Fellows.

The purpose of the White House Fellows program is to provide gifted young Americans with some firsthand experience in the process of governing the nation, and with a sense of personal involvement in leadership.

THE PRESIDENT'S Commission on White House Fellows was launched in September, 1964. The Fellows are carefully examined through a procession of interviews. Like several members of the class of 1971, Mrs. Ford had never heard of White House Fellows until a friend suggested she apply for appointment.

She filled out the required eight-page application and survived a series of personal interviews before she and her 15 colleagues were selected in late May from a field of 30 finalists for the coveted assignments. The Fellows receive government salaries ranging up to $24,500 for the year.

Mrs. Ford, graduated in 1963 from Chestnut Hill College, Philadelphia, with a degree in biology and later began graduate study at American University in Washington. In 1966 she joined the National Oceanographic Data Center and the next year was awarded a National Science Foundation Fellowship to study biological oceanography off the West Coast of Mexico.

She now is an oceanography instructor and program coordinator for Versar, Inc., a firm that trains inner-city young people from the Washington metropolitan area for careers in marine sciences.

Mrs. Ford also is founder and present chairman of the Black Women's League, a volunteer organization which aims at helping young people join civic, educational, and cultural programs.

FOR HER White House Fellowship, she was assigned to Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, a choice she approved. She works closely with the secretary, she said, and interprets reports for him. She plans to become involved with banking and business enterprises for minortiy races, and with international trade agreements with underdeveloped countries.

"I've been most impressed by the receptivity of people in the secretary's office," she said. "They accept us, share with us their experiences, and encourage us to continue on the roads that we have carved out for ourselves."

Were there any disappointments in the program?

"Yes, I'm disappointed that the program is for one year only," she said. "I wish it were for four."

THE WHITEHOUSE Fellows are taken on two trips during their year of service, and the first already is scheduled. They will leave the day after Thanksgiving for more than two weeks in Southeast Asia in Hong Kong, Tokyo, Thailand and South Vietnam. Some of the group will stop off at Manila.

"It's part of an education program," Mrs. Ford said. "We want to see the emergence of Asia as a force in the world, to learn the similarities and differences between Americans and Asians, and find out the effects of the Nixon doctrine."

"Every day there are new discoveries," Mrs. Ford said. "We feel this is a magic year."

Ultrasound Gives Tips To The Expectant Mother

BOSTON (UPI)—It was the sound she saw that convinced Mrs. Karl Wozniak of suburban Natick she was going to have twins.

"Honey," she said to her husband, "come here and see this. We're having twins."

What Mrs. Wozniak, her husband and their two other children saw were the images of unborn twins projected on an oscilloscope at Beth Israel Hospital.

The images were drawn by a relatively new procedure called an ultrasound scan which doctors say eliminates the guesswork as well as the doctor's hands and stethoscope as a means of predicting multiple births.

ULTRASOUND CAN detect pregnancy as soon as five weeks after conception, says L. E. Schnitzer, Beth Israel's ultra-sound technical specialist.

As early as five to 10 weeks, he said, multiple pregnancy can be discovered. By the time the woman is in her 14th week of pregnancy, the accuracy level of the equipment attains 100 per cent.

"It's amazing," said Mrs. Wozniak, 27, as Schnitzer passed the ultrasound's "transducer" over her swollen abdomen

Ultrasound operates on the principle of sound waves converted to a visual image, Schnitzer explained. The sound emitted from the ultrasonic equipment, too high for humans to hear, is able to penetrate the body to put it on contact with what's inside.

When the sound beam strikes an object in the body, part of the wave is reflected back into the transducer to the oscilloscope where the impulses form outlines of the things being examined.

WHAT MRS. Wozniak saw on the screen was a clear and detailed graph of the size and position of her unborn babies.

In the year since Beth Israel set up the ultrasound laboratory, 258 expectant mothers have been sent to it to be examined.

Schnitzer said most patients express amazement at the ultrasound. He said with it he can tell the patient immediately whether to plan for one arrival or two or even more arrivals.

Its advantage is that it eliminates the guesswork inherent in a doctor's superficial examination and does not have the possible harmful effects of an X-ray examination.

As for Mrs. Wozniak, who's date with the stork is early December, she said she had mixed reactions, particularly since she and her husband didn't really want twins. But their families on both sides have a history of twins.

She said that when Schnitzer scanned her abdomen and an image started to form, "he said it was a head. We were really hoping it was the only one."

But, she said, the technician scanned the other side of her stomach and "when we saw the other head we, well, grinned and accepted it."

Men Score A Victory In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)— Oregon struck a blow for men's lib Wednesday.

The state wage and hour commission adopted a resolution setting up mandatory rest periods for all workers.

Labor commissioner Norman Nilsen said Oregon was the first state in the nation to require rest periods for all workers. He said other states, and Oregon, have had requirements for mandatory rest periods for women and youngsters who work, but this was the first time such coverage had been extended to adult males.

The regulation requires 10-minute rest periods without a reduction in pay for every four hours of work performed or a major part of the four period. The rest period will be in addition to regular meal periods.

ON THE AGENDA

Invitations Out For Alumnae Association's Annual Luncheon

Invitations have been mailed by the Dominican College Alumnae Association for the annual autumn luncheon to be held Saturday at Caleruega on the San Rafael campus at 12:30 p.m.

Fall and holiday fashions will be modeled by members of the alumnae and students.

Models include Mmes. Arthur S. Lull of Orinda, Charles Sweeney of Atherton, Robert R. Fair of Mill Valley, Edward Ravizza of Sausalito, Peter Dahl of San Rafael, Michael H. Osborne of Novato and Martin D. Murphy of San Francisco.

Student models will be Janice Lococo, Terese Angwin, Sara Lange and Lisa McCone.

Mrs. Osborne is chairman of the event. She is assisted by Mmes. H. Reed Volin of San Rafael, models; and James J. O'Sullivan of Petaluma, Timothy Leveque of San Francisco and Jack L. Brookman of Napa, decorations chairmen.

Reservations may be made with the Dominican College alumnae office, Pennafort Hall, San Rafael.

A PUBLIC gin fizz breakfast will be held by the Soroptimist Club of Marin Sunday at the Depot in San Rafael as a fund-raising event to provide money toward the furnishing of the senior citizens hospitality room by the Soroptimists.

Breakfast hours are 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. with tickets available at the door.

Chairman Polly Pezoldt also is reservations chairmen for the event. The Soroptimist Club has budgeted $5,000 for its gift to the project.

THE 18TH annual Holly Fair will be held tomorrow and Saturday at the San Geronimo Valley Presbyterian Church on Sir Francis Drake Highway in San Geronimo. A turkey dinner will be served tomorrow from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The fair will be open from 4 to 10 p.m.

On Saturday hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., with a luncheon served at noon. Booths will feature plants, homemade foods, toys, gift articles.

A puppet show will be given at 7 and 8 p.m. tomorrow night. Girl Scout Troop 269, led by Mrs. Jerry Owens, will present three original puppet skits for each showing and earn credit on drama badges.

CHICKEN LITTLE Chapter of Children's Home Society is having its annual semi-formal dance Saturday at the Petaluma Veterans Memorial Building. The orchestra will begin the dance music at 9 p.m. Breakfast will be served at 1 a.m.

Charimen Mrs. Frederick Groverman and Mrs. Frank Castelli are assisted by Mmes. James Brog, menu; George De Long, decorations; Harold Griffith, special events; and Richard McKenna and James Eastburn, reservations.

THE SAUSALTIO Woman's Club will have a barn dance on Saturday, with members and escorts invited to come in suitable costume.

At 9 p.m. a dance band will play for dancing, including folk dancing led by Mickey McGowan. Beer will be served, and "vittles" will be served later in the evening, finishing with one of Mrs. Peter Arnott's special desserts.

Chairmen Mrs. Raymond Gergus and Mrs. Clifford Raisbeck are assisted by Mmes. Charles Weckler, James Muldoon and Ken Elkington. Reservations chairman is Mrs. Leonard Eckman.

THE ASSISTANCE Guild of Marin will have a party for members and their husbands at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Bennett of San Rafael on Saturday. Mrs. Calvin Ewing is chairman of the party.

The guild members have been assisting the Marin County methadone program by serving coffee and rolls once a week, Mrs. Stanley Breyer said.

A HOLIDAY Bazaar will be given by the Women's Association of the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Luncheon will be available and a variety of articles and baked goods and candy will be on sale.

NOVATO GUILD II of Sunny Hills will have its annual Boutique Noel at The Church in Ignacio Saturday, opening at 11 a.m. Christmas decorations and gifts will be on sale.

Proceeds will go to the Sunny Hills Home.

A GREEK theme will be used by St. Patrick's Guild of Larkspur for its dinner dance Saturday at St. Patrick's Hall. A social hour will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner served at 8 o'clock. Mmes. Raymond Lamerdin and George Michalak are chairmen. Mmes. Arnold Pieri, James Hanretty and Fred Buscher are on the committee. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Robert Smith and Robert Bernhard.

THE NOVATO Squares Square Dance Club will hold a dance at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Lynwood School in Novato. Don Shotwell will be the caller.

A FATHER-son night will be held by the Marion School Parent-Teacher Association at 8 tonight in the multi-purpose room of the school in Novato.

Three films will be shown — "East African Safari," "Japanese Grand Prix" and "Turned On." Refreshments will be served by the fourth-grade room mothers.

OIL PAINTINGS of California wild flowers by Alice Chittenden will be exhibited Sunday at the Jose Moya del Pino Library, Octagon House, Marin Art and Garden Center, with a reception for members and guests from 4 to 6 p.m. The show will continue for a week, open to the public from noon to 2 p.m.

The paintings are lent by Mrs. Elizabeth Hays Bechtel of Santa Barbara, who purchased the collection following an exhibit at the California Historical Society after Mrs. Chittenden's death. The flower studies were painted in collaboration with Alice Eastwood, one of California's outstanding botanists, and from material brought back from field trips by the California Botanical Club.

Guests at the reception will be John Thomas Howell, curator emeritus of botany of the California Academy of Science, and members of the California Botanical Club.

ST. JAMES Ladies Guild in Petaluma will host its annual bazaar Saturday at 1650 Ely Road, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Leonard Torina is chairman of the bazaar, which will include a stuffed animal booth; white elephant surprises; Christmas decorations; greens booth and refreshments. Santa Claus is scheduled to make a brief appearance at the children's booth.

THE NOVATO Hostess Club Gourmet III Group will hold a progressive dinner at 7 p.m. Saturday. Mrs. Walter Christensen is chairman.

Champagne, cocktails and appetizers will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Goudeau. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Freeman will serve the entree of beef burgundy and coq au vin, French bread and wine at their home. The final stop for coffee and dessert will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lemon.

Heart Attacks In Women Are On The Rise

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Denver, Colo., cardiologist said Tuesday that women were beginning to be as vulnerable to heart attacks as men.

Dr. John T. Kimball told the annual meeting of the California Academy of General Practice that women in time past were always presumed to be protected from heart attacks during their pre-menopausic years.

"I hate to equate women's lib with this," Kimball said, "but it would appear that women, competing in a man's world, are showing an earlier incidence of vascular problems.

"They're eating more and smoking more at the same time they're increasing stress situations, and more and more women under 40 are having strokes and heart attacks."

Flaming Desserts

To flambe puddings and other holiday desserts, warm brandy or rum (about ½ cup for 6 servings) over low heat; pour over pudding and light. Flaming without liquor can be accomplished by dipping sugar cubes or tablets into lemon extract before placing them on the dessert and lighting.

Cong Hit Cambodia's Major City

By KATE WEBB

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Viet Cong guerrillas carried out a series of attacks early today around the outer defensive perimeter of Phnom Phenh, including one clash in which five Cambodian troops were killed and 15 wounded.

The Cambodian military command said the fighting flared at positions directly across the Mekong River from the capital and nine and 15 miles southwest.

The heaviest government casualties were in four hours of fighting at Anlong Romlet nine miles southwest of the capital. Fighting at a military signals station at the town of Prey Puoch, 12 miles to the southwest, continued sporadically throughout the day.

Other Communist attacks were reported at Preah Prasap, Vihear Suor, Prey Baing and Prek Tameak, all on the east bank of the Mekong River and near the outer defensive network of Phnom Penh.

The latest Viet Cong thrusts followed by 24 hours Communist attacks Wednesday against Phnom Penh's Puchontong International Airport, a radio transmitting station and a bridge northwest of the city.

At least 30 persons were killed in the attacks and three airplanes and two helicopters destroyed.

U.S. sources said the destroyed helicopters would be replaced by this weekend to bring the small Cambodian helicopter fleet back up to its normal number of six.

The loss of the helicopters left Cambodian troops engaged against the North Vietnamese 9th Infantry Division on Highway 6 north of Phnom Penh with only two helicopters to carry out wounded and haul in supplies.

The Cambodian command said government troops were reported slightly closer to Romlong, 60 miles north of Phnom Penh, but 1,000 troops including 400 wounded were still pinned down by intense Communist artillery fire.

7th Fleet Boss Sees Soviet Pacific Buildup

SATTAHIP, Thailand (UPI)—Vice Adm. William P. Mack, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, said today the Soviet Union may soon surpass the United States in naval power in the Pacific.

"Their fleet is increasing year by year," Mack said. "Ours is decreasing year by year. There will come a time very soon when the Soviet fleet in the Pacific is very strong and may be more capable than ours."

Mack spoke at a news conference aboard his flagship, the USS Oklahoma City, a guided missile cruiser which docked at this royal Thai navy deep-water port Wednesday and leaves Monday for Singapore.

A press kit handed to newsmen described the 7th Fleet as "the largest, most powerful task fleet in the world today."

But the admiral said in his news conference that "the 7th Fleet is not the largest fleet in the world."

The largest, he said, is a Russian fleet "operating out of the Soviet Union."

The admiral said the 7th Fleet, which patrols more than 30 million square miles of the Western Pacific, now has about 100 ships.

He said this number was "about half what it was at the height of the war in South Vietnam, but it will probably not be reduced further."

"The larger size of the fleet in past years was for the specific purpose of carrying out our objectives in Vietnam," Mack said. "Now that this war is drawing to a close, it frees the ships and aircraft of the 7th Fleet for other missions."

Asked if the reduction in the number of vessels in the 7th Fleet had damaged the fleet's effectiveness, Mack replied, "By doing the best we can with what we have, I feel that we can continue to carry out our treaty commitments with the forces we have now."

He said the 7th Fleet provides a nuclear umbrella for the free nations of Asia.

"Our main mission is to carry out the foreign policy of our country and for our purposes this is called the Nixon doctrine," he said.

Disabled Boat, Crew To Safety

CRESCENT CITY (UPI) — A disabled fishing boat and its three-person family crew was towed safely to port Wednesday after high seas calmed on the Pacific Ocean.

Vitamin C Pills Are Recalled

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Food and Drug Administration today recalled 8.8 million vitamin C pills because, it said, the labels failed to disclose the salt content.

The action was taken so that the pills would not fall into the hands of people on low or no-salt diets. The recall, the 13th such this year, involved pills made by the Glenn Matteson Co., doing business as the Setabaid Co., Portland, Ore.

Nixon Pays Visit To Arlington

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) — To the sound of taps and muffled drums, President Nixon paid homage today to the nation's war dead, placing a wreath of blue and white carnations at the Tomb of the Unknowns.

Nixon's visit to Arlington National Cemetery, on a bright, cool fall morning, came on the 50th anniversary of the entombment of the first of the three unidentified soldiers who died in World War I, World War II and the Korean War.

In a statement issued before he left the White House, Nixon said it had become certain "that the idea of a war to end all wars was in vain." That was the way the first World War had been sometimes described.

"What we really need is a peace to end all wars," Nixon said. Such a peace would require as much power and as much perseverance and as much patience and as much courage as any war.

"We have such power and such courage," he said. "We hope that we shall have such a peace."

Mileage Cheating Case In Court

Timothy Daniel O'Donnell, 31, former San Rafael police officer, was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on charges of selling used cars at high prices by rolling back odometers at T and D Autos in Ignacio.

O'Donnell, a former resident of Novato, was arrested last week in Oakland on a warrant charging him with seven counts of felony grand theft and three theft and three misdemeanor charges of turning back odometers, according to Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas.

One of O'Donnell's employees, Angelo Allegra, 46, of 33 Montego Keys, Novato, was arrested and arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on two of the grand theft counts and is to plead to the charges on Nov. 24.

T and D Autos at 32-A Hamilton Drive in Ignacio closed down about two months ago.

Thomas said the case first came to light by chance. A private citizen sold his Volkswagen, registering about 91,000 miles, to a dealer in Santa Rosa last April. The Santa Rosa dealer sold it to T and D Autos.

The original car owner later noticed his car in a used car lot in San Rafael and found the odometer showed only 38,000 miles.

This led to an extensive investigation by Stanley Wilsey, investigator for the Department of Motor Vehicles in Corte Madera. Thomas said Wilsey checked about 100 cars that were traded through T and D Autos.

O'Donnell was a patrolman in the San Rafael Police Department from July 16, 1968 to Aug. 15, 1970, when he resigned. The assistant district attorney said he was a police officer in Oakland before that.

Trees In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Texas legislators this year ordered the state highway department to plant trees along state and national highways. The lawmakers said they would prefer to see pecan trees planted in the beautification project.

Fire House Repairs Asked

Chief Robert E. Marcucci has told the San Rafael Fire Commission assorted repairs are needed in city fire houses.

Marcucci, in a report Tuesday night based on a survey of the stations, listed a leaky roof, insufficient heating, and broken windows among the deficiencies, commission secretary Joan Henriksen said.

The commission, while noting some of the work could be performed by firemen, said funds would have to be found somewhere in the fire budget to correct the rest of the faults. It asked Marcucci to report back on ways to get the money.

Getting to the top of the fashion business isn't a full time job.

Not with Elégance.

For 25 years, Elégance has offered the world's most exclusive internationally famous collection of fabrics. But only in Europe.

Now we're bringing our fabrics to America. And we're looking for a representative to introduce them to women in your community. She can do it in her spare time by arranging in-home showings.

We're looking for a representative who can sew. Who has good taste. And who hasn't missed a copy of her favorite fashion magazine since she was 17.

We're offering more than a job. We're offering an opportunity.

You'll be working with fabrics used by top European designers.

We'll keep you on top of the fashion world by passing along to you the new trends we spot in styles, silhouettes, colors, patterns and textures.

We'll provide you with a coordinated collection of sewing accessories. So you can provide a full fashion service for women.

And you'll find your relationship with Elégance rewarding aesthetically and financially. We pay an excellent commission.

If you're interested, we'd like to arrange a local interview. Please write to:
Elégance, P.O. Box 242, New York, N.Y. 10013.

Even if you have a full time job at home.

'Alternative School' Plan Is Discussed

Seventy-five Dixie School District parents and teachers last night asked district trustees whether "innovation is dead in Dixie," according to Supt. Clifford W. Campbell.

The audience and trustees spent nearly the entire evening in dialogue on proposals for "alternative school" plans, Campbell reported.

The trustees stood firm on their earlier decision against appointing a citizens committee to prepare recommendations. "We consider this too important to leave us out of it," board members told the audience, according to Campbell.

The superintendent said the board and district administrators repeatedly asked the speakers to "define what is an alternative school," but received no clearcut answer.

Oak View School teacher Charlotte Gurin presented a paper on "assumptions about learning common to alternative schools."

Audience reaction was "mixed" to the call for the district to set up a central alternative school, with a separate faculty, rather than offer alternative programs at each of the district schools, Campbell said.

The Dixie School District Board also:

HIRING — Authorized employment of Helen Allen as a part-time teacher-assistant at Don Timoteo School Nov. 2 to Jan. 14 at a total cost of $204, and Mrs. Margaret Shea as a part-time typist-clerk for the remainder of the school year at a total cost of $859.

INDIAN MOUND — Heard Campbell report that the state Department of Parks and Recreation had succeeded in getting the Indian mound at Miller Creek School included in the national registry of historic places — thus making the Miwok Archeological Preserve foundation possibly eligible for grants for its project.

PAVING — Approved a $3,000 paving job for the district vehicle maintenance center parking lot.

Utah Registers 14 Earthquakes

CEDAR CITY, Utah (UPI)— At least 14 earthquakes—six of them classified as major — rocked Cedar City and the surrounding countryside Wednesday.

The series of quakes, which apparently caused no damage, were felt up to 20 miles from here.

The Seismology Department at Southern Utah College said the strongest quake registered 3.4 on the Richter Scale. Other tremors ranged from 2.7 to 3.2.

Salfen's Resignation Accepted By Council

The Cotati City Council last night accepted the resignation of City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen without comment.

City Clerk Carol Bonfigli said the council met behind closed doors for an hour and emerged to announce Salfen's resignation had been accepted. The council directed Salfen to begin procedures to seek his replacement.

Salfen had submitted his resignation effective Jan. 31. Salfen, who has been city manager since July of 1970, listed no specific cause for the resignation, but said disagreements stemmed from the enforcement of city policies and regulations.

Plaque Is Honor Of Audie Murphy

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A plaque honoring Audie Murphy will be unveiled by his widow at Armistice Day ceremonies today at the Sports Arena.

Murphy, the most decorated U.S. soldier of World War II, was killed in a plane crash earlier this year. Veterans groups from throughout the country were expected to attend the ceremonies.

I-J In Error On Arrest Report

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday in stating that Richard S. Knowles, 20, was arrested for a burglary in San Rafael by San Rafael police.

Knowles, who was sentenced Tuesday to nine months in jail, was arrested July 20 by San Anselmo police for burglarizing a San Anselmo home.

Young New York Team Shows Championship Play Once Again

All of the forecasters were surprised a few months ago when a group of young New Yorkers won the national team championship for the second year in a row. Then everybody sat up and took notive: once might be a fluke, but twice in a row surely proved that the team had real merit. Today's hand, taken from a match they played in New York, shows their aggressive bidding style and accurate play.

Opening lead — ♠ K

JUST GRAVY

Peter Weichsel and Tom Smith, of the young team, reached the fine contract of five diamonds on the North-South cards. East's double was just gravy.

East overtook the opening lead of the king of spades with the ace in order to return a heart. If he hadn't done so, the defenders would have lost their heart trick, and declarer would have staged a crossruff. South would have taken five trumps in his own hand, at least three ruffs in the dummy, and three clubs for a total of 11 tricks.

West won the second trick with the queen of hearts and returned a trump to South's six. Weichsel, playing the hand, now led a club to dummy and ruffed a heart.

ACE FALLS

When the ace of hearts fell, Weichsel read the heart position accurately, aided by East's bid of three hearts. Declarer drew two more rounds of trumps with the ace and queen and then led the jack of hearts from dummy.

East played low, but South discarded a spade. The ten of hearts then put East in the middle again: whenever he played low, South would discard; and whenever East put up the king of hearts, South would ruff.

LINE OF PLAY

This line of play established the dummy, and Weichsel made his doubled contract. The hand was a major gain for the New York team since at the other table oF;the match the North-South pair had stopped at a part score.

Drug Charge Innocent Plea

Robert Anthony Catalano, 29, of Novato, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to felony charges of possessing peyote, marijuana, cocaine and cocaine for sale.

Trial was set for the week of Feb. 7

Film Festival Opens Friday

The senior class at San Marin High School in Novato will hold its second annual public film festival tomorrow and Saturday.

Performances will begin at 7 p.m., consisting of one feature-length comedy, two comic short subjects and a feature-length show.

On Saturday, two kiddie matinees will be shown starting at noon and 2:30 p.m.

Performances will be in the 100-seat lecture hall. Proceeds will benefit the senior class.

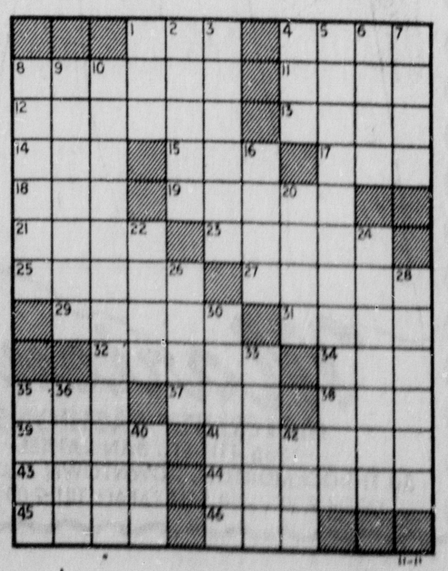
Yesterday's Answer



END TO INDIAN SUMMER

Indian summer has come to an abrupt end in the nation's capital. The wind, which came with the cold weather yesterday, blew leaves from the trees around the Washington Monument and started to turn Washington, D.C., into a gray city. (UPI Telephoto)

Bala Picked As Engineer For Tiburon

Mill Valley City Engineer Stanley M. Bala was appointed city engineer of Tiburon yesterday by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer.

Balmer said Bala will be paid $12,500 per year, the same amount paid to Foreaker, and will continue to serve as Mill Valley's city engineer.

Appointed deputy city engineer to act in Bala's absence was Jesper Strandgaard. The men are partners in the Mill Valley consulting engineering firm of Bala and Strandgaard.

The firm handles a considerable private business in addition to the Mill Valley work and will continue to do so, according to Strandgaard.

Bala earns $11,00 per year as Mill Valley's city engineer. He was appointed to that post by Alex E. Almcrants, Balmer's predecessor as Mill Valley city manager.

Barrage Kills Laos Civilians

VIENTIANE (UPI)—A barrage of Communist 122mm rockets apparently intended for a Laotian military outpost crashed into the village of Ban Nong Sapang Wednesday night, killing 21 persons, mostly women and children, and injuring 34 others.

Military sources said North Vietnamese troops were believed preparing an assault on the city of Paksong on the Bolivens Plateau to the south. They reported 500 refugees had fled Paksong.

The sources said the attack on Ban Nong Sapang, 125 miles southeast of Vientiane, destroyed a number of houses. They said the rockets appeared to have been aimed at the military base outside the town.

The tiny country of Andorra's last military budget was $4.29 — the price of bullets for its ceremonial rifles.

Two Novato Women Robbed In Car Ride

Two Novato saleswomen perparing to drive home after work in San Rafael yesterday were robbed, then forced by a young gunman to drive to San Francisco.

The women, Doris Ann Garatti of 708 Bradley Avenue and Tillie A. Newman of 858 Cain Lane, had finished the day at the Modern Eve shop, 1021 Fourth Street, and had gone to Mrs. Garatti's car parked behind on the upper city lot at 5:55 p.m.

As Mrs. Garatti prepared to start the motor, a tall, thin man with long blond hair tried to force his way in and met resistance from Mrs. Neuman. Mrs. Garatti, seeing that he had a gun, told her companion not to fight him.

He then sat behind them and asked for their purses. After taking $17, he ordered them to drive him through San Rafael to San Anselmo and then back to the Hethertone Avenue onramp to U.S. Highway 101.

Mrs. Garatti told police that she drove slowly down the highway and across Golden Gate Bridge. Their kidnapper then directed her down 19th Avenue. He told her to make several right and left hand turns, saying he was looking for Golden Gate Park. He kept repeating to them that he needed more money.

They drove around for a while until he finally ordered them to stop near a construction site. He got out and told them to drive on.

A few minutes later, at 6:45 p.m., they stopped at a California Avenue and Presidio Street service station to phone the police.

Hunt For Youth Is Called Off

SAUGUS (UPI) — A search was called off Wednesday night for a 16-year-old boy suffering from sleeping sickness who was missing from his home near here.

Sheriff's deputies said the search for Ken Kidder was not due to resume until Saturday morning.

The youngster's parents told officers the teen-ager was suffering from the effects of sleeping sickness and was receiving schooling at home during the last few months.

Union School Aides Resign

The Union School District board last night received the resignations of two of its three board members, according to clerk Eleanor Pomi.

Those resigning effective Jan. 1 were Elvina Giacomelli and Dian Morelli. Both are moving from the district, Mrs. Pomis said.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors must call a special election to fill the vacancies, she said. No date has yet been set for the election, she added.

Petaluma Eyes Marin Bike Paths

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission heard a report on Marin County bicycle paths last night and agreed paths could be useful in Petaluma.

Donald Rolph, planner for the Marin County Parks Department, explained various bicycle path projects in Marin and told the commission that costs can range from $12,000 to $20,000 per mile depending on the type of project and if land purchase is necessary.

The commission agreed to seek more information on paths and said the county of Sonoma should be contacted to see if it would be possible to plan a joint project.

VD Curb Plea By Governor

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Warning the state faces a serious epidemic of venereal disease among its youth, Gov. Ronald Reagan today urged parents to find out what instruction is available in schools to prevent the disease.

The governor, in a public service announcement being distributed to radio stations throughout the state, said the epidemic "also involves misunderstanding and misinformation" about the disease and how it is spread.

He said every school should have a VD prevention course for its students.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Bagley Tax Proposal Goes To Finance Panel With Another

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee said today any "mini" tax bill must be big enough to erase the current $330 million state budget deficit and avoid another tax increase next year.

By that standard, both the Democratic and Republican tax programs fall short. Both are out of balance, and the 1972 session is less than two months away.

"It's a futile thing to just take care of the budget and come back here in a month and a half and fight another tax crisis," said Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, whose Finance Committee must act on rival budget-balancing bills.

The bill carried by Sen. Walter Stiern, D-Bakersfield, would be $110 million out of balance next year while a similar measure by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, would be $66 million short.

"That isn't satisfactory to me," Collier said.

Both bills would impose payroll withholding and increase business-oriented taxes to balance the state's $6.8 billion budget and grant $23 million in business inventory property tax relief.

Gov. Ronald Reagan supports both bills because they include payroll withholding, which would help balance the budget plus even-out the unsteady flow of cash into state coffers.

The Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee, chaired by Stiern, Wednesday sent Bagley's bill to the Finance Committee without the usual favorable "do pass" recommendation.

The same committee a day earlier approved Stiern's bill and sent it to Finance but endorsed it with a "do pass" recommendation. Collier's committee now must juggle the two.

In approving the Bagley plan, the committee stripped from the bill a provision to increase the tax on cigarettes from 10 to 13 cents a pack.

Bagley complained the action unbalanced his legislation. He said he may propose that the Finance Committee insert a minimum corporation tax and narrow capital gains exemptions.

"I'd like to put the cigarette tax in Stiern's bill," Collier said.

Bagley said since action on taxes and reapportionment appear to have picked up speed, Republicans and Democrats "no longer are at partisan loggerheads."

"The Democrats have told me they are not going to let the governor have any withholding bill unless reapportionment began to become readable," he said. "In the last few days there are all kinds of evidence that reapportionment consensus is very nearly a fact."

He said once all sides agreed on a tax bill it could be swiftly enacted, possibly through use of a two-house conference committee. This would bypass normal committee channels.

NOISE BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly has given unanimous approval to antinoise legislation requiring the adoption of minimum noise insulation standards for new homes and apartments.

The bill would require the Commission of Housing and Community Development to set noise standards for new hotels, motels and other residential dwellings in addition to homes and apartments.

It was returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments Wednesday on a 57-0 vote of the Assembly.

Beilenson's bill was supported by the building industry as well as consumer groups. Opponents had contended that it would increase the already high cost of homes. But Beilenson argued that the increase would be minimal.

It would ban the sale of excessively noisy machinery ranging from piledrivers to blenders.

NEW SEAT?

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A proposed new Assembly district in West Los Angeles has sent potential Democratic candidates scrambling to get in line to run for the seat.

Their dash could splinter Southern California Democratic leaders into feuding factions backing separate candidates for the district.

Although some of the party's most politically ambitious persons have begun efforts to seek the seat, it was originally drawn for one man, Democratic sources said Wednesday.

The district, which embraces Marina Del Rey, Southern Santa Monica, the Mar Vista and Palms districts of Los Angeles and Culver City, would have nearly a 62 per cent Democratic voter registration. The winner of the Democratic party would probably capture the seat with ease.

Democratic sources said it was carved for Howard Berman, a close friend and polital ally of Henry Waxman, Democratic chairman of the Assembly Reapportionment Committee.

EXPO STUDY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An Assembly committee will begin an "in-depth study" of the economically troubled California State Fair and Exposition Nov. 17.

The study was announced by Chairman Mike Cullen of the Assembly Efficiency and Cost Control Committee, who said Cal Expo Manager Tom Bair would be among those testifying at the first hearing.

He said Wednesday the committee is concerned about the future of Cal Expo because of the "publicity surrounding both the reduced attendance and decreased revenue during the 1971 State Fair."

Beware of falling objects.

They can put a severe dent in your wallet.

And what you gain buying this year's leftover could be what you lose in depreciation after the '72 models arrive.

Unless you decide to buy a Volkswagen.

VWs depreciate at a snail's pace.

In fact, the same Beetle that sold for about $2000 three years ago is still worth about $1550 today.

That's right.

You only lose about $450 over 3 years.

Of course, if you still can't resist that car with the "rock bottom" price, may we offer these words of caution.

CARTOONIST'S VIEW

Peanuts And God? Maybe

By MARY BURNS

Charles Schulz's day begins behind the closed door of his study where he communes with a scratch pad and pencil.

The day may be either productive — meaning he creates another funny situation for his "Peanuts" characters — or a waste — meaning he has not only failed to come up with an idea but has also fallen asleep!

The cartoonist described that typical day to an audience of about 200 persons yesterday at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry Point. Schulz was guest for an hour-long lecture dialogue.

Although the Baptists view Lutheran-born Schulz (now active in a Methodist Church) as a Christian layman and Christian cartoonist, theology got relatively short shrift from the Snoopy's creator, who said his chief aim was to entertain and not pontificate.

The 49-year-old cartoonist said he began drawing Peanuts in 1950. His comic strip, owned by United Features syndicate, now appears in over 1,000 newspapers, he said. Peanuts books have sold over 40 million copies and a Broadway play and two feature films have been based on his characters.

Schulz, who gave birth to Charlie Brown; Lucy; Snoopy; Schroeder; Linus; Pig-Pen; Violet; Peppermint Patty; Franklin; the Red Baron; and Woodstock, began the informal question-answer session by drawing a picture of Snoopy, the famous beagle, resting atop his dog house. "I just drew that to show you that I'm not a fake," he told the applauding crowd.

Schulz said he has wanted to be a cartoonist since childhood. "I'm one of those rare, peculiar types who always knew what he wanted to be since the age of 6," he said. The extent of his art education was a single correspondence course taken in high school, he explained.

The audience responded warmly to Schulz's quick wit, apparent frankness and unpretentiousness.

Asked how he knows that a character will be successful, he said "I just have a feeling."

About his newest character, Woodstock, Schulz said it had taken him 10 years to learn to draw the bird like I wanted it. I just have fun drawing him."

About the origin of the name "Peanuts," Schulz said it was the brainchild of someone at United Features and that he himself thought it was "the worst title I've ever heard of for a kid's strip."

As for why he doesn't incorporate adults into the strip, Schulz replied straight-faced: "because the strip is so small that they'd bump their heads!"

He said his characters are not caricatures of his friends but extensions of himself. Lucy is his "sarcastic self," Charlie Brown, his "wishy-washy self" and Snoopy his "dreamer self."

Schulz said his ideas for cartoons come from his thoughts and not necessarily experiences and that his cartoon is successful because it is funny. "No matter how much we give cartoonists credit for being prophetic or theologians," the successful cartoon is "still a funny picture."

Schulz compared the pressure of drawing a daily strip to "having to have an English theme written every Monday morning." But he explained "I cannot see myself existing without drawing pictures. If I were elected, by some stroke of fate, to the White House next year, my first thought would be, 'who's going to draw the strip?' The strip never leaves my thoughts."

Schulz was asked about his personal church involvement and the theology that crops up in Peanuts. He answered by explaining his present active status in a church and said he had been at least nominally associated with a church most of his life.

Replying to why he does not speak directly of God more often, Schulz said he was "the first cartoonist in the history of cartooning to quote scripture."

He added that his upcoming Christmas cartoon will include direct quotations from the Bible and that "as soon as this cartoon appears I will get letters from someone in the Middlewest saying it's sacrilegious to quote scripture in a cartoon. I just try to walk the line and get away with as much as I can," he said.

"I am not trying to change the world with my cartoons," he said, "although it would be nice if I could in some areas."

Asked why he does not have a Mexican-American child in his strip (Schulz's character, Franklin, is a black child) Schulz said it is difficult to inject race into his strip because it does not fit the situations he creates. "I'm not the one to do racial humor because it is not a part of my life," he said. Any racial humor he might include would be "contrived" he said.

Landscape Donation Pledged

The Tamalpais Community Services District has pledged $250 toward a cooperative effort to landscape the median strip of Enterprise Concourse in Tennessee Valley.

Board member Glenn Lambacher said the board on Tuesday voted to spend the funds to purchase and install a sprinkler system in about 190 feet of 22-foot-wide median strip along the road.

He said 11 residents of the street are contributing $20 each for plants and shrubs and Allan-Marin Co., developer of Marinview, a subdivision served by Enterprise Concourse, is donating $150 to install a water line and meter.

The board also scheduled a tree-planting party from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday at Marinview Unit 1 park, a three-acre park above Tamalpais Valley School.

The park has been graded and paths and bridge built by Allan-Marin, Lambacher said, and volunteers will move in Saturday to plant bushes and grass seeds and mulch the area with straw to protect the open ground from winter rains.

In other business, the board voted $400 to survey the western boundary of Rhubarb Park, an 11.5-acre parcel on Tennessee Valley Road donated to the district by the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club, and pledged to build a backstop at Tamalpais Valley School's playfield at a cost of between $500 and $800.

Windows Broken

Vandals went on a window breaking spree yesterday damaging 11 homes under construction in the Monarch Manor subdivision in Petaluma. Police said damage was estimated at $600 to the houses on Cedarwood and Gumwood streets.

New Tack Taken On Water Needs

The board, meeting for the first time since the proposed multimillion-dollar contract for Russian River water was beaten Nov. 2 by a 9-1 voter margin, asked district staff to develop a program that would promote water conservation, indicated a desire to poll consumers before the district completes more long-range planning and called for a look at possible rate restructuring.

William R. Seeger, general manager and chief engineer, told the board he would report back Dec. 8 with a suggested program aimed at encouraging reduced consumption of water.

Director Eugene A. Miller proposed the program, as well as the public opinion survey, suggesting the poll might be conducted through the district's billing procedures.

"We know how they voted," said Director John M. MacPhail Jr., "but why?"

Seeger said he would seek professional advice on a poll.

The general manager also said he would look into the cost of outside analysis of the district's rate structure, subject of some criticism during the election campaign because it charges heavy water user use less per cubic foot than smaller consumers.

Marin Municipal Water District Board also:

NICASIO — Asked staff to look into annexation of 1,000 acres of Nicasio property owned by the district but not within its boundaries. The land was acquired when Nicasio Dam was built. Miller, who suggested the annexation study, noted the district was paying taxes on the uninhabited land.

CLAIM — Rejected a $75,000 claim by owners of the Cote D'Azure Apartments in Sausalito for water damage beneath the buildings. District officials deny the damage is caused by district pipes.

DEED — Settling a two-year squabble, accepted a deed from the Fairfax School District for acquisition of right-of-way at White's Hill School for a transmission line. But the board authorized condemnation of property further along the line. Cost of the school property was $3,110.

PLANNING — Heard that federal funds would be sought for its environmental planning and land use program.

TANK — Received a report from a San Francisco architectural firm, Royston, Hanamoto, Beck and Abey, recommending a variety of measures aimed at softening the impact of a proposed water tank off Elinor Avenue, Mill Valley. The firm suggested retaining trees, modifying the design and painting the 28-foot-high tank varying shades of green.

CONTRACTS — Awarded a $262,463 contract to Valley Engineers Inc. for Central Marin line rehabilitation as part of a 1970 bond issue package; a $1,330 contract to Westinghouse Electric Supply Co. for electrical supplies; a $47,900 contract to Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. for construction of a storage tank in the Bret Harte area, together with a $24,800 contract to Maggiora and Ghilotti for preparation of the site; a $39,840 contract to A. Burtleson Co. for reconstruction of the Corte Madera pipe tunnel, and a contract calling for a maximum of $50,000 to three Bay Area consulting firms in connection with Southern Marin sewer planning.

Warrant At $25,000 In Grass Case

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — A bench warrant with bail set at $25,000 has been issued for Douglas E. Rambo, 30, of Fairfax, charged with trying to smuggle a bargeload of marijuana into the U.S. 18 months ago.

The arrest warrant was issued in U.S. Distrit Court here Monday after Rambo failed to show up for trial, according to prosecutor Arnold Rigarde.

Rambo and two other men originally were charged with attempting to smuggle three tons of marijuana plus receiving and concealing it.

David B. Tate, 24, of Tigard, Ore., pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of smuggling pot without paying the transfer tax on it and was sentenced to six months in jail.

The third man, Herbert B. Berez, 32, of Los Angeles, failed to appear at a hearing in August and a bench warrant was issued with bail set at $75,000.

San Franciscan Pleads Innocent

Victor Royal Van Wagner, 28, of San Francisco has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to charges of burglary and vehicle theft last Friday.

Preliminary hearing was set Tuesday for Nov. 23.

Officers stopped Van Wagner on a report from a caller on Sonora Avenue that a burglary was in progress nearby. Police said the car Van Wagner was driving was reported stolen in San Francisco.

Family Vespers Concerts Slated

A new Vespers Family concert series will open Dec. 12 at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere, according to Mrs. Gustav J. Snelling, chairman. Other Sunday afternoon concert dates are Feb. 20, April 9 and May 21.

Programs will be presented at 5 p.m. and will be followed by the serving of bread and cheese, wine, coffee and punch with the compliments of St. Stephen's.

The first concert, Dec. 12, will be performed by the Orchestra Piccola, conducted by Hugo Rinaldi. Featured will be two harps, violin and classical guitar in numbers by Ives and Vivaldi.

On Feb. 20 mezzo soprano Donna Petersen of the San Francisco Opera and Esther Johnson, organist from San Francisco and Berkeley, will be presented, and the April 9 concert will be a surprise "Spring Sing" of interest to young and old.

Closing the series on May 21 will be a return engagement of the Orchestra Piccola featuring Saint Saen's "Carnival of the Animals" with Mitzi Thornton as cartoonist.

Further information about the concerts may be obtained and arrangements made for purchase of family, adult and student tickets by calling Mrs. Snelling, who lives at 2002 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

Charlie Manna Dies At 51

NEW YORK (UPI)—A funeral mass was scheduled Friday for Charlie Manna, the comedian whose routines about the astronauts made him famous.

Manna died Tuesday of cancer. He was 51.

In 1961, Manna made a comedy recording about an astronaut who refused to blast off without a box of crayons to go along with his coloring book. The record was released two weeks before astronaut Alan B. Shepard's Mercury flight and it was a big hit with the astronauts.

As Shepard was about to enter his capsule for his flight, a doctor handed him a box of crayons. Shepard received another box of crayons from John Glenn at Grand Bahama Island after splashdown.

To Give Lecture

A lecture describing the Montessori method of early education will be given by Lois Kortum at Montessori de Terra Linda School in Terra Linda at 8 p.m. next Wednesday.

Death Row Inmate Is Stabbed

A 16-month resident of San Quentin's Death Row was stabbed yesterday afternoon, prison officials reported.

Chester Allen Johnson, 24, received four minor stab wounds around noon, but declined to say who had stabbed him.

Johnson, a twice-convicted murderer was treated at San Quentin Hospital and released to his cell. He was reported to be in good condition today.

Two sharpened toothbrush handles were found in nearby. There was no blood on them, however.

Johnson was sent to Death Row in July, 1970, having been convicted of two slayings in February, 1969: Loren Silliphant, son of Hollywood writer-producer Stirling Silliphant, and, a week later, dentist Glen Olsen in Oakland.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Some Snowmobile Owners Don't Realize The Machine Isn't A Toy

Mrs. J. V. writes: "Our son-in-law just bought a snowmobile. My husband and I are not too happy about this purchase because of the possibility of an accident. Do you have any suggestions as to how the machine could be used safely? It would be terrible to see him or one or our grandchildren with a fractured skull or broken back."

An adult old enough to be married and have children ought to be mature enough to make decisions relative to a snowmobile. More than two million snowmobiles have been sold in this country and in Canada. But the device is not a toy and so many injuries have been reported that snowmobiling must be considered on of the more dangerous winter sports. We hope this will change as operators become more careful. Safety guidelines have been suggested by Canada's National Research Council for owners and those who design and maintain trails.

THE NOISE from these machines can damage the eardrums. Furthermore, the racket prevents the driver from hearing an oncoming car and other snowmobiles. In addition, visibility may be poor if there is falling snow or glare from the sun. Exhaust fumes from the motor also contain carbon monoxide.

The back is vulnerable when the snowmobile hits a ridge or hole. By positioning the legs properly, the limbs act as shock absorbers and protect the back from a sudden jar. The bigger machines do not have automatic starters and the weekend sportster may end up with bursitis of the elbow or shoulder after tugging and pulling to get the motor started.

THE MOST common accidents associated with snowmobiling include hitting stumps, fences and trees or other vehicles. Snowmobiles offer little protection while streaking along at 60 or more miles an hour, especially if they strike an immovable object, tip over, sink in thin ice or hit a fence.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

INFECTED APPENDIX

Mrs. S. Q. writes: What is the cause of appendicitis?

REPLY

Infection (appendicitis) usually follows obstruction, which occurs when intestinal material is trapped in the appendix. The appendix is a long, blind narrow pouch that opens into the large intestine.

NOTHING TO IT

R. T. writes: What is your reaction to the story that there is a link between cancer and caffeine?

REPLY

Many persons with cancer of the bladder also are heavy coffee drinkers.

DAMPNESS AND RHEUMATISM

S. H. writes: Does living at the seashore cause rheumatism?

REPLY

No, but damp sea air may aggravate aches and pains.

PLATULENCE AND BACKACHE

F. L. writes: Could excessive intestinal gas cause back pain?

REPLY

Yes. Bowel distress usually is felt in front, but it can settle in the back and be manifested as a vague ache.

ASTHENIA MEANS WEAK

A reader writes: What does the word asthenia mean?

REPLY

Weakness, debility or lack of strength.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Probate Of Wills Precise

There is an orderly procedure for winding up a person's estate after death. The "probate" of the estate provides for the immediate family's needs, the payment of creditors, and ultimately the distribution of assets. Probate means "proof" of the will, of claims, and of the rights of heirs.

Procedures for the administration of an estate are precise and must be followed. Each step is supervised by the court.

In a recent case Mr. Armstrong was riding in a small plane piloted by Mr. Shepard. The plane crashed and both died. Armstrong was survived by a wife and two sons. Shepard was survived by his wife who was the administrator of his estate.

Through her attorney Mrs. Shepard asked the court to wind up the estate and distribute all of Shepard's assets to her. Her attorney filed a notice to creditors and published the notice in the local legal newspaper in August.

Seven months later, Armstrong's widow and two children filed a claim against Shepard's estate contending, that he negligently piloted the plane and was responsible for her husband's death. When the claim was denied the widow and minor children sued the estate.

The court ruled that the suit was not "timely." All creditors must file their claims against the estate within six months of publication of the notice to creditors. The Armstrong children tried to claim that they were not bound by the six months provision because they were minors. But case laws as well as the probate code make no exception for minors.

There are other time limitations:

1. Anyone contesting the admission of a will to probate must act quickly. If the original will is lost, a copy, a substitute or other document may be admitted. Unless these are timely challenged, the court may accept as evidence that which is presented in court.

2. If claims are rejected by the executor, a suit must be filed against the estate quickly or the right to suit will be barred.

3. Debts are paid in order of priority.

4. Distribution of the estate follows. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

Moose Lodge Apologizes To Black Librarian

LACEY, Wash. (UPI)—The local Moose lodge has publicly apologized to a black librarian who was barred from entering the lodge to receive a gift from the Ladies Auxiliary.

Mrs. John C. Finley, the city librarian, had been invited to Moose Lodge 1759 last week to receive a check for the purchase of books. But two days before the presentation, Mrs. Finley was told by a lodge member she would not be allowed inside because of her race.

The lodge, which bars black members, apologized after conferring with national Moose officials. The lodge said Mrs. Finley would be invited back next week to accept the donation.

Six Drivers Are Sentenced For Drinking

Six drivers have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sentenced Monday by Judge Robert A. Smallman were:

James Edward Daniel, 41, of Santa Rosa, arrested on Sept. 29 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $302.

Erdle Wilson Whittingham, 41, of 821A Fort Barry, Sausalito, arrested on June 1 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and ordered to spend five days in jail on weekends.

Kenneth Ray Stephens, 49, of 701 Fourth Street, San Rafael, arrested Oct. 22 in San Rafael, placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Marion George Wamsley, 46, of San Francisco, arrested Oct. 30 in Larkspur, placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Helen Hutchinson M. Polk, 50, of San Francisco, arrested Nov. 7 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and ordered to do 80 hours of volunteer work for the Girl Scouts.

Martin Paul Meier, 35, of San Francisco, arrested Nov. 3 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $302.

Special Water Meeting Set

The Petaluma Water Commission agreed yesterday to call a special meeting next month to resolve problems stemming from free water users.

Some ranchers east of the city have been receiving free water in 100-year-old agreements, but have complained that aged water lines no longer supply enough water for livestock.

Commission secretary Kay Hagan said the commission heard that three ranchers have dropped their requests for the city to replace the water lines and have agreed to do it themselves.

The commission said, however, that the special meeting should be held to see what the other ranchers want and to finally resolve the matter.

Jury To Visit Ohta's Mansion

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — The judge in the trial of John Linley Frazier plans to take the jury today to the hillside mansion near Santa Cruz where the former auto mechanic allegedly killed Dr. Victor Ohta and four others.

Superior Judge Charles Franich said the panel and trial participants would visit the scene today if the weather permits.

The jurors are also scheduled to visit a service station where Frazier purportedly was seen after the slayings and the cabin where he lived, located a mile from the Ohta home.

Marijuana Charge Dropped

Charges of possessing and cultivating marijuana against a Mill Valley woman were dismissed in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday.

The plants, two of them 12 feet high, were found during a routine building inspection of her residence.

Alioto Ignores His Counsel In Testimony Regarding Fee Share

VANCOUVER, Wash. (UPI) —Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco ignored his attorney's objections Wednesday and testified he did not tell the utilities suing him for $2.3 million that he intended to share the fee he got from them.

The testimony came during Alioto's first day on the stand in the civil lawsuit against him, the former attorney general of Washington state and a former assistant attorney general.

In the suit, the state of Washington and 12 publicly owned utilities seek a refund of a $2.3 million fee they paid Alioto for serving as their attorney in antitrust suits before he became mayor.

Despite objections by his own attorney and another defense attorney, Alioto testified he had not told the Washington utilities that he planned to share his attorney's fee.

He went on to describe the general practice of fee sharing among attorneys and stated, "it would be highly unusual for an attorney to tell his client about fee sharing arrangements."

Defense attorneys had tried in vain earlier in the trial, now in its eighth week, to enter similar testimony from other witnesses.

As Alioto launched into his answer, his own attorney, Paul Cressman, and Kenneth A. MacDonald, attorney for codefendant George K. Faler, rose to make objections about the question. Alioto kept right on, leading Judge Donald L. Gaines to comment, "I don't know if I'm going to get a chance to overrule it."

Rewording a question from William Helsell, attorney for the plaintiffs, Alioto said, "What he's really asking is why didn't I tell the utilities I was going to share fees. I'll tell you why.

"I didn't know I was going to share a dime with Mr. O'Connell because I didn't know if he was going to work... it is not the custom and tradition to seek out a client and say 'I am sharing fees with your lawyer.' I didn't do it in these cases and I don't do it in other cases."

O'Connell is John J. O'Connell, former attorney general of Washington State, and the third defendant in the suit.

The plaintiffs say they were not told about removal in 1965 of a $1 million ceiling on Alioto's fee or that he would share the fee with O'Connell and Faler, an assistant to O'Connell.

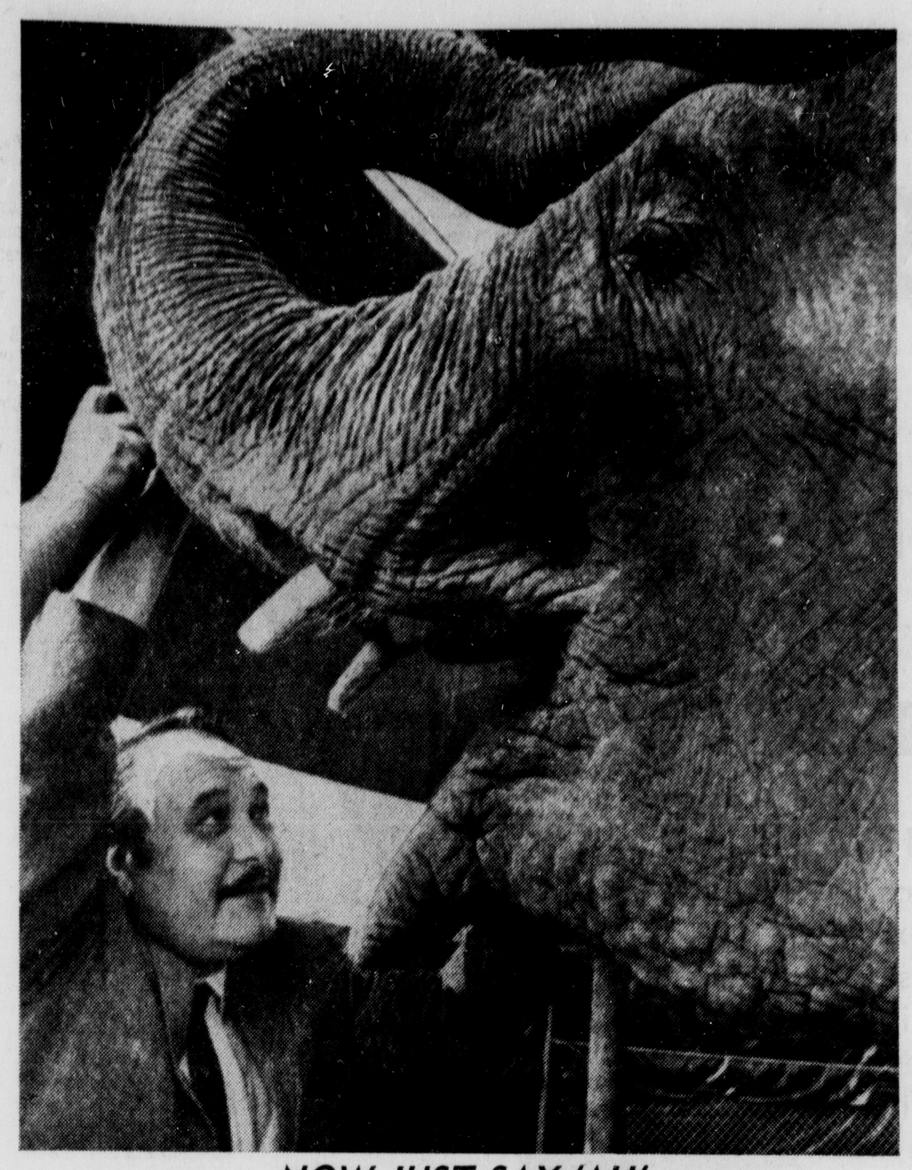
Alioto testified that Darrell Ries, attorney for Grant County Public Utility District and a member of a steering committee for the utilities, was informed about both the fee sharing and removal of the ceiling.

Alioto said the ceiling was removed "during a kind of euphoria" after a $3.25 million settlement with Westinghouse Electric Corp. in March, 1965. "They changed my obligations, which forced me to hire four new lawyers," Alioto said.

Before the Westinghouse settlement, Alioto said, some of the Washington plaintiffs— notably Seattle and Grant County—were reluctant to press their suits. He said John Nelson of Seattle City Light particularly "didn't want to sue his friends in G.E. and Westinghouse."

Of the removal of the fee ceiling, Alioto said, "It was discussed with Mr. Ries, who was a member of the steering committee—a committee representing everybody. When he knew about it he knew about it as a member of the committee."

He said Ries also was present sometime in 1965 when he told George Martin, a master for U.S. District Court Judge George Boldt, that he was sharing fees with Faler.



NOW JUST SAY 'AH'

Stormy, an Indian elephant at Lion Country Safari in Laguna Hills, appears to be a most cooperative patient for Dr. Sidney Garfield, a dentist who examined Stormy's teeth during a recent tour of the park. Dr. Garfield, who has had much experience with animal dental problems as well as those of humans, has written a book "Teeth, Teeth, Teeth," explaining in layman terms teeth and dental care in humans as well as animals.

Firemen Benefits Are Topic

The Novato Fire District board last night set 7:30 p.m. Dec. 1 at the main fire station for review of the pay and fringe benefits asked by the Novato Firemen's Association.

The board received the request on Oct. 27, but did not discuss it then because of a lack of a quorum, said fire chief Jack Kidder.

Although four members were present last night, with Fernando Clementino absent, the board wanted more time to study the effects of the requested increases on the budget, Kidder said.

The board also asked Richard H. Breiner, attorney for the association, to study the cost of salary increases and fringe benefits such as a reduction in the work week and a dental plan prior to the Dec. 1 meeting, Kidder said.

The board authorized purchase of a new mannequin for resuscitation practice for $227, chemicals for weed abatement for $377, and new tires for a small truck at $96.

Bill To Control Traffic In Sausalito Is Shelved

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to allow Sausalito to close the southern approach to the city to all but residents on weekends has been thrown into legislative limbo for the current session.

The bill, SB 1355, by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, died yesterday when Behr withdrew his support after a visit from Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The measure had been approved 46-5 by the Assembly Monday but was blocked from return to the Senate for concurrence in amendments by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles.

A Behr aide said today Bagley discussed the bill with Behr and expressed doubt that opposition by Sieroty and others could be overcome, whereupon Behr decided to withdraw his support of the bill, in effect killing it.

Introduced at the request of the Sausalito City Council, the bill would have permitted any city of less than 10,000 to close any city street to all but residents if that street consistently showed a traffic count of more than 1,000 vehicles per hour over a 12-month period. The aide said Sausalito is the only city in the state with traffic counts which would permit it to close a street.

The city asked the law in order to close Alexander Avenue, the southerly approach to the city, on weekends and route the traffic into Sausalito from the north.

The Behr aide said the bill is dead for this legislative session but the senator will continue to be concerned with Sausalito's traffic problems and will do everything he can under existing laws to help the city alleviate congestion.

Historic Connection To Horse Racing

CHICAGO (UPI) — The fairer sex can claim an historic connection with horse racing, but the attachment is not exactly complimentary.

The earliest full-length account of a chariot race, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, reported that first prize included "a woman skilled in women's work."

$14.62 Million Collected So Far By UBAC

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The chairman of the United Bay Area Crusade campaign says that $14.62 million has been raised by volunteer workers so far this year.

Lawrence E. Hoyt told a dinner for volunteer workers Wednesday night that the five-county appeal would continue until Dec. 15.

"A number of major employe drives still are under way, and many volunteers have indicated that they wish to continue working on campaign assignments," Hoyt said.

The campaign has been under way in Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo Counties.

Peacock Gap Owners Elect

Lawrence T. Simmelink of 3 San Marino Drive, has been elected president of the Peacock Gap Homeowners Association, succeeding Edward W. Snygg.

Other officers elected at the Wednesday meeting are: Vice president, Richard C. Rhoads; secretary, Mary Carpou, and treasurer, Charles W. Dechent.

The board announced having an area wide Christmas lighting contest. Homes will be judged on Dec. 20.

Use The Rod

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) — Malayan parents feel the cane is better than psychology in bringing up children, according to a survey by the Malay Mail newspaper.

Rail Center Doomed

TORONTO (UPI) — Toronto's 50-year-old Union Station, the city's main rail terminal, is doomed, despite the efforts of historical conservation groups. Officials say the station will be torn down to make way for a city center.

American Motors Buyer Protection Plan

If anything goes wrong with one of our '72's and it's our fault, we'll fix it FREE

yes! . . . Anything!

A STRONG GUARANTEE IN PLAIN ENGLISH

HERE IT IS!

When you buy a new 1972 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material of workmanship.

This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada and that guaranteed repairs or replacements be made by an American Motors dealer.

see Bianco's Marin American — who will do more for you after you buy a car than any other dealer in town.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE
No. 179350

Superior Court of the State of California City and County of San Francisco

Estate of ADOLPH A. TISCORNIA, also known as A. A. TISCORNIA, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on or after the 26th day of November, 1971, the undersigned ALICE B. COPELAND, as executrix of the Will of Adolph A. Tiscornia, also known as A. A. Tiscornia, deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest net bidder, subject to confirmation by the above-entitled Court, all the right, title and interest the estate has, consisting of a remainder interest only, by operation of law or otherwise, acquired other than or in addition to that of the decedent at the time of his death, in and to that certain real property situated in the City of Larkspur, County of Marin, State of California, described as:

Beginning at a point on the southerly line of King Street distant thereon 100 feet easterly from the point of intersection of the southerly line of King Street and the easterly line of Magnolia Avenue; running thence easterly along the said southerly line of King Street 50 feet to the northwest corner of the parcel of land described in the deed from Giovanni Gianelli to The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, recorded May 19, 1955, in Book 942 of Official Records at page 597, Marin County Records; thence at a right angle southerly along the westerly boundary line of said parcel of land 100 feet; thence at a right angle westerly 50 feet along the southerly line of the parcel of land described in the deed from Walter G. Sellmer to A. B. Copeland, recorded June 13, 1935, in Book 298 of Official Records at page 426, Marin County Records; thence at a right angle northerly along the westerly line of said Copeland parcel (298-426) 100 feet to the southerly line of King Street and the point of beginning.

SUBJECT TO:

Current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, rights, rights of way and easements of record.

Bid or offers for the property are invited, must be in writing, and may be delivered to the executrix at the office of her attorney, ALBERT G. EVANS, 111 Sutter Street, San Francisco, California 94104, or may be filed at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of the instant notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: The executrix will entertain bids involving delayed payments, or cash, or grant an option subject to zoning, provided a deposit is made, and cash shall be paid upon exercise of the option. The maximum option granted shall not exceed 180 days.

Taxes to be prorated as of date of recordation. All costs of title search, escrow, recordation and title insurance to be borne by the purchaser.

The property is unimproved.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to accept a term sale in preference to cash sale if in the best interests of the estate.

CLAUSEN, MAILLIARD

Opposite Views On School Prayers

By BENJAMIN SHORE
(I-J Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — While agreeing that church and state should be separate, Marin County's two Republican congressmen have taken opposite views on the proposed constitutional amendment which would have allowed prayers in public schools.

The amendment was rejected Monday when proponents could muster only 240 votes, 28 short of the two-thirds required for passage of a Constitutional amendment.

The amendment would have permitted "voluntary prayer and meditation", and it was intended to overturn the 1962 and 1963 Supreme Court decisions against prayers in public schools.

Rep. William S. Mailliard of the Sixth District opposed the amendment, and Rep. Don H. Clausen of the First District supported it.

Among California's congressional delegation, all 20 Democrats and three Republicans opposed the amendment, while 12 Republicans favored it. Three other Republicans were absent.

Mailliard said he voted against the measure because, by saying it would permit "voluntary" prayer, the amendment "would mean exactly what the Constitution says now."

"I see no reason to clutter up the Constitution with an amendment that adds nothing," he said.

Clausen said he supported it because "the Supreme Court's decisions have been grossly misinterpreted, and this would have simply reaffirmed that volunteer prayers are permitted in public buildings."

"This amendment would have served as a guideline," he said.

Under the Supreme Court rulings, a student cannot be prohibited from saying a prayer, but schools may not dictate the form or content of prayer, nor may they set aside a specific time or place for prayer.

California has had a state constitutional provision barring prayers in public schools since 1879. Had the proposed prayer amendment to the U.S. Constitution been passed by the House and Senate and ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, it would have wiped out the California provision.

Theft Suspect Bound Over

Barry Royal Heir, 18, of San Rafael, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglary and is to be arraigned Monday in Superior Court.

Heir was arrested Oct. 24 at First and E Streets, San Rafael, when police found coins and postage stamps in his pocket which were allegedly taken in a burglary moments before at Steven's Travel Service, 1601 Second Street.

Bay Agency Bill Wins In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly yesterday narrowly passed a bill to create a conservation and development agency encompassing eight San Francisco Bay Area counties.

A conference committee report on the bill by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, was approved 41-11, the bare majority needed. There was no debate. The report now goes to the Senate.

Knox said the conference committee, composed of members of the Senate and Assembly, amended the bill so that the agency would be subject to voter approval in 1976, three years after it was scheduled to begin operations.

As approved by the Senate, the bill would have required voter approval of the agency before it could go into effect.

The measure would include San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Alameda, Contra Costa, Solano, Napa and Marin counties within the agency. Excluded was Sonoma County.

The agency would be governed by 77 trustees, half of them locally elected officials and the remainder elected from special districts.

It would draft plans for development of transportation, open space, environmental quality control and parks on an eight-county basis.

The agency would also have the power to veto actions by local governments or private developers considered not in the best interest of the area.

Opponents of the bill were sharply critical of that provision and argued that the agency would become a "supergovernment."

BCDC Will Hear Two Marin Pleas

Two Marin County permit applications will be before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission when it meets at 2 p.m. on Nov. 18 in Room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

Charles Dahle seeks permission to build a two-story residence and deck covering 3,200 square feet of an 8,000-square foot lot at 75 West Shore Road, Belvedere. The lot is almost all under the water of Richardson Bay and the house would be on pilings.

Sanford N. Diller seeks permission to develop a 15-acre parcel abutting the Shelter Cove Apartments in Mill Valley, about half of which is under Richardson Bay waters. He proposes to build two apartment housey on the parcel.

SAFE WAY TO LEAVE DRIVEWAY

I-J Special Report

WICHITA, Kan. — Unless her children were in plain sight, Mrs. Barbro Torbey always worried when backing her car out of the garage. She feared one of her three might be playing in the driveway.

So she bought a convex mirror, fashioned a bracket to mount it on the upper rear corner of her car — and is applying for a patent. She simply looks into the standard rear-view mirror and can see what is reflected by the outside mirror a yard back of her car.

Mrs. Torbey says 39 young Kansans have been backed over, some fatally, in the last five years. And she says there's no count on the number of bikes, wagons and other toys that were smashed.

As her husband says, "Necessity is the mother of invention, but our mother is an inventor."

Developer Runs Into Opposition

The Sausalito Planning Commission has reaffirmed its opposition to a request by the developer of the 431-unit Whiskey Springs apartments for a 12-month extension of a conditional use permit.

Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt said the commission unanimously denied the extension Tuesday after taking a second look at current plans for the development to see if they differ from plans originally approved by the city in February 1970.

The commission had already recommended denial of the extension at its regular meeting Nov. 3 but called Tuesday's adjourned session to review the plans once more. Borgwardt said the planners found significant changes between the original plans and the new ones.

The Developer, Joseph Duffell Financial and Construction Co., was given a six-month permit extension in March by the city council. That extension expired in September.

If the city council accepts the recommendation and turns down the use permit, Borgwardt said, the developer will have to submit new plans for the apartments, proposed for the old American Distillery Co. site in northern Sausalito.

The council is slated to consider the matter Tuesday.

Film On Christmas May Be Reserved

The film, "Christmas Through the Ages," may be reserved starting Nov. 27 at the Novato Branch of the Marin County Library.

The 14-minute film traces the symbols of Christmas to their many sources and reflects the world-wide participation in the holiday.

CALLING ALL
CAMERA FANS
By Ken Reichard

TAKING A LONG LOOK

If you have graduated to a better camera that enables you to use interchangeable lenses for special picture-taking situations, this season's sport scene provides a reminder that the "long look" is the best way to capture the action.

Sitting way up in the stands with an average length lens for your camera is something like watching the action far up field from the end zone. A long lens become a must.

For general use, a lens in the 300mm range is the most popular, with an aperture in the f/4 to f/5.6 range. This lens may look clumsy to you if you've never tried one, but it is small enough and light enough to carry around easily. And it is easy to hand hold when you want to follow the action quickly as you shoot.

Moving into the field of long and wide angle lenses opens up a whole new world of photography. Are you ready for it? If you are, you can step into that world in our store, where you'll find fine quality lenses and accessories for your camera and every picture-taking need. Come in!

SEASON FINALE

Marin Tests Santa Rosa

All the elements of a bullfight — and perhaps even the excitement — will be involved as the College of Marin Tars end their season against the highly-touted Santa Rosa Bearcubs tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Santa Rosa.

The only difference is that this time the bull is expected to win. Santa Rosa is the bull — big, strong and powerful. Marin is the matador — relying on quickness and sleight-of-hand in an effort to win.

If Santa Rosa wins, it will claim the Camino Norte Conference championship. Its 5-1 record will equal the winner of the West Valley-De Anza game, but the Bearcubs have already beaten both rivals, so they would advance to the junior college playoffs.

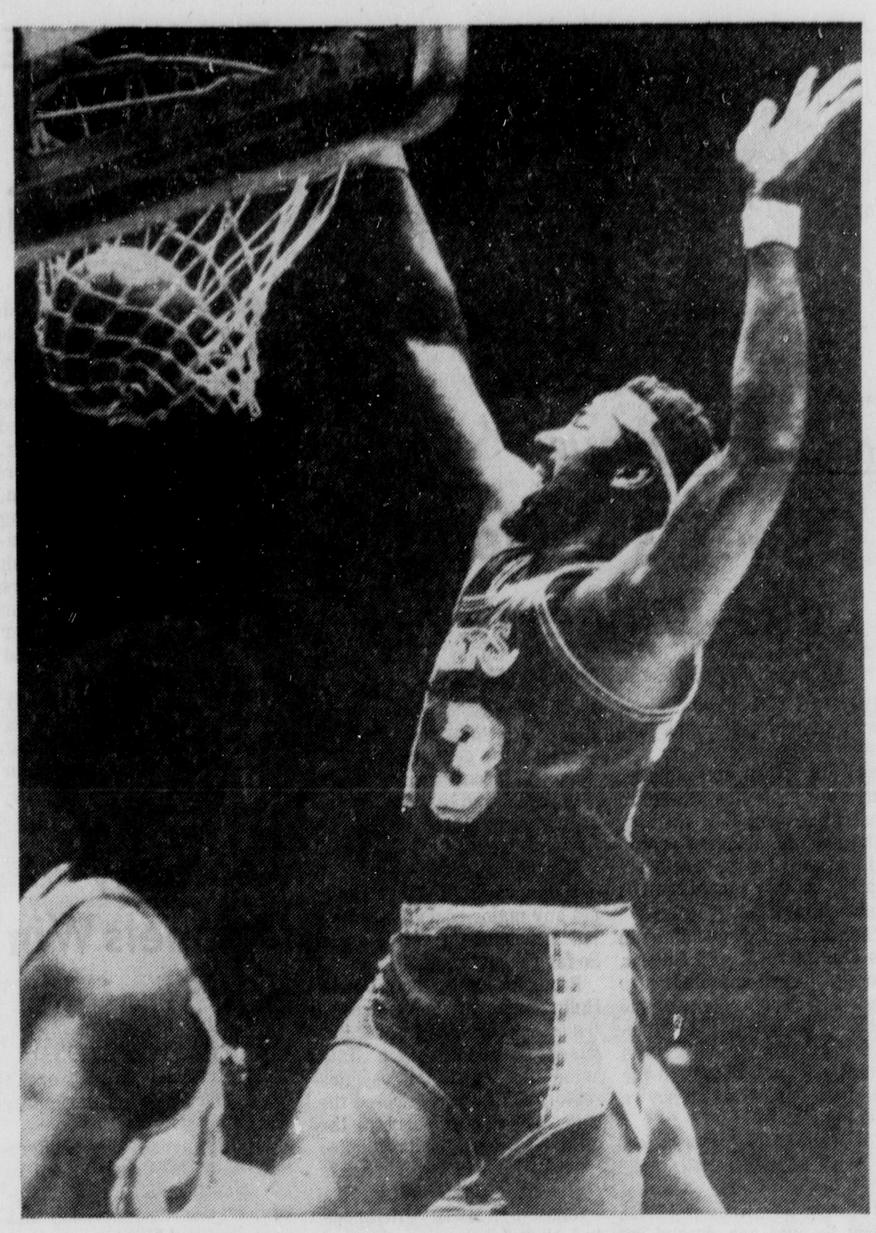
That is, they'll advance unless injury-plagued Marin plunges the knife into the bull. Kevin Peak has taken over at quarterback for the Tars, and will fashion his offense around split end Bob Larson. "We need to throw because they're bigger," said Marin coach Dick Read.

The Marin defense, which has given up only 58 points in conference play, will have its hands full with a bullish Santa Rosa offense averaging 39 points a game. Quarterback Tom Kirkpatrick and fullback Joe Stender lead the charge, and both were all-conference last year. Stender runs the hundred in 9.8, and leads the league in scoring and rushing. The team's No. 2 back, Larry Steele, is also the conference's No. 2 back.

Linebacker Chris Fenton spearheads the battle-weary Tar defense. Mike Ditto has replaced Tony Cassin at cornerback, while Frank Pomilia has moved in at middle guard and Ross Godnak at defensive tackle.

Another replacement finds Blair Bavuso in for Rich English on offense. Marin will field a completely sophomore team with the exception of Mike Corder and Mike Locati.

"We've played some pretty good football (despite eight straight losses), but they (Santa Rosa) have a good team, let's face it," said Read.



POURING IT ON — Big Wilt Chamberlain smiled broadly and dunked the ball while a helpless Philadelphia 76er looked on in Philadelphia. The scene was typical of last night's action as Chamberlain's Los Angeles Lakers demolished the 76ers, 143-103. (UPI Telephoto)

Marin Prep Soccer In Showdown Stage

By LEW CODDINGTON

It's been a long climb, but Drake High School's soccer team is finally alone at the top.

With one day of games left in the Marin County Athletic League regular season schedule, the Pirates have pushed ahead of defending champion San Rafael for the first time all year. They have 22 points on a 10-1-2 (win-loss-tie) record, while San Rafael is 9-1-3 for 21 points.

The season ends tomorrow afternoon — maybe. A full slate of games finds Drake at Marin Catholic, Novato at San Rafael, Redwood at San Marin and Tamalpais at Terra Linda.

Under normal circumstances, a Drake victory would clinch the championship, but the situation is complicated by a protest which was filed after Drake's 0-0 tie with San Rafael Oct. 1.

In the second quarter of that game, a San Rafael player was thrown out for using obscene language. The official, Henry Landauer, refused to allow San Rafael to substitute another player, and the Bulldogs played on with just 10 men.

Landauer, a premier official, is the only American ever to referee a World Cup match. He applied the international rule in this situation instead of the newly-adopted MCAL rule, which would have permitted a substitute.

"If this game affects the league standings, it will be replayed Monday at 3:30 p.m. at San Rafael," said George Corson, league commissioner. If San Rafael loses tomorrow and Drake wins, the game will not be played. Any other outcome would leave the Bulldogs two points or less behind, and the game will be held.

"The season is a long one, and it's beginning to tell on the kids," said San Rafael coach Bill Monti. The Bulldogs were a point ahead at this time last week, but since were held to ties by Terra Linda, 0-0, and Tamalpais, 1-1. Meanwhile, Drake won twice.

Drake gave San Rafael its only defeat, 2-1 earlier this year. The Pirates play an aggressive, attacking style which has resulted in some high-scoring triumphs.

"We're much more offensive this year," said coach Imants Abers. "We've got mostly a senior team and they've been working together for a while. A lot of teams have been playing us defensively, dropping back men toward their goal, trying to shut us off."

Abers' high-scoring set of forwards includes speedy Rolf Bell, Richard Larson and Doug Harnsberger. Bradley Herbert is a standout halfback, while the defense is anchored by fullback Randy Johnson and goalie Eric Hein.

"We have a balanced, controlled style of play," said San Rafael's Monti. "We use our halfbacks on both offense and defense." The Bulldogs try to control the ball through passing, but they certainly aren't conservative and they score liberally.

Inside forward Adalpho Flores has scored 15 goals this year, a healthy total for 13 games. Misak Pirinjian is an exceptional halfback and Dave Mason and Dave Hardin are outstanding fullbacks.

The Drake-San Rafael duel provides interesting fodder for those who like to argue about whether or not American soccer players are catching up with foreign players. San Rafael starts four players of foreign origin, while Drake has none.

Shibata Retains Title

Referee Yung Soo Chung of South Korea scored it 72-69 for Shibata, judge Nobumitsu Inukai called it a draw 71-71 while judge Ryoji Kashiwagi had it 71-65 for Marcel. The UPI scored it 69-68 for the Panamanian fighter.

It was an important draw for Shibata because had he lost he would have suffered the loss of the $100,000 indemnification which he paid to Mexican promoter Enrique Cesna in August to be released from a contract. The WBC had threatened to strip Shibata of his title if he refused to pay the $100,000 to Cesna.

Shibata's alternative was to defend his title against the Mexican Clemente Sanchez in Monterrey, Mexico in a match lined up by Cesna. Shibata preferred to pay the $100,000 rather than to defend his title in Mexico.

Marcel made good use of reach advantage, and caused the champion lots of trouble. Shibata tried repeatedly to bore in in an attempt to score with his powerful left and right hands. Marcel, however, danced away and in turn came in fast to score with a fast right hand attack to the head and body.

Rod Sherman Comes Off Injury List

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Oakland Raiders get back wide receiver Rod Sherman against the Houston Oilers Sunday but may miss the services of Marv Hubbard, Horace Jones and Gus Otto.

Despite a tender ankle and sore shoulder, Hubbard, the pile-driving fullback, said "I'll be ready."

Otto, a linebacker, has a busted rib and may sit this one out. Jones, a rookie defensive end, has a sore foot. All three players are "questionable" for the Oilers.

Raiders coach John Madden says the Oilers under former San Francisco 49er assistant Ed Hughes have "changed everything."

"Not only is the system new, the entire offensive line is new," said Madden.

Warriors To Battle Knicks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Golden State hopes Willis Reed's left knee remains tender at least one more night.

When they played three weeks ago, Reed, the Knicks slick center, played 45 minutes and New York turned back the Warriors 93-84. Since then, Reed has had trouble with tendonitis in the knee and has been ordered to play no more than 24 minutes in the next few games to see if that improves the condition.

The Knicks have been struggling with a 6-8 record in the NBA's Atlantic Division while the Warriors are doggedly clawing at leader Los Angeles in the Pacific Division with a 10-4 mark, one game off the 11-3 pace set by the Lakers.

Jerry Lucas, a former Warrior, has been playing in place of Reed for the Knicks. He has been averaging 12.5 points a game. Cazzie Russell, the guy the Warriors received from New York in the trade for Lucas, is averaging nearly 25 points a game.

"You know Cazzie is going to score even when he starts off cold sometimes," said Warrior coach Al Attles. Russell was one for 13 from the floor in the first half against Seattle last week but seven for 12 in the second half.

He went one for nine in the first half against Houston Tuesday night but swished 10 for 19 in the next two periods as Golden State won going away.

The Knick players who ruined the Warriors in their last meeting were forwards Bill Bradley and Dave DeBusschere. Attles says he'll pay closer attention to them tonight.

NBA ROUNDUP

Lakers Wallop 76ers By 40

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

You've got to take notice of Los Angeles when the Lakers hand one of the better teams in the National Basketball Association a near-record pasting.

The Lakers creamed Philadelphia, 143-103 Wednesday night for the club's second worst defeat in its history. Gail Goodrich again showed the way with a game-high 34 points that dropped the 76ers two games back of Boston in the Atlantic Division.

Boston routed Houston, 142-103, Cincinnati stopped New York, 99-85, Milwaukee beat Atlanta, 116-110, Detroit smothered Portland, 139-122, and Chicago nailed Baltimore, 125-106.

Philadelphia, suffering its worst loss since the 43-point setback by San Francisco in 1961, was out of the game almost from the opening tap-off. The Lakers rolled up a 39-20 first quarter margin and were in front, 72-45 at halftime. Happy Hairston netted 21 points and Jerry West added 20. The Lakers received strong bench support from Flynn Robinson's 18 points. Hal Greer and Dave Wohl shared Philadelphia scoring honors with 16 points each.

Dave Cowens scored 29 points and John Havlicek tallied 28 in three periods as Boston handed Houston its 13th loss in 15 games. A merciful coach Tom Heinsohn benched his one-two scoring punch in the fourth quarter after the Celtics wrapped up the game with a 43-point third period. Elvin Hayes led the Rockets with 30 points.

Willis Reed played 12 minutes for New York, his first game since Oct. 28, but the Knick center's presence failed to generate any spark in the lifeless defending Atlantic Division champions who now have lost eight of 14 games. Cincinnati allowed New York a 42-all intermission deadlock and then spun away with a 29-19 third quarter. Nate Archibald scored 22 points for the Royals. New York's starting guards, Walt Frazier and Dick Barnett each had 15 points.

Milwaukee, preparing for another runaway season, raised its record to 12-1 as Kareem Jabbar netted 33 points. Atlanta, led by Lou Hudson's 39 points, held a five-point lead with nine minutes remaining, but couldn't maintain the pace as it lost its fifth straight game.

Detroit made Earl Lloyd's coaching debut a winning one by beating Portland. The Piston's victory came after the Blazers took a 33-31 first quarter lead. Jimmy Walker sparked the Detroit comeback as he scored 31 points. Rookie Sidney Wicks matched that total for Portland.

Baltimore fell a game back of Central Division-leading Cincinnati in the lopsided loss to Chicago. Jerry Sloan paced the winning Bulls with a season high 35 points, including 14 in the second period when Chicago broke open the game. Archie Clark led Baltimore with 23 points.

Walt Alston Signs For 19th Season

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—For the 19th season, Walter Alston will manage the Los Angeles Dodgers next year, making quiet news in his unflappable fashion.

The Dodgers made it official Wednesday when they announced that he has been "rewarded with his 19th one-year contract."

Alston, who will be 60 Dec. 1, got the Dodger job in the first place because he was willing to sign for just one year and he's never complained since. Charlie Dressen who had the job wanted a long-term contract and when O'Malley wouldn't give him one, they parted.

That was in 1954 when the Dodgers were in Brooklyn and Alston was an unknown minor league manager who had one time at bat as a player in the majors.

Alston won his first pennant and World Series with the Dodgers in 1955. After the Dodgers moved West in 1958, he captured the pennant and the World Series again the next year.

He thus became the only man to manage a club on both coasts and win pennants and World Series with it.

During his 18 years as Dodger manager, Alston has won six pennants, four World Series, has finished second five times, third once, fourth twice, and has had only four clubs under the .500 mark at the season's end.

In 1970, he matched the tenure of the late Wilbert "Uncle Robbie" Robinson, who had 18 years from 1914 through 1931.

History shows only three managers with more longevity —John McGraw of the old New York Giants with 31 years (1902-1932); Connie Mack of the old Philadelphia Athletics with 50 years (1901-1950), and Cap Anson of the Chicago Cubs with 19 years (1879-1897).

The Dodgers did not disclose Alston's salary. Some years ago he went over $50,000 and it seems certain he now is approaching the $100,000 milestone.

Alex Johnson Gets Four Hits

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Alex Johnson, in his first baseball game since he was suspended by the California Angels early last summer, banged out four hits in five at bats Wednesday night to lead the Caguas Criollos to a 10-3 win over the Santurce Crabbers in the Puerto Rican Winter League.

Johnson, who was given permission to play by his new owners, the Cleveland Indians, hit a double and three singles to drive in two runs and score three others.

Drivers May Boycott Over Safety Issue

GLASGOW, Scotland (UPI)— World driving champion Jackie Stewart of Scotland said Thursday some Grand Prix drivers will boycott world championship events next year unless there is an improvement in trackside safety standards.

Speaking on the eve of the Scottish Motor Show, Stewart, vice president of the Grand Prix Drivers' Association, said: "There are 15 world championship events listed for next year. I cannot see them all taking place."

The two-time world champion, who won the 1971 title in a Matra-Ford, continued: "I hope some of the tracks are taking notice. We are losing too many top drivers. Some race tracks will have to put themselves in order, or temporarily bow out.

"If this is the case, it will be my loss and everyone else's loss, but motor sport will benefit."

Stewart maintained that if safety precautions are not taken, drivers and spectators could be involved in serious accidents.

This year's Belgian GP was called off because the drivers considered the Francorchamps Course too dangerous.

They agreed to drive in the Mexican event only after receiving guarantees of better crowd control from the Mexico City organizers. The event was cancelled, however, following the death of Pedro Rodriguez on a German track in a non-championship sports car race.

Ironically, the vacant date was taken up by Brands Hatch, England for a "victory race" to honor Stewart, but it ended on a sad note with the death of Switzerland's Jo Siffert.

Moroski Grabs Passing Lead

Marty Moroski of Novato has taken over the passing lead, Marty Larson of San Marin has grabbed the receiving lead, and San Rafael has tied Terra Linda in total defense according to Marin County Athletic League statistics.

Moroski clicked on 13 of 19 passes for 170 yards last Friday to move past Terra Linda's Kevin Donohoe in ratings based on yardage. He has 866 yards to Donohoe's 828. Each has played five league games. Donohoe's statistics against San Francisco St. Ignatius last Saturday night do not count, since it was a non-league game.

Although he has thrown much less, Moroski has nearly as many completions as Donohoe and a much higher completion percentage, 58.0 to 41.3.

Larson grabbed three passes against Tamalpais to give him 18 receptions and a one-catch lead over John Buckley of Terra Linda. Each has played five league games. Larson also leads in yardage, 347-304.

In a statistical rarity, San Rafael and Terra Linda are now locked in an exact tie in total defense, each having given up 818 yards in five games for a 164-yard average.

San Rafael's Scott Duncan continues to hold the rushing lead, although Novato's Leo Magers gained on him for the third straight week. But Magers is still 92 yards back with only one game remaining.

Mike Connor of Redwood still clings to the scoring lead with 62 points, ahead of Duncan by the margin of one conversion run.

San Rafael still leads in rushing offense with 274 a game and in total offense with 336. Terra Linda leads the passing. Novato has the top rushing defense, 58 yards a game, and Terra Linda has restricted passers to 46 yards an outing.

East-West Basketball Classic At Terra Linda

Terra Linda High will again be the site of the second annual East-West All-Star basketball classic to be played in early February, game officials announced yesterday.

The contest will pit the top players in the Army who attended college in the East against those from the West.

In the first East-West classic which featured eight players who had received first or second team All-American recognition, Darnell Hillman (Warriors first pick who eventually signed with Indiana) paced the West to victory.

Army coach Hal Fischer, who has guided American teams in both the Olympic Games and Pan-American Games, cited the large and enthusiastic turnout (1150) for the first game as a determining factor in again awarding the contest to the Marin school.

Athletic director Don Lucas was extremely pleased when notified yesterday that Terra Linda High would again host the game. "We feel very honored to host this event for the second straight year," commented Lucas. "The last East-West game was undoubtedly one of the top sports attractions in Marin county history."

Soccer Set Sunday

There will be three games between the Ross School soccer teams and Holy Name School of San Francisco Sunday at Ross Common, beginning with the third and fourth graders at noon.

PREP NOTEBOOK

Aide's Ode: A Football Episode

By RON LENT

He's but a boy
With a mind to ploy

Grid plays to win
Titles for San Marin.

Clay Muster is the name,
Football is his game.

He yells loud, long, hard.
'Block like a pulling guard.'

'Stick 'em defense, that's the way,
Our team is tops, here to stay.'

With these sounds heard 'bove the roar,
San Rafael ups the score —

20, 30, 42 and then
'Get another, do it again!'

Come the gun, he walketh down
To pass his smile all around.

Each Bulldog receives this prize
From the pride of the coach's eyes.

For this lad is the mentor's son,
And his grid years have just begun.

FUNNY GIRL might be an apt description of the young San Rafael High School miss who dressed in a clown costume for her football team's homecoming. Possibly infested with pre game jitters and a call from mother nature, the pretty lass scurried to the restroom shortly before kickoff. Unfortunately, she walked right into the boy's facility, which caused her pretty pink cheeks to turn livid.

The little lady sped out and into the safe confines of the proper place of temporary relaxation.

IT'S OLD HAT to some, but not to San Marin High School flankerback Marty Larsen. The swift pass catcher shocked the football gathering Saturday at Novato High when he came out for the pre-game coin flip wearing — a leather football helmet.

While the fans and players peered through unbelieving eyes, Larsen calmly went through the coinage ritual. He subsequently returned the battered headgear to its owner, San Marin assistant coach Carrol Dillon.

The hat, tattered and battered, drew the following sideliner response: "if it's good enough for the coach . . ."

GREG BIBER HAD A FIT Saturday, so why change a good thing? The standout Tamalpais end methodically tapes up his worn out football shoes for each game, probably because he has grown very attached to them.

"I'll bet he has nursed them all the way since his freshman year (in 1968)," his coach, Mike Davlin, commented Saturday. "I'll bet it costs us more to tape up his shoes every week than to buy him a new pair."

"Just what is venison?"

HOCKEY ROUNDUP

Gilbert's 2 Goals Lead Rangers, 7-1

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Both Rod Gilbert and his New York Ranger teammates are finding themselves caught in a happy rut. 9 Gilbert came up with two goals for the third consecutive game Wednesday night and the Rangers continued unbeaten for the 12th game in a row as they routed the Los Angeles Kings, 7-1.

"I just hope I can continue in this kind of rut," said Gilbert, who also picked up an assist to boost his point total for 15 games to 27, tops in the National Hockey League. "I've been getting a lot of chances in the last few games and they've been going in."

The team's rut is of a different nature. Despite their nonlosing streak of nine victories and three ties, they've been unable to gain any ground on Montreal in their battle for first place in the East Division. The Canadiens have won nine of their last 10 games, including a 5-2 decision over the Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday night, to remain two points behind New York.

However, Ranger Coach Emile Francis says he isn't frustrated about his team's inability to break away despite its fine streak.

"Why should I be upset? I've been waiting all my life to win," he joked, then added, "I'm not worried about anyone as long as they're behind us. They still have to catch us."

The Chicago Black Hawks, meantime, took over undisputed possession of first place in the West by beating the Boston Bruins, 3-1, while the Minnesota North Stars were dropping a 2-1 decision to the Detroit Red Wings. In the only other game, the Pittsburgh Penguins beat the Vancouver Canucks, 3-1.

Frank Mahovlich scored his 15th goal in 14 games for Montreal and Henri Richard gained the 900th point of his career by assisting on a goal by Phil Roberto in the game played at Toronto. Richard took his milestone point in stride, explaining, "It's nothing today with all these guys getting over 100 points a season," but Mahovlich was overjoyed as he entered the dressing room yelling, "I like it, I like it."

Mahovlich, who also had an assist, added: "I didn't really set any major goals this season but I thought I'd get 30 goals. So far I'm on target."

Brothers Bobby and Dennis Hull scored power play goals in the second period to lift the Black Hawks to their sixth home win without a loss this season. Mike Walton scored the only Boston goal early in the third period as the third-place Bruins dropped seven points behind New York.

Redwood Girls Win Net Title

Redwood clinched the championship in Marin County Athletic League girls' tennis Tuesday by defeating Marin Catholic.

Final standings:

Redwood 8-0, San Rafael 7-1, Marin Catholic 6-2, Terra Linda 5-3, Drake 4-4, Tamalpais 2-6, San Domenico 2-6, Novato 2-6, San Marin 0-8.

Alpine Meadows Sound Financially; Good Resort

By CHARLIE COANE

Over the years, Alpine Meadows has always been a fine place to ski — especially for the family.

And, over the years, Alpine Meadows financially has ended up in the red. But not last year. The area's new president, former C.P.A. Ray Johnson, turned the tables by holding down costs and increasing business. As a result of the cash flow reversal, Alpine Meadows had an excellent year — by far its all-time best. So this year the resort is starting on solid financial ground.

JOHNSON HAS not exactly gone wild revamping the area with the new found riches, but this is a lean year for mountain improvements at all the resorts. Alpine has done more than most.

Out went the old "baby poma" lift and in its place went a new beginner chair lift — 2½ times longer or about 1400 feet. The lift, located in the same area as the old poma, is adjustable for loading and unloading in the snow. This makes it very easy for beginners to learn how to use a chair lift and should ease the crowd on the Weasel Pass lift. It also gives beginners much more area to ski.

The advanced Alpine Bowl chair lift has had the loading area rearranged and the ramp can also be adjusted for snow loading.

BEAVER BOWL, a relatively unskied area high to the right above the top of the big poma lift, will now be patrolled by the Ski Patrol. It can be reached by advanced skiers off a high traverse from the Wolverine Bowl.

Alpine is also very big on mid-week skiing and offers a $100 season pass good Monday through Friday, except between Christmas and New Year's and Easter week. Daily adult rate remains at $8.00 with kids under 13 — $5.00. There is no longer a surface lift (poma) ticket.

The skiing terrain, which begins at 6,900 feet and rises to 8,500 feet, is about half intermediate, one third beginner and the rest expert.

THE SKI SCHOOL of 60 instructors would rather switch than fight and has adopted the GLM (Graduated Length Method) of teaching. Werner Schuster commands the "shortie" ski teachers, and Bernie Kingrey is now in charge of mountain safety and avalanche control.

The well-organized NASTAR (National Standard Race) program for recreational skiers had more participants than any other area in the West and ranked number two nationally. Alpine will be full steam ahead again this season and plans the races every Sunday.

Kentucky Colonels Win 6th Straight

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Kentucky Colonels aren't about to let the Virginia Squires get away this season.

Last season, the Squires surged off to an early lead in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division and actually coasted the last half of the season with the Colonels in futile pursuit. It's different story this season.

The Colonels scored their sixth straight victory and 10th in 14 games Wednesday night with a 115-89 rout of the Dallas Chaparrals. Dan Issel led the Kentucky scoring with 26 points while Artis Gilmore and Darel Carrier added 20 each.

Joe Hamilton had 25 to lead Dallas.

The triumph left Kentucky tied for the Eastern lead with Virginia, which edged the Floridians 119-116 Wednesday night. In other action, the Indiana Pacers trounced the Pittsburgh Condors 154-125 and the Utah Stars trimmed the New York Nets 127-110.

New Faces In Pro Grid Statistics

NEW YORK (UPI) —There's a familiar note to the American Football Conference individual statistics this week.

All the leaders from last week, including Bob Griese of Miami, Billy Parks of San Diego and Larry Csonka of Miami in the passing, receiving and rushing categories, retained their No. 1 positions.

But there were some new faces on top of the NFC standings. Roger Staubach of Dallas, handed the No. 1 job by coach Tom Landry, took over the top position in the NFC passing statistics. He replaced Billy Kilmer, the Washington quarterback who was booed by the fickle Redskin fans last week for his inability to move the Skins against Philadelphia. Kilmer dropped to sixth in the standings.

Mill Valley Group To Give 49er Ducats

Two free tickets to the San Francisco 49er-New Orleans Saints football game Sunday will be given away at the meeting of the Mill Valley Junior 49er Minor Club at 7 o'clock tonight at the community recreation center.

Club members also will view a football movie. The club is sponsored by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department.

MARIN-SONOMA GOLF

Two Holes-In-One Grab Spotlight

Two holes-in-one, scored under different circumstances, grab the leadlines in Marin County golf this week.

Last Friday at Las Gallinas, June Coniglio of Novato aced the 155-yard ninth hole, using a 3-wood. Fred Lack and Walter Lack Jr. of San Rafael witnessed the shot.

Hugh Farquanar of San Rafael went farther afield to get his ace, but he may end up being well rewarded. He got his hole-in-one at Bennet Valley golf course in Santa Rosa, and the shot qualified him for the Rusty Nail Hole-In-One Sweepstakes sponsored by the Drambuie Co. of Edinburgh, Scotland. He is now eligible to win a free trip to Scotland and $1,000 in cash.

On a more conventional note, two trophy playoffs were held during the past week. Mrs. John Sauter recorded 89-16-73 to triumph at Peacock Gap, while Mrs. Anthony Dedier's 73-11-62 was good enough to win at Las Gallinas.

Al Walton and Richard Dalton tied for first place with net scores of 61 on Secretary's Day at Mill Valley. Walton had 73-12-61 and Dalton had 74-13-61.

Mrs. Stan Fogler was low gross at Indian Valley on Guest Day with 82-14-68. Mrs. A. L. Cueva won on Charm Day at Marin Country Club with 94-26-68. Mrs. William May led with 86-11-75 in San Geronimo's Turkey Shoot, and Mrs. Frank Kern and Mrs. Helvetia Walker tied for fewest putts, 28, on Friday Playday at Mill Valley.

The results:

Mill Valley Teens Can Play Tennis

New rules governing use of Mill Valley's tennis courts on weekends have been amended to allow teen-agers use of one of the three courts.

At the urging of a resident, the parks and recreation commission Monday rescinded an earlier ban on teen use of the courts and said persons aged at least 14 will be allowed to make weekend reservations for one of the courts.

The new rules, recommended by the commission and adopted Nov. 1 by the city council, are designed to make the courts available for use by residents on weekends. A fee of $1 per hour per court will be charged and reservations will be necessary, according to commission secretary Megan Nolan.

In other business, the commission recommended to the city council that a three-block strip of land separating parallel Miller and Presidio avenues be landscaped to prevent cars from driving across it.

Novato Slates Cage League, Judo Program

Basketball and judo events highlight the Novato Recreation and Parks Department November calendar.

Team signups are being accepted for the men's basketball league program. The entry fee for this double round robin play is $45. An organizational meeting pertaining to league particulars will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Recreation office, 917 Sherman.

The department is also sponsoring a Golden State Warriors' game trip Nov. 18 for children eight through 14-years-old. Those paying the $1.50 resident or $2 non-resident fees before the 50-man quota is filled will see the Warriors play the Portland Trailblazers at the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

An eight-week children's judo course will be held at Rancho School from Nov. 15 through Jan. 17. The evening class costs $14 for non-residents, $13 for residents.

Nicklaus, Trevino Picked To Win 'Cup'

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI)—Defending champions Bruce Devlin and David Graham of Australia were first on the tee today to start the 19th World Cup golf tournament, but the heavy betting was on the U. S. team of Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino.

Two-man teams from 46 countries are entered in the 72-hole tournament over the PGA's 7,096-yard East course, a tough layout anytime and tougher now because of rains that have made the ground soft and the grass long.

The golfers will be playing for glory and not for money. First prize for the winning team is $1,000 each and another $1,000 goes to the individual low scorer. As Nicklaus says, it's less than he makes for a one-minute television commercial.

But the blond "golden bear" of the U. S. professional golf tour and "Super Mex" Trevino say they'll go all out to win for the United States. They were scheduled to tee off shortly before noon, among the last of the teams.

Given the best chance of beating the Americans were Devlin and Graham, the English team of Tony Jacklin and Peter Oosterhuis, and South Africans Gary Player and Harold Henning. Player and Henning won in 1965.

Neither of the Americans was spectacular in Wednesday's proam round, which they played with Jackie Gleason and Bob Hope. Nicklaus shot a 70, two under par, and Trevino a 74 over the breezy course.

"The course is going to be a little tougher than it was for the PGA," said Nicklaus, who won that tournament in February. He said he figured if he and Trevino can each average 282 — for a team total of 564 for the four-day contest—"that ought to be pretty good."

Low individual scorer in the Wednesday round was Chi Chi Rodriguez of Puerto Rico with a 69. Player had a 70, and so did Japan's Haruo Yasuda.

Two 49ers On NFL's Injury List

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Strong safety Mel Phillips and wide receiver Dick Witcher of the San Francisco 49ers will see limited duty, if any at all, against New Orleans Sunday at Candlestick Park.

Both listed as "probable" in the weekly injury report to NFL headquarters. Phillips reinjured an ankle and Witcher cut the palms of both hands diving for the ball against Minnesota last week.

Either Johnny Fuller or Mike Simpson will fill in for Phillips while Preston Riley or Jimmy Thomas will replace Witcher.

Two former 49ers are playing for the Saints and both had a prominent role in the 21-21 tie New Orleans got against the Oakland Raiders last week.

Running back Jim Strong scored on a 10-yard run and receiver Dave Parks caught a 10-yard touchdown pass from Edd Hargett in the final seconds to lift the Saints from a 21-14 deficit into the tie.

Clemente, Robinson Head 'Glove' Team

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, head the National and American leagues' all-star fielding teams announced Wednesday by the Sporting News.

The two nine-man teams were selected in a poll of managers and coaches in the two leagues.

Clemente, making the team for the 11th consecutive year, had all but two of a possible 55 votes. He was joined in the national league outfield by Bobby Bonds of the San Francisco Giants and Willie Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The National league infield is Wes Parker of Los Angeles at first, Cincinnati's Tommy Helms at second, Houston's Doug Rader at third and New York's Bud Harrelson at short with Bob Gibson of St. Louis the pitcher and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati, the catcher.

Robinson, named to the team for an unprecedented 12th straight year and chosen this year unanimously, was joined on the American league team by three other Orioles, shortstop Mark Belanger, outfielder Paul Blair and second baseman Dave Johnson.

Boston placed two players, first baseman George Scott and outfielder Carl Yastrzemski.

Also making the team are Cleveland catcher Ray Fosse, outfielder Amos Otis of Kansas City and Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat. Otis made the team for the first time.

Ex-Giant Jansen Joins Cubs As Pitching Coach

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

CHICAGO — Former San Francisco Giants pitching coach Larry Jansen has signed in the same capacity with the Chicago Cubs for the 1972 season, the Cubs announced today.

Jansen, who was with the Giants for the last 11 years, was released earlier this season. He will replace Mel Wright, who was returned to his former position in the Cubs' scouting organization.

Jansen, who won 122 games and lost 89 in the major leagues, spent most of his career with the Giants. His last major league season was 1956.

Cubs first baseman Joe Pepitone had surgery yesterday to remove a bone chip from his left elbow. His doctor said the operation was successful and that Pepitone probably would be released from the hospital before the weekend.

SPORT SHORTS

Tennis

BOLOGNA, Italy — Egypt's Ismail el Shafei and Yugoslavia's Zeljko Franulovic last night advanced in the Bologna Open tennis tournament. El Shafei defeated South Africa's Bob Maud 6-3, 6-2. Franulovic came from behind to win 1-6, 7-5, 6-1 over Australian-born Bob Carmichael, now playing for France.

Boxing

HOUSTON — Muhammad Ali says he will knock out heavyweight Buster Mathis before the final 12th round by using a hit-and-run style.

"A couple of times I'll go inside and stay a while with him," Ali said yesterday at his training camp. "One time I'll go in and stay and it'll be over. If he tags me, well, he hits me."

Ali and Mathis meet next Wednesday in the Astrodome.

Bowling

AKRON, Ohio — Johnny Petraglia's $625 in prize money in the recent Mercury Open at Rochester, N.Y., has made him the first member of the Professional Bowlers Association tour ever to surpass the $80,000 mark in earnings in a single season. Petraglia, of Brooklyn, N.Y., has $80,490.

Golf

PALM BEACH SHORES, Fla. — The Royal Melbourne golf club of Australia has been chosen as the site of next year's world cup golf championship, it was announced here last night.

The 20th annual event will be held in Melbroune Nov. 8-12, 1972.

Five Giants Turn Disc Jockeys

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Five San Francisco Giants, including Willie McCovey and Gaylord Perry, turn disc jockeys next week over a local radio station.

Each morning, from 7 to 10, a different member of the Giants will spin records, talk baseball and do all the other things disc jockeys do over station KSFO.

Catcher Russ Gibson kicks off the week on Monday and will be followed by third baseman Al Gallagher, McCovey, pitcher Jerry Johnson and Perry.

Of the group McCovey is the only one with radio-TV experience. Willie once had a sports show on a Sacramento, Calif., television station and in recent years has filled in as a color man on Giants broadcasts when on the sidelines with injuries.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Georgia Gets Stiff Test Saturday

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Test time will come a little early this year at the University of Georgia.

Georgia's defense, one of the best in the nation, will get its stiffest test Saturday when the Bulldogs play host to Auburn and Pat Sullivan in a battle of unbeatens.

Sullivan, one of the country's top college quarterbacks, ranks third nationally in passing and is fifth in total offense. He's completed better than 58 per cent of his passes this season and has thrown 16 touchdown passes, nine to Terry Beasley, the Tigers' outstanding flanker.

"To beat Auburn we must contain Pat Sullivan," says Georgia Coach Vince Dooley, and his club has all the credentials. Since a 56-25 opening game victory over Oregon State, the Bulldogs have logged four shutouts and have permitted only one touchdown in each of their other four victories.

While the Georgia defense will get the stiffest test, the Bulldog offense may do some testing of its own. Georgia, led by sophomore quarterback Andy Johnson and replacement James Ray in the last two games, has averaged just short of 34 points a game. Auburn scouts rate Robert Honeycutt, Jimmy Poulos and Ricky Lake as the best trio of running backs they've faced this season.

Georgia (No. 6) is a three point favorite over Auburn, the No. 5 team in the nation and bowl representatives will be watching this one closely.

Elsewhere, all of the remaining top 10 teams are heavy favorites. No. 1 Nebraska is a 33-point choice over Kansas State while Oklahoma is 30 over Kansas. Third-ranked Michigan is 17 over Purdue and No. 4 Alabama is 24 over Miami (Fla.)

Penn State (7) is 30 over North Carolina State, Notre Dame (8) is 28 over Tulane, Arizona State (9) is a big choice against Wyoming and 10th-ranked Stanford is 27 over San Jose State.

Char Triumphs In Table Tennis

Seals Start Road Swing

BOSTON (UPI) —There'll be an angry bunch of Bruins waiting in Boston Garden tonight for the surprising California Golden Seals.

The last time the teams met Oct. 28 in Boston, the upstart Seals shut out the high-scoring Bruins 2-0 behind the goaltending of rookie Gilles Meloche. It's a good bet that Meloche will be in the nets again tonight.

And only Wednesday night, the Bruins were beaten 3-1 by the Chicago Black Hawks.

But there's hope for new coach Vic Stasiuk, a former Bruin, and his young band of skaters. The Seals are 5-1-1 in their last seven games while the Bruins are 3-4.

On the road, the Seals haven't lost in three starts.

"We've got to get wins right off the bat," said Stasiuk. "We know it's tough in Boston. But if we can split on the road, we'll come home in pretty good shape."

Boston has been having problems this season with the outspoken Derek Sanderson and injuries to Ted Green, Don Awrey and Don Marcotte.

"As for us," said Stasiuk, "we have no aches or pains. That's unusual. Everybody is healthy except Tom Webster (who is hospitalized with a back ailment)."

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current regular price less the following dollar allowance:

Storz Instrument Newly Opened At Montecito Shopping Center

Newly opened at 243 Third Street, San Rafael, in the Montecito shopping center, is Storz Instrument Co., a removal from the World Trade Center in San Francisco where it has been for the past five years.

Storz, headquartered in St. Louis, is a manufacturer and supplier of surgical instruments for hospitals and physicians. This office is the western states distributorship and is headed by Gil Ayron of Tiburon. With him in the office is Corinne (Corky) Jones of San Anselmo.

Edelstein

Thompson

Mrs. Tappan

Brown

THE SAN FRANCISCO architectural firm of Gensler and Associates, Inc., has appointed as vice-presidents Harold Edelstein of Tiburon and Steve C. Thompson of Corte Madera. Both joined the company in 1966. Edelstein, as chief architect, will be responsible for the production of all major architectural projects of the firm. Thompson will serve as the senior designer and participate in overall management.

A. CLYDE JONES, owner of Rafael Floor Covering, San Rafael, has been elected first vice-president of the California State Builders Exchange, an association of 18 local builders exchanges. He is a past president and currently a director of the Marin Builders Exchange.

NEW ROSS RESIDENT Mrs. Kit Tappan, who has moved here from Newport Beach, has joined the San Rafael office of Dean Witter and Co. She is a daughter of Margo Margossian, manager of Sherman Clay in San Rafael, and is believed to be the only woman stockbroker accredited by the New York Stock Exchange in the North Bay. Before going into the investment business about four years ago she was a teacher.

Insurance Firm Expands South

LOS ANGELES (BW) — California Life Insurance Co., a 50-year-old Oakland headquartered firm, has announced its expansion into Southern California with establishment of a Los Angeles office.

The new facilities will open Nov. 15 under the direction of Los Angeles-based officers.

DOUGLAS W. BROWN of Santa Rosa has been promoted to assistant vice-president and manager of Crocker Bank's Northgate office in San Rafael. He has been with the bank 10 years, serving in managerial capacities at various offices in the West Bay region — most recently as manager of the Valencia-Mission office in San Francisco.

FORREST A. GOFF of San Rafael, owner of Easy Rentals of San Rafael, has been attending the California Rental Association convention and 25th anniversary celebration in Palm Springs this week. Equipment rental dealers from all over the world are attending and many new items are being displayed.

VILLAGE FRAMES AND GALLERY of Fairfax will sponsor its third annual art show tomorrow night through Monday at the Mill Valley Art Club. This year it will display the works of 14 artists.

DURING THE MONTH of November, the paintings of Ruth L. Schwartz and Selma G. Maas are on display at Redwood Bank in San Rafael. Mrs. Schwartz, a native of Cleveland, has lived in Marin since 1962. She won a best in oils at the Novato Oldtwon Festival this year. Mrs. Maas has been in this country from Germany since 1949 and has won several prizes. She is a member of the Marin Society of Artists and Society of Western Artists.

PIE Moves Toward A Big Merger

PHILADELPHIA (BW) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved International Utilities Corp.'s application to acquire Pacific Intermountain Express Co., a major step toward the trucking industry's largest merger.

IU has owned Ryder Truck Lines, another major motor carrier, since 1965. PIE is the sixth largest trucking company in the country and Ryder ranks ninth.

Combined they would form the second largest U.S. motor carrier with revenues of $261 million for the 12 months ended June 30.

PIE's routes reach from coast to coast, north of the Mason-Dixon line, while Ryder operations are primarily north-south in the Eastern third of the nation.

Chicago and St. Louis are major junction points for the two companies' routes. Under provisions of the ICC order, IU is to submit a plan for merger of PIE with Ryder for ICC approval within a year.

Uncertainty On Market Front

Pint-sized swingers in the electronics were in reverse gear. Airlines also came under pressure, but price movement in other stock groups, including steels, motors, chemicals, and rails, generally were confined to fractions with a downward bias.

On the Big Board, weak spots included IBM down 3 1-4, Westinghouse 1, Burroughs 1 3-4 Motorola 1 3-8, Zenith 1 1-2, Magnavox 1 1-8, Wrigley 2 1-2, Monsanto 1, UAL Inc. 1 1-8, Flying Tiger 1 1-4, and Superior Oil 1.

Profit Is Shown For Second Half

PALO ALTO (UPI) —Varian Associates on Monday reported profits of $1.1 million for the second half of fiscal 1971.

During the first half year it had reported a loss of $5.4 million.

IT'S THE FASTEST

Workmen make final checks on a Newell Industries Inc. of Sunnyvale tape recorder prior to its shipment to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The ADR-2015 is the world's fastest tape recorder, Newell spokesmen claim, with the capability of recording or playing up to 80 million bits of information a second. The recorder is used as part of satellite image processing systems.

Chicago Exchange's Volume On The Rise

Trades totaled 259,802, an increase of 61,598 or 31.1 per cent over the October 1970 volume. This followed a rise of 45,467 to 238,650 transactions in September, an improvement of 23 per cent over September 1970.

Trades in the two-month September-October period totaled 498,452, up 107,065 or 27.4 per cent from the year-earlier period.

"Continuing uncertainty relative to Phase II, the international monetary situation and conflicting economic hopes and fears made price protection through hedging increasingly desirable to all facets of the agribusiness world," Harris said.

"There have been fundamental changes in the supply/demand factors which affect prices of the commodities traded at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. As one example. tremendous increases of feed grains have had noticeable impact on the livestock numbers and feeding margins.

"Our major increases in volume came in frozen pork bellies, live cattle, and live hogs, all of which were listed within the current decade," he said.

Revokes Freeze

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (BW) — The Puerto Rican government's consumer service administration has revoked the long-standing cement price freeze to establish a more flexible price control system that allows increases of 5 cents per bag annually at the producer's level.

A Safer Christmas For The Little Ones

With the "official" opening of the Christmas buying season two weeks away, the Food and Drug Administration has come up with both a warning and a reassurance about the safety of this year's Yule toys for children.

They'll be safer than last year, said the FDA — largely because the FDA itself has banned 187 toys outright and required manufacturers to make changes in many others to eliminate things dangerous to little children.

But, warned Malcolm W. Jensen, FDA's director of product safety, the administration has not been able to examine and test all the 5,000 new toys on this year's market, so buyers should do their own inspections before taking home playthings that may be hazardous.

BANNING OF 187 potentially dangerous toys this year is a welcome move by FDA, which last year banned none despite a 1969 law authorizing it to establish safety standards for toys and order off the market all that failed to meet them.

The law came too late to be of any help on the 1969 Christmas season, being signed by President Nixon in mid-November. Last year, FDA failed to take action under it. Consumers Union sued the federal agency as a result. It lost the suit — but it won its point, as the banning of the list of 187 this year proves.

Very innocent looking toys can be hazardous, as Jensen demonstrated for newsmen when he announced the bans. He showed a soft toy elephant that squeaked — adorably, except the squeaker could pop out and be swallowed by a little child, and might choke the swallower. He also showed a toy plastic lawnmower with a sharp spike exposed if a child removed the top — which was easily done. Manufacturers made corrections in these toys to eliminate the hazards. The 187 banned, said Jensen, could not be corrected.

Among the more dangerous playthings have been many of the multitude of war toys that made Christmas shelves look like arsenals for several years, until revulsion against the Vietnam War brought sharp diminution in production of such items.

But dangers may lurk in such old standbys as Teddy bears — some of which have eyes that are really pins, easily pulled out by baby. And some toy electrical appliances — stoves, washers, etc. — have posed real hazards of burns and electric shocks.

THERE HAS LONG been outcry about unsafe toys. In 1966 Congress passed what was called the Child Protection Act. But it was so full of holes as to be worthless. Two years later, it was estimated that 17 million children were injured and 15,000 killed annually by their toys.

Then Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, pushed through the 1969 act that gives FDA power to set safety standards and order unsafe toys off the market.

We're happy to see that FDA is enforcng the law this year. But when you start that Christmas shopping round for children, grandchildren or nephews and nieces, it would pay to examine the toys yourself for possible hazards. No one wants a child's Christmas joy to be turned into tragedy.

Two Forgotten Groups: Taxpayers, Farm Workers

SACRAMENTO — There are at least two groups of forgotten Californians in this 1971 session of the state legislature: Taxpayers and farm workers.

The taxpayers will get nothing, except withholding for their state income taxes. That may make it easier for the state to take their earnings. It will also make it easier for the state to spend it.

What the taxpayer really needs is a tax cut. The middle income groups are hurting. In fact, some leading economists, such as Elliot Janeway, see a recession coming and advise citizens to hang on to their money. This sounds great. But how? You have to use most of your Christmas Club savings to pay property taxes. So much for the taxpayer.

The farm workers will get nothing, which is often their lot. Where they once were batted around by corporate growers, they are now batted around by corporate unions.

What the farm worker really needs is protection of his right of a secret vote to join or not to join a union. But the farm worker won't get that out of the legislature any more than the taxpayer got tax relief.

THERE HAVE BEEN three attempts this session to provide the farm worker with the guarantee of a secret ballot. One by Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove, one by Assemblyman Bill Ketchum, R-Paso Robles, and one by State Sen. John Harmer, R-Glendale.

The Harmer bill made it through the Senate but died in Assembly Labor Relations. All of the bills were killed because Cesar Chavez and his United Farm Workers wanted no part of them. Union kingpins came to Sacramento and said "no." There were not enough lawmakers with enough guts to stand against Cesar's legions.

Small farmers and small farm workers came to Sacramento, too. They rallied in support of the three bills. They made it clear they want to be free men — free from Cesar, free from the sweetheart union contracts signed by the big growers.

But the majority of the legislators in committee didn't listen to them. They paid their heed to Cesar.

BUT ALL THIS may pass away next year. What legislators wouldn't or couldn't do, the public may do for itself.

A group of farm workers and small farmers have begun a signature drive for an initiative proposal which, they hope, will be on next June's ballot. The measure would guarantee farm workers the right to join or not join a union, guarantee a secret ballot, establish an election and collective bargaining process for the farm workers through the State Department of Industrial Relations.

It would also outlaw the secondary boycott which Chavez has used so effectively to whip-saw growers into submitting to UFWOC.

The initiative drive is being headed by Dolores Mendoza of Delano, a longtime foe of Chavez and his Madame LaFarge, Delores Huerta. Vice chairman is Rev. Michael Cross, a Catholic priest from Salinas.

The taxpayers and the farm workers may have been forgotten this year. They have something else in common. Both groups will probably have initiative measures on the 1972 ballot.

Which is fine. When your pockets are being picked, or your rights are being squashed, while some politicians continue to fry their own and other fish, the initiative is the way to go.

Two-Thirds Requirement Villain Of Piece

There were a few mistakes in "North Marin Water Bond Is Beaten" in Wednesday's I-J. I am 26, not 28, as reported. The years are going by fast enough without help, thank you.

Second, I did not "campaign(ed) for defeat of the bond issue" (Measure C in Novato). I very specifically stated at the candidates night, attended by the I-J reporter, that I believed the measure should pass because the taxpayers had a contractual obligation to fill and this would have been the cheapeet way to do it . . .

I did point out to the voters that the bonds would be used for one of two purposes — and the voters had no say over which purpose their money would be used for: enlarging the present pipeline or building the now defunct aqueduct. This undoubtably caused some voters to vote against the bonds, understandably so. I feel, as apparently do most of the voters in the district, that anyone asked to pay taxes is mature enough and responsible enough to say how those taxes are to be spent.

However, the reall villain in the defeat of both Measure C and Measure A is the state requirement that a bond issue must be approved by ⅔ of the voters. Conceived in age of lower government spending by local agencies, this requirement is archaic and needs revision. . .

Corte Madera Council Always Businesslike

In fairness to my fellow councilmen I cannot let your Larry Mowell's article, "Simple Matters are Toughest" in a recent Reporter's Ntebook pass without comments. It appears to me that this new reporter (it was his first appearance at a Corte Madera council meeting) either does not appreciate the democratic process that has always governed at our council meetings, or, and more likely, he did not note the reasons and the significance of the remarks leading to the actions taken.

The Corte Madera Council has been successfully using a consent calendar for several months. This plan is an ideal time saver when properly used for the approval of routine items of a noncontroversial nature, such as setting dates for hearings, transfer of funds in accordance with previously approved budgets, approval of reports previously submitted to the councilmen, etc., etc. The reason so many items were removed at the last meeting was that most of them should not have been included in the consent calendar.

I asked to have four ordinance items removed and handled individually because the law requires a roll-call vote by the council on ordinance items. I consulted the town's attorney before making this request. To have passed three of these items by a voice-vote as part of the consent calendar would have been illegal.

Other councilmen had valid reasons for requesting individual action on the items they requested withdrawn from the calendar . . .

Corte Madera's council has always conducted its meetings in a businesslike manner giving every item a fair hearing. I personally resent the implication in the article that we waste our time on unimportant items at the expense of the important ones.

Alaskans Deserve Final Settlement

The United States Congress is about to settle the century-old question of the land rights for Alaska's 60,000 Indians, Eskimos, and Aleuts. The House of Representatives and the Senate have recently passed differing bills, and the differences between them are being resolved now by a House-Senate Conference Committee.

Both bills grant the natives title to 40 million acres of land, a fraction of the land they claim. The house would distribute the land over a period of 12 years, whereas the Senate would provide for immediate land selection and possession by the natives.

The natives realize that if they do not receive their entire 40 million acres now the state of Alaska will expropriate the best native lands and open them up to rapid commercial exploitation. The natives already have waited for more than 100 years for Congress to fulfill its promise to legislate a land settlement. What's more, a partial settlement would be of little economic benefit to the natives at this time. Without an economic base now, it is virtually certain that Alaska's natives will be subject to another generation of poverty. In order to insure a truly just settlement of the land rights issue it is imperative that the final bill grant the natives immediate title to 40 million acres of land. Please write or wire Sen. Henry M. Jackson and Congressman Wayne Aspinall urging support for this position.

Angela Trial Not Wanted In San Jose

This kind of "convention" Santa Clara County does not need nor want. We're speaking of transfer of Angela Davis' trial here with its estimated 200 news media people and others from throughout the world.

Also, this trial will bring many undesirables — some looking for trouble — and, conservatively, it will cost this county $500,000-plus for security even though some authorities say Marin County and possibly the state will pay trial costs. Is this the penalty a county pays for keeping its court calendar in better shape than most? . . .

Little Sutter County (43,000 pop.) —still facing the Juan Corona trial for 25 mass murders, has estimated its cost will exceed $500,000, and Marin County plainly statesit already has expended three quarters of a million dollars for security. Marin authorities admitted "breathing a sigh of relief" (exact words) as soon as move to Santa Clara County was announced. Is this justice?

The presiding judge and the DA of Santa Clara County did not (reportedly) know the trial might come here. What kind of communication does our state judicial system have, if any? Can it really stuff an undesirable, costly and volatile case down this county's throat?

Our jails are already vastly overcrowded and our county budget "way out of kilter." And when proponents for the trial being held here indicate the case has not saturated the news locally, I must laugh as it has been in the San Jose Sun, Mercury-News, Spartan Daily, Chronicle, Tribune, Examiner and others, including audio-visual media since killing of the Marin judge — and those media are widely read/viewed/heard in this valley. Take the trial elsewhere!

Compromise Plan Only Hope For Foreign Aid Appropriation

MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The test just ahead of foreign aid is hardly less a test of whether the system of divided powers works or not. To chop down the whole foreign aid program is a disaster. This is far more than scoring political points, since so much turns on the continuity of many of the programs.

The growing imbalance between military and economic aid was the root cause of the Senate defeat of the administration's foreign aid bill. A little-known factor was a secret study by the staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee showing that of the total to be dispensed over the next five years, $27 billion would go for military aid and $24 billion for economic assistance.

In the measure voted down a total of $1.723 billion went for all military purposes against less than half that for various forms of economic help. The result was to unite conservatives, who have long felt foreign aid spending was excessive, with opponents of the administration military policy such as Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who calls it "American imperialism."

NOW A COMPROMISE has been put together with military assistance in one package and economic aid in another. This will presumably wind up with the support of active opponents such as Fulbright. Senators Mike Mansfield, Frank Church and other Democrats, together with skeptical Republican moderates such as Senators George Aiken and Clifford Case. In short, it would be a coalition insuring passage of those parts of the package essential for the continuity of aid programs in developing countries.

Soundings by this observer indicate that the compromise is the only chance for survival of foreign aid in the Senate. Will the White House go along? If the decision is to accept it, then passage can be fairly swift, although inevitably when the separate military phase comes up the debate will be prolonged. To fight the compromise, using all the pressure tactics in the White House arsenal, will mean no foreign aid for an indefinite time as the Senate wrangles over the dry bones of past errors and present hostilities.

The administration has a lot on its side in the current dispute. As originally sent to Congress in April, the whole aid structure was to be reorganized, with the military separated from the economic. Outright military grants, the funding of military sales and support assistance for maintaining large military establishments would go into one package labeled "security assistance."

This was an overhaul long overdue. But the House Foreign Relations Committee fell back on the format of the Foreign Aid Act of 1961. Two years, the committee reported, would be required to study reorganization of the system. Therefore, more of the same would be in order for the two-year interval.

Obviously, that was not good enough, so when the tired, old bundle reached the Senate the result could have been predicted. Fifteen Republicans, including Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, chairman of the Republican National Committee, joined 26 Democrats to make the score 41 to 27.

FOREIGN AID has no constituency. That has been increasingly clear as the military share increases year by year. It has less popular support today than ever before as the scramble to cut back hits one program after another.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, the grand panjandrum of the House Ways and Means Committee, is saying privately that the deficit this fiscal year will be not $30 billion, as has been widely reported, but $35 billion. For a Republican administration bringing out of the past an inherent faith in budget balancing, that is a staggering figure. This may jazz up the economy as President Nixon, a very recent convert to Keynesianism and the spur of a deficit, apparently believes it will.

But the claims of developing peoples, already suffering from the Nixon "new economics" with the commodity prices falling, rate low as against the claims of the powerful constituencies pressing for housing, school lunches, improved medical care. For the United States, the richest nation, to be a dropout on foreign aid is intolerable.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Benevolent Despot Faces Showdown In Tunisia

by PHIL NEWSOM.
UP Foreign Analyst

As revolutions have changed the political faces of Algeria and Libya, Tunisia, sandwiched between them, has been a model of stability—thanks largely to its president, Habib Bourguiba.

Bourguiba has guided Tunisia's destinies with an absolute, though benevolent hand, throughout the 15 years of its independence from France. Now, in ill health and committed to a promise not to seek office again at the end of his present term in 1974, he seeks to prepare the way for his successor.

But power once attained becomes a habit and Bourguiba, while paying lip service to encroaching time, finds it increasingly difficult to institute the government reforms which a little more than a year ago he himself promulgated.

THE TUNISIA he seeks for the future is to be in his own image, but he argues that the people are not yet mature enough for democracy and that they must be led to it slowly.

He is particularly concerned that Tunisia is squeezed between two military dictatorships, and he believes a regime with a strong executive is necessary to insure Tunisia's survival between the two.

As "supreme combatant" during Tunisia's struggle for independence, Bourguiba has had no real rival for his authority. But now a political crisis is developing, brought on by the same emotions that war within Bourguiba himself, the one that tells him to start relaxing his grip on power, and the other that tells him he cannot.

THE CRISIS HAD BEEN simmering below the surface for two years and broke into the open in late October at the eighth congress of Tunisia's ruling Neo-Destour (Socialist) party.

It was the first such congress in seven years, having been long delayed because of Bourguiba's failing health, and even then taking place only because Bourguiba yielded to pressure.

The opposition emerged quickly.

A large group led by Ahmed Mestiri a 46-year-old lawyer recently forced from his post as minister of interior, demanded democratization of the party and liberalization of Tunisia's political life, including greater press freedom and the right of the party and the people to select Bourguiba's successor.

Further controversy developed over selection of the 14-man political bureau which is the party's chief executive group.

It had been Bourguiba's practice to select by himself the men to hold important posts both in the government and the party.

He compromised in the end, but not before Mestiri had ben suspended from the party and accused of sedition in the controlled press.

BOURGUIBA FURTHER made it clear he believed the congress's only accomplishment had been to divide the country.

On the whole it is a melancholy picture.

Bourguiba has done a good job for his country. He has been a friend of the West and was one of the few Arab leaders with the courage to talk back to the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

The voices in opposition were relatively moderate, and in stifling them Bourguiba may bring about the very power struggle over his successor he sought to avoid.

State Test Results Tell Mostly Story Of Failure

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The preliminary report on last school year's statewide testing program presented today to the California State Board of Education tells a story of failure.

Despite increased spending, special state and federal programs, and a wide assortment of innovations, California's public school pupils continue to perform generally below national norms on the state-mandated tests. Moreover, the only improvement has been in reading in the first three grades — and a change of tests makes these comparisons perhaps invalid.

Wilson C. Riles, state superintendent of public instruction, presented preliminary results of last May's tests, given in reading in first, second and third grades: in reading, language, spelling and mathematics in sixth and 12th grades. The final district-by-district report will not be ready until next spring, he said.

RILES TOOK modest comfort from the generally depressing test results in his report to the board, noting "consistent though modest improvement" in reading in the first three grades.

In sixth and 12th grades, however, he noted slight declines in statewide test scores last spring as compared with the previous year.

First graders, from the start of the statewide testing program in 1966 through 1969, were given the Stanford Reading Test. They consistently scored far below the publisher's norms, which were based on nationwide sampling. In 1970, California switched to the Cooperative Primary Reading Test. On this, the Golden State's first graders that year still fell below the publisher's norms, but not nearly so far below as they had on the Stanford test. Last May, California first graders' median rank was actually a trifle above the publisher's norm for the new test. However, the median California first grader, tested in May near the end of the school year, still was two months below what the test publisher considered the entering level for second grade.

SECOND GRADERS switched to the new test last May, so there is no way to compare the 1971 scores with previous years — in which, like the first graders, they fell far below the publisher's norms on the Stanford test. On the New Cooperative Primary test, the second graders averaged out precisely on the publisher's norm — but again the median was two months short of entering level for third grade.

Sixth graders were given the Lorge-Thorndike "intelligence test" — a general verbal ability test — and on it fell an average of .9 of a point below the previous year's sixth graders.

Median sixth grade scores on the state-mandated Comprehensive Tests of Basic Skills in reading were down .5 of a point from 1970; in language, down .8; in spelling, down .1; in mathematics, down 2.3 In spelling, they were just about at the publisher's norm; in the other subjects, below the norm.

High school seniors were given the Lorge-Thorndike "IQ" test and the Iowa Tests of Educational Development. Last May's seniors averaged a half-point below the previous year's in "IQ." At median of the scores, they were down .3 of a point in reading, .9 in language, .1 in spelling, and .3 in mathematics. In all, they averaged below the publisher's norms.

IN FISCAL 1966-67 — the year after the state testing program started — California was spending $613 per pupil on its public schools, according to U.S. Office of Education figures. In fiscal 1970-71, the expenditure was $799 per pupil, according to figures prepared by the National Education Association.

California has increased its per-pupil expenditures by 30 per cent in four years — considerably above the inflation rate. But according to many educator leaders, including Riles, that has not been enough.

The test scores indicate that the additional spending has not resulted in increasing pupils' achievement.

Booby Trap Plan Uncovered

CAM RANH BAY, Vietnam (UPI)—American soldiers have been warned of a Viet Cong plan to mail Christmas packages to them booby trapped to explode when opened.

Guerrilla girls have been ordered to make up to GIs in restaurants, night clubs, hotels and other public places to obtain individual mailing addresses, the Army's Cam Ranh Bay support command reported today.

"Packages designed to explode when opened would then be mailed or delivered to these addresses at a later date," the command said.

Restaurant Will Be Atop Peak

KILLINGTON, VT. (UPI) — Killington Ski Area is constructing a restaurant atop 4,241-foot Killington Peak, second highest mountain in Vermont.

"We anticipate it will be in the highest restaurant facility in New England except for Mount Washington," a spokesman said. Mount Washington, a 6,288-foot peak in neighboring New Hampshire, is the highest mountain in the Northeast.

The spokesman said it is expected the restaurant will be open in time for the 1972 ski season. Observation decks will be added next year. The facility is an extension of the area's 3-mile gondola lift, longest ski lift in the world.

Court Finding Against Lumber Company Seen As Boomerang

A recent state court decision, heralded as a major victory for conservationists, could possibly have a boomerang effect in Marin County.

The District Court of Appeal in San Francisco threw out a lower court judgment in favor of a San Mateo County timber company and against the county's right to regulate logging operations by requiring a use permit.

The lower court had ruled that San Mateo County's timber operations use permit ordinance was invalid on the grounds that the State Forest Practice Act preempted the field of regulating timber operations.

In its appeal (which Marin County joined as a "friend of the court"), San Mateo County questioned the constitutionality of the State Forest Practice Act, charging that control and regulation of the timber industry was in the hands of the timber industry and that the state had unconstitutionally delegated its legislative power.

THE APPEAL COURT agreed, finding the Forest Practice Act a constitutional offense against the public.

"In the case at bench the complaint is that public injury must inevitably result from placing exclusive control of the logging industry in the hands of persons who may be expected to profit most from the gathering of logs at the lowest cost and without additional safeguards," the court said.

The decision is in a sort of limbo as it has been appealed by the lumber company to the State Supreme Court.

While the San Mateo case was pending, the State Forest Practice Act was amended by the state legislature to allow the counties of Marin, San Mateo and Santa Clara to adopt rules and regulations stricter than those promulgated by the forest practice committees, who set regulations throughout the rest of the state.

BUT, ACCORDING to Deputy County Counsel George J. Silvestri Jr., the effect of the court decision, combined with the economics of the timber industry, could be to bring lumbering back to Marin.

Because of the local regulations adopted by Marin, it is now "not economically desirable to log in Marin County," Silvestri said.

However, if the District Court of Appeal decision is upheld by the State Supreme Court, other Northern California counties might adopt regulations as strict as Marin's.

In that case, according to Silvestri, Marin could again be economically more attractive than northern counties because of its proximity to San Francisco Bay and the ships that take lumber to Japan for processing.

"There's no reason to suspect" that the northern counties —where the lumber industry is a far bigger piece of the economy than it ever was in Marin — would adopt regulations as strict as Marin's, but "stranger things have happened," Silvestri said.

AND THEN THERE'S Marilyn Ashley, a Marin Municipal Court clerk. Mrs. Ashley rushed her cat to an animal birth control clinic in San Rafael to be spayed one day last week. A wasted trip, she learned when the clinic called later in the day to report that little kitty was not pregnant, did not need to be spayed, and was a male.

The General Will Be Back — That's The Way The World Goes

WASHINGTON — The best quote to come out of the Amchitka H-bomb test can be attributed to Maj. Gen. Edward B. Giller, who has the title of "assistant general manager for military application" at the Atomic Energy Commission. After the test, General Giller told reporters, "I don't foresee another test, but I won't say we'll never come back. It depends on how the world goes."

Well, everyone knows how the world is going to go.

THE RUSSIAN military chiefs are going to say to the Kremlin, "See here, Comrade Rulers, the Americans have just exploded a five-megaton bomb 6,000 feet below surface of earth. Is important we explode six-megaton bomb 7,000 feet below surface of earth or they will think they are ahead of us in nuclear warfare."

"Is safe exploding six-megaton bomb below the earth?" the Kremlin asks.

"Who knows? But national security, it is involved, and safe is not what we should worry about. Is Spartan missile we must worry about."

"Spartan missile, Comrade Generals?"

"Is missile used in ABM system to shoot down our missile. Americans say explosion was success. Is proof that we cannot get through their defense. It giving United States such confidence they might attack us without warning. Soviets must explode six-megation H-bomb to show Washington not ahead in missile race."

"Comrade General," the Kremlin asks, "suppose this explosion is causing earthquakes all over Siberia?"

"Impossible, Comrad Rulers. The Soviet supreme court has just voted four to three that six-megaton H-bomb can't cause earthquakes."

"All right, Conrade Generals. Go with explosion. National security more important than lousy earthquakes."

SIX MONTHS LATER, back at the White House:

"Mr. President, the Soviets have just exploded a six-megaton H-bomb 7,000 feet below the surface of the earth."

"What does that mean, General?"

"We're not sure, sir. But it could mean that their Shashlik missile can penetrate our Spartan missile, which as you know is our first line of defense, whenever we get it built."

"I was afraid you'd say that, General. I would hate to be the first President to go down in history who allowed a Shashlik missile to get through our Spartan missile defense system."

"Precisely, sir. This test has given the Soviets added confidence and, unless we prove to them that we have something to stop the Shashlik, we might have to blink in our next eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation."

"WHAT DO YOU suggest, General?"

"That we lay it on the Soviets once and for all. We must set off a 15-megaton H-bomb 20,000 feet below the surface of the earth."

"Are there any environmental hazards?"

"None comparable to the risk of our national security. We might lose part of Alaska in the explosion and there could be some cracks in the western half of Canada, but that's the way the world goes."

"I'm for the test, of course, General, but I have to think of the political repercussions. Suppose the environmentalists sue and take the case to the Supreme Court?"

"But Mr. President, have you forgotten? It's your Supreme Court."

CREEK'S CHANGING SCENE — Corte Madera Creek behind the Ross Post Office—where flood control work was recently finished — had a placid look yesterday (left) before rains hit. This morning, the scene had changed markedly (right) as runoff from the first major storm of the season gushed toward San Francisco Bay. Viet Fighting Drops To Seven-Year Low

No U.S. Troops In Any Major Encounters

SAIGON (UPI) — The Vietnam War was reported at its lowest ebb in seven years today, with no ground action involving American troops and South Vietnamese taking part only in a series of minor clashes in which they killed 32 Communists and lost one man.

The air war continued, and B52s struck inside the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) with 90 tons of bombs today for the first time in more than five weeks, hitting North Vietnamese storage bunkers. A second wave of B52s hit Communist held areas of the A Shau Valley.

A U.S. AH1 Cobra gunship was downed by Communist ground fire near Khe Sanh. The two crewmen were wounded.

The heaviest fighting was reported in neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

In Laos, a barrage of 122mm rockets fire by Communists and apparently intended for a Laotian military outpost crashed into the village of Nong Sapang Wednesday night, killing 21 persons, mostly women and children, and injuring 21 others. The village is 125 miles southeast of the Laotian capital of Vientiane.

The U.S. command in Saigon said today eight Americans were killed in the war last week and 13 wounded, the lowest casualty total since March of 1965. Official spokesmen attributed the low number of wounded to a drop in Communist artillery attacks last week.

Allied spokesmen came up with statistics to show the war had fallen almost to the level when it was still being called a guerrillas insurrection.

"It is certainly the lowest level (of Communist-initiated incidents) for a week since early in 1965," military spokesmen said.

Meanwhile, an American sergeant kidnaped a senior U.S. adviser and commandeered a helicopter at gunpoint then changed his mind and surrendered to the pilot of the helicopter, the U.S. command reported today.

U.S. spokesmen declined to identify the gunman but said he was a staff sergeant and medical corpsman at Hue and that he told the seized adviser he wanted to return to his family in Billings, Mont.

Holding the adviser at gunpoint the sergeant ordered the helicopter to Da Nang where he said he planned to commandeer a jet to the United States. But during the 40-minute helicopter flight to Da Nang he turned in his gun to the 'copter pilot, spokesmen said.

U.S. officials refused to say where he was detained but said the case was under investigation and no charges had been filed.

Military sources indicated the man he kidnaped was Lt. Col. Donald J. Zubriggen, 39, of Lawton, Okla., but official spokesmen refused to confirm whether Zubriggen was the man seized.

And at Chu Lai, the American Division folded its colors on a windswept parade ground here today and waslaid to rest with a brass band and honors from U.S. and South Vietnamese officials.

The Americal, the hard luck division which symbolized much of the frustration with the war in Vietnam, had an honorable funeral.

Its resting place was marked with a chest-high cement monument dedicated today by Gen. Creighton W. Abrams and Vietnamese Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam.

In contrast to some sordid spots on its record, the division's awards ceremony and final parade came off without a hitch.

Abrams, the U.S. troop commander in Vietnam, said "the division, its colors and its history symbolize all those who served it as a family. They represented honor, devotion to duty and conviction—and that's what this division has been blessed with."

Berkeley Asylum For Protesters

BERKELEY (UPI) — The city council has offered its facilities for asylum for military deserts and draft resisters.

On Tuesday, 10 Bay Area churches, one of them in Marin City, offered their facilities as "sanctuary" for deserters and others resisting military service.

The council, in a 6-1 vote yesterday, approved a resolution "to provide a facility for sanctuary" for "any person who is unwilling to participate in military action."

The resolution was considered to be unprecedented for a city governing body in the United States.

Edward E. Kallgren, regarded as a moderate on the council, said the action was not defying the "supremacy of the United States government or its legitimate powers."

"We want to dramatize our opposition to this war and our belief that the war has a direct adverse effect on all the cities of the country."

Kallgren said the city of Berkeley would place facilities of its own — and others it can negotiate — at the disposal of the churches.

The resolution warned city employees against aiding "any investigation, public or clandestine, of the sanctuary" or joining in the arrest of any military dissenter. The councilman said city policemen were included in the ban.

A Marin City church, scene of a mass arrest of AWOL servicemen in 1968, is one of 10 Bay Area churches offering sanctuary to military deserters and draft resisters.

The churches announced Tuesday in Berkeley they would offer asylum to war dissenters, specifically to sailors from the aircraft carrier Coral Sea,

First Big Storm Of The Season

The first major storm of the season hit Marin and Southern Sonoma today, causing a series of auto wrecks and stalls on Highway 101.

The storm, which began before dawn, had dumped an inch on San Rafael by noon.

Public works officials had no report of major flooding or storm damage, although Norris M. Rawles, San Rafael public works director, said several catch basins downtown had been plugged with leaves.

Winds gusted up to 30 miles per hour in Tiburon.

The National Weather Service forecast an 80 per cent chance of continued rain throughout the night, with clearing tomorrow.

Morning commute traffic was snagged on Highway 101 by at least three accidents. No injury

10 Make Bid For Seat On Water District Panel

By DAVID DIETZ

Like job holders seeking better work, 10 men politely made a bid last night for a vacant seat on the Marin Municipal Water District board. (Another water district board story, page 23.)

One by one, the hopefuls paraded before the board to list their qualifications and air their views as the other challengers remained in a corridor outside.

Aside from the fact that the session had an employment agency look to it, the proceeding was unusual in that it was held in public, a departure from the closed-door technique employed by most public agencies in Marin.

The question-and-answer session, aimed at finding a replacement for Ray W. Foreaker Jr., recently appointed county public works director, produced few surprises. The candidates, ranging from a plumber to the operator of a youth camp, were in general agreement on most issues confronting the district.

They believed, with minor exceptions, that the district had a right, if not a duty, to enter the sewage treatment business; they suggested minimum, if any, development of district open space for recreational use, and they believed agency entry into the controversial field of population control would be presumptuous.

There are 11 candidates for the post, to be filled by the board at its Nov. 23 meeting, but one, Halsey H. Lyon of Sleepy Hollow, couldn't attend. Those who did appear were Calvin B. Colt of Upper Lucas Valley, Thomas Belway of Woodacre, Daniel Davis of Marinwood, Donald Duerr of Marinwood, Jack R. Felson of Forest Knolls, Robert Raab of Fairfax, Merritt A. Robinson of Sleepy Hollow, Arthur T. Roth of Sleepy Hollow, Frank Solomon Jr. of Marinwood and Leonard Tibbot of San Rafael.

The board decided it would interview Lyon at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Greatest wavering among the candidates came as a result of board questions on Measure B, defeated overwhelmingly at the polls last week. District voters had been asked to approve a multimillion-dollar contract

Peking's U.N. Envoy Arrives In New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuanhua arrived today in New York to take China's seat in the United Nations and pledged to work for world peace and better relations with the United States.

The six-foot Chiao, a dark overcoat covering his gray-blue Mao suit, flew in from Paris with other members of the 46member delegation in 46-member first class section of an Air France plane. He read an arrival statement rapidly in Chinese and sped to his midtown New York hotel.

He beamed at a group of pro-Peking demonstrators who held up a big picture of Chinese Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung and carried slogans saying "Long Live the People's Republic"—which has said its seat in the United Nations was wrongly and illegally withheld from it for 22 years.

Also arriving today was Huang Hua, who will be the permament Communist Chinese representative to the U.N., an experienced diplomat who is expected to hold a series of backstage meetings with U.S. officials to complete arrangements for President Nixon's trip to Peking.

Chiao pledged that his country will work with the United

A Military Aid Trim Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate rejected today, 64 to 24, an attempt to slash $185 million more from a trimmed down, $1.2 billion foreign military aid bill as Congress worked against a Monday deadline to continue the worldwide U.S. assistance program.

The measure is the second part of a two-bill package to revive aid legislation that the Senate voted to kill Oct. 29. Its companion $1.1 billion economic-humanitarian aid measure passed the Senate Wednesday.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., proposed to slash the military aid bill to an even $1 billion.

The administration originally wanted $2 billion and sought to increase the bill by $318 million, contending that more money was vital to support Vietnam's beleaguered neighbors and to permit continued U.S. troop withdrawals.

The Senate approved the economic bill 61 to 13 after turning back efforts to increase it and to relax its toughened lending requirements.

One of those requirements would force interest rates on foreign aid loans up to levels that most participating countries would not be able to afford. This restriction practically gutted what was left of a key section authorizing development loans to indigent nations.

In addition, the measure passed Wednesday was $425 million less than the administration requested.

A tougher test was ahead for the military aid bill, set for a vote today. Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said the measure would slow down withdrawals from Vietnam unless the money

Remap Bill Forces Behr-Marks Fight

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —With strong bipartisan support, the Senate today passed a reapportionment plan creating a Los Angeles Chicano district while forcing two Republican legislators to battle each other for political life.

The measure was sent to the Assembly on a 33 to 2 vote after just 20 minutes of debate. Intense negotiations on it were conducted behind closed doors the past few weeks.

"We have done as good as any reapportionment bill has done," said Sen. Mervyn Dymally, chairman of the Reapportionment Committee. "Under the circumstances, it was the best we could do."

Dymally, the Senate's only black member, told colleagues that additional minor changes would still be made in the measure, if bipartisan agreement can be achieved first.

Before the final vote was taken, the Senate beat back a last-minute attempt by Sen. Lawrence Walsh, D-Huntington Park, to amend the bill by redrawing new boundaries he said would make it a "fair and equitable" bill. His amendments were defeated 11-25.

Walsh and Sen. Clark L. Bradley, R-San Jose, were the only "no" votes on the Dymally bill.

Republican leaders said Gov. Ronald Reagan probably would sign the bill.

The reapportionment — required at least once every 10 years—is designed to preserve the Senate's present 21-19 Democratic majority, but not add to it.

One last-minute compromise extended Democratic Sen. Walter W. Stiern's Bakersfield district through a narrow corridor over the Coastal Mountains into the University of California at Santa Barbara, and down another corridor into San Bernardino.

To symbolize the compromise, Dymally displayed to newsmen a small red hatchet which he said Democrats and Republicans had buried.

Senate Republican Caucus Chairman John L. Harmer of Glendale agreed. It was Harmer who forced Democrats by indirectly threatening a gubernatorial veto, to alter their original plan to make the final

Patrick Must Take The Stand

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The president of Holiday Magic, Inc., of San Rafael has been called to testify before Federal Trade Commission hearings on the cosmetic company's alleged "unfair trade practices."

William Penn Patrick, an unsuccessful contender for the 1964 Republican gubernatorial nomination, will take the stand Friday to defend his firm against 28 pages of charges filed by the FTC.

The commission alleged that Holiday Magic's sales and distribution system tends to "hinder, frustrate, restrain, suppress and eliminate competition" and that it discriminates in its pricing of products.

Man Picked Up At Gate Alive Believed Leaper

An unidentified man was picked up alive today in the wind-whipped waters of San Francisco Bay after apparently leaping from the Golden Gate Bridge, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Only four persons previously have been known to survive leaps from the span.

The Coast Guard said the man, who reportedly jumped from the walkway near the bridge's south tower, was picked up by a cutter and taken to Fort Point to a waiting ambulance. The leap took place about 11:15 p.m.

Thomas C. Baker III of Chicago was the last to jump from the bridge and survive. In 1969, Baker plunged 260 feet, suffering a ruptured spleen and a broken leg.

Airplane, 56 Aboard, Missing

JAKARTA (UPI) — A Vickers Viscount four-engine turboprop of the Indonesian-run Merpati Nusantara Airlines was reported missing Thursday with 56 passengers and seven crew members on board. A company spokesman said two foreigners were aboard the missing plane, one a British subject and one of still unidentified nationality.

The plane was believed to have run into bad weather on its flight from Jakarta to Padang in West Sumatra Wednesday morning.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Broadcast Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reuven Frank, president of National Broadcasting Co. news, said today that the First Amendment's guarantee of free speech "was written not to protect the press but to protect Americans" and applies to broadcast media as well as print.

"If there is anyone in this room who still believes that the First Amendment is the cozy private property of the printed word I say to you that if the First Amendment does not apply to broadcasting it no longer exists," Frank said in remarks prepared for the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism fraternity.

Only Five Bodies

FT. MEADE, Md. (UPI) — The man who flew Col. Oran K. Henderson's command helicopter during the 1968 assault on May Lai said yesterday he saw the bodies of only five Vietnamese on the ground while circling the area.

13 Buried Alive

KAWASAKI, Japan (UPI) — A group of Japanese officials and newsmen were buried alive by a landslide today while studying a geological experiment to see how heavy rainfall could trigger such slides in the mountainous islands that make up Japan.

Preliminary figures by police said at least 13 persons were killed and eight others injured in the slide which was caused when a sprinkling system played the equivalent of 20 inches of rain on the hillside where they were standing.

Moon Once Active?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Information gathered by a satellite backs up the belief that the moon was geologically active at one time and perhaps still is, according to a UCLA report released yesterday. The report said the satellite data revealed the moon was girdled by a magnetic field that fluctuates according to the topography of its surface and strengthens the contention of geological lunar activity.

Dr. Paul J. Coleman Jr., head of the UCLA team that made preliminary analysis of the satellite data, said the crater-pocked backside of the moon has a much "bumpier" magnetic field than the front side, which is dominated by "mares," or smooth seas.

A Moon Adventure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — An aerospace executive says a group of businessmen approached him about a commercial moon flight which would cost at least $350 million and might gross twice that.

Milojko Vucelic, director of programs and experiments for North American Rockwell in the Apollo and Skylab programs, said an Apollo mission without scientific experiments would cost about $350 million. Vucelic said the businessmen, whom he did not identify, hope to bring back 500 pounds of moon rocks.

"If they can make them into some kind of mementos and sell them for just half the price of diamonds, that would bring in $500 million," he said.

Besides, Vucelic said, "They can take 1,000 pounds of material to the moon."

New Galaxies

TORONTO (UPI) A Dutch-born astronomer at the University of Toronto says he has discovered three new galaxies, raising to 20 the number known to comprise the "local group," those in the Earth's area of the universe.

The university said Sidney Van Den Bergh, 42, a professor of astronomy, had discovered three "dwarf spheroidal" galaxies, about two million light years away in space. One light year is equal to six trillion miles. It is the distance light travels at its speed of 186,000 miles per second.

The university said Van Den Bergh made the discovery using photographs taken with a 48-inch Schmidt telescope on Mount Palomar in California.

The new galaxies were described as "nearby but faint," one one-ten-thousandth as luminous as larger, spiral-shaped galaxies.

The Homely Look, Heart Disease Tie

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)— Children with a certain combination of homely facial features also may have a rare heart defect, two Canadian scientists said Wednesday.

They examined 13 youngsters age two weeks to 8 years who had flattened nasal bridges, elongated upper lips, low-set ears and wide-set eyes. The condition is known as hyper telorism.

Drs. Nigel K. Roberts and Dr. C. A. F. Mose of Toronto said all 13 of the youngsters who had the "peculiar facial appearance" had an abnormal narrowing of the artery that carries blood from the heart to the lungs.

They told the 44th annual scientific session of the American Heart Association that three of the subjects were mentally retarded and nine were physically undeveloped.

The heart defect, known as "supravalvular pulmonary stenosis," can be fatal, but two of the children had the artery widened surgically and "two years later are alive and well," Roberts and Mose said.

The heart condition is not believed to be inherited, but there is suspicion that it is caused in the embryonic stage, the way German measles can cause blindness in babies.

Hearing Ends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has ended its public hearings on President Nixon's two Supreme Court nominees Wednesday but it probably will be at least another week before nominations reach the Senate floor.

Baron Trial Opens In Santa Rosa

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—The prosecution said Wednesday it would prove that Joseph Barbosa Baron, reputed underworld enforcer, killed 26-year-old Clay Wilson in a dispute over $140,000 worth of stolen securities.

In his opening statement in Baron's murder trial, Prosecutor Ronald Fahey said Wilson had given the securities to Baron to dispose of but then later became distrustful of Baron and demanded the bonds be returned.

Baron was accused of murdering Wilson near Glen Ellen in Sonoma County in July ,1970.

Public defender Marteen Miller conceded the two men were involved in disposition of the securities, which were stolen in a 1969 residential burglary in Petaluma.

But he argued Baron, 39, shot Wilson in self-defense. He said Wilson normally carried a gun in a pocket and another smaller gun in his boot.

At the time of the shooting, he said, Wilson pulled the pocket weapon and fired at Baron, who took the gun away, knocked Wilson down, then shot him twice when Wilson went for the gun in his boot.

Miller said the shooting actually resulted from an address book belonging to Baron in which were listed names and telephone numbers of government agents which Baron had dealt with in 1968 when he testified against several Mafia members from the East Coast.

Miller contended that Wilson became distrustful of Baron after learning of the book.

The prosecution's first witness, Santa Rosa pathologist David T. Clary, testified that Wilson had been shot twice in the head and was very probably lying on the ground at the time.

The testimony began following jury selection which took three weeks.

Television Show Held Toy Plugger

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has been told that nearly half the kiddie television show "Romper Room" is used to plug toys and other products commercially linked with the "Romper Room" firm.

Testimony Wednesday also alleged that toys heavily advertised on television often are overpriced and of poor quality, that vitamin pill advertisements aimed at children could prompt harmful overdoses, and that possibly misleading camera techniques are used in commercials for several well known toys including the "Barbie" doll.

Advertising industry witnesses countered with claims that children's advertisements are honest and save parents shopping time because the child can write his want list from commercials and other advertisements.

The testimony came during FTC hearings on modern advertising practices. One issue facing the agency is whether it should impose special standards for policing ads aimed at children.

F. Earle Barcus, professor of communication research at Boston University, described a study of one week's run of "Romper Room," a syndicated program broadcast live with a local hostess.

Barcus said "Romper Room" brand toys and toys made by Hasbro, an associated firm, not only were advertised on the program but also demonstrated as part of the program format. Other product tie-ins also were used, he said, in several ways including this prayer-product sequence:

"God is great, God is good, let us thank him for our food. Now you may have your Tropicana orange juice from the Pleasant Hill Dairy."

"If we add up all of the commercials, tie-ins, promos, and time spent playing with brand name toys, we find that 45 per cent of the program for the week was commercially oriented —designed to promote its own products," Barcus testified.

Evelyn Sarson of Action for Children's Television, Inc., Newtonville, Mass., quoted this from a 1969 survey by Playthings, a toy industry trade publication:

"Repeatedly, both retailers and wholesalers returned surveys with harsh words for the TV-advertised toys; these items were most often labeled as overpriced and below standard."

Miss Sarson urged the FTC to ban drug and vitamin pill advertisements aimed at children. She said the messages contain no warnings although "children who eat too many vitamin pills fortified with iron can develop fatigue, vomiting, diarrhea, and possibly develop shock and go into a coma." She said an overdose meant about 35 tablets.

Firm Draws Warning On Marin City Land

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency has put California Development Co. on notice that the agency will file suit to regain control of lands in Marin City unless a scheduled round of negotiations bears fruit by Nov. 22.

The negotiations, in which the redevelopment agency seeks to force the development company to begin development of 167 Ridgeland Acres, will begin sometime next week, according to executive director Wallace K. Shepherd.

Through the negotiations — or the court action should it become necessary — the Marin County Housing Authority and the redevelopment agency hope to spur development of the ridge property and regain control of 60 acres of lowlands.

California Development, a New York-based firm, is still exclusive developer of Marin City and thus has legal control of the flatland property.

Shepherd said the agency has received permission from the department of Housing and Urban Development to sue California Development and voted Tuesday to do so unless progress in the negotiations is made before Nov. 22.

When the housing authority sold 167 acres of ridgeland to the company in 1961 for $441,000, the land was considered a plum for whatever company developed Marin City. The authority has held the company's final payment in escrow, however, because California Development has not undertaken the redevelopment.

In other action Tuesday, the agency board renewed the contract of its attorney, Leland H. Jordan, for the coming year. He will be paid $35 per hour up to a maximum of $8,000.

Oyster Kill A Puzzler

Cause of the oyster kill in Drake's and Tomales bays this fall remains a mystery to the marine resources station of the state Department of Fish and Game.

The largest kill occurred in the hot weather in September and ended about the first of October, Walter Bahstrom, associate marine biologist, said yesterday.

It hit in Drake's Bay for the first time, where it killed 50 to 66 per cent of the fat, mature oysters. In Tomales Bay, the kill ran 10 to 20 per cent, Bahstrom said.

"We can't say for sure what it is," he said. "We can't say it's a virus, but we think it's an algae."

A fine-feathered algae, entermortha, settles on the mature oysters and in hot weather produces hydrogen sulfide which kills the oysters, according to the biologist.

There is no chance of infected oysters getting to market because they die and float out of their shells, he said.

Gordon Sanford, owner of Tomales Bay Oyster Co. at Point Reyes, said that he has made a study of the summer kill in oysters, but without success.

"I have sent samples to the federal government, the state and other oyster experts, but no one can pinpoint the cause of the kill," Sanford said.

He has compared findings with other oystermen up and down the coast. He said that the kill is erratic, striking anywhere from Morro Bay to Humboldt Bay.

He also compared the resistance of strains of oysters. Seed oysters from Washington and British Columbia are more resistant to summer kill than Japanese seed. However, the northern seed is only available every four or five years and does not grow as fast as the Japanese seed, Sanford said.

Sanford said he normally loses 5 percent through natural causes and 15 to 20 per cent through summer kill. This fall the kill may run as high as 70 per cent.

He would not estimate his loss in money until he started harvesting oysters and actually got a count on the number of oysters killed.

Innocent Plea To Two Counts

Aurelio Mendoza, 35, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of petty theft and concealing stolen property.

Pretrial conference was set for Monday.

Mendoza and Pablo Isail Corcio, 22, of San Francisco, were arrested Oct. 23 at a Mill Valley restaurant after police said they found a stolen bicycle in their van.

Corcio has the same two misdemeanor charges pending against him in municipal court, although court records indicate he has been released to U.S. Immigration officials.

Dissolution Of Marriage Granted

Thomas E. McCormick Jr. of Ross, clinical director of the Ross Psychiatric Center, and his wife Shirley have been granted an interlocutory decree of dissolution in Marin Superior Court.

According to a petition he filed in court, they were married in 1952 in Oregon and separated on March 15, 1970. They have two children.

Boy Is Killed In 101 Truck Accident

An 8-year-old boy was killed and three other persons injured yesterday when a pickup truck slammed into the center divider on Highway 101 and rolled over three times, throwing the boy from the cab and crushing him.

Todd Craig suffered massive skull fractures in the 11:52 a.m. accident and was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital, according to the Marin County Coroner's office.

The California Highway Patrol said the boy's mother, Gloria F. Craig, 28, of 38 Main Street, San Quentin, was driving the truck north on Highway 101 near the truck scales in Marinwood when the vehicle careened into the center railing.

A highway patrol officer at the scales said the truck rolled over three or four times, ejecting the boy and running over him.

Mrs. Craig and another son, Brad, 4, and a third passenger, John Nelson, 2, of 15 Wiltshire Avenue, Larkspur, were taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for treatment.

Mrs. Craig was being held at the hospital today for observation of unspecified injuries. The two boys were treated for bruises.

The death was the county's 30th traffic fatality this year, compared with 36 this time last year.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

REMAP

redistricting version more favorable to GOP senators.

Harmer and Dymally said there probably would be a court suit challenging the constitutionality of the plan. But they said the measure should withstand the court test.

Neither legislator expressed support for suggestions that an independent commission be created to draw future reapportionment lines rather than keeping the job with the legislature.

The measure has been the subject of protracted negotiations between Republicans, who believed Democrats were unfair in their original redistricting measure, and Democrats who believed as the majority party they should call all the shots on reapportionment.

With the threat of a veto by Gov. Ronald Reagan of any bill failing to meet GOP specifications, Democrats were forced to concede to Republican demands in several cases.

Since the South grew faster the last 10 years in population, the North had to surrender a Senate seat, which the GOP was forced to give up by combining two of their senators into one district.

Sen. Milton Marks of San Francisco and Peter H. Behr of San Rafael will be thrown into a common district under the plan. Marks would run for reelection next year, but Behr, who was elected to a four-year term last year, would not have to run again until 1974.

If Behr chooses to seek reelection, he would have to face Marks presumably in 1974, which would give him two more years to become known in the new district which includes most of Marin County, an equal amount of population in San Francisco and a portion of San Mateo County.

The district surrendered by the North would be placed in central Los Angeles, where it would have a predominately Mexican-American voter registration which presumably would be Democratic.

But the district of Democratic Sen. Lawrence Walsh of Huntington Park would be shifted partially into Orange County, where he could be defeated by a Republican.

His defeat, the sacrifice of a Republican in the North and a win by a Chicano Democrat, according to the Democrats, would leave the Senate at its present 21-19 ratio of Democrats to Republicans.

WATER

with the Sonoma County Water Agency to deliver Russian River water..

Although most of the hopefuls didn't say whether or not they were opposed, two indicated support. "I would have liked to have seen it go through," said Davis, a retired banker. Roth, a civil engineer, held that arguments used by Measure B opponents were "distorted and misleading" and lamented that the district had been prevented from campaigning by court order.

Most blamed the defeat on public fear of growth. "People see what has happened to Southern California," said Belway, a plumber whose hair was pulled back in a pony tail. "Why, we're pumping water to a dying carcass."

Colt, chairman of the successful citizen campaign to keep the Renaissance Pleasure Faire and cultural center out of Upper Lucas Valley, said he believed the board now faces the difficult tasks of meeting projected growth through other means and involving the community more in its planning.

Tibbott, a retired printer, said the public felt it had been excluded from decision-making that led up to the election.

Belway, joined later by Raab, a public information officer for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., favored a program of public education on water conservation. Still, Raab said, "more water is going to be needed."

Duerr, business administrator at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and former Sausalito city manager, said the "years have gone by" when the district was charged merely with supplying water, adding that "we're in a whole new ball game" that "opens up challenges and problems."

While Solomon, an attorney and member of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District board, and Robinson, a consulting engineer, raised the possibility of using reclaimed water for irrigation purposes, Felson, operator of Forest Farm Camps in Forest Knolls, said if "you start talking about recycling and reclamation, you'd better be certain what you're doing."

Felson also said the district board should "get out of the board room and into the community" to offset complaints of bureaucratic indifference.

The candidates generally agreed that zoning laws, not a program of water restriction, must control population growth, although Solomon said the water district and local government should work together on planning.

Film And Lecture Scheduled Sunday

A film and lecture by British photographer John Pauling is scheduled for Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at Olney Hall on the College of Marin, the college has announced.

The film, entitled, "Filming in No Man's Land," and the lecture are sponsored by the college and the Marin Audubon Society.

ASYLUM

scheduled to depart for Vietnam tomorrow.

Rev. James E. Symons, copastor of Saint Andrews Presbyterian Church in Marin City said the decision to join the other churches was consistent with a vote four years ago by the church's governing board to offer sanctuary to war resisters.

Nine young men accepted the church offer in July 1968 and chained themselves to nine clergymen at Saint Andrews in a 12-hour protest of the Vietnam War.

The protest was broken up by a squad of military police who entered the church during a communion service and arrested the servicemen.

Reverend Symons said the offer of Asylum is "more than a symbolic gesture" in the light of the incident at the church three years ago.

"Although nobody has asked us for sanctuary yet, we're making this commitment for peace in case anyone wants to," he said. "We're not trying to convince anyone to desert or seek sanctuary, though."

He acknowledged the concept of sanctuary, rooted in antiquity, has no legal recognition today but he said he hoped military authorities "wouldn't disturb the people who come to this sacred place to express their witness."

If authorities were to come into the church to arrest servicemen, however, "we wouldn't stop them. We're committed to non-violence."

Other churches offering "sanctuary" are: University Lutheran Chapel, Berkeley; Sacred Heart and St. Benedict's Roman Catholic churches in San Francisco; Mary Help of Christians, a Catholic church in Oakland; The Session of the First Presbyterian Church, Palo Alto; the Community of St. Ann's, a Catholic parish in Palo Alto; Hayward Area Friends; Palo Alto Friends; Berkeley Friends; and the Jesuits for Peace and Justice at the Jesuit School of Theology, Berkeley.

AID

is increased, but opponents said it already was too much money.

Stennis introduced an amendment to increase the measure by $318 million. He claimed that the funds remaining in the bill would not be enough to pay for ammunition for the Cambodian army.

The Monday deadline resulted from a ruling by the General Accounting Office that the economic aid program will be out of business unless Congress acts to continue appropriations. The GAO said $4.7 billion left over from past Congressional appropriations may not be used to pay salaries or administer the program.

Even if the two-bill Senate package is passed, approved by the House and signed by the President, Congress still must pass an appropriations bill to fund the program.

Vacancy Filled On Fire Board

William J. Carter has been appointed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors to replace William F. Carroll on the Tiburon Fire Protection District board and Fred C. Hannahs has been appointed to another term.

Board secretary Wellman J. Topham said the two were the only applicants to file for two vacancies on the board. If there is no contest in a race the supervisors may appoint those who file rather than require an election, Topham said.

The men will take office Tuesday and attend their first board meeting Dec. 8, Topham said.

Davis Case Prejudice Underlined

By MARY LEYDECKER

A pollster for the Angela Davis defense team testified today in Marin Superior Court that there is as much prejudice against Miss Davis in Santa Clara County as in Marin, and perhaps more.

Judge Richard E. Arnason last week ordered Miss Davis's trial moved to Santa Clara after saying her attorneys had shown she could not receive a fair trial in Marin.

Miss Davis's attorneys, however, are fighting the transfer to Santa Clara, holding to their original contention that only in San Francisco can she get a fair trial.

Today Jeffery Paige, a University of California sociology professor, returned to court to compare the polls he had taken in Marin and Santa Clara County.

He said the surveys showed there is an equal amount of prejudice against blacks and militants in the two counties but that Santa Clara residents are even more prejudiced against communists than are Marinites.

Also taking the stand today was a Chicano professor, Dr. Jorge T. Acevedo, who teaches at University of California at Berkeley and at San Jose State College.

Despite protests from Harris, Acevedo was allowed to start describing incidents which he said showed the "reaction of the majority community to minority activism" in Santa Clara County.

Acevedo, a bearded man with a rolling Spanish accent, told of a parade protest several years ago where he said a tactical squad was used against Chicano demonstrators.

"There is pervasive racism" in Santa Clara County, Margaret Burnham, one of Miss Davis's attorneys, said.

It was not known whether Arnason would rule today on whether to move the trial elsewhere or stick with his earlier decision to send it to Santa Clara County.

Among the spectators in the courtroom today was Rev. Ralph Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Abernathy said he has been arrested 32 times and had never seen "a worse court" than today's session.

STORM

was reported. The California Highway Patrol said the wrecks occurred in Greenbrae, Marinwood and near the Marin-Sonoma line, and at least one was a multicar pileup.

Besides San Rafael, these rainfall figures were reported in Marin and Southern Sonoma at 8 a.m. today: San Anselmo, .86 of an inch; Ross, .82; Woodacre, .81; Santa Venetia, .80; Point Reyes Station, .68; Novato, .60; Petaluma, .25, and Tiburon, .13. In addition, .72 of an inch had fallen in the Chevy Chase area of Larkspur by 10:30 a.m.

Car Accident Cuts Power

A large portion of Petaluma was without electricity last night after a car struck a guide wire and damaged lines on Lakeville Highway.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. officials said today the driver did not report the accident at 7:13 p.m., so repairmen spent nearly an hour looking for the cause of trouble.

Homes on the eastside and southside of Petaluma were without power for nearly two hours in some cases.

CHINA

Nations "for the cause of safeguarding international peace and promoting human progress" and that his country "has consistently stood for the establishment and development of normal relations with other countries.

"The people of the United States are a great people and there exists a profound friendship between the peoples of China and the United States," he said. He then pledged Sino-American friendship.

He spoke facing a barricaded area containing about 200 newsmen and photographers' Uniformed police—part of a security force of 200 at the airport—formed lines on each side of Chiao as he spoke.

The Chinese left the plane through a rear door about 15 minutes after the other passengers disembarked. There were no customs nor immigration formalities and the entire group set off in a cavalcade of cars for their hotel.

There was a minimumof protocol for the historic occasion and a maximum of security against possible anti-Communist demonstrations. There was no official welcome by the city, state or federal governments and only a small U.N. delegation was present.

A six-member advance Chinese delegation had made arrangements with immigration, customs and other authorities to waive the usual formalities and speed the entire 46-man delegation off to the Roosevelt Hotel in midtown Manhattan aboard a fleet of 17 rented, chauffeur driven cars.

The Chinese delegation had spent Wednesday night in Paris so it could arrive in a body, but because of reservation difficulties it was forced to split into two groups.

Chiao and Huang, until recently ambassador to Canada, are close associates of Premier Chou En-lai and accompanied him on his many diplomatic travels. Huang was reported to have met in Peking with Chou and Presidential adviser Henry Kissinger to plan the Nixon trip.

Man Treated In Stabbing

A 24-year-old man was hospitalized last night with a self-inflicted knife wound in the abdomen, Novato police reported.

Brice Anderson Sullivan of 1196 Simmons Lane, called police at 11:46 p.m. to report that he had stabbed himself. He told police that he was despondent over not finding work.

Police reported that he had used a three-inch knife and that the wound was superficial. Sullivan was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment.

Truck Found; Men Escape

San Anselmo police recovered a stolen pickup truck yesterday, but three men in the vehicle escaped on foot, police said.

A patrolmen saw the 1966 International pickup cross the center line on Sir Francis Drake, police said. However, when chased, the truck turned onto Oak Knoll Drive and stopped on Medway Road, where the men fled, police said.

Police said the vehicle had been reported stolen by John W. Grupe Jr. of 30 Novato Street, San Rafael.

OBITUARIES

WALTER VAN TILBURG CLARK

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Walter Van Tilburg Clark, author of "The Ox-Bow Incident" and winner of the O. Henry Short Story Award, died Wednesday of cancer. He was 62.

Clark, a resident of Mill Valley in the late 1950s and early 1960 while teaching at San Francisco State College, had been ill in recent years and hospitalized several times.

"The Ox-Bow Incident" was published in 1940 and was deemed by critics a masterpiece of psychological drama in the Western genre.

The short novel concerns a lynching and delves into the characters of the victims and perpetrators. It was later made into a motion picture and starred Henry Fonda.

Clark's other works included the "Track of the Cat" and "Reno, The City of Trembling Leaves."

Born in East Orland, Maine, Clark moved to Nevada at the age of eight. His father, Dr. Walter Ernest Clark, was president of the University of Nevada.

Clark's wife, Barbara, whom he married in 1933, died in 1969.

Clark held professorships in English at the Montana State University and San Francisco State College where he was chairman of the creative writing section of an English Department that included such authors as Mark Harris and Harvey Swados.

He resigned his position at San Francisco State in 1962 to become writer-in-residence at the University of Nevada but later quit his post there.

DORA GOODMAN

Dora Goodman, 78, of Larkspur, died yesterday in a local hospital following a two-month illness.

A native of New York, she had spent 57 years of her life in Washington, D.C. She was secretary to a Kansas congressman in the 1920s.

Mrs. Goodman moved to Marin two years ago to live near her daughter. Before entering the hospital she had lived briefly at the Tamalpais Retirement Residence in Larkspur.

She was a member of Hadassah.

Mrs. Goodman is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Leon Levintow of Kentfield and Mrs. Floyd Kessler of Palo Alto, and a sister, Ruth Klein, and brother, Ben Aronson, both of Washington, D.C.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

GRANT THOMPSON

Memorial service for Grant B. Thompson, former San Anselmo police sergeant who died yesterday, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Thompson, 39, lived at 119 Olema Drive, Fairfax.

MAE EKLUND

Private funeral for Mae N. Eklund, retired practical nurse, was held today in Novato.

Mrs. Eklund, 62, of 6 Romar Court, Apt. 13, Novato, was found dead in her apartment Tuesday. Cause of death is pending an autopsy, according to Keith C. Craig, deputy coroner.

She was born in Lovelock, Nev., and grew up in Fort Bragg. Her husband, Robert Eklund, is a veteran of World War II, serving 20 years in the Marine Corps. He owned the H. R. Eklund Electric Co. in San Rafael until he retired. Mrs. Eklund had worked as a practical nurse in San Francisco until she retired.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, Robert Eklund Jr. and a daughter, Naomi Digrazia both of Novato; another daughter, Carol Lundgren of Tahoe City, Calif.; eight grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Burial was in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Innocent Plea

William Perry Wolfe, 23, of 1323 Lincoln Avenue, Apt. 4, San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge that he sold a gram of heroin to a Marin narcotics agent on June 3.

Hardin May Leave The Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin, who has been under fire from some farm state congressmen for not aggressively protecting agriculture, is expected to leave President Nixon's cabinet by early 1972 or sooner.

One of the farm state critics, Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, said "reliable sources" high in the administration told him Tuesday night Hardin would be "quitting by the end of the year."

A Republican senator, who is a member of the Agriculture Committee and close to the administration, said he had heard Hardin's resignation would be effective in early 1972. The senator, who asked not to be identified said "a lot of political consideration" would focus on a successor. There were other indications that Hardin might be leaving sooner. White House officials refused comment, and Hardin, who returned Wednesday from a trip to Turkey, would not make himself available to reporters. Administration officials said there had been no dissatisfaction with Hardin's performance.

Hardin, 56, a native of Knightstown, Ind., joined Nixon's cabinet when the President took office in 1969. Hardin had spent the previous 14 years as chancellor of the University of Nebraska.

Hardin's selection to the cabinet came as a surprise, but he has built a reputation as a quiet, low-key but effective workman in the always-hectic arena of farm politics. In 1970, after a drawn-out series of negotiations with farm bloc lawmakers in both parties, he engineered passage of a major new farm bill which drew a surprising amount of bipartisan support in Congress.

The new program continued payments to farmers who idle acreage, but struck out in new directions by switching to a more flexible production control system which gives farmers more leeway in deciding which crops to grow.

It was this extra flexibility which contributed to some farm belt grumbling against Hardin this summer. When a feared attack of corn blight disease failed to materialize and grain production zoomed to record, price-depressing levels, critics attacked the move away from the old system of putting specific acreage limits on major grain crops.

Big Defense Bill Gains Approval

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House Appropriations Committee approved a $71 billion defense money bill today after complaining that the military was doing too much spying and promoting too many generals.

The panel recommended to the House a reduction of $2.4 billion in the amount of funds sought by the Pentagon for the fiscal year which began July 1.

But despite its proposed cut, $1.5 billion remained above what Congress appropriated for the same purposes last year.

In a report accompanying the measure, the committee acknowledged that the increase over last year might seem strange in view of the winding down of the Vietnam war and the steady reduction in men under arms. It attributed the increase to inflation, the desire of the administration to avoid boosting the nation's unemployment total and the inclusion in the budget by the Pentagon of programs that could not be financed while the Vietnam war was at full swing.

In its most pronounced cut, the committee slashed the Defense Department's intelligence appropriation by $181 million. The committee explained that because the figure was classified it could not reveal how much had been asked. But it termed the reduction "sizeable."

Pentagon intelligence operations, which do not include the activities of the CIA or the State Department, have grown beyond the actual needs of the military, the panel asserted.

Although it took no direct budgetary action, the committee ordered the Pentagon to investigate "the obvious high proliferation of high ranking officers" in the 2.7 million member armed forces. It said it had already conducted its own review and was not happy with what it found.

"The review revealed that there are more three and four star generals and admirals in uniform today (190) than there were at the height of World War II (139), when there were over 12 million men and women in uniform," it said.

"Even more startling," added the committee, was the number of colonels and lieutenant colonels (and navy captains and commanders) today compared to June 30, 1945. There are nearly 6,000 more now than there were then, it pointed out, and yet there are 900,000 fewer officers in uniform.

President Millard Fillmore was born Jan. 7, 1800 in Cuyuga County, New York.

Senate Unit Eyes Court Nominees

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate Judiciary Committee began closed-door consideration of President Nixon's two Supreme Court nominees today with opponents of William H. Rehnquist seeking to delay a vote on his appointment.

Richmond attorney Lewis F. Powell, the other nominee, appeared to have no major obstacle to committee approval.

But Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said in advance of the meeting he intended to force a delay of at least a week in committee consideration of Rehnquist, an assistant attorney general.

As part of his maneuver, Bayh sought to have a separate committee vote on the two nominees. Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, also a committee member, served notice he would try to block separate votes.

Bayh argued at a news conference: "It is unheard of for two nominees to go like Hansel and Gretel on the Supreme Court."

Arraignment For Kidnap Figure

CONCORD (UPI) —Ex-convict Joseph Pontarelli, 29, was arraigned Wednesday on 15 criminal counts in the kidnaping of a 15-year-old girl he allegedly held captive for 44 hours.

Jack DeVore, father of the kidnaped girl, Debbie DeVore, had to be restrained by friends in court at the reading of the charges, which ranged from kidnap, assault and sex perversion to possessing an illegal weapon.

Mt. Diablo Municipal Court Judge Wroy F. Renaghan asked the suspect whether he wanted an attorney.

"No," said Pontarelli, "I'm ready to plead now."

The judge refused to hear the plea and continued the case until today so the Public Defender's office could become familiar with the situation. Bond was set at $250,000.

Pontarelli, who served time in a Washington State prison, was arrested without a struggle Tuesday several hours after about 30 police officers surrounded the house where the girl was being held.

She was dragged from the Pleasant Hill home of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitlow on Sunday. She had gone to spend the night there with the couple's daughter, Susan, also 15.

The Whitlow girl was struck on the head and her parents were shot and seriously wounded.

Police said the kidnaper saw the two girls at a carnival, followed them home and entered the house when the occupants were asleep.

New York's Rosy View

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Association for a Better New York takes a rosy view of New York's tourist industry, the city's second largest. The association reports that more than 16 million tourists and convention delegates came to New York during 1970, spending more than $1.25 billion. It said the industry continues as a vital force in the city's economy.

Marin Schools' High Test Marks

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin County public schools are, in most cases, among the best in the state according to scores their pupils made in statewide testing in May 1970.

Tabulation of the 1970 test results was presented to the state Board of Education today by Wilson C. Riles, superintendent of public instruction, in the form of a 620-page mimeographed book, full of statistical tables.

School districts were ranked from 1 to 99 on test scores and a number of other factors, 99 being the highest possible ranking.

Pupils of two Marin elementary school districts — Ross and Union — made the select 99 ranking in four categories. Nicasio School sixth grade pupils ranked 99 in reading.

Thirteen Marin elementary school districts were within the top 10 per cent in the state — ranked 90 or above — in one or more categories.

Three of them — Dixie, Ross and San Rafael — were in the top 10 per cent in all the tests: reading in first, second, third and sixth grades, and language, spelling and mathematics in sixth grade. Larkspur was in the top 10 per cent in all except first grade reading.

San Rafael and Tamalpais High School Districts both ranked at the top of the list, with 99 scores, in the 12th grade language test. Tamalpais district was also in the top 10 per cent in 12th grade reading and mathematics tests.

Ranking in the top 10 per cent in one or more of the tests were pupils in Dixie, Kentfield, Laguna, Lagunitas, Larkspur, Lincoln, Mill Valley, Nicasio, Reed, Ross, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Union elementary districts.

Statewide, California pupils averaged below the publisher's norms on most of the tests: in reading in first, second, third, sixth and 12th grades and in language, spelling and mathematics in sixth and 12th grades. There was wide variation among school districts. Individual schools' scores were not shown in the tabulation.

Most Marin districts, however, ranked uniformly high.

Here is how the Marin school districts scored, with 99 representing the highest group and 1 the lowest group in the state:

Bolinas-Stinson — First grade reading 42, second grade readcg 89, third grade reading 87, sixth grade reading 68, sixth grade language 34, sixth grade spelling 42, sixth grade mathematics 18.

Dixie — First grade reading 92, second grade reading 92, third grade reading 93, sixth grade reading 95, sixth grade language 92, sixth grade spelling 96, sixth grade mathematics 96.

Fairfax — First grade reading 40, second grade reading 56, third grade reading 75, sixth grade reading 80, sixth grade language 81, sixth grade spelling 75, sixth grade mathematics 75.

Kentfield — First grade reading 72, second grade reading 76, third grade reading 93, sixth grade reading 98, sixth grade language 94, sixth grade spelling 94, sixth grade mathematics 95.

Laguna — First grade reading 97, second grade reading 77, third grade reading 26, sixth grade reading 1, sixth grade language 7, sixth grade spelling 5, sixth grade mathematics 3.

Lagunitas — First grade reading 94, second grade reading 42, third grade reading 81, sixth grade reading 91, sixth grade language 69, sixth grade spelling 54, sixth grade mathematics 83.

Larkspur — First grade reading 89, second grade reading 97, third grade reading 95, sixth grade reading 94, sixth grade language 95, sixth grade spelling 96, sixth grade mathematics 95.

Lincoln — No first grade; second grade reading 95, third grade reading 25, sixth grade reading 8, sixth grade language 16, sixth grade spelling 5, sixth grade mathematics 80.

Mill Valley — First grade reading 87, second grade reading 86, third grade reading 91, sixth grade reading 93, sixth grade language 90, sixth grade spelling 90, sixth grade mathematics 91.

Nicasio — First grade reading 91, second grade reading 32, third grade reading 57, sixth grade reading 99, sixth grade language 97, sixth grade spelling 32, sixth grade mathematics 89.

Novato — Unified — First grade reading 71, second grade reading 78, third grade reading 82, sixth grade reading 83, sixth grade language 77, sixth grade spelling 85, sixth grade mathematics 78, 12th grade reading 41, 12th grade language 53, 12th grade spelling 26, 12th grade mathematics 50.

Reed — First grade reading 78, second grade reading 86, third grade reading 90, sixth grade reading 95, sixth grade language 87, sixth grade spelling 91, sixth grade mathematics 93.

ROSS — First grade reading 98, second grade reading 99, third grade reading 98, sixth grade reading 99, sixth grade language 98, sixth grade spelling 99, sixth grade mathematics 99.

San Anselmo — First grade reading 89, second grade reading 87, third grade reading 92, sixth grade reading 91, sixth grade language 90, sixth grade spelling 92, sixth grade mathematics 91.

San Rafael — First grade reading 91, second grade reading 91, third grade reading 91, sixth grade reading 91, sixth grade language 90, sixth grade spelling 91, sixth grade mathematics 90, 12th grade reading 82, 12th grade language 99, 12th grade spelling 83, 12th grade mathematics 81.

Sausalito — First grade reading 77, second grade reading 52, third grade reading 36, sixth grade reading 6, sixth grade language 17, sixth grade spelling 22, sixth grade mathematics 2.

Tamalpais High — Twelfth grade reading 92, 12th grade language 99, 12th grade spelling 88, 12th grade mathematics 92.

Union — First grade reading 16, second grade reading 23, third grade reading 99, sixth grade reading 20, sixth grade language 99, sixth grade spelling 99, sixth grade mathematics 99.

Shoreline Unified School District was not included in the report.

Scores for such small districts as Laguna (enrollment 23), Lincoln (15) and Union (12) depended largely on whether there happened to be one or two especially bright or slow children in a class. The Department of Education cautioned to "interpret with caution" the scores of such districts.

The report tabulated many other factors which might be expected to affect the pupils' accomplishment —teacher salaries, class sizes, family poverty, staff turnover, and expenses per pupil, among others. None, however, seemed to influence the pupils' scores consistently.

In expenditures for instruction, Ross, which was one of a handful of the top districts in the state in the test scores, spent $603 per pupil, according to the report, while Sausalito, where the pupil performance was lowest among the Marin districts, spent $1,312.

Four School Districts In Petaluma Area Place High

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Pupils in four Petaluma area school districts placed in the top 10 per cent statewide in average scores in the May, 1970, statewide testing program, as disclosed in a final report submitted today to the California Board of Education.

Little Dunham School District (52 pupils) was at the very top in sixth grade language and reading, ranking 99, the highest possible, in each, and was almost at the top in sixth grade mathematics, with 98, and reading, with 96.

Liberty School District also placed in the top 10 per cent in sixth grade language, spelling and mathematics tests. Two Rock School District sixth graders were in the top 10 per cent in reading.

Cinnabar School District placed in the top 10 per cent in first and second grade reading tests, and in sixth grade spelling.

Scores for the eight Petaluma area elementary school districts and Petaluma High School District were as follows, with 99 representing the highest possible ranking and 1 the lowest possible:

Cinnabar — First grade reading 96, second grade reading 92, third grade reading 48, sixth grade reading 83, sixth grade langauge 80, sixth grade spelling 95, sixth grade mathematics 89.

Family Found Slain In Rural Oregon Home

ROSEBURG, Ore. (UPI)—An elderly man, his wife, and their deaf-mute daughter were found shot to death Wednesday in their rural home near this western Oregon city.

Sheriff's deputies said robbery was the apparent motive in the slayings. The home had been ransacked.

The victims were Edward Williams, 79, a retired logger, his wife, Moble, 54, a waitress, and their daughter, Sharon, 27, who was an honor graduate of the State School of the Deaf in Salem in 1961.

The bodies were found after Mrs. Williams' employer telephoned a neighbor when she failed to show up for work.

Authorities said a purse belonging to one of the women was found in Cottage Grove, about 20 miles north of here, and the family car was found abandoned in Sutherlin, 15 miles south.

Restaurant Corporation Hit For Price Fixing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) accused Chock Full O' Nuts Corp. today of illegally fixing the prices charged by its 38 franchised restaurants in New York and New Jersey.

The FTC said Chock Full O' Nuts also illegally restrained competition by requiring the franchisees to buy food and supplies from the parent firm.

Under the agency's proposed consent order, Chock Full O' Nuts can agree to stop the allegedly illegal practices without admitting guilt, or contest the case before a federal hearing examiner.

In action yesterday, the FTC proposed rules designed to protect "own your own business" prospects from being bilked by franchisers. The rules would require the franchiser's initial sales pitch to include detailed financial disclosure, including how many franchisees lost money the year before.

The franchiser also would have to disclose whether the firm or its officers had been convicted of fraud or declared bankruptcy. Even after signing a contract, the franchisee would have 10 days to cancel it and get his money back.

The FTC said franchising has grown into a $100 billion a year business ranging from auto dealers to service stations to fried chicken stands. The agency scheduled public hearings Feb. 14 through 16 on the proposed rules.

Another Term For Lewd Films

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A nightclub owner was sentenced to another 180 days in the county jail Wednesday for showing lewd films — bringing his total time to 900 days.

Bernard (Happy) Koomer was already under a 720-day sentence for an earlier offense.

He also was fined $1,000 on his latest conviction of showing films at his El Rancho Club. The convictions are being appealed.

Jewish Council Is Shocked By Russian Report

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Union of Councils for Soviet Jews said Wednesday it was "shocked" by State Department testimony in Congress that a Western picture of discrimination against Jews in Russia was overdrawn.

In a telegram to President Nixon, the group said the testimony "clearly indicates that our government does not think the situation of Soviet Jews is serious enough yet to take a firm stand against their oppression by the Kremlin."

Richard T. Davis, deputy assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs, told a House subcommittee of foreign affairs that the condition of Soviet Jewry had not worsened in recent years.

He said there were Jews prominent in government and the professions out of proportions to their number in Russia and there was little evidence of widespread antiSemitism there.

The union said "almost every other free World leader has already publicly criticized the Soviet authorities.

Two New Restaurants Approved At NWP Depot

San Rafael planning commissioners have allowed two new restaurants to go ahead with plans to be part of the old North-western Pacific Railroad depot, but had to ignore parking requirements to do it.

At first, planning director Herbert G. Hotchner told the commission Tuesday evening, that the only action they could take was to deny "Sub Hut" and "Salt Fish and Chips" the use of the Tamalpais Avenue building.

Hotchner said such use of the building would violate fire and building codes.

Biggest obstacle, however, was disputed ownership of adjacent land proposed to provide parking for the restaurants. E. T. Ghirardo of 45 Mitchell Boulevard, proposing the restaurant projects, showed a lease from Northwestern Pacific for such use. But Hotchner said the city claimed the land and planning commission recognition of the lease might prejudice the city's claim.

The developers had proposed to pave and stripe a strip of unused land east of the tracks to fulfill their parking requirements. But since rails have been pulled up from the strip, the city considers title to have reverted back to the original owner — San Rafael, planning staff told the commission.

Any stand taken on the property would lessen the chance of San Rafael working out agreements with the railroad on other city contested lands, Hotchner said.

Commissioner Thomas R. O'Toole thought this problem was of no concern. "Ever since we got Puerto Suello tunnel rebuilt, we'll never get anything else from them" he said.

House Acts; Lifts Lid On Rhodesia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has agreed to a partial lift of an embargo against Rhodesia, which is under a United Nations' boycott because of the white controlled government's racial policies toward the black majority.

The House voted 252 to 101 Wednesday night to lift the U.N.-backed embargo in order to import chrome ore. In London, the British Parliament, as it had done annually since 1965, extended economic sanctions against Rhodesia for another year. Government sources said the extension came without a vote because Foreign secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home was flying to Rhodesia Sunday for talks and did not want to be embarrassed by a vote. Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn., who led the unsuccessful fight to defeat the Houses' provision, charged that if the United States begins "to import chrome ore from Rhodesia, we will be in violation of international law."

The Rhodesian provision was part of a conference report on a $21 billion authorization for spending on weapons for the current fiscal year. The report has yet to pass the Senate, although the chrome amendment originated there.

The conference report also included a weakened version of an end-the-war amendment authored by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

The compromise retained Mansfield's controversial amendment establishing "the policy of the United States" to withdraw totally from Indochina subject only to one condition: release of prisoners of war and an accounting by the enemy for U.S. missing in action. But conferees stripped the requirement that disengagement be completed within six months after enactment of the bill.

The bill also contains these provisions:

A $350 million ceiling imposed by the Senate on U.S. aid to Laos, excluding U.S. air support and bombing. It is designed mainly to control CIA involvement.

Language restricting deployment authority of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile to two sites and advanced preparation to two others at a cost of $1.1 billion.

A $62.8 million House research and development effort, designed to produce six prototypes of the main battle tank as requested by the Senate.

Ranch Annexation Approved By Agency

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night approved the annexation of the 285-acre Thomas A. Nunes Ranch in Upper Lucas Valley to the Lucas Valley County Service Area.

Annexation of the property is the first step toward purchase of the land which the Lucas Valley Homeowners Association, advisory group to the service area, hopes to operate as a greenbelt park.

The property to be acquired is the hill to the north of Lucas Valley homes. It has an assessed valuation of about $74,000, based on an estimated market value of about $296,000.

In related action, the commission also authorized an expansion of authority for the Lucas Valley service area to include park and recreation functions.

The service area in the past has been authorized only to provide fire protection which it contracts from Marinwood.

Under its new authority, the service area with consent of the county board of supervisors will be able to tax for park and recreation operations.

The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission also:

NOVATO — Approved Novato's annexation of the 43-acre Roberts property on Trumbull Avenue. The property has a planned community zoning designation.

MARSHALL — Approved the annexation of the town of Marshall to the North Marin County Water District.

CEDARS SCHOOL — Approved annexation of the 19-acre Cedars Development School near San Anselmo to the Ross Valley Sanitary District. Septic tanks are failing on the property, located just south of Tamalpais Cemetery.

JUVENILE HALL — Approved the annexation of the county's Juvenile Hall property to the Marin Municipal Water District which has been servicing the property for years.

12-Vote Victory For Town's Mayor

MANILA (UPI)—Mayor Santiago Mangubat today was declared reelected by 12 votes in the town of Tungawan in the Philippines' Zamboanga del Sur province. His son, also a candidate, has filed a protest, contending many of his votes wound up in his father's favor.

Roberto Mangubat ran against his father, claiming he could provide better leadership as mayor.

'Ridiculous' Charges— Reinecke

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Armed with Gov. Ronald Reagan's vote of confidence, Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke today denied as "utterly ridiculous" an ex-aide's charges he is spending huge sums of public money to run for governor and conspiring against Reagan.

A Reagan spokesman termed Reinecke the best lieutenant governor in California history.

Reinecke acknowledged it is "my intention" to run for governor in 1974, when Reagan has announced he will not seek a third term, but insisted all his purely political expenses are paid out of a separate private kitty financed by Republican contributions.

As for a conspiracy against Reagan, Reinecke said "That's the best one of the bunch."

The Republican lieutenant governor also was accused of ignoring minority groups, not keeping abreast of the issues and cynically adopting positions designed to enhance his political ambitions.

"We've gone out of our way to work with ethnic, religious and minority groups and I'll stand on my record," Reinecke said in an interview.

The unprecedented charges were leveled at Reinecke by his former top assistant, Hal D. Steward, 49, who parted with the lieutenant governor Tuesday after only seven weeks on the job.

Crowds Please Grinning Castro

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro reflected on the tumultuous welcome he got Wednesday from a million Chileans, grinned and said, "I would sincerely recommend that they make a movie of this arrival and send it to Nixon."

Police said one-third of Santiago's population of three million lined the 14-mile route into town from Pudahuel Airport as Castro rode in an open convertible with President Salvador Allende. It was Castro's first visit outside Cuba in seven year.

"The imperialists have again lost the ideological battle, because this meeting (with Allende) would never have occurred if they had been able to bury the revolution in a sea of lies," Castro said.

"In spite of everything, the imperialists could not prevent us coming. If I would have listened to the threats of the imperialists, I would have had to bring an armored car."

Asked whether he was wearing a bullet-proof vest, Castro laughed.

"I am not even wearing an undershirt," he said, smiling.

Castro was completing the ceremonial part of his 10-day visit to Chile today with a courtesy call on Allende at La Moneda, the presidential palace. He will fly to the northern Chilean city of Antofasta Friday to start a tour that will take him nearly the length of this 2,600-mile-long nation.

Castro arrived aboard a Soviet-made Huyshin il2 jetliner with a Russian crew on a nonstop flight from Havana for his first trip abroad since visiting the Soviet Union in 1964.

As Castro's motorcade passed through some of Santiago's more poverty-stricken neighborhoods, the reception was wildly enthusiastic.

"Cuba Si! Yankee No!" children chanted. Thousands waved tiny Cuban flags.

But as the motorcade approached the Cuban ambassador's residence —Castro's destination—in the luxurious Vitacura section, well-dressed adults and students from private schools hissed and booed the motorcade. Several shoving incidents erupted as ers who walked into the neighborhood carrying red flags were repulsed by residents of the upper class neighborhood.

Hiring Of Firemen Requested

Representatives of four east Corte Madera homeowners' groups asked the town last night to hire enough firemen to keep town fire stations open at all times.

Herber C. Leney, president of the Mariner Cove Improvement Association which sponsored the gathering, said the call for immediate action was made because homeowners fear study of town fire coverage will drag out for months.

A special committee appointed by the town council has voted to hire consultants to study the town's fire protection, which was attacked after four homes burned down.

Leney said the request for action was made by his group and representatives of homeowners in Marina Village, Mariner Green and Mariner Highlands.

The groups also discussed fears of traffic congestion from the proposed Meadowsweet Station townhouse development which would place 540 units south of the Koch luggage plant, Leney said.

Senate Balks On Reagan Appointee

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate Rules Committee has balked at confirming Gov. Ronald Reagan's renomination of William Penn Mott Jr. as state parks and recreation director.

Acting committee chairman Robert S. Stevens, R-Los Angeles, told a newsman Wednesday after the committee's action that Mott "did not have the votes" needed for confirmation.

Forest Park Group Seats New Leader

David J. Warner was elected president last night of the Forest Park Homeowners Association at its annual meeting at San Jose Junior High School in Novato.

According to past president Mark E. Cory, the association voted to participate in the luminario decorations again this Christmas Eve and Christmas night, Cory said. It will try to get everyone in the area to participate, he said.

Innocent Plea To Check Fraud

Linda Marie Elliott, 20, of San Francisco pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to three counts of fraudulent possession of checks.

Her trial was set for the week of Feb. 14, 1972.

She was arrested in September for allegedly cashing stolen checks in San Rafael.

Balboa discovered the Pacific Ocean Sept. 25, 1513.

Fred Harris Exits—Broke

WASHINGTON (UPI) —After a quarter of a million dollars, the well went dry for Sen. Fred R. Harris, the poor man's candidate. He was a victim of poverty in the costly arena of presidential politics.

"... I'm broke," Harris said when he withdrew Wednesday as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. "I owe a lot of money and I'm out of money."

With that announcement, Harris ended a hectic six-week campaign in which he sought to form a coalition of new populists and win the nomination. He never was given much chance. He also announced he would not seek re-election to the Senate.

Harris' withdrawal was expected to have little, if any, effect on Democratic presidential politics. But the list of possible contenders continues to shrink.

The current lineup:

Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota the only announced candidate left.

Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington as certain to formally declare, probably before the end of the year.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York as strong possibilities to mount full campaigns for the nomination.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York committed to selected primaries and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas active but uncommitted.

In response to questions at a news conference, Harris acknowledged that he would not "absolutely foreclose" the possibility of again becoming a candidate for the 1972 nomination.

But as of now, Harris said, he was prepared to sign the required affidavits which would keep his name off the ballot in several primary states.

The 40-year-old Oklahoma senator said he could not support any of the potential candidates "because I don't see anybody speaking about the real issues." At the same time he rejected the possibility he would join a new party movement.

Harris said he spent between $250,000 and $300,000 since Sept. 24 when he announced his candidacy. He is now $40,000 in debt and added "I don't know how I'm going to raise that."

The senatorsaid "If I could see $50,000 a month up to the primaries, I would run," picking small and less costly states to wage his campaign.

The grassroots campaign raised a "considerable amount of small money," Harris said "but it did not develop rapidly enough to keep the campaign office open."

Harris said his outspoken campaign to break up big business monopolies "worried some people" who might have contributed. He also said that Mrs. Chisholm's candidacy hurt because both had to draw from the same financial sources.

Prison Panel Is Ready To Report

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Goldman committee, set up to protect the civil rights of prisoners following the Sept. 9-13 Attica Correctional Facility rebellion, will report soon that some inmates were not informed of their rights during questioning, it was learned Wednesday.

Robert P. Patterson, an attorney and one of the committee's five members, said a three-page report by the panel could be released Friday or Saturday, as soon as the last two members have signed it.

The two, Donald H. Goff, general secretary of the Correctional Association of New York, and Luis Nunez, head of Esperia of America Inc., were both out of the city.

Contacted by UPI, Patterson said the report would explain the committee's accomplishments in improving investigation procedures in the two-week period after the rebellion was put down.

Bound Over On Forgery

Jerry Ray Wade, 21, of San Rafael, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on charges of credit card forgery.

He is to be arraigned in superior court Monday.

Wade was arrested Oct. 27 when San Rafael police, acting on a tip, reportedly found stolen credit cards at his home.

Hike Seen In Production Of Recycled Paper

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Paper Institute predicted Wednesday the industry's use of recycled paper would increase 2.7 per cent this year, 2.8 per cent in 1972 and 3.0 per cent in 1973.

The institute, in its annual survey of paper, paperboard and wood pulp capacity, said this would mean consumption this year of recycled paper would be 12,345,000 tons and 13,071,000 tons by 1973.

By contrast, the industry's total capacity will rise only 2.5 per cent this year and 6.2 per cent in the three years from 1972 through 1974. In numbers, this would mean a total capacity of 60,400,000 tons this year and 64,214,000 tons in 1974.

Two Women Burned —Die-Together Pact

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Two young women who thought it would be "lovely to die together" were in critical condition today from extensive burns suffered in a double suicide attempt.

The two women, described as drifters, wrapped themselves in gift paper and set themselves on fire Wednesday. They still were burning when police discovered them sitting Indianstyle on the kitchen floor of a duplex near the University of Michigan.

"Two officers saw flames coming from the area and heard these girls screaming," Police Chief Walter krasny said. "They were not doing anything to put this fire out. They were on the floor, legs crossed, facing each other."

The officers took the women to the burn unit of the University of Michigan Medical Center after firemen smothered the flames by wrapping them in heavy blankets.

The victims were identified as Anita McQueen, 20, of Livonia, Mich., and Raell Weinstein, 26, of Skokie, Ill. Krasny described both as drifters, "Just sleeping where anyone would take them in. Someone who lived there apparently befriended them and took them in for the night."

Krasny said that in the ambulance, one victim placed her burned hand on the hand of the other and said, "It's lovely to die together."

"We have no idea why they would do something like this," Krasny said. "They didn't use gasoline or anything like this. We presume they were fully clothed in street clothing and just set themselves on fire."

Tryouts Set For Agatha Christie Play

Tryouts for Agatha Christie's "Witness for the Prosecution," will be held from noon to 5 p.m., Nov. 28 at the Novato Community House, according to Paul Terry, publicity chairman.

They will be repeated from 7 to 11 p.m., Nov. 29 at the same place.

The play will be presented by the Novato Community Players at 8:30 p.m., Feb. 25, 26, and March 3 and 4 at the community house.

Some of the main characters in the mystery are Leonard Voleland and his wife, Romaine, Sir Wilfred Robarts, Solicitor Mayhew and the judge. There are other supporting roles for men and women.

Evans Burke will direct the show which will go into rehearsal Jan. 5.

Hog-Tying Murder Is Charged

HOUSTON (UPI)—George Albert Whittington, 27, told police he got into trouble for the first time when he was 11 and tried to derail a freight train.

"I remember putting ties across the railroad tracks and trying to wreck the train," police quoted him as saying.

Whittington, a 6-foot-2, 220-pound former mental patient, was held today on charges of murder in the hogtying of a Tennessee teen-ager who was placed face down in a bathtub full of water.

The 18-year-old victim was abducted with four other teenagers who were hitchhiking from Tennessee to Texas Tuesday night. The others, including a married 16-year-old girl, were kept captive in a house in Houston and beaten, gagged, choked and tied with leather strips.

Three of them were dragged into a bedroom closet and the door nailed shut.

Whittington was arrested in the house with the surviving youths. He told police one of the teen-agers had some marijuana which they smoked.

Police said Whittington was released from an Austin, Tex., mental hospital eight years ago. His wife and child left him several months ago, police said. "He was crazy. He just babbled on," said Robert Franklin Davis, 16, who managed to escape from the house about dawn Wednesday and call police.

"He pulled me up off my feet with the cord. I got hot and blacked out. I gave it all up —I thought I was dead for sure. But I came to. I was on the floor. I had been pulled up by my neck on a door.

"Next, he got Eddie. He said he was going to take a bath."

Eddie Seat, 18, later was found lying face down under water in the bathtub, his hands tied behind his back to his legs.

Davis and his sister-in-law Candy Marie Davis, also 16, suffered bruises and rope burns and were hospitalized. Kenneth Mark Colvin, also 16, and Michael Wayne Davis, 19, Candy's husband, were not hospitalized. All were from Dyersburg, Tenn.

Connally Eyes Surcharge Lid

TOKYO (UPI)—Treasury Secretary John Connally said today the United States will remove its 10 per cent surcharge on foreign goods when its balance of payments problem is solved.

He ended two days of talks with Japanese leaders on the world monetary crisis by inviting three Japanese cabinet leaders to come to the United States within six weeks for detailed talks.

Connally's work day concluded with a two hour and 10 minute meeting with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato. The two men were alone except for two interpreters. Neither Japanese nor American officials discussed the content of the talks.

Japanese sources said Connally asked Sato that no information be given out on the meeting.

"We have made it abundantly clear we will remove the surcharge when it is clear that we can obtain an equilibrium in our balance of payments," the former Texas governor told a news conference before his meeting with Sato.

"I assure you it is a temporary measure. We are not protectionists."

Connally denied that he had given the Japanese a specific list of demands to help end the financial losses the United States has suffered almost yearly since the Korean War. However, he left little doubt that he wanted Japan's contribution to be substantial.

"It can be in many forms," he said. "It can be in the form of revaluation of currency— realignment of currency—it can be in the form of lifting restraints and restrictions and tariffs.

"It can be in the form of contributions to mutual security, or it can be part of all of these."

He predicted the United States would suffer a $3 billion deficit in trade with Japan this year, and would show a loss in its total international trade for the first time in 100 years.

Two More Policemen Killed In Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Gunmen shot and killed two policemen in Belfast today. And in Londonderry, Roman Catholic women publicly disgraced another girl, the third in 24 hours, for associating with British soldiers.

The slain policemen were the 10th and 11th police victims of extremist gunfire between predominantly Roman Catholic and Protestant groups. The double slaying was in the Ardoyne district where British oldiers seized an Irish Republican Army officer two days ago.

A spokesman said the two policemen were in uniform but off duty in the car park at the rear of the police station in Oldpark Road when they were fired on from the Ardoyne area by gunmen who apparently escaped into the Catholic area.

The deaths brought to 157 the number of persons killed in two years of Ulster violence and came as other gunmen sprayed bullets at a police station on the Irish Republic-Ulster border. Four gunmen fired about 50 shots from the Irish Republic and British soldiers returned the fire, apparently hitting one gunmen.

Two young girls accused of associating with British soldiers were publicly shorn by Catholic women earlier in the week. One was tarred and feathered and the other was threatened with death. The latest victim was in Londonderry.

Onlookers said several women tied the victim, identified as 17-year-old Dierdre Duffy by police, to the same post in the Bogside area used in the incident Tuesday night. Her hair was cropped, printer's ink poured on her and a sign saying "Soldier's Doll" was hung around her neck, they said.

Vigilantes on the barricades that nightly close off the Bogside waved away newsmen and photographers trying to approach warning them, "You better clear off in two minutes, mates, or you'll get the same treatment." The photographers left.

Witnesses said the girl stood with her head bowed, the ink streaming down her face for 15 minutes before being released.

One Fire Report Never Explained

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—The State Forestry Department requires that firefighters file a complete written report after the fire is out, and one of the questions is: "How was the fire controlled?"

One firefighter scribbled in that the fire was put out "by the use of a woman's blouse." But there was no further explanation.

Legislature Change Sought In Michigan

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Backers of a one-house legislature for Michigan hope to have 450,000 signatures by next Jan. 1 to get the question on the ballot for the following November.

Spearheading the drive for the unicameral legislature are the Michigan Jaycees. They need 300,000 valid petition signatures by next June to qualify the one-house proposal for a spot on the November, 1972, ballot.

Jamaica's Roads

NEW YORK (UPI)—Although there are more than 2,500 miles of arterial roads and 6,500 miles of second roads on the island of Jamaica, the American Automobile Association cautions that 95 per cent of them are "narrow, curving and unpredictable."

Mariner 9 Nearing Mars For Saturday Touch Down

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — America's Mariner 9 closed in on Mars today, its cameras taking a picture every hour to show scientists the extent of the most severe dust storm ever seen on the puzzling planet.

The $65 million spacecraft, less than half a million miles away, will attempt to orbit Mars late Saturday for the first time to give its two television cameras and other instruments an unmatched view of the planet for at least three months.

Mariner 9 began its scientific examination of Mars late Wednesday by starting a 24-hour sequence of photographs planned to show the whole planet during one Martian day. The camera also was programmed to snap six shots of the tiny Martian moon, Deimos.

Engineers at the Mariner Control Center at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory monitored the camera operation and reported the spacecraft was operating normally.

The pictures were being recorded on tape aboard Mariner and were to be radioed back to Earth, 72.5 million miles away, between 6:16 p.m. and 9:23 p.m. EST today.

Dr. Bradford Smith, a Mariner project scientist from New Mexico State University, reported Wednesday that the massive yellow dust storm first observed by Earth-based telescopes in September is still raging on Mars although recent observations indicated it might be starting to subside.

"We can, however, be quite certain that the storm will not have cleared up by the time we arrive Saturday," Smith said. "This provides us with a very unusual opportunity to study a dynamic atmospheric process in action on Mars. Those team members who are interested in atmospheric phenomena are getting an extra bonus out of the mission."

Mariner 9 took 55 pictures of Mars Monday and Tuesday as engineering tests. Those shots, however, showed that most of the planet was masked by the dust clouds. Scientists expect today's photographs to give them a better look at the extent of the dust coverage.

Pleads Innocent

James Henry McAndrew, 25, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of burglarizing a home on Cascade Drive in Mill Valley on Oct. 28. He is scheduled to appear for trial during the week of Dec. 6.

RESIGN THEIR NAVAL COMMISSIONS

These three officers, in a news conference yesterday, submitted their resignations to the Navy to voice their "moral opposition" to the Vietnam War. All are from the aircraft carrier Coral Sea which is scheduled to sail to Vietnam tomorrow from the Alameda Naval Air Station. In the news conference held in San Francisco the trio doubted the Navy would act before the sailing date. They said they would obey orders to ship out. The three are (left to right) Lt. (jg.) James R. Meyers, 26, of San Diego; Ens. Frank H. Phillips, 23, of Seattle, and Lt. (jg) James A. Lanius, 24, of Tampa, Fla. (UPI Telephoto)

New Framework In Price Control

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration has laid down the framework for the next phase of its economic controls. General Motors will be covered but your neighborhood used car dealer escapes scot-free.

Rents will remain under government control —except for houses or apartments which took in their first tenants after Aug. 15, or those on which major improvements have been made.

In the second of three major policy announcements on the post-freeze economy, the Cost of Living Council Wednesday revealed which companies will have to ask permission from the government to raise their prices and wages when the freeze officially ends at midnight Saturday.

It also unveiled a large list of items whose prices were frozen during the last three months but which will now be free of all controls. These included all used products —such as houses, cars and machinery —plus Army surplus equipment, antiques, wigs and even stuffed owls.

The Cost of Living Council decided Wednesday that all U.S. corporations with annual sales of $100 million or more must ask the government in advance for permission to increase prices. This will cover such giants as General Motors and, in general, the 1,300 biggest American firms doing 45 per cent of all U.S. business.

Firms with annual sales between $50 million and $100 million will have to report to the government every three months on changes in prices and profits and those with sales under $50 million will not have to report but will be monitored on a spot basis.

Companies with 5,000 or more employes will have to notify the government in advance if those employes are due for a pay raise. It is estimated that 10 per cent of the U.S. work force is employed by firms with payrolls of that size or larger.

Companies employing 1,000 to 5,000 persons will have to make reports to the government when their workers get raises, but not in advance.

Okinawan Pact Is Ratified In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Okinawa, whose capture by the United States nearly 27 years ago cost 122,591 lives and marked the end of World War II in the Pacific, is only a penstroke from being returned to Japanese dominion.

The Senate approved 84 to 6 Wednesday a treaty to return the Ryukyu Islands to Japan. The Senate action came amid reports of street riots on Okinawa where the United States maintains a strategic military base.

Actual ratification of the treaty will be delayed by President Nixon until Japanese legislators complete their approval of the document in about six months.

The battle for Okinawa began April 1, 1945 and ended 83 days later with the loss of 110,071 Japanese troops and 12,520 Americans.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said the "overwhelming" approval by the Senate "constitutes a ringing affirmation by the people of the United States to our Japanese friends and allies of the friendship, trust and mutuality of interests which form the basis of our relationship with that great nation."

Senate approval came on a roll call vote following mild debate Tuesday and three days of quiet hearings by the Foreign Relations Committee.

The only opposition to the treaty was from senators who expressed concern that the United States would be unable to fulfill military commitments in the Asian Pacific without full use of the base at Okinawa. The United States will have to seek permission from Japan to operate the base after the treaty takes effect.

Israel Reports Another MIG Flyover; Third Since August

By U.P.INTERNATIONAL

Two Syrian MIG21 jets flew over Israeli positions in the Golan Heights today and Israeli jets were sent up to meet the intruders, an Israeli military spokesman said in Tel Aviv. He did not say if contact was made.

It was the third such incident in the occupied Golan Heights area since a Middle East ceasefire was restored on Aug. 8, 1970. The spokesman said the jets flew in low over Quneitra, formerly the main community on the heights, and immediately streaked for home.

There were indications meanwhile of strong differences between Israel and the United States over ways to achieve peace in the Middle East and Israeli Ambassador Yitzhak Rabin flew home today from Washington for consultations.

At the same time, a spokesman announced that Defense Minister Moshe Dayan would visit the United States within the next two weeks on a fund-raising mission. Israeli newspapers said Dayan also would meet with top U.S. officials.

Israeli Foreign Ministry sources said Rabin was on a "purely private visit." But diplomatic sources said it was certain he would brief the Israeli government on developments in Washington.

Rabin slipped away from the Tel Aviv airport after a two-sentence statement to newsmen:

"I can't tell you how Washington considers the latest Israeli proposals for opening the Suez Canal separately from any agreement as such. I cannot tell you anything new about the supply of Phantom aircraft."

An Israeli cabinet minister said Wednesday that Washington's refusal to grant additional Phantom jet fighters to Israel had sabotaged chances for a peace settlement in the Middle East.

In other developments:

—Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan will visit the United States within the next two weeks, a defense ministry spokesman said. He said the exact date has not yet been fixed but Dayan "has a long-standing invitation from the United Jewish Appeal to make this visit." Israeli newspapers said Dayan also would meet with U.S. officials, including Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

A bomb believed set by Arab guerrillas exploded in the rear seats of a Tel Aviv-bound bus during the morning rush hour today, slightly injuring two passersby. None of the passengers aboard the bus from Tira, on the northern coast, were injured because they all were sitting in the front part of the vehicle.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said Murad Ghaleb, minister of state for foreign affairs, will fly to New York Nov. 24 to attend the U.N. General Assembly debate on the Middle East.

Policeman Didn't See Newton Gun

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—The partner of a policeman Black Panther leader Huey Newton is accused of slaying has conceded he did not see a gun in Newton's hand the night his partner was killed.

Patrolman Herbert Heanes, under cross examination Wednesday in Newton's third trial, said he saw gunfire from the direction where Newton and officer John Frey were struggling.

"You don't know where the shots came from, do you?" asked Newton's attorney, Charles Garry.

"I don't know for a fact," Heanes responded.

Garry tried to show the officer was not an objective witness to the incident.

"You are biased, aren't you?" The attorney asked.

"I have an interest because of what he did to officer Frey and me," Heanes said, "but it is not affecting the truth of what I'm saying."

Earlier, under direct examination by prosecutor Donald Whyte, Heanes said he saw Newton fire a weapon.

Heanes said Newton was taken into custody for giving false information and failing to identify himself when he and Frey stopped his car for an alleged traffic violation.

Newton and Frey were walking toward the police car, Heanes testified, when he "saw the defendant spin to his left and start shooting."

"I drew my weapon and raised it in their direction. Then there was another shot and I was hit in the right arm."

"Then I swung back and saw the two of them tussling by the fender of the patrol car. I raised my revolver at the defendant and fired at his midsection," Heanes said.

Newton's first trial verdict was overturned on grounds of judicial error and a second trial last summer ended with a hung jury.

Mitchell Cleans Out Red List

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Attorney General John N. Mitchell has asked the Subversive Activities Control Board — already accused of having virtually nothing to do —to declare nonexistent 54 organizations listed as Communist fronts.

Mitchell announced he was filing petitions with the five-member board to remove the organizations from the Justice Department's list, where some have been listed since 1939.

Among them was the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, a volunteer group of Americans which fought for the defeated Loyalist forces in the Spanish Civil War.

The original list was compiled in 1939 at the request of President Franklin D. Roosevelt when the German-American Bund, a pro-Nazi organization, was at the height of its popularity although the board has been rendered virtually powerless in a series of court rulings, the federal government still regards membership in organizations on the subversive list as "one factor to be considered in determining whether the employment of a particular individuat is consistent with the interests of national security."

Thus, even membership in the Abraham Lincoln Brigade would have to be acknowledged by a prospective employe and considered by the employer in a federal agency.

The board has had virtually no work since Dec. 12, 1969, when a three-judge panel of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia struck down a section of the Subversive Activities Control Act, holding that naming members of the Community Party of Communist front organizations was unconstitutional.

The other organizations that Mitchell asked to be declared non-existent included the American National Labor Party, the American Nationalist Socialist Party, the Boston School for Marxist Studies, Central Japanese Association of Southern California, the Black Dragon Society, Bridges-Robertson-Schmidt Defense Committee of San Francisco, American Polish League of Los Angeles, American Jewish Labor Council, American League Against War and Fascism, and American Committee for Reconstruction in Yugoslavia.

All-Out War Urged To Check Mosquito Sickness

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A state health official has urged an all-out campaign against mosquitoes to prevent the spread to California of the sleeping sickness that killed hundreds of horses in Texas last summer.

Dr. Richard F. Peters, chief of vector control for the state Department of Public Health, said "everything is needed" to control mosquitoes, which carry the disease known as Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis.

Testifying Wednesday before the Assembly Environmental Quality Committee, Peters said the biological control of mosquitoes "is not promising of immediate rescue."

He urged the use of all methods of mosquito control, including pesticides, land preparation and irrigation which will avoid stagnant ponds where mosquitoes breed.

Earlier in the hearing, Herald Wixom, assistant state agriculture director, testified that only 5 per cent of agricultural pests can be effectively checked without pesticides.

The department favors more nonchemical controls, Wixom said, adding that more research was needed before biological controls could be widely used in place of pesticides.

But Harold Reynolds, chairman of the Department of Entomology at the University of California, Riverside, disputed Wixom's testimony.

He said "hundreds" of insects are controlled by biological means and that more than 5 per cent of the pests could be handled without pesticides.

Innocent Plea In Heroin Case

Ernest Edwin Scott, 38, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of selling heroin.

Preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 23.

Scott was arrested Oct. 14 on a warrant charging he sold $380 worth of heroin to a Marin drug abuse agent on Aug. 17.

22 Teachers In Association

Membership in the Secondary Teachers Association at Marin Catholic High School numbers 22 of the 38 instructors, Rev. Francis A. Lacey, principal, said yesterday.

The Independent-Journal erroneously quoted Father Lacey in a story Tuesday as saying membership in the group is kept secret. He actually said he didn't know the membership but believed it totaled about 13 of 38 teachers.

The association said Monday a strike vote is planned among lay teachers in seven high schools operated by the Roman Catholic Church's Archdiocese of San Francisco.

Dixie Governors Snub 'Old South' For A-Age

ATLANTA (UPI)—The "Old South" fell even further into obscurity this week as a batch of new southern governors spent little time on racial matters at the 1971 southern governors' conference.

The governors spent as much time in their private sessions on nuclear energy as they did on all other issues combined. A growing complaint that the Southern Interstate Nuclear Board, which was formed in 1961 to attract nuclear industry to the south, was ineffective resulted in the resignation of the board's executive director, Robert H. Gifford.

The governors also spent considerable time talking about education in the south, tax matters, and such things as land use, transportation, and human resources.

The most obvious departure for the Dixie governors was on the stance the conference took on the busing of school children.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama and Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi wanted the conference to take a strong stand against busing.

But the conference's resolutions committee, headed by Gov. Luis A. Ferre of Puerto Rico, wrote its own relatively mild resolution.

Even that resolution was further watered down once it reached the floor of the conference.

The governors backed away from fully endorsing the Nov. 4 action of the House of Representatives. While the governors endorsed part of the House action as a "first step" in establishing a national school desegregation policy, the governors cautioned against prohibiting the use of federal funds for school busing purposes.

Even the mild resolution that ultimately passed drew some criticism from Gov. Louie Nunn of Kentucky.

Nunn felt the conference should spell out a national policy for school desegregation, instead of simply asking for a "single national policy."

Gov. Reubin Askew of Florida, who was absent when the resolution was considered, went one step further and said the south should accept busing as a "temporary expedient" to achieve school desegregation.

Sea Turtle Slaughter For Hides Is Revealed

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — South Texas ecologist says thousands of sea turtles — including three species listed as endangered — are being slaughtered so two American companies may make shoes from the hide of their front flippers.

"Hell," Dr. Warren Thomas said Wednesday. "They're all endangered."

Thomas, director of the Gladys Porter Zoo opened recently in Brownsville to protect endangered species of animals, said he and his associates have discovered that the two companies have already imported 19,000 turtle skins out of Mexico in the past few months. The companies — one in New York and another in Texas —have a permit from the U.S. Interior Department for 100,000 more.

"A lot of times they don't even save the back flippers if they're too small," he said. Even the meat is wasted since most hide hunters don't have the facilities to preserve it, Thomas said. He said the hunters usually clip off the front flippers and then throw the rest of the turtle to the sharks.

Thomas said the turtle skins have quickly replaced alligator and crocodile skin products which have been banned from the U.S. market.

The zoo director said he learned of the new, lucrative turtle skin trade recently when the Interior Department called on him to help identify some skins being imported into Brownsville. He said he found skins of the Leatherback, Hawkbill and Atlantic Ridley turtles — specified as endangered under President Nixon's 1970 Endangered Species Act — mixed in with the Loggerhead and Green Turtle hides.

Mexico has a law protecting all turtles, Thomas said.

"Laws exist in the U.S. protecting the Hawksbill, Atlantic Ridley and the Leatherback, but until all are protected and products made from them become illegal to sell or possess, the slaughter will continue," he said. "Government officials are doing what they can to protect the turtles but often hides are only in transit through American ports with seemingly legal documentation."

Thomas said he had formally requested that the interior Department place all sea turtles under the Endangered Species Act.

Militant Area Worries Army

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UPI) — Will McGaughty, head of a neighborhood health center in a black area, needed more dentists for the center's free dental program and asked the U.S. Army Reserve for help.

McGaughty thought that dentists of the 25th Surgical Hospital Reserve Corps, based in St. Louis, could work at the center of their reserve duty time on weekends.

However, the Army refused. It said the neighborhood is unsafe for its soldiers.

Lt. Col. Ralph Pinion, commander of the Reserve Dental Corps unit, said he is concerned about the "physical safety of uniformed military individuals in an area of recognized militant civilians."

Plane Skyjacked By 'Drugged' Man

MOLINE, Ill. (UPI) — A bearded young man, described by a doctor as "on a high flight of something or other," announced that there was a bomb aboard a 707 jetliner Wednesday, forcing the plane to make an emergency landing at Quad Cities Airport.

No one was injured in the landing, though one woman passenger was hospitalized for treatment of shock. There were 76 passengers and seven crew members aboard.

A demolition squad from the Army ordinance depot at Savanna, Ill., searched the plane but no explosives were found.

As the young man was hustled from the aircraft by FBI agents, he was overheard to say, "Just because I was scared I made all this up."

Carl Brooks, 23, Oswego, N.Y., was charged with knowingly giving false information that there was a bomb aboard an aircraft. He was being held in the Rock Island County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The flight, American Airlines Flight 101, originated in Syracuse, N.Y., and stopped in Detroit prior to the emergency landing here. It was scheduled to fly on to Los Angeles and San Diego.

One passenger, Ida Schmidt, 68, Detroit, collapsed during evacuation of the plane and was taken to Moline Public Hospital, where she was treated for shock. She was listed in good condition and a hospital spokesman said she probably would be released today.

An American Airlines spokesman in Chicago said the plane's captain, Norman Andrews, made the decision to land at Quad Cities—an airport unaccustomed to handling planes as large as a 707.

"He elected to land at Moline because the guy looked serious. He indicated he had a bomb," the spokesman said.

A doctor who boarded the plane at Detroit, Henry Schoch, said he saw the young man roaming the back of the plane.

"He appeared to be on drugs and looked ill so I went back to see if I could be of help," Schoch said. "He said he was all right but upon looking closer I felt he was on a high flight of something or other.

"The man said there was a bomb aboard that would explode at 3,000 feet."

DES Link To Cancer Is Denied

GREELEY Colo. (UPI)—The president of the American National Cattlemen's Association says a synthetic hormone which has been linked to cancer poses no threat to consumers' health when fed to the nation's beef cattle.

William D. Farr, a cattle feeder in the Greeley area, Wednesday defended the use of the hormone following a Food and Drug Administration warning to doctors not to give diethylstilbestrol (DES) to pregnant women.

The synthetic hormone has been administered in the past to prevent miscarriage. The FDA said it had been statistically linked to a rare vaginal cancer in the offspring of some of the women who received it.

Farr said DES has been fed to cattle since 1954 and, combined with high energy feed, adds 10 per cent growth or about 50 pounds per animal.

As a precaution, the U.S. Agriculture Department has proposed that all cattle be taken off DES-treated feed seven days before slaughter, and Farr said his group would support the proposal although it could reduce the average weight of cattle by about five pounds.

Indio, Calif., is called the "Date Capital of the United States."

"I think DES in cattle feed is safe for the public, and I believe under the new rules, the USDA and the FDA feel it's absolutely safe so far as the consumer is concerned," Farr said.

"Cattle feeders are producers of food and they appreciate their responsibility. If there was any question in any technician's mind, they just wouldn't do it."

Lawyers Fined For Not Telling Judge Of Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Everyone knew the case was settled but the judge.

So the wallets of attorneys Wallace Adams of San Francisco and Ronald Schenck of San Rafael were $50 lighter Wednesday.

U.S. District Judge Robert H. Schnacke fined the lawyers because they did not inform him that a case they were to try before him had been settled out of court.

The trial was to have started Monday but none of those concerned showed up in Schnacke's court.

The judge then ordered the attorneys to appear before him to explain why.

Innocent Plea In Grass Fire

Herbert Daniel Rama, 18, of 50 Glen Road, Novato, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to starting a grass fire on Bugeia Lane, Novato, July 11.

Preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 23.

Rama was arrested on a warrant Monday.

Prehistoric Skates Found In Russia

MOSCOW (UPI) — Excavations at a Bronze Age settlement in Kazakhstan have revealed that the prehistoric residents used ice skates made from the bones of large domestic animals, the Tass news agency said today.

"The shape of the skates closely resembles modern ones," Tass said.

Cranston, Tunney Silence Ends On Antitrust Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) —California's two Senators, ending weeks of silence, yesterday announced opposition to the exemption of El Paso Natural Gas Co. from the antitrust laws.

Sens. Alan Cranston and John V. Tunney, both Democrats, called a news conference to say they would oppose the bill by chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Commerce Committee.

The Californians, in a joint statement, called the Magnuson bill "a gigantic private relief bill" that would throw out four Supreme Court decisions and 14 years of antitrust litigation.

The two Senators rejected arguments that El Paso should be allowed to keep control of the Pacific Northwest Pipeline Co., which the Supreme Court has said El Paso acquired illegally, in order to make El Paso better able to serve the West.

In explaining their delay in taking a stand, Cranston and Tunney recognized "that men of the highest integrity and good will believe that this legislation is essential both to the Pacific Northwest and to California." For that reason, they said, they had spent "considerable time and effort" in studying the measure.

"We believe there has been entirely too much political invective involved in this case. The interests of the people of California would not be well served by a knee jerk reaction to this legislation in either direction."

Magnuson, who was joined by 10 other western Senators in introducing the bill, has contended repeatedly that Pacific Northwest consumers will have to pay more for gas if El Paso must turn its Northwest Pipeline over to a smaller company.

The bill was to have been taken up by Magnuson's committee on Nov. 4 but action was postponed indefinitely as opposition to the measure grew.

Action on the bill was further delayed when Magnuson announced Tuesday that the committee would seek sworn testimony on "alleged misconduct" by El Paso in seeking support for the measure.

The committee will subpoena John H. Klas, Salt Lake City banker and Utah state Democratic chairman, to testify on charges that an El Paso official offered his bank an interest-free deposit of $100,000 if he would support the legislation.

The alleged offer was reported in October by Beverly C. Moore Jr., a Ralph Nader associate, during testimony against the bill before Magnuson's committee.

Moore —who did not name Klas in open testimony — testified that the banker did not wish to be identified because of the fear of "economic reprisals" by El Paso.

Klas later refused to give the committee an affidavit on the incident unless subpoenaed.

Scott Cuming, El Paso vice president and general counsel, said under oath that Moore's testimony was a lie.

In their statement opposing the Magnuson bill, Cranston and Tunney said the Washington Democrat's announcement of the investigation "demonstrates his deep concern for the truth."

"His action is evidence of the fact that he will not allow a cloud of suspicion to linger over this legislation, the committee or the U.S. Senate," the Californians said.

The California Senators then went on to say their study of the evidence had not convinced them that divestiture would so weaken El Paso that it could not serve the western market adequately.

"After divestiture, it will still have $1.6 billion in assets, and will be the second largest pipeline company in the country," they said.

Marinite's Acting Career On Climb — In New Film

By JOAN LISETOR

When she was three years old she played the role of a Geisha girl in a nursery school play.

"That is when I decided on acting as a career," says Mrs. Robert F. Reynolds of Corte Madera. "Every year after that my parents had to buy me a parasol."

The daughter of opera singers, Nancy MacBurney Reynolds, was born in Chicago. Influenced also by an aunt and uncle who were in vaudeville, Nancy began a career modeling and on radio at 18.

THE ON again — off again career has taken her to both East and West coasts and may be on the rise again with her current role in the movie "One Is A Lonely Number" being filmed in the Bay Area. Nancy has the role of, a secretary in the film starring Trish Van Devere, Melvyn Douglas, Janet Leigh and Paul Jenkins. She is also appearing in a television pilot being produced by Lee Mendelsohn.

She marks the beginning of her career as the day she was modeling in a Chicago department store and puppeteer Burr Tillstrom was performing nearby.

"I went over and started talking to Kukla and Ollie, the puppets, and sang to them a little. We started a little act, bantering and took it on the road selling war bonds and stamps and appeared in one show with Rita Hayworth, Orson Welles and Dorothy Kirsten.

"Years later Burr and I were both on the 'Hit Parade,' and he referred to me as the 'original Fran,'" says Nancy.

Nance met her husband when he visited Chicago on leave from the Royal Canadian Air Force. His job with British Overseas Airways took the couple to New York City.

"WE WERE so broke then that I had to borrow the money to buy an outfit to wear to pound the sidewalks. After six months it paid off," she recalls.

In New York she appeared regularly on live television shows and commercials. As the Noxema girl and the "she" of "She's Lovely, She's Engaged, She Uses Ponds," Nancy recalls she was making more money than her acting friends, Jack Klugman, Richard Kiley, Robert Middleton Edward Binns and others who have since become stars.

"They all told me I was going to ruin my career by doing commercials because it would spoil the content of a play. I was earning three times as much as an actress but couldn't get parts in the theater because they were afraid the audience would recognize me from commercials, point and whisper, 'She's the one who plays the part. . . '"

Her heydey was New York through the '50s, she recalls.

"I was on my way to the top and could have cleaned up when my husband was named West Coast manager of BOAC, and we moved to Hollywood in 1956," she says.

"My father always said, 'If a man marries you with a career he must accept it as part of you. It is only if you start the career after marriage that it hurts him because he feels he is not enough,'" says Nancy.

HER HUSBAND and children, Victoria, 15, a student at Redwood High School; and Roger, 20, in the Navy in Vietnam; have always been number one.

"I don't believe I have missed anything by putting my family first," she says. "But I believe in reincarnation, and I tell my family, 'Watch out, because when I am reincarnated I'm going to the top.'"

The Reynoldses lived in Southern California for six years, and during that time Nance appeared in several movies, including "Bells are Ringing," where she was in the famous party scene, and her biggest part was in "Ask Any Girl" with David Niven. Television filming came to the West about the same time as Nancy, so, despite agent troubles (one of her agents went into the real estate business), she did well on television as well as in theater and night clubs.

"I had some problem because at that time they were looking for pretty actresses in New York, but I was in Hollywood where they wanted characters," she says.

She met exciting people in Hollywood, she says, like Gary Cooper.

"I had always been in love with him, and when I met him I almost fainted," she says with a smile. "I had lunch with Cary Grant, and is he handsome. Many of the actors look pretty sloppy when they are off-camera and relaxing, but not him. He looked gorgeous."

DON'T BELIEVE all of the stories you hear about show business people, she warns, because good public relations men can twist a lot.

"The actors of today are rather dull because they are more serious. Few are glamorous, except for Yul Brunner, Burton and Taylor, and there really aren't any super stars besides Barbra Streisand, Mia Farrow, Paul Newman and maybe Steve McQueen, who isn't one of my favorites," she says.

Monte Markham, who is also appearing in "One is a Lonely Number," she predicts will be a big star some day because he has "it."

Mr. Reynolds was promoted to marketing director of BOAC in 1962, and the family returned to New York for six years. He left BOAC in 1968 and the family moved to Marin when he was appointed head of the Hong Kong Tourist Association for the United States. The Reynoldses have been around the world four times and have traveled throughout the Orient and Europe, but, says Nancy, it is time for her to get back to work.

"I AM AT an age right now when parts are limited. I can play the role of a very young grandmother or the mother of teen-agers or, as in "One Is A Lonely Number," a secretary," she says. "I could get roles as an extra, but I am too much of a ham."

Nancy is also finishing a book, which will be published by Pro Musica Press. It is the book people asked her father to write, she says.

"My father became a voice teacher and was always going to write a book for artists and singers. He was something of a philosopher and believed the public should be educated in the arts for leisure. He left me 400 lectures which I have used in the book. Mostly they are about techniques for craftsmen and artists," she says.

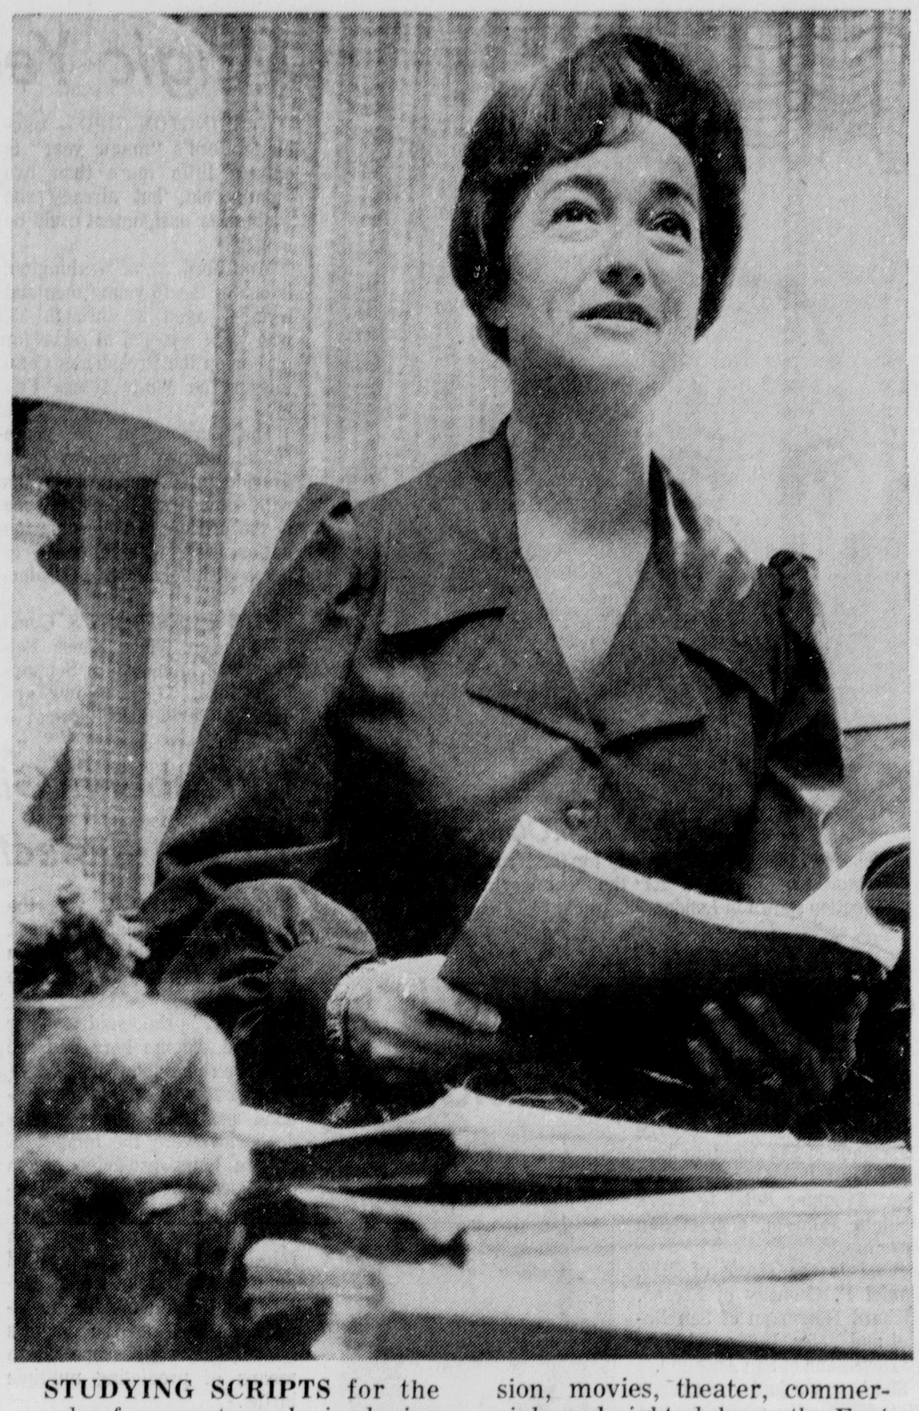
Nancy also has an actors workshop, which she conducts with another Marin actress, Reggie Waldon.

Young performers, Nancy says, want to begin by running.

"We have to convince them to learn to walk — to feel, see and hear, first. We prepare them for auditioning so when they do audition they don't think about 'how.'"

ADVISING ASPIRING performers, Nancy emphasises, "Learn your trade; work at it everyday, and, for God's sake, want it more than anything else."

"It isn't a glamorous life," she cautions. "Two-thirds, no, maybe three-fourths is bad to the one-fourth good, but it is worth it to feel alive on the stage."



STUDYING SCRIPTS for the role of a secretary she is playing in the film "One Is A Lonely Number" is Mrs. Robert F. Reynolds of Corte Madera. The 20-year acting career of Nancy Reynolds has including television, movies, theater, commercials and night clubs on the East and West Coast. She does not regret having put her family first but says when she is reincarnated she is going to the top.

Top Policewoman In New York City Lets Her Work Speak

There was no fanfare, though, when the other day she became captain-commanding officer of the policewomen's bureau in the nation's largest city.

Actually, Captain Schimmel would just as soon have it that way. She's more of the quiet, unassuming type who lets her 30-plus years as one of New York's finest speak for themselves.

BUT YOU hear her speak out "loud and clear" when it comes to the number of women in the police department compared with the number of men, of some of the things she thinks should be done to improve women's role in law enforcement and thereby improve enforcement itself.

"There should be more policewomen, it's as simple as that," said Captain Schimmel. "When we have a full complement, there are 352 policemen," she said. "That is only one per cent of the total force."

The women are divided into four major areas of operation — youth aid, detective, patrol precincts and administrative jobs.

"WOMEN ARE not always used productively," said the police captain, commenting in an interview that policewomen are good at keeping their "cool" in dozens of situations where a man might find trouble. She cited the simple incident of a policewoman in uniform who could handle a drunk by bantering him as she told him to move on. A man, she said, might find the drunk turned antagonist.

One of the "naturals" for women is working with young criminals or in preventing youth crime, she continued.

Most of a policeman's duties do not involve "violent activity" anyway, she said. "About 85 per cent are on call for prevention work. The other 15 per cent is service calls."

What about the policeman as a symbol of authority — the father image? There may be some of it around, she said, "but if we'd had women doing all phases of police work for years, the public wouldn't give the matter a second thought."

MRS. SCHIMMEL, a handsome graying 52, was made a captain Aug. 26, the same day that liberationists marched to mark the 51st anniversary of women's suffrage.

FRONT PAGES at the time showed Mayor John V. Lindsay and Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy pinning captain's bars on the shoulders of her uniform. "The day of the appointment was no accident," she said with a smile.

Captain Schimmel is a supporter of the liberation movement — "wholeheartedly," she said. "Yes, the right to marches and demonstrations too. It is a basic right, as I've said before and will say again."

Recently the police officer quietly succeeded Mrs. Margaret Disco, an appointee who retired with rank of inspector-director of the policewomen's bureau.

MRS. SCHIMMEL won her bars through Civil Service promotions, and is one of the very few policewomen in the country who are called captain.

Her career began when she got out of Hunter College with an A.B. Degree, a Phi Beta Kappa key, and intentions of being a teacher. But she said "they just weren't hiring teachers, so all of us took every Civil Service exam that came along."

One such exam landed her the job as policewoman June 5, 1940. In September, she married Alfred Schimmel, now director of mortgage research for the New York City Planning Commission. The couple has two sons — Victor, 22, a lecturer in mathematics at City College of New York, and Edward, 18, a junior at CCNY.

AS EVERY other policeman or policewoman does, Captain Schimmel attended the Police Academy. And as every other member of the force does, she always carries her identification card, shield and gun.

Wearing a gun when you're not in uniform can pose some problems, she said. Especially if you have to be in evening clothes.

Vatican Art In UNICEF Card Group

Paintings from the Vatican Art Collection have been added to the 1971 UNICEF greeting card collection and are being sold for the benefit of the United Nations Children's Fund.

Chairmen of the UNICEF card and calendar sales in Marin are Mmes. Robert S. Israel of Corte Madera and David M. Sheldon Jr. of San Rafael. The cards are being sold at Hastings in Northgate, the Photo Shop in San Rafael and Marin Co-Op in Corte Madera.

The fund works with the governments of 112 developing countries to provide health, education and nutrition assistance to the sick, unschooled and malnourished children in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East and is celebrating its 25th anniversary year, says Grace Israel.

In addition to the Vatican series, which includes two paintings from an 11th Century Byzantine manuscript and three 14th and 15th Century paintings, art for the cards has been contributed by museums and artists throughout the world.

Brief Rest Before More Adventures

By MOLLY MARIN

The John Churchills, former Sausalito residents, have just completed two years of service with the Peace Corps in Chile and are in Marin for a short visit before going on to more adventures.

John and Gertrude started a new life as Peace Corps volun teers when past the age of retirement for most persons. After visiting their daughter, Mrs. Hugh White (Alice), in St. Louis, Mo., the Churchills will go to Sao Paulo, Brazil, where Mr. Churchill will be working as a consultant in chemical engineering for the Drew Chemical Co., his employer before they entered the Peace Corps.

In Santiago Mr. Churchill said he worked with the urban development program of the Chilean government, supervising men who were building their own homes after their regular working hours.

When this program was terminated with the election of President Allende last year, he was asked to join the Santiago Forestry Institute to help set up research aimed toward improving the quality and increasing the production of pulp and paper.

He was then assigned to San Felipe, Chile, where he worked on the excavation of Indian mounds for a museum and set up programs for the training of prisoners in the construction trades and printing.

Mrs. Churchill, a registered nurse before her marriage, worked in a hospital and well-baby clinic, helped organize women's clubs and taught sewing and knitting in Santiago. Later she taught English to chemical engineers and other technical helpers at the forestry institute.

The Churchills' daughter Elaine attended the University of Chile for one year in Santiago while they were there and is now continuing her education at St. Louis University.

Mrs. Churchill was a member of the Sausalito Woman's Club, the Sausalito Salvage Shop and the Women's Guild of the Star of the Sea Church when the couple lived in Sausalito.

SUSAN AND Stephen Hicks of Mill Valley have just returned from a three-month camping and motoring trip through Europe.

They flew to Frankfurt, Germany, picked up an automobile and drove through Germany, the Scandinavian countries, Holland, Britain, France, Spain, Austria, Switzerland and Italy.

They said they were surprised to find the English people most friendly of all they encountered. The Hickses had a few difficulties camping out but recall mostly pleasant experiences.

Scholarship Fund Gains From Show

Some $300 of the proceeds from the sale of the paintings of the late Mill Valley artist Elsie Lower Pomeroy at Sunday's champagne preview of the memorial exhibit of her work at the Dick Ford Gallery in Mill Valley have been donated to a choreography scholarship fund.

This amount, approximately half of the total proceeds, was donated by the artist's daughter, Mrs. Harry H. Smith of Mill Valley, to the 1972 Craft of Choreography Scholarship Fund of the Mill Valley Chapter of the Pacific Dance Guild.

Mrs. Smith said this amount will enable six children to attend the Craft of Choreography Conference to be held at Dominican College. This is one of the four conferences held in different areas of the United States, sponsored by the National Association of Regional Ballet and made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

The exhibit of the Pomeroy paintings is continuing through this month at the Dick Ford Studio.

THE GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

Your Dad Is Sick; Take Problem To Authorities For Better Life

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

I have a father who has made a habit of throwing my mother out of the house for the past 15 years. Now he's starting on me.

Last night he had his worst fit ever. He threw the vacuum cleaner down the stairs and broke it. He also smashed two statuettes against the wall and threw the dog across two rooms, then kicked him so hard he's still at the vet's. Our dog didn't do anything — my father hurt him because we love him, and that was a way of hurting my mother and me.

Next, because I tried to protect Mom, he told me to leave and never come back, then pushed me outside and locked the door. I stayed at a neighbor's.

Mom won't leave him because she says he's sick and needs her. He's well enough to keep a good job, but he lets out all his frustrations on us. The least little thing will set off a temper tantrum that won't quit. She says "Don't fight back," but when he calls me an SOB and screams at me and beats on me, should I just stand there and take it — like she does?

I'm back home now (home? — that's a laugh!) thanks to Mom, but if I stay here much longer I may kill my father. Besides, he keeps asking me to leave, even though I'm not quite 16.

Is there a better way of solving my problem — and Mom's? — TEMPTED

DEAR TEMPTED:

Your problem may be solved by a visit to the Juvenile Hall in your town, and a placement in a foster home. After all, your father threw you out, and expects you to stay out. Under these circumstances I believe you can become a ward of the county.

Let's hope this opens your mother's eyes: giving in to a psychopathic bully seldom helps anyone — including him — HELEN

DEAR TEMPTED:

Why doesn't your Mother turn the tables and throw the bum out? Or lock the door and not let him in? If he's as bad as you say, you need this "husband and father" like Vietnam needs another war! — SUE

DEAR "GENERATION RAP":

My sister is a blackmailer, too, like the one in your column not long ago. Only in a different way.

She has two pictures of me. She's good at sneaking up with her camera! One is of me smoking. The other is even worse: she got a shot of my mother spanking me across her knee — with my pants down. You know what that would do for a 13-year-old guy if it got shown around school.

And if my mother saw proof that I smoked, I'd get it again!

I'm no angel. I'm practically always in trouble, so I don't want any more or I won't be able to play on the football team, plus I'll get another sore bottom. My folks use a plywood paddle and that hurts!

So my sister demands $1.50 from my allowance every week, and makes me do most of the chores. I also have to let her watch her TV programs, which aren't mine. Otherwise, the pictures get shown around ... where they'll do the most harm.

This may sound corny, but I love my sister in spite of everything, and I don't want to get her in trouble by finking. Besides, it would get me in more trouble. What shall I do? — JOEY

DEAR JOEY:

In most parents' books, blackmailing is a worse crime than smoking. So why not try this: At the dinner table, hand your sister her "hush-money," and tell her you'll get her work done first thing in the morning. Naturally your folks will be curious, but shrug off any questions with "It's just a business deal."

Later, tell Sis you'll explain the whole "business" if she doesn't hand over the pictures — and the negatives! — and stay mum. Should she stay greedy — tell! One punishment isn't as bad as months of being broke and overworked. — SUE & HELEN

When a recipe calls for a reconstituted ingredient, restore the concentrated food to its normal state, usually by adding water.

The term is usually applied to such foods as dry milk (for fluid milk) and frozen orange juice (for liquid juice.)

THE FLIGHTY LOOK

The designer calls it "strictly for the birds." The hat was designed by Bermona for the Millinery Guild's spring collection shown in London this week.

Clark Jamison Will Wed Betsi Herrmann

Mr. and Mrs. John George Herrmann of San Anselmo have announced the engagement of their daughter Betsi to Clark William Jamison, also of San Anselmo.

Betsi is the sister of Mrs. Daniel P. Connelly of Fresno, Richard Herrmann of San Rafael and Peter, Duffy and Nancy Herrmann of San Anselmo.

She is now a junior at Oregon State University, where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Betsi was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School.

Clark's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Jamison of San Anselmo. He also was graduated from Drake High School and is a junior at Oregon State University.

He is the brother of Lee Jamison of Portland, Ore., and Dani Jamison of San Anselmo.

BETSI HERRMANN
Engaged to be wed

The couple plans to be married next September.

Magic Year Is Proving 'Too Short'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Antoinette Ford's "magic year" is only a little more than two months old, but already she wishes her assignment could be longer.

Mrs. Ford, 29, of Washington, is one of the 16 young men and women, aged 23 through 35, who were selected to serve for a year on the President's Commission on White House Fellows.

The purpose of the White House Fellows program is to provide gifted young Americans with some firsthand experience in the process of governing the nation, and with a sense of personal involvement in leadership.

THE PRESIDENT'S Commission on White House Fellows was launched in September, 1964. The Fellows are carefully examined through a procession of interviews. Like several members of the class of 1971, Mrs. Ford had never heard of White House Fellows until a friend suggested she apply for appointment.

She filled out the required eight-page application and survived a series of personal interviews before she and her 15 colleagues were selected in late May from a field of 30 finalists for the coveted assignments. The Fellows receive government salaries ranging up to $24,500 for the year.

Mrs. Ford, graduated in 1963 from Chestnut Hill College, Philadelphia, with a degree in biology and later began graduate study at American University in Washington. In 1966 she joined the National Oceanographic Data Center and the next year was awarded a National Science Foundation Fellowship to study biological oceanography off the West Coast of Mexico.

She now is an oceanography instructor and program coordinator for Versar, Inc., a firm that trains inner-city young people from the Washington metropolitan area for careers in marine sciences.

Mrs. Ford also is founder and present chairman of the Black Women's League, a volunteer organization which aims at helping young people join civic, educational, and cultural programs.

FOR HER White House Fellowship, she was assigned to Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, a choice she approved. She works closely with the secretary, she said, and interprets reports for him. She plans to become involved with banking and business enterprises for minortiy races, and with international trade agreements with underdeveloped countries.

"I've been most impressed by the receptivity of people in the secretary's office," she said. "They accept us, share with us their experiences, and encourage us to continue on the roads that we have carved out for ourselves."

Were there any disappointments in the program?

"Yes, I'm disappointed that the program is for one year only," she said. "I wish it were for four."

THE WHITEHOUSE Fellows are taken on two trips during their year of service, and the first already is scheduled. They will leave the day after Thanksgiving for more than two weeks in Southeast Asia in Hong Kong, Tokyo, Thailand and South Vietnam. Some of the group will stop off at Manila.

"It's part of an education program," Mrs. Ford said. "We want to see the emergence of Asia as a force in the world, to learn the similarities and differences between Americans and Asians, and find out the effects of the Nixon doctrine."

"Every day there are new discoveries," Mrs. Ford said. "We feel this is a magic year."

Ultrasound Gives Tips To The Expectant Mother

BOSTON (UPI)—It was the sound she saw that convinced Mrs. Karl Wozniak of suburban Natick she was going to have twins.

"Honey," she said to her husband, "come here and see this. We're having twins."

What Mrs. Wozniak, her husband and their two other children saw were the images of unborn twins projected on an oscilloscope at Beth Israel Hospital.

The images were drawn by a relatively new procedure called an ultrasound scan which doctors say eliminates the guesswork as well as the doctor's hands and stethoscope as a means of predicting multiple births.

ULTRASOUND CAN detect pregnancy as soon as five weeks after conception, says L. E. Schnitzer, Beth Israel's ultra-sound technical specialist.

As early as five to 10 weeks, he said, multiple pregnancy can be discovered. By the time the woman is in her 14th week of pregnancy, the accuracy level of the equipment attains 100 per cent.

"It's amazing," said Mrs. Wozniak, 27, as Schnitzer passed the ultrasound's "transducer" over her swollen abdomen

Ultrasound operates on the principle of sound waves converted to a visual image, Schnitzer explained. The sound emitted from the ultrasonic equipment, too high for humans to hear, is able to penetrate the body to put it on contact with what's inside.

When the sound beam strikes an object in the body, part of the wave is reflected back into the transducer to the oscilloscope where the impulses form outlines of the things being examined.

WHAT MRS. Wozniak saw on the screen was a clear and detailed graph of the size and position of her unborn babies.

In the year since Beth Israel set up the ultrasound laboratory, 258 expectant mothers have been sent to it to be examined.

Schnitzer said most patients express amazement at the ultrasound. He said with it he can tell the patient immediately whether to plan for one arrival or two or even more arrivals.

Its advantage is that it eliminates the guesswork inherent in a doctor's superficial examination and does not have the possible harmful effects of an X-ray examination.

As for Mrs. Wozniak, who's date with the stork is early December, she said she had mixed reactions, particularly since she and her husband didn't really want twins. But their families on both sides have a history of twins.

She said that when Schnitzer scanned her abdomen and an image started to form, "he said it was a head. We were really hoping it was the only one."

But, she said, the technician scanned the other side of her stomach and "when we saw the other head we, well, grinned and accepted it."

Men Score A Victory In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)— Oregon struck a blow for men's lib Wednesday.

The state wage and hour commission adopted a resolution setting up mandatory rest periods for all workers.

Labor commissioner Norman Nilsen said Oregon was the first state in the nation to require rest periods for all workers. He said other states, and Oregon, have had requirements for mandatory rest periods for women and youngsters who work, but this was the first time such coverage had been extended to adult males.

The regulation requires 10-minute rest periods without a reduction in pay for every four hours of work performed or a major part of the four period. The rest period will be in addition to regular meal periods.

Invitations Out For Alumnae Association's Annual Luncheon

Invitations have been mailed by the Dominican College Alumnae Association for the annual autumn luncheon to be held Saturday at Caleruega on the San Rafael campus at 12:30 p.m.

Fall and holiday fashions will be modeled by members of the alumnae and students.

Models include Mmes. Arthur S. Lull of Orinda, Charles Sweeney of Atherton, Robert R. Fair of Mill Valley, Edward Ravizza of Sausalito, Peter Dahl of San Rafael, Michael H. Osborne of Novato and Martin D. Murphy of San Francisco.

Student models will be Janice Lococo, Terese Angwin, Sara Lange and Lisa McCone.

Mrs. Osborne is chairman of the event. She is assisted by Mmes. H. Reed Volin of San Rafael, models; and James J. O'Sullivan of Petaluma, Timothy Leveque of San Francisco and Jack L. Brookman of Napa, decorations chairmen.

Reservations may be made with the Dominican College alumnae office, Pennafort Hall, San Rafael.

A PUBLIC gin fizz breakfast will be held by the Soroptimist Club of Marin Sunday at the Depot in San Rafael as a fund-raising event to provide money toward the furnishing of the senior citizens hospitality room by the Soroptimists.

Breakfast hours are 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. with tickets available at the door.

Chairman Polly Pezoldt also is reservations chairmen for the event. The Soroptimist Club has budgeted $5,000 for its gift to the project.

THE 18TH annual Holly Fair will be held tomorrow and Saturday at the San Geronimo Valley Presbyterian Church on Sir Francis Drake Highway in San Geronimo. A turkey dinner will be served tomorrow from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The fair will be open from 4 to 10 p.m.

On Saturday hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., with a luncheon served at noon. Booths will feature plants, homemade foods, toys, gift articles.

A puppet show will be given at 7 and 8 p.m. tomorrow night. Girl Scout Troop 269, led by Mrs. Jerry Owens, will present three original puppet skits for each showing and earn credit on drama badges.

CHICKEN LITTLE Chapter of Children's Home Society is having its annual semi-formal dance Saturday at the Petaluma Veterans Memorial Building. The orchestra will begin the dance music at 9 p.m. Breakfast will be served at 1 a.m.

Charimen Mrs. Frederick Groverman and Mrs. Frank Castelli are assisted by Mmes. James Brog, menu; George De Long, decorations; Harold Griffith, special events; and Richard McKenna and James Eastburn, reservations.

THE SAUSALTIO Woman's Club will have a barn dance on Saturday, with members and escorts invited to come in suitable costume.

At 9 p.m. a dance band will play for dancing, including folk dancing led by Mickey McGowan. Beer will be served, and "vittles" will be served later in the evening, finishing with one of Mrs. Peter Arnott's special desserts.

Chairmen Mrs. Raymond Gergus and Mrs. Clifford Raisbeck are assisted by Mmes. Charles Weckler, James Muldoon and Ken Elkington. Reservations chairman is Mrs. Leonard Eckman.

THE ASSISTANCE Guild of Marin will have a party for members and their husbands at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Bennett of San Rafael on Saturday. Mrs. Calvin Ewing is chairman of the party.

The guild members have been assisting the Marin County methadone program by serving coffee and rolls once a week, Mrs. Stanley Breyer said.

A HOLIDAY Bazaar will be given by the Women's Association of the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Luncheon will be available and a variety of articles and baked goods and candy will be on sale.

NOVATO GUILD II of Sunny Hills will have its annual Boutique Noel at The Church in Ignacio Saturday, opening at 11 a.m. Christmas decorations and gifts will be on sale.

Raymond Lamerdin and George Michalak are chairmen. Mmes. Arnold Pieri, James Hanretty and Fred Buscher are on the committee. Reservations chairmen are Mmes. Robert Smith and Robert Bernhard.

THE NOVATO Squares Square Dance Club will hold a dance at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Lynwood School in Novato. Don Shotwell will be the caller.

A FATHER-son night will be held by the Marion School Parent-Teacher Association at 8 tonight in the multi-purpose room of the school in Novato.

Three films will be shown — "East African Safari," "Japanese Grand Prix" and "Turned On." Refreshments will be served by the fourth-grade room mothers.

OIL PAINTINGS of California wild flowers by Alice Chittenden will be exhibited Sunday at the Jose Moya del Pino Library, Octagon House, Marin Art and Garden Center, with a reception for members and guests from 4 to 6 p.m. The show will continue for a week, open to the public from noon to 2 p.m.

The paintings are lent by Mrs. Elizabeth Hays Bechtel of Santa Barbara, who purchased the collection following an exhibit at the California Historical Society after Mrs. Chittenden's death. The flower studies were painted in collaboration with Alice Eastwood, one of California's outstanding botanists, and from material brought back from field trips by the California Botanical Club.

Guests at the reception will be John Thomas Howell, curator emeritus of botany of the California Academy of Science, and members of the California Botanical Club.

ST. JAMES Ladies Guild in Petaluma will host its annual bazaar Saturday at 1650 Ely Road, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Leonard Torina is chairman of the bazaar, which will include a stuffed animal booth; white elephant surprises; Christmas decorations; greens booth and refreshments. Santa Claus is scheduled to make a brief appearance at the children's booth.

THE NOVATO Hostess Club Gourmet III Group will hold a progressive dinner at 7 p.m. Saturday. Mrs. Walter Christensen is chairman.

Champagne, cocktails and appetizers will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Goudeau. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Freeman will serve the entree of beef burgundy and coq au vin, French bread and wine at their home. The final stop for coffee and dessert will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lemon.

Heart Attacks In Women Are On The Rise

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Denver, Colo., cardiologist said Tuesday that women were beginning to be as vulnerable to heart attacks as men.

Dr. John T. Kimball told the annual meeting of the California Academy of General Practice that women in time past were always presumed to be protected from heart attacks during their pre-menopausic years.

"I hate to equate women's lib with this," Kimball said, "but it would appear that women, competing in a man's world, are showing an earlier incidence of vascular problems.

"They're eating more and smoking more at the same time they're increasing stress situations, and more and more women under 40 are having strokes and heart attacks."

Flaming Desserts

To flambe puddings and other holiday desserts, warm brandy or rum (about ½ cup for 6 servings) over low heat; pour over pudding and light. Flaming without liquor can be accomplished by dipping sugar cubes or tablets into lemon extract before placing them on the dessert and lighting.

Cong Hit Cambodia's Major City

By KATE WEBB

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Viet Cong guerrillas carried out a series of attacks early today around the outer defensive perimeter of Phnom Phenh, including one clash in which five Cambodian troops were killed and 15 wounded.

The Cambodian military command said the fighting flared at positions directly across the Mekong River from the capital and nine and 15 miles southwest.

The heaviest government casualties were in four hours of fighting at Anlong Romlet nine miles southwest of the capital. Fighting at a military signals station at the town of Prey Puoch, 12 miles to the southwest, continued sporadically throughout the day.

Other Communist attacks were reported at Preah Prasap, Vihear Suor, Prey Baing and Prek Tameak, all on the east bank of the Mekong River and near the outer defensive network of Phnom Penh.

The latest Viet Cong thrusts followed by 24 hours Communist attacks Wednesday against Phnom Penh's Puchontong International Airport, a radio transmitting station and a bridge northwest of the city.

At least 30 persons were killed in the attacks and three airplanes and two helicopters destroyed.

U.S. sources said the destroyed helicopters would be replaced by this weekend to bring the small Cambodian helicopter fleet back up to its normal number of six.

The loss of the helicopters left Cambodian troops engaged against the North Vietnamese 9th Infantry Division on Highway 6 north of Phnom Penh with only two helicopters to carry out wounded and haul in supplies.

The Cambodian command said government troops were reported slightly closer to Romlong, 60 miles north of Phnom Penh, but 1,000 troops including 400 wounded were still pinned down by intense Communist artillery fire.

7th Fleet Boss Sees Soviet Pacific Buildup

SATTAHIP, Thailand (UPI)—Vice Adm. William P. Mack, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, said today the Soviet Union may soon surpass the United States in naval power in the Pacific.

"Their fleet is increasing year by year," Mack said. "Ours is decreasing year by year. There will come a time very soon when the Soviet fleet in the Pacific is very strong and may be more capable than ours."

Mack spoke at a news conference aboard his flagship, the USS Oklahoma City, a guided missile cruiser which docked at this royal Thai navy deep-water port Wednesday and leaves Monday for Singapore.

A press kit handed to newsmen described the 7th Fleet as "the largest, most powerful task fleet in the world today."

But the admiral said in his news conference that "the 7th Fleet is not the largest fleet in the world."

The largest, he said, is a Russian fleet "operating out of the Soviet Union."

The admiral said the 7th Fleet, which patrols more than 30 million square miles of the Western Pacific, now has about 100 ships.

He said this number was "about half what it was at the height of the war in South Vietnam, but it will probably not be reduced further."

"The larger size of the fleet in past years was for the specific purpose of carrying out our objectives in Vietnam," Mack said. "Now that this war is drawing to a close, it frees the ships and aircraft of the 7th Fleet for other missions."

Asked if the reduction in the number of vessels in the 7th Fleet had damaged the fleet's effectiveness, Mack replied, "By doing the best we can with what we have, I feel that we can continue to carry out our treaty commitments with the forces we have now."

He said the 7th Fleet provides a nuclear umbrella for the free nations of Asia.

"Our main mission is to carry out the foreign policy of our country and for our purposes this is called the Nixon doctrine," he said.

Disabled Boat, Crew To Safety

CRESCENT CITY (UPI) — A disabled fishing boat and its three-person family crew was towed safely to port Wednesday after high seas calmed on the Pacific Ocean.

Two Coast Guard vessels stood by the 48-foot Vernita which fouled a line in her propeller late Tuesday.

Those aboard were William Noah, his wife and their 23-year-old son, all from Coos Bay, Ore.

Vitamin C Pills Are Recalled

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Food and Drug Administration today recalled 8.8 million vitamin C pills because, it said, the labels failed to disclose the salt content.

The action was taken so that the pills would not fall into the hands of people on low or no-salt diets. The recall, the 13th such this year, involved pills made by the Glenn Matteson Co., doing business as the Setabaid Co., Portland, Ore.

Nixon Pays Visit To Arlington

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) — To the sound of taps and muffled drums, President Nixon paid homage today to the nation's war dead, placing a wreath of blue and white carnations at the Tomb of the Unknowns.

Nixon's visit to Arlington National Cemetery, on a bright, cool fall morning, came on the 50th anniversary of the entombment of the first of the three unidentified soldiers who died in World War I, World War II and the Korean War.

In a statement issued before he left the White House, Nixon said it had become certain "that the idea of a war to end all wars was in vain." That was the way the first World War had been sometimes described.

"What we really need is a peace to end all wars," Nixon said. Such a peace would require as much power and as much perseverance and as much patience and as much courage as any war.

"We have such power and such courage," he said. "We hope that we shall have such a peace."

Mileage Cheating Case In Court

Timothy Daniel O'Donnell, 31, former San Rafael police officer, was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on charges of selling used cars at high prices by rolling back odometers at T and D Autos in Ignacio.

O'Donnell, a former resident of Novato, was arrested last week in Oakland on a warrant charging him with seven counts of felony grand theft and three theft and three misdemeanor charges of turning back odometers, according to Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas.

One of O'Donnell's employees, Angelo Allegra, 46, of 33 Montego Keys, Novato, was arrested and arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on two of the grand theft counts and is to plead to the charges on Nov. 24.

T and D Autos at 32-A Hamilton Drive in Ignacio closed down about two months ago.

Thomas said the case first came to light by chance. A private citizen sold his Volkswagen, registering about 91,000 miles, to a dealer in Santa Rosa last April. The Santa Rosa dealer sold it to T and D Autos.

The original car owner later noticed his car in a used car lot in San Rafael and found the odometer showed only 38,000 miles.

This led to an extensive investigation by Stanley Wilsey, investigator for the Department of Motor Vehicles in Corte Madera. Thomas said Wilsey checked about 100 cars that were traded through T and D Autos.

O'Donnell was a patrolman in the San Rafael Police Department from July 16, 1968 to Aug. 15, 1970, when he resigned. The assistant district attorney said he was a police officer in Oakland before that.

Trees In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Texas legislators this year ordered the state highway department to plant trees along state and national highways. The lawmakers said they would prefer to see pecan trees planted in the beautification project.

Fire House Repairs Asked

Chief Robert E. Marcucci has told the San Rafael Fire Commission assorted repairs are needed in city fire houses.

Marcucci, in a report Tuesday night based on a survey of the stations, listed a leaky roof, insufficient heating, and broken windows among the deficiencies, commission secretary Joan Henriksen said.

The commission, while noting some of the work could be performed by firemen, said funds would have to be found somewhere in the fire budget to correct the rest of the faults. It asked Marcucci to report back on ways to get the money.

Getting to the top of the fashion business isn't a full time job.

Not with Elégance.

For 25 years, Elégance has offered the world's most exclusive internationally famous collection of fabrics. But only in Europe.

Now we're bringing our fabrics to America. And we're looking for a representative to introduce them to women in your community. She can do it in her spare time by arranging in-home showings.

We're looking for a representative who can sew. Who has good taste. And who hasn't missed a copy of her favorite fashion magazine since she was 17.

We're offering more than a job. We're offering an opportunity.

You'll be working with fabrics used by top European designers.

We'll keep you on top of the fashion world by passing along to you the new trends we spot in styles, silhouettes, colors, patterns and textures.

We'll provide you with a coordinated collection of sewing accessories. So you can provide a full fashion service for women.

And you'll find your relationship with Elégance rewarding aesthetically and financially. We pay an excellent commission.

If you're interested, we'd like to arrange a local interview. Please write to:
Elégance, P.O. Box 242, New York, N.Y. 10013.
Even if you have a full time job at home.

'Alternative School' Plan Is Discussed

Seventy-five Dixie School District parents and teachers last night asked district trustees whether "innovation is dead in Dixie," according to Supt. Clifford W. Campbell.

The audience and trustees spent nearly the entire evening in dialogue on proposals for "alternative school" plans, Campbell reported.

The trustees stood firm on their earlier decision against appointing a citizens committee to prepare recommendations. "We consider this too important to leave us out of it," board members told the audience, according to Campbell.

The superintendent said the board and district administrators repeatedly asked the speakers to "define what is an alternative school," but received no clearcut answer.

Oak View School teacher Charlotte Gurin presented a paper on "assumptions about learning common to alternative schools."

Audience reaction was "mixed" to the call for the district to set up a central alternative school, with a separate faculty, rather than offer alternative programs at each of the district schools, Campbell said.

The Dixie School District Board also:

HIRING — Authorized employment of Helen Allen as a part-time teacher-assistant at Don Timoteo School Nov. 2 to Jan. 14 at a total cost of $204, and Mrs. Margaret Shea as a part-time typist-clerk for the remainder of the school year at a total cost of $859.

INDIAN MOUND — Heard Campbell report that the state Department of Parks and Recreation had succeeded in getting the Indian mound at Miller Creek School included in the national registry of historic places — thus making the Miwok Archeological Preserve foundation possibly eligible for grants for its project.

PAVING — Approved a $3,000 paving job for the district vehicle maintenance center parking lot.

Utah Registers 14 Earthquakes

CEDAR CITY, Utah (UPI)— At least 14 earthquakes—six of them classified as major — rocked Cedar City and the surrounding countryside Wednesday.

The series of quakes, which apparently caused no damage, were felt up to 20 miles from here.

The Seismology Department at Southern Utah College said the strongest quake registered 3.4 on the Richter Scale. Other tremors ranged from 2.7 to 3.2.

Salfen's Resignation Accepted By Council

The Cotati City Council last night accepted the resignation of City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen without comment.

City Clerk Carol Bonfigli said the council met behind closed doors for an hour and emerged to announce Salfen's resignation had been accepted. The council directed Salfen to begin procedures to seek his replacement.

Salfen had submitted his resignation effective Jan. 31. Salfen, who has been city manager since July of 1970, listed no specific cause for the resignation, but said disagreements stemmed from the enforcement of city policies and regulations.

Plaque Is Honor Of Audie Murphy

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A plaque honoring Audie Murphy will be unveiled by his widow at Armistice Day ceremonies today at the Sports Arena.

Murphy, the most decorated U.S. soldier of World War II, was killed in a plane crash earlier this year. Veterans groups from throughout the country were expected to attend the ceremonies.

I-J In Error On Arrest Report

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday in stating that Richard S. Knowles, 20, was arrested for a burglary in San Rafael by San Rafael police.

Knowles, who was sentenced Tuesday to nine months in jail, was arrested July 20 by San Anselmo police for burglarizing a San Anselmo home.

Young New York Team Shows Championship Play Once Again

All of the forecasters were surprised a few months ago when a group of young New Yorkers won the national team championship for the second year in a row. Then everybody sat up and took notive: once might be a fluke, but twice in a row surely proved that the team had real merit. Today's hand, taken from a match they played in New York, shows their aggressive bidding style and accurate play.

Opening lead — ♠ K

JUST GRAVY

Peter Weichsel and Tom Smith, of the young team, reached the fine contract of five diamonds on the North-South cards. East's double was just gravy.

East overtook the opening lead of the king of spades with the ace in order to return a heart. If he hadn't done so, the defenders would have lost their heart trick, and declarer would have staged a crossruff. South would have taken five trumps in his own hand, at least three ruffs in the dummy, and three clubs for a total of 11 tricks.

West won the second trick with the queen of hearts and returned a trump to South's six. Weichsel, playing the hand, now led a club to dummy and ruffed a heart.

ACE FALLS

When the ace of hearts fell, Weichsel read the heart position accurately, aided by East's bid of three hearts. Declarer drew two more rounds of trumps with the ace and queen and then led the jack of hearts from dummy.

East played low, but South discarded a spade. The ten of hearts then put East in the middle again: whenever he played low, South would discard; and whenever East put up the king of hearts, South would ruff.

LINE OF PLAY

This line of play established the dummy, and Weichsel made his doubled contract. The hand was a major gain for the New York team since at the other table oF;the match the North-South pair had stopped at a part score.

Drug Charge Innocent Plea

Robert Anthony Catalano, 29, of Novato, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to felony charges of possessing peyote, marijuana, cocaine and cocaine for sale.

Trial was set for the week of Feb. 7

Catalano was arrested June 18 in a raid by narcotics agents on his residence.

Film Festival Opens Friday

The senior class at San Marin High School in Novato will hold its second annual public film festival tomorrow and Saturday.

Performances will begin at 7 p.m., consisting of one feature-length comedy, two comic short subjects and a feature-length show.

On Saturday, two kiddie matinees will be shown starting at noon and 2:30 p.m.

Performances will be in the 100-seat lecture hall. Proceeds will benefit the senior class.

END TO INDIAN SUMMER

Indian summer has come to an abrupt end in the nation's capital. The wind, which came with the cold weather yesterday, blew leaves from the trees around the Washington Monument and started to turn Washington, D.C., into a gray city. (UPI Telephoto)

Bala Picked As Engineer For Tiburon

Mill Valley City Engineer Stanley M. Bala was appointed city engineer of Tiburon yesterday by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer.

Balmer said Bala will be paid $12,500 per year, the same amount paid to Foreaker, and will continue to serve as Mill Valley's city engineer.

Appointed deputy city engineer to act in Bala's absence was Jesper Strandgaard. The men are partners in the Mill Valley consulting engineering firm of Bala and Strandgaard.

The firm handles a considerable private business in addition to the Mill Valley work and will continue to do so, according to Strandgaard.

Bala earns $11,00 per year as Mill Valley's city engineer. He was appointed to that post by Alex E. Almcrants, Balmer's predecessor as Mill Valley city manager.

Barrage Kills Laos Civilians

VIENTIANE (UPI)—A barrage of Communist 122mm rockets apparently intended for a Laotian military outpost crashed into the village of Ban Nong Sapang Wednesday night, killing 21 persons, mostly women and children, and injuring 34 others.

Military sources said North Vietnamese troops were believed preparing an assault on the city of Paksong on the Bolivens Plateau to the south. They reported 500 refugees had fled Paksong.

The sources said the attack on Ban Nong Sapang, 125 miles southeast of Vientiane, destroyed a number of houses. They said the rockets appeared to have been aimed at the military base outside the town.

The tiny country of Andorra's last military budget was $4.29 — the price of bullets for its ceremonial rifles.

Petaluma Eyes Marin Bike Paths

The Petaluma Recreation, Music and Parks Commission heard a report on Marin County bicycle paths last night and agreed paths could be useful in Petaluma.

Donald Rolph, planner for the Marin County Parks Department, explained various bicycle path projects in Marin and told the commission that costs can range from $12,000 to $20,000 per mile depending on the type of project and if land purchase is necessary.

The commission agreed to seek more information on paths and said the county of Sonoma should be contacted to see if it would be possible to plan a joint project.

VD Curb Plea By Governor

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Warning the state faces a serious epidemic of venereal disease among its youth, Gov. Ronald Reagan today urged parents to find out what instruction is available in schools to prevent the disease.

The governor, in a public service announcement being distributed to radio stations throughout the state, said the epidemic "also involves misunderstanding and misinformation" about the disease and how it is spread.

He said every school should have a VD prevention course for its students.

Two Novato Women Robbed In Car Ride

Two Novato saleswomen perparing to drive home after work in San Rafael yesterday were robbed, then forced by a young gunman to drive to San Francisco.

The women, Doris Ann Garatti of 708 Bradley Avenue and Tillie A. Newman of 858 Cain Lane, had finished the day at the Modern Eve shop, 1021 Fourth Street, and had gone to Mrs. Garatti's car parked behind on the upper city lot at 5:55 p.m.

As Mrs. Garatti prepared to start the motor, a tall, thin man with long blond hair tried to force his way in and met resistance from Mrs. Neuman. Mrs. Garatti, seeing that he had a gun, told her companion not to fight him.

He then sat behind them and asked for their purses. After taking $17, he ordered them to drive him through San Rafael to San Anselmo and then back to the Hethertone Avenue on-ramp to U.S. Highway 101.

Mrs. Garatti told police that she drove slowly down the highway and across Golden Gate Bridge. Their kidnapper then directed her down 19th Avenue. He told her to make several right and left hand turns, saying he was looking for Golden Gate Park. He kept repeating to them that he needed more money.

They drove around for a while until he finally ordered them to stop near a construction site. He got out and told them to drive on.

A few minutes later, at 6:45 p.m., they stopped at a California Avenue and Presidio Street service station to phone the police.

Union School Aides Resign

The Union School District board last night received the resignations of two of its three board members, according to clerk Eleanor Pomi.

Those resigning effective Jan. 1 were Elvina Giacomelli and Dian Morelli. Both are moving from the district, Mrs. Pomis said.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors must call a special election to fill the vacancies, she said. No date has yet been set for the election, she added.

Hunt For Youth Is Called Off

SAUGUS (UPI) — A search was called off Wednesday night for a 16-year-old boy suffering from sleeping sickness who was missing from his home near here.

Sheriff's deputies said the search for Ken Kidder was not due to resume until Saturday morning.

The youngster's parents told officers the teen-ager was suffering from the effects of sleeping sickness and was receiving schooling at home during the last few months.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Bagley Tax Proposal Goes To Finance Panel With Another

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee said today any "mini" tax bill must be big enough to erase the current $330 million state budget deficit and avoid another tax increase next year.

By that standard, both the Democratic and Republican tax programs fall short. Both are out of balance, and the 1972 session is less than two months away.

"It's a futile thing to just take care of the budget and come back here in a month and a half and fight another tax crisis," said Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, whose Finance Committee must act on rival budget-balancing bills.

The bill carried by Sen. Walter Stiern, D-Bakersfield, would be $110 million out of balance next year while a similar measure by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, would be $66 million short.

"That isn't satisfactory to me," Collier said.

Both bills would impose payroll withholding and increase business-oriented taxes to balance the state's $6.8 billion budget and grant $23 million in business inventory property tax relief.

Gov. Ronald Reagan supports both bills because they include payroll withholding, which would help balance the budget plus even-out the unsteady flow of cash into state coffers.

The Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee, chaired by Stiern, Wednesday sent Bagley's bill to the Finance Committee without the usual favorable "do pass" recommendation.

The same committee a day earlier approved Stiern's bill and sent it to Finance but endorsed it with a "do pass" recommendation. Collier's committee now must juggle the two.

In approving the Bagley plan, the committee stripped from the bill a provision to increase the tax on cigarettes from 10 to 13 cents a pack.

Bagley complained the action unbalanced his legislation. He said he may propose that the Finance Committee insert a minimum corporation tax and narrow capital gains exemptions.

"I'd like to put the cigarette tax in Stiern's bill," Collier said.

Bagley said since action on taxes and reapportionment appear to have picked up speed, Republicans and Democrats "no longer are at partisan loggerheads."

"The Democrats have told me they are not going to let the governor have any withholding bill unless reapportionment began to become readable," he said. "In the last few days there are all kinds of evidence that reapportionment consensus is very nearly a fact."

He said once all sides agreed on a tax bill it could be swiftly enacted, possibly through use of a two-house conference committee. This would bypass normal committee channels.

NOISE BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly has given unanimous approval to antinoise legislation requiring the adoption of minimum noise insulation standards for new homes and apartments.

The bill would require the Commission of Housing and Community Development to set noise standards for new hotels, motels and other residential dwellings in addition to homes and apartments.

It was returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments Wednesday on a 57-0 vote of the Assembly.

Beilenson's bill was supported by the building industry as well as consumer groups. Opponents had contended that it would increase the already high cost of homes. But Beilenson argued that the increase would be minimal.

It would ban the sale of excessively noisy machinery ranging from piledrivers to blenders.

NEW SEAT?

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A proposed new Assembly district in West Los Angeles has sent potential Democratic candidates scrambling to get in line to run for the seat.

Their dash could splinter Southern California Democratic leaders into feuding factions backing separate candidates for the district.

Although some of the party's most politically ambitious persons have begun efforts to seek the seat, it was originally drawn for one man, Democratic sources said Wednesday.

The district, which embraces Marina Del Rey, Southern Santa Monica, the Mar Vista and Palms districts of Los Angeles and Culver City, would have nearly a 62 per cent Democratic voter registration. The winner of the Democratic party would probably capture the seat with ease.

Democratic sources said it was carved for Howard Berman, a close friend and polital ally of Henry Waxman, Democratic chairman of the Assembly Reapportionment Committee.

EXPO STUDY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An Assembly committee will begin an "in-depth study" of the economically troubled California State Fair and Exposition Nov. 17.

The study was announced by Chairman Mike Cullen of the Assembly Efficiency and Cost Control Committee, who said Cal Expo Manager Tom Bair would be among those testifying at the first hearing.

He said Wednesday the committee is concerned about the future of Cal Expo because of the "publicity surrounding both the reduced attendance and decreased revenue during the 1971 State Fair."

Beware of falling objects.

They can put a severe dent in your wallet.

And what you gain buying this year's leftover could be what you lose in depreciation after the '72 models arrive.

Unless you decide to buy a Volkswagen.

VWs depreciate at a snail's pace.

In fact, the same Beetle that sold for about $2000 three years ago is still worth about $1550 today.

That's right.

You only lose about $450 over 3 years.

Of course, if you still can't resist that car with the "rock bottom" price, may we offer these words of caution.

You'll never really know what "rock bottom" means until you try to resell it.

CARTOONIST'S VIEW

Peanuts And God? Maybe

By MARY BURNS

Charles Schulz's day begins behind the closed door of his study where he communes with a scratch pad and pencil.

The day may be either productive — meaning he creates another funny situation for his "Peanuts" characters — or a waste — meaning he has not only failed to come up with an idea but has also fallen asleep!

The cartoonist described that typical day to an audience of about 200 persons yesterday at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry Point. Schulz was guest for an hour-long lecture dialogue.

Although the Baptists view Lutheran-born Schulz (now active in a Methodist Church) as a Christian layman and Christian cartoonist, theology got relatively short shrift from the Snoopy's creator, who said his chief aim was to entertain and not pontificate.

The 49-year-old cartoonist said he began drawing Peanuts in 1950. His comic strip, owned by United Features syndicate, now appears in over 1,000 newspapers, he said. Peanuts books have sold over 40 million copies and a Broadway play and two feature films have been based on his characters.

Schulz, who gave birth to Charlie Brown; Lucy; Snoopy; Schroeder; Linus; Pig-Pen; Violet; Peppermint Patty; Franklin; the Red Baron; and Woodstock, began the informal question-answer session by drawing a picture of Snoopy, the famous beagle, resting atop his dog house. "I just drew that to show you that I'm not a fake," he told the applauding crowd.

Schulz said he has wanted to be a cartoonist since childhood. "I'm one of those rare, peculiar types who always knew what he wanted to be since the age of 6," he said. The extent of his art education was a single correspondence course taken in high school, he explained.

The audience responded warmly to Schulz's quick wit, apparent frankness and unpretentiousness.

Asked how he knows that a character will be successful, he said "I just have a feeling."

About his newest character, Woodstock, Schulz said it had taken him 10 years to learn to draw the bird like I wanted it. I just have fun drawing him."

About the origin of the name "Peanuts." Schulz said it was the brainchild of someone at United Features and that he himself thought it was "the worst title I've ever heard of for a kid's strip."

As for why he doesn't incorporate adults into the strip, Schulz replied straight-faced: "because the strip is so small that they'd bump their heads!"

He said his characters are not caricatures of his friends but extensions of himself. Lucy is his "sarcastic self," Charlie Brown, his "wishy-washy self" and Snoopy his "dreamer self."

Schulz said his ideas for cartoons come from his thoughts and not necessarily experiences and that his cartoon is successful because it is funny. "No matter how much we give cartoonists credit for being prophetic or theologians," the successful cartoon is "still a funny picture."

Schulz compared the pressure of drawing a daily strip to "having to have an English theme written every Monday morning." But he explained "I cannot see myself existing without drawing pictures. If I were elected, by some stroke of fate, to the White House next year, my first thought would be, 'who's going to draw the strip?' The strip never leaves my thoughts."

Schulz was asked about his personal church involvement and the theology that crops up in Peanuts. He answered by explaining his present active status in a church and said he had been at least nominally associated with a church most of his life.

Replying to why he does not speak directly of God more often, Schulz said he was "the first cartoonist in the history of cartooning to quote scripture."

He added that his upcoming Christmas cartoon will include direct quotations from the Bible and that "as soon as this cartoon appears I will get letters from someone in the Middlewest saying it's sacrilegious to quote scripture in a cartoon. I just try to walk the line and get away with as much as I can," he said.

"I am not trying to change the world with my cartoons," he said, "although it would be nice if I could in some areas."

Asked why he does not have a Mexican-American child in his strip (Schulz's character, Franklin, is a black child) Schulz said it is difficult to inject race into his strip because it does not fit the situations he creates. "I'm not the one to do racial humor because it is not a part of my life," he said. Any racial humor he might include would be "contrived" he said.

Landscape Donation Pledged

The Tamalpais Community Services District has pledged $250 toward a cooperative effort to landscape the median strip of Enterprise Concourse in Tennessee Valley.

Board member Glenn Lambacher said the board on Tuesday voted to spend the funds to purchase and install a sprinkler system in about 190 feet of 22-foot-wide median strip along the road.

He said 11 residents of the street are contributing $20 each for plants and shrubs and Allan-Marin Co., developer of Marinview, a subdivision served by Enterprise Concourse, is donating $150 to install a water line and meter.

The board also scheduled a tree-planting party from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday at Marinview Unit 1 park, a three-acre park above Tamalpais Valley School.

The park has been graded and paths and bridge built by Allan-Marin, Lambacher said, and volunteers will move in Saturday to plant bushes and grass seeds and mulch the area with straw to protect the open ground from winter rains.

In other business, the board voted $400 to survey the western boundary of Rhubarb Park, an 11.5-acre parcel on Tennessee Valley Road donated to the district by the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club, and pledged to build a backstop at Tamalpais Valley School's playfield at a cost of between $500 and $800.

Windows Broken

Vandals went on a window breaking spree yesterday damaging 11 homes under construction in the Monarch Manor subdivision in Petaluma. Police said damage was estimated at $600 to the houses on Cedarwood and Gumwood streets.

New Tack Taken On Water Needs

The board, meeting for the first time since the proposed multimillion-dollar contract for Russian River water was beaten Nov. 2 by a 9-1 voter margin, asked district staff to develop a program that would promote water conservation, indicated a desire to poll consumers before the district completes more long-range planning and called for a look at possible rate restructuring.

William R. Seeger, general manager and chief engineer, told the board he would report back Dec. 8 with a suggested program aimed at encouraging reduced consumption of water.

Director Eugene A. Miller proposed the program, as well as the public opinion survey, suggesting the poll might be conducted through the district's billing procedures.

"We know how they voted," said Director John M. MacPhail Jr., "but why?"

Seeger said he would seek professional advice on a poll.

The general manager also said he would look into the cost of outside analysis of the district's rate structure, subject of some criticism during the election campaign because it charges heavy water user use less per cubic foot than smaller consumers.

Marin Municipal Water District Board also:

NICASIO — Asked staff to look into annexation of 1,000 acres of Nicasio property owned by the district but not within its boundaries. The land was acquired when Nicasio Dam was built. Miller, who suggested the annexation study, noted the district was paying taxes on the uninhabited land.

CLAIM — Rejected a $75,000 claim by owners of the Cote D'Azure Apartments in Sausalito for water damage beneath the buildings. District officials deny the damage is caused by district pipes.

DEED — Settling a two-year squabble, accepted a deed from the Fairfax School District for acquisition of right-of-way at White's Hill School for a transmission line. But the board authorized condemnation of property further along the line. Cost of the school property was $3,110.

PLANNING — Heard that federal funds would be sought for its environmental planning and land use program.

TANK — Received a report from a San Francisco architectural firm, Royston, Hanamoto, Beck and Abey, recommending a variety of measures aimed at softening the impact of a proposed water tank off Elinor Avenue, Mill Valley. The firm suggested retaining trees, modifying the design and painting the 28-foot-high tank varying shades of green.

CONTRACTS — Awarded a $262,463 contract to Valley Engineers Inc. for Central Marin line rehabilitation as part of a 1970 bond issue package; a $1,330 contract to Westinghouse Electric Supply Co. for electrical supplies; a $47,900 contract to Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. for construction of a storage tank in the Bret Harte area, together with a $24,800 contract to Maggiora and Ghilotti for preparation of the site; a $39,840 contract to A. Burtleson Co. for reconstruction of the Corte Madera pipe tunnel, and a contract calling for a maximum of $50,000 to three Bay Area consulting firms in connection with Southern Marin sewer planning.

Warrant At $25,000 In Grass Case

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — A bench warrant with bail set at $25,000 has been issued for Douglas E. Rambo, 30, of Fairfax, charged with trying to smuggle a bargeload of marijuana into the U.S. 18 months ago.

The arrest warrant was issued in U.S. Distrit Court here Monday after Rambo failed to show up for trial, according to prosecutor Arnold Rigarde.

Rambo and two other men originally were charged with attempting to smuggle three tons of marijuana plus receiving and concealing it.

David B. Tate, 24, of Tigard, Ore., pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of smuggling pot without paying the transfer tax on it and was sentenced to six months in jail.

The third man, Herbert B. Berez, 32, of Los Angeles, failed to appear at a hearing in August and a bench warrant was issued with bail set at $75,000.

San Franciscan Pleads Innocent

Victor Royal Van Wagner, 28, of San Francisco has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to charges of burglary and vehicle theft last Friday.

Preliminary hearing was set Tuesday for Nov. 23.

Officers stopped Van Wagner on a report from a caller on Sonora Avenue that a burglary was in progress nearby. Police said the car Van Wagner was driving was reported stolen in San Francisco.

Family Vespers Concerts Slated

A new Vespers Family concert series will open Dec. 12 at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere, according to Mrs. Gustav J. Snelling, chairman. Other Sunday afternoon concert dates are Feb. 20, April 9 and May 21.

Programs will be presented at 5 p.m. and will be followed by the serving of bread and cheese, wine, coffee and punch with the compliments of St. Stephen's.

The first concert, Dec. 12, will be performed by the Orchestra Piccola, conducted by Hugo Rinaldi. Featured will be two harps, violin and classical guitar in numbers by Ives and Vivaldi.

On Feb. 20 mezzo soprano Donna Petersen of the San Francisco Opera and Esther Johnson, organist from San Francisco and Berkeley, will be presented, and the April 9 concert will be a surprise "Spring Sing" of interest to young and old.

Closing the series on May 21 will be a return engagement of the Orchestra Piccola featuring Saint Saen's "Carnival of the Animals" with Mitzi Thornton as cartoonist.

Further information about the concerts may be obtained and arrangements made for purchase of family, adult and student tickets by calling Mrs. Snelling, who lives at 2002 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

Charlie Manna Dies At 51

NEW YORK (UPI)—A funeral mass was scheduled Friday for Charlie Manna, the comedian whose routines about the astronauts made him famous.

Manna died Tuesday of cancer. He was 51.

In 1961, Manna made a comedy recording about an astronaut who refused to blast off without a box of crayons to go along with his coloring book. The record was released two weeks before astronaut Alan B. Shepard's Mercury flight and it was a big hit with the astronauts.

As Shepard was about to enter his capsule for his flight, a doctor handed him a box of crayons. Shepard received another box of crayons from John Glenn at Grand Bahama Island after splashdown.

To Give Lecture

A lecture describing the Montessori method of early education will be given by Lois Kortum at Montessori de Terra Linda School in Terra Linda at 8 p.m. next Wednesday.

Death Row Inmate Is Stabbed

A 16-month resident of San Quentin's Death Row was stabbed yesterday afternoon, prison officials reported.

Chester Allen Johnson, 24, received four minor stab wounds around noon, but declined to say who had stabbed him.

Johnson, a twice-convicted murderer was treated at San Quentin Hospital and released to his cell. He was reported to be in good condition today.

Two sharpened toothbrush handles were found in nearby. There was no blood on them, however.

Johnson was sent to Death Row in July, 1970, having been convicted of two slayings in February, 1969: Loren Silliphant, son of Hollywood writer-producer Stirling Silliphant, and, a week later, dentist Glen Olsen in Oakland.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Some Snowmobile Owners Don't Realize The Machine Isn't A Toy

Mrs. J. V. writes: "Our son-in-law just bought a snowmobile. My husband and I are not too happy about this purchase because of the possibility of an accident. Do you have any suggestions as to how the machine could be used safely? It would be terrible to see him or one or our grandchildren with a fractured skull or broken back."

An adult old enough to be married and have children ought to be mature enough to make decisions relative to a snowmobile. More than two million snowmobiles have been sold in this country and in Canada. But the device is not a toy and so many injuries have been reported that snowmobiling must be considered on of the more dangerous winter sports. We hope this will change as operators become more careful. Safety guidelines have been suggested by Canada's National Research Council for owners and those who design and maintain trails.

THE NOISE from these machines can damage the eardrums. Furthermore, the racket prevents the driver from hearing an oncoming car and other snowmobiles. In addition, visibility may be poor if there is falling snow or glare from the sun. Exhaust fumes from the motor also contain carbon monoxide.

The back is vulnerable when the snowmobile hits a ridge or hole. By positioning the legs properly, the limbs act as shock absorbers and protect the back from a sudden jar. The bigger machines do not have automatic starters and the weekend sportster may end up with bursitis of the elbow or shoulder after tugging and pulling to get the motor started.

THE MOST common accidents associated with snowmobiling include hitting stumps, fences and trees or other vehicles. Snowmobiles offer little protection while streaking along at 60 or more miles an hour, especially if they strike an immovable object, tip over, sink in thin ice or hit a fence.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

INFECTED APPENDIX

Mrs. S. Q. writes: What is the cause of appendicitis?

REPLY

Infection (appendicitis) usually follows obstruction, which occurs when intestinal material is trapped in the appendix. The appendix is a long, blind narrow pouch that opens into the large intestine.

NOTHING TO IT

R. T. writes: What is your reaction to the story that there is a link between cancer and caffeine?

REPLY

Many persons with cancer of the bladder also are heavy coffee drinkers.

DAMPNESS AND RHEUMATISM

S. H. writes: Does living at the seashore cause rheumatism?

REPLY

No, but damp sea air may aggravate aches and pains.

PLATULENCE AND BACKACHE

F. L. writes: Could excessive intestinal gas cause back pain?

REPLY

Yes. Bowel distress usually is felt in front, but it can settle in the back and be manifested as a vague ache.

ASTHENIA MEANS WEAK

A reader writes: What does the word asthenia mean?

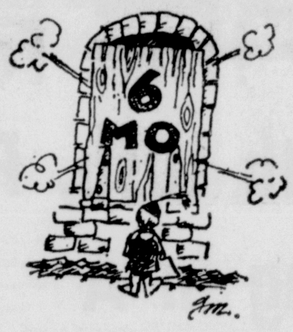
REPLY

Weakness, debility or lack of strength.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Probate Of Wills Precise



There is an orderly procedure for winding up a person's estate after death. The "probate" of the estate provides for the immediate family's needs, the payment of creditors, and ultimately the distribution of assets. Probate means "proof" of the will, of claims, and of the rights of heirs.

Procedures for the administration of an estate are precise and must be followed. Each step is supervised by the court.

In a recent case Mr. Armstrong was riding in a small plane piloted by Mr. Shepard. The plane crashed and both died. Armstrong was survived by a wife and two sons. Shepard was survived by his wife who was the administrator of his estate.

Through her attorney Mrs. Shepard asked the court to wind up the estate and distribute all of Shepard's assets to her. Her attorney filed a notice to creditors and published the notice in the local legal newspaper in August.

Seven months later, Armstrong's widow and two children filed a claim against Shepard's estate contending, that he negligently piloted the plane and was responsible for her husband's death. When the claim was denied the widow and minor children sued the estate.

The court ruled that the suit was not "timely." All creditors must file their claims against the estate within six months of publication of the notice to creditors. The Armstrong children tried to claim that they were not bound by the six months provision because they were minors. But case laws as well as the probate code make no exception for minors.

There are other time limitations:

1. Anyone contesting the admission of a will to probate must act quickly. If the original will is lost, a copy, a substitute or other document may be admitted. Unless these are timely challenged, the court may accept as evidence that which is presented in court.

2. If claims are rejected by the executor, a suit must be filed against the estate quickly or the right to suit will be barred.

3. Debts are paid in order of priority.

4. Distribution of the estate follows. (Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

Moose Lodge Apologizes To Black Librarian

LACEY, Wash. (UPI)—The local Moose lodge has publicly apologized to a black librarian who was barred from entering the lodge to receive a gift from the Ladies Auxiliary.

Mrs. John C. Finley, the city librarian, had been invited to Moose Lodge 1759 last week to receive a check for the purchase of books. But two days before the presentation, Mrs. Finley was told by a lodge member she would not be allowed inside because of her race.

The lodge, which bars black members, apologized after conferring with national Moose officials. The lodge said Mrs. Finley would be invited back next week to accept the donation.

Six Drivers Are Sentenced For Drinking

Six drivers have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sentenced Monday by Judge Robert A. Smallman were:

James Edward Daniel, 41, of Santa Rosa, arrested on Sept. 29 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and fined $302.

Erdle Wilson Whittingham, 41, of 821A Fort Barry, Sausalito, arrested on June 1 on Highway 101, placed on probation for one year and ordered to spend five days in jail on weekends.

Kenneth Ray Stephens, 49, of 701 Fourth Street, San Rafael, arrested Oct. 22 in San Rafael, placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Marion George Wamsley, 46, of San Francisco, arrested Oct. 30 in Larkspur, placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Special Water Meeting Set

The Petaluma Water Commission agreed yesterday to call a special meeting next month to resolve problems stemming from free water users.

Some ranchers east of the city have been receiving free water in 100-year-old agreements, but have complained that aged water lines no longer supply enough water for livestock.

Commission secretary Kay Hagan said the commission heard that three ranchers have dropped their requests for the city to replace the water lines and have agreed to do it themselves.

The commission said, however, that the special meeting should be held to see what the other ranchers want and to finally resolve the matter.

Jury To Visit Ohta's Mansion

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — The judge in the trial of John Linley Frazier plans to take the jury today to the hillside mansion near Santa Cruz where the former auto mechanic allegedly killed Dr. Victor Ohta and four others.

Superior Judge Charles Franich said the panel and trial participants would visit the scene today if the weather permits.

The jurors are also scheduled to visit a service station where Frazier purportedly was seen after the slayings and the cabin where he lived, located a mile from the Ohta home.

Marijuana Charge Dropped

Charges of possessing and cultivating marijuana against a Mill Valley woman were dismissed in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday.

Judge David Menary Jr. ruled that discovery of 10 marijuana plants at the residence of Barbara Joan Bertol had violated her "reasonable expectation of privacy."

The plants, two of them 12 feet high, were found during a routine building inspection of her residence.

Alioto Ignores His Counsel In Testimony Regarding Fee Share

VANCOUVER, Wash. (UPI) —Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco ignored his attorney's objections Wednesday and testified he did not tell the utilities suing him for $2.3 million that he intended to share the fee he got from them.

The testimony came during Alioto's first day on the stand in the civil lawsuit against him, the former attorney general of Washington state and a former assistant attorney general.

In the suit, the state of Washington and 12 publicly owned utilities seek a refund of a $2.3 million fee they paid Alioto for serving as their attorney in antitrust suits before he became mayor.

Despite objections by his own attorney and another defense attorney, Alioto testified he had not told the Washington utilities that he planned to share his attorney's fee.

He went on to describe the general practice of fee sharing among attorneys and stated, "it would be highly unusual for an attorney to tell his client about fee sharing arrangements."

Defense attorneys had tried in vain earlier in the trial, now in its eighth week, to enter similar testimony from other witnesses.

As Alioto launched into his answer, his own attorney, Paul Cressman, and Kenneth A. MacDonald, attorney for codefendant George K. Faler, rose to make objections about the question. Alioto kept right on, leading Judge Donald L. Gaines to comment, "I don't know if I'm going to get a chance to overrule it."

Rewording a question from William Helsell, attorney for the plaintiffs, Alioto said, "What he's really asking is why didn't I tell the utilities I was going to share fees. I'll tell you why.

"I didn't know I was going to share a dime with Mr. O'Connell because I didn't know if he was going to work... it is not the custom and tradition to seek out a client and say 'I am sharing fees with your lawyer.' I didn't do it in these cases and I don't do it in other cases."

O'Connell is John J. O'Connell, former attorney general of Washington State, and the third defendant in the suit.

The plaintiffs say they were not told about removal in 1965 of a $1 million ceiling on Alioto's fee or that he would share the fee with O'Connell and Faler, an assistant to O'Connell.

Alioto testified that Darrell Ries, attorney for Grant County Public Utility District and a member of a steering committee for the utilities, was informed about both the fee sharing and removal of the ceiling.

Alioto said the ceiling was removed "during a kind of euphoria" after a $3.25 million settlement with Westinghouse Electric Corp. in March, 1965. "They changed my obligations, which forced me to hire four new lawyers," Alioto said.

Before the Westinghouse settlement, Alioto said, some of the Washington plaintiffs— notably Seattle and Grant County—were reluctant to press their suits. He said John Nelson of Seattle City Light particularly "didn't want to sue his friends in G.E. and Westinghouse."

Of the removal of the fee ceiling, Alioto said, "It was discussed with Mr. Ries, who was a member of the steering committee—a committee representing everybody. When he knew about it he knew about it as a member of the committee."

He said Ries also was present sometime in 1965 when he told George Martin, a master for U.S. District Court Judge George Boldt, that he was sharing fees with Faler.

Firemen Benefits Are Topic

The Novato Fire District board last night set 7:30 p.m. Dec. 1 at the main fire station for review of the pay and fringe benefits asked by the Novato Firemen's Association.

The board received the request on Oct. 27, but did not discuss it then because of a lack of a quorum, said fire chief Jack Kidder.

Although four members were present last night, with Fernando Clementino absent, the board wanted more time to study the effects of the requested increases on the budget, Kidder said.

The board also asked Richard H. Breiner, attorney for the association, to study the cost of salary increases and fringe benefits such as a reduction in the work week and a dental plan prior to the Dec. 1 meeting, Kidder said.

The board authorized purchase of a new mannequin for resuscitation practice for $227, chemicals for weed abatement for $377, and new tires for a small truck at $96.

Bill To Control Traffic In Sausalito Is Shelved

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to allow Sausalito to close the southern approach to the city to all but residents on weekends has been thrown into legislative limbo for the current session.

The bill, SB 1355, by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, died yesterday when Behr withdrew his support after a visit from Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The measure had been approved 46-5 by the Assembly Monday but was blocked from return to the Senate for concurrence in amendments by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles.

A Behr aide said today Bagley discussed the bill with Behr and expressed doubt that opposition by Sieroty and others could be overcome, whereupon Behr decided to withdraw his support of the bill, in effect killing it.

Introduced at the request of the Sausalito City Council, the bill would have permitted any city of less than 10,000 to close any city street to all but residents if that street consistently showed a traffic count of more than 1,000 vehicles per hour over a 12-month period. The aide said Sausalito is the only city in the state with traffic counts which would permit it to close a street.

The city asked the law in order to close Alexander Avenue, the southerly approach to the city, on weekends and route the traffic into Sausalito from the north.

The Behr aide said the bill is dead for this legislative session but the senator will continue to be concerned with Sausalito's traffic problems and will do everything he can under existing laws to help the city alleviate congestion.

Historic Connection To Horse Racing

CHICAGO (UPI) — The fairer sex can claim an historic connection with horse racing, but the attachment is not exactly complimentary.

The earliest full-length account of a chariot race, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, reported that first prize included "a woman skilled in women's work."

$14.62 Million Collected So Far By UBAC

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The chairman of the United Bay Area Crusade campaign says that $14.62 million has been raised by volunteer workers so far this year.

Lawrence E. Hoyt told a dinner for volunteer workers Wednesday night that the five-county appeal would continue until Dec. 15.

"A number of major employe drives still are under way, and many volunteers have indicated that they wish to continue working on campaign assignments," Hoyt said.

The campaign has been under way in Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo Counties.

Peacock Gap Owners Elect

Lawrence T. Simmelink of 3 San Marino Drive, has been elected president of the Peacock Gap Homeowners Association, succeeding Edward W. Snygg.

Other officers elected at the Wednesday meeting are: Vice president, Richard C. Rhoads; secretary, Mary Carpou, and treasurer, Charles W. Dechent.

The board announced having an area wide Christmas lighting contest. Homes will be judged on Dec. 20.

Use The Rod

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) — Malayan parents feel the cane is better than psychology in bringing up children, according to a survey by the Malay Mail newspaper.

Rail Center Doomed

TORONTO (UPI) — Toronto's 50-year-old Union Station, the city's main rail terminal, is doomed, despite the efforts of historical conservation groups. Officials say the station will be torn down to make way for a city center.

Jr. White House

Unbelieveably exciting if you prefer the dignified charm of the old world, custom fixtures, wool carpeting, warm paneling, stately trees and the like. The grand music room is acoustically perfect. The formal living and dining room as well as the library have fireplaces. A paneled office, country kitchen and butler's pantry complete the main floor. Five bedrooms, 2 with fireplaces, and a children's recreation room complete the 2nd floor. Servants quarters (or additional bedrooms if you prefer) are on the 3rd level. 5½ baths. Additionally there is a separate house for guests, a real orchid growing hot house, an aviary and a delightful outdoor kitchen and BBQ area complete with outdoor fireplace for entertaining any time of the year. You will agree that this estate is underpriced at $195,000. For viewing call CAL REALTY, 771-4900; evenings & weekends, 456-3398.

American Motors Buyer Protection Plan

If anything goes wrong with one of our '72's and it's our fault, we'll fix it FREE

yes! . . . Anything!

A STRONG GUARANTEE IN PLAIN ENGLISH

HERE IT IS!

When you buy a new 1972 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material of workmanship.

This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.

All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada and that guaranteed repairs or replacements be made by an American Motors dealer.

see Bianco's Marin American — who will do more for you after you buy a car than any other dealer in town.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE
No. 179350

Superior Court of the State of California City and County of San Francisco

Estate of ADOLPH A. TISCORNIA, also known as A. A. TISCORNIA, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on or after the 26th day of November, 1971, the undersigned ALICE B. COPELAND, as executrix of the Will of Adolph A. Tiscornia, also known as A. A. Tiscornia, deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest net bidder, subject to confirmation by the above-entitled Court, all the right, title and interest the estate has, consisting of a remainder interest only, by operation of law or otherwise, acquired other than or in addition to that of the decedent at the time of his death, in and to that certain real property situated in the City of Larkspur, County of Marin, State of California, described as:

Beginning at a point on the southerly line of King Street distant thereon 100 feet easterly from the point of intersection of the southerly line of King Street and the easterly line of Magnolia Avenue; running thence easterly along the said southerly line of King Street 50 feet to the northwest corner of the parcel of land described in the deed from Giovanni Gianelli to The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, recorded May 19, 1955, in Book 942 of Official Records at page 597, Marin County Records; thence at a right angle southerly along the westerly boundary line of said parcel of land 100 feet; thence at a right angle westerly 50 feet along the southerly line of the parcel of land described in the deed from Walter G. Sellmer to A. B. Copeland, recorded June 13, 1935, in Book 298 of Official Records at page 426, Marin County Records; thence at a right angle northerly along the westerly line of said Copeland parcel (298-426) 100 feet to the southerly line of King Street and the point of beginning.

SUBJECT TO:

Current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, rights, rights of way and easements of record.

Bid or offers for the property are invited, must be in writing, and may be delivered to the executrix at the office of her attorney, ALBERT G. EVANS, 111 Sutter Street, San Francisco, California 94104, or may be filed at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of the instant notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: The executrix will entertain bids involving delayed payments, or cash, or grant an option subject to zoning, provided a deposit is made, and cash shall be paid upon exercise of the option. The maximum option granted shall not exceed 180 days.

Taxes to be prorated as of date of recordation. All costs of title search, escrow, recordation and title insurance to be borne by the purchaser.

The property is unimproved.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to accept a term sale in preference to cash sale if in the best interests of the estate.

Bay Agency Bill Wins In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly yesterday narrowly passed a bill to create a conservation and development agency encompassing eight San Francisco Bay Area counties.

A conference committee report on the bill by Assemblyman John T. Know, D-Richmond, was approved 41-11, the bare majority needed. There was no debate. The report now goes to the Senate.

Knox said the conference committee, composed of members of the Senate and Assembly, amended the bill so that the agency would be subject to voter approval in 1976, three years after it was scheduled to begin operations.

As approved by the Senate, the bill would have required voter approval of the agency before it could go into effect.

The measure would include San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Alameda, Contra Costa, Solano, Napa and Marin counties within the agency. Excluded was Sonoma County.

The agency would be governed by 77 trustees, half of them locally elected officials and the remainder elected from special districts.

It would draft plans for development of transportation, open space, environmental quality control and parks on an eight-county basis.

The agency would also have the power to veto actions by local governments or private developers considered not in the best interest of the area.

Opponents of the bill were sharply critical of that provision and argued that the agency would become a "supergovernment."

CLAUSEN, MAILLIARD

Opposite Views On School Prayers

By BENJAMIN SHORE
(I-J Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — While agreeing that church and state should be separate, Marin County's two Republican congressmen have taken opposite views on the proposed constitutional amendment which would have allowed prayers in public schools.

The amendment was rejected Monday when proponents could muster only 240 votes, 28 short of the two-thirds required for passage of a Constitutional amendment.

The amendment would have permitted "voluntary prayer and meditation", and it was intended to overturn the 1962 and 1963 Supreme Court decisions against prayers in public schools.

Rep. William S. Mailliard of the Sixth District opposed the amendment, and Rep. Don H. Clausen of the First District supported it.

Among California's congressional delegation, all 20 Democrats and three Republicans opposed the amendment, while 12 Republicans favored it. Three other Republicans were absent.

Mailliard said he voted against the measure because, by saying it would permit "voluntary" prayer, the amendment "would mean exactly what the Constitution says now."

"I see no reason to clutter up the Constitution with an amendment that adds nothing," he said.

Clausen said he supported it because "the Supreme Court's decisions have been grossly misinterpreted, and this would have simply reaffirmed that volunteer prayers are permitted in public buildings."

"This amendment would have served as a guideline," he said.

Under the Supreme Court rulings, a student cannot be prohibited from saying a prayer, but schools may not dictate the form or content of prayer, nor may they set aside a specific time or place for prayer.

California has had a state constitutional provision barring prayers in public schools since 1879. Had the proposed prayer amendment to the U.S. Constitution been passed by the House and Senate and ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, it would have wiped out the California provision.

Theft Suspect Bound Over

Barry Royal Heir, 18, of San Rafael, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglary and is to be arraigned Monday in Superior Court.

Heir was arrested Oct. 24 at First and E Streets, San Rafael, when police found coins and postage stamps in his pocket which were allegedly taken in a burglary moments before at Steven's Travel Service, 1601 Second Street.

BCDC Will Hear Two Marin Pleas

Two Marin County permit applications will be before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission when it meets at 2 p.m. on Nov. 18 in Room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

Charles Dahle seeks permission to build a two-story residence and deck covering 3,200 square feet of an 8,000-square foot lot at 75 West Shore Road, Belvedere. The lot is almost all under the water of Richardson Bay and the house would be on pilings.

Sanford N. Diller seeks permission to develop a 15-acre parcel abutting the Shelter Cove Apartments in Mill Valley, about half of which is under Richardson Bay waters. He proposes to build two apartment housey on the parcel.

SAFE WAY TO LEAVE DRIVEWAY

I-J Special Report

WICHITA, Kan. — Unless her children were in plain sight, Mrs. Barbro Torbey always worried when backing her car out of the garage. She feared one of her three might be playing in the driveway.

So she bought a convex mirror, fashioned a bracket to mount it on the upper rear corner of her car — and is applying for a patent. She simply looks into the standard rear-view mirror and can see what is reflected by the outside mirror a yard back of her car.

Mrs.Torbey says 39 young Kansans have been backed over, some fatally, in the last five years. And she says there's no count on the number of bikes, wagons and other toys that were smashed.

As her husband says, "Necessity is the mother of invention, but our mother is an inventor."

Developer Runs Into Opposition

The Sausalito Planning Commission has reaffirmed its opposition to a request by the developer of the 431-unit Whiskey Springs apartments for a 12-month extension of a conditional use permit.

Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt said the commission unanimously denied the extension Tuesday after taking a second look at current plans for the development to see if they differ from plans originally approved by the city in February 1970.

The commission had already recommended denial of the extension at its regular meeting Nov. 3 but called Tuesday's adjourned session to review the plans once more. Borgwardt said the planners found significant changes between the original plans and the new ones.

The Developer, Joseph Duffell Financial and Construction Co., was given a six-month permit extension in March by the city council. That extension expired in September.

If the city council accepts the recommendation and turns down the use permit, Borgwardt said, the developer will have to submit new plans for the apartments, proposed for the old American Distillery Co. site in northern Sausalito.

The council is slated to consider the matter Tuesday.

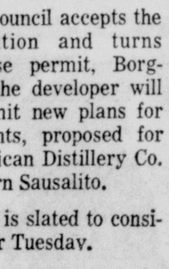
Film On Christmas May Be Reserved

The film, "Christmas Through the Ages," may be reserved starting Nov. 27 at the Novato Branch of the Marin County Library.

The 14-minute film traces the symbols of Christmas to their many sources and reflects the world-wide participation in the holiday.

CALLING ALL
CAMERA FANS
By Ken Reichard

TAKING A LONG LOOK



If you have graduated to a better camera that enables you to use interchangeable lenses for special picture-taking situations, this season's sport scene provides a reminder that the "long look" is the best way to capture the action.

Sitting way up in the stands with an average length lens for your camera is something like watching the action far up field from the end zone. A long lens become a must.

For general use, a lens in the 300mm range is the most popular, with an aperture in the f/4 to f/5.6 range. This lens may look clumsy to you if you've never tried one, but it is small enough and light enough to carry around easily. And it is easy to hand hold when you want to follow the action quickly as you shoot.

Moving into the field of long and wide angle lenses opens up a whole new world of photography. Are you ready for it? If you are, you can step into that world in our store, where you'll find fine quality lenses and accessories for your camera and every picture-taking need. Come in!.

SEASON FINALE

Marin Tests Santa Rosa

All the elements of a bullfight — and perhaps even the excitement — will be involved as the College of Marin Tars end their season against the highly-touted Santa Rosa Bearcubs tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Santa Rosa.

The only difference is that this time the bull is expected to win. Santa Rosa is the bull — big, strong and powerful. Marin is the matador — relying on quickness and sleight-of-hand in an effort to win.

If Santa Rosa wins, it will claim the Camino Norte Conference championship. Its 5-1 record will equal the winner of the West Valley-De Anza game, but the Bearcubs have already beaten both rivals, so they would advance to the junior college playoffs.

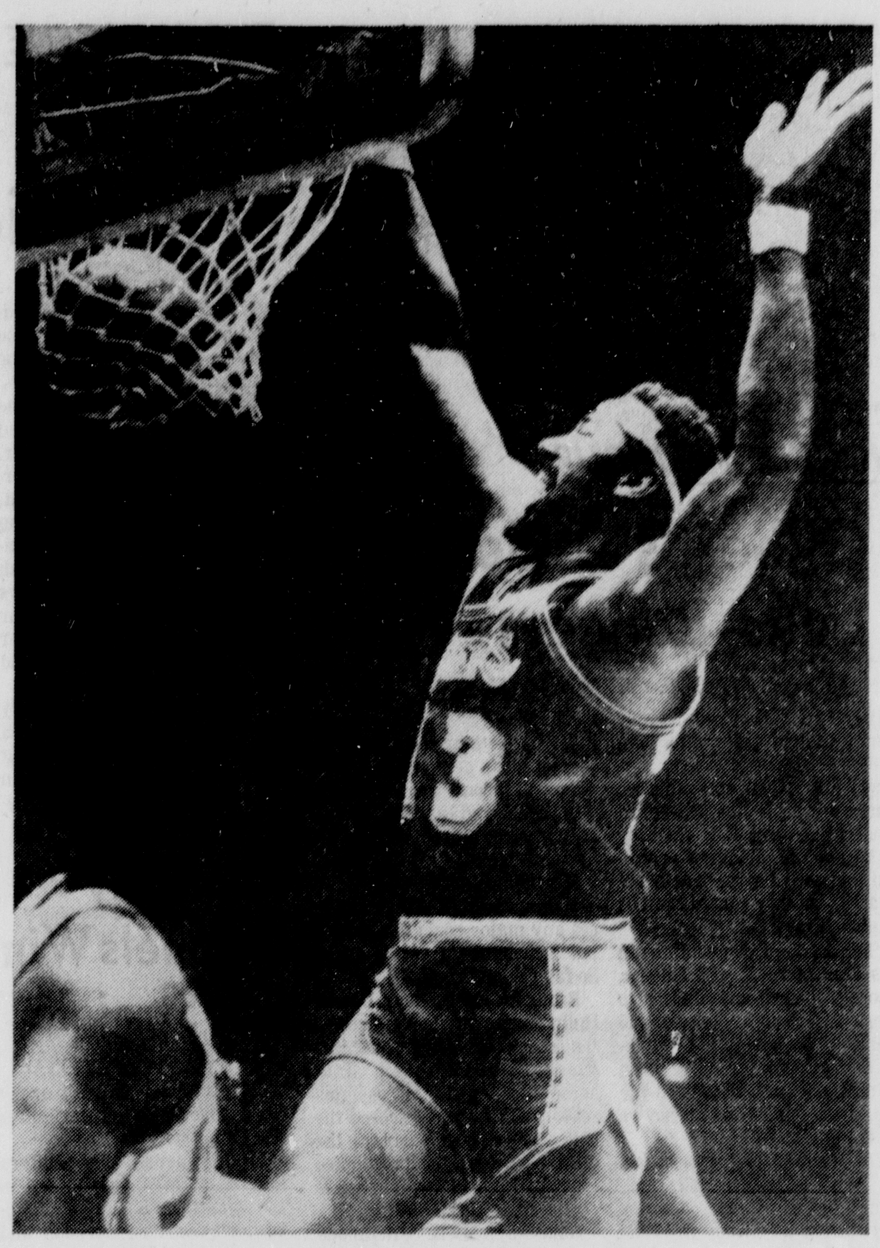
That is, they'll advance unless injury-plagued Marin plunges the knife into the bull. Kevin Peak has taken over at quarterback for the Tars, and will fashion his offense around split end Bob Larson. "We need to throw because they're bigger," said Marin coach Dick Read.

The Marin defense, which has given up only 58 points in conference play, will have its hands full with a bullish Santa Rosa offense averaging 39 points a game. Quarterback Tom Kirkpatrick and fullback Joe Stender lead the charge, and both were all-conference last year. Stender runs the hundred in 9.8, and leads the league in scoring and rushing. The team's No. 2 back, Larry Steele, is also the conference's No. 2 back.

Linebacker Chris Fenton spearheads the battle-weary Tar defense. Mike Ditto has replaced Tony Cassin at cornerback, while Frank Pomilia has moved in at middle guard and Ross Godnak at defensive tackle.

Another replacement finds Blair Bavuso in for Rich English on offense. Marin will field a completely sophomore team with the exception of Mike Corder and Mike Locati.

"We've played some pretty good football (despite eight straight losses), but they (Santa Rosa) have a good team, let's face it," said Read.



POURING IT ON — Big Wilt Chamberlain smiled broadly and dunked the ball while a helpless Philadelphia 76er looked on in Philadelphia. The scene was typical of last night's action as Chamberlain's Los Angeles Lakers demolished the 76ers, 143-103. (UPI Telephoto)

Marin Prep Soccer In Showdown Stage

By LEW CODDINGTON

It's been a long climb, but Drake High School's soccer team is finally alone at the top.

With one day of games left in the Marin County Athletic League regular season schedule, the Pirates have pushed ahead of defending champion San Rafael for the first time all year. They have 22 points on a 10-1-2 (win-loss-tie) record, while San Rafael is 9-1-3 for 21 points.

The season ends tomorrow afternoon — maybe. A full slate of games finds Drake at Marin Catholic, Novato at San Rafael, Redwood at San Marin and Tamalpais at Terra Linda.

Under normal circumstances, a Drake victory would clinch the championship, but the situation is complicated by a protest which was filed after Drake's 0-0 tie with San Rafael Oct. 1.

In the second quarter of that game, a San Rafael player was thrown out for using obscene language. The official, Henry Landauer, refused to allow San Rafael to substitute another player, and the Bulldogs played on with just 10 men.

Landauer, a premier official, is the only American ever to referee a World Cup match. He applied the international rule in this situation instead of the newly-adopted MCAL rule, which would have permitted a substitute.

"If this game affects the league standings, it will be replayed Monday at 3:30 p.m. at San Rafael," said George Corson, league commissioner. If San Rafael loses tomorrow and Drake wins, the game will not be played. Any other outcome would leave the Bulldogs two points or less behind, and the game will be held.

"The season is a long one, and it's beginning to tell on the kids," said San Rafael coach Bill Monti. The Bulldogs were a point ahead at this time last week, but since were held to ties by Terra Linda, 0-0, and Tamalpais, 1-1. Meanwhile, Drake won twice.

Drake gave San Rafael its only defeat, 2-1 earlier this year. The Pirates play an aggressive, attacking style which has resulted in some high-scoring triumphs.

"We're much more offensive this year," said coach Imants Abers. "We've got mostly a senior team and they've been working together for a while. A lot of teams have been playing us defensively, dropping back men toward their goal, trying to shut us off."

Abers' high-scoring set of forwards includes speedy Rolf Bell, Richard Larson and Doug Harnsberger. Bradley Herbert is a standout halfback, while the defense is anchored by fullback Randy Johnson and goalie Eric Hein.

"We have a balanced, controlled style of play," said San Rafael's Monti. "We use our halfbacks on both offense and defense." The Bulldogs try to control the ball through passing, but they certainly aren't conservative and they score liberally.

Inside forward Adalpho Flores has scored 15 goals this year, a healthy total for 13 games. Misak Pirinjian is an exceptional halfback and Dave Mason and Dave Hardin are outstanding fullbacks.

The Drake-San Rafael duel provides interesting fodder for those who like to argue about whether or not American soccer players are catching up with foreign players. San Rafael starts four players of foreign origin, while Drake has none.

Shibata Retains Title

Referee Yung Soo Chung of South Korea scored it 72-69 for Shibata, judge Nobumitsu Inukai called it a draw 71-71 while judge Ryoji Kashiwagi had it 71-65 for Marcel. The UPI scored it 69-68 for the Panamanian fighter.

It was an important draw for Shibata because had he lost he would have suffered the loss of the $100,000 indemnification which he paid to Mexican promoter Enrique Cesna in August to be released from a contract. The WBC had threatened to strip Shibata of his title if he refused to pay the $100,000 to Cesna.

Shibata's alternative was to defend his title against the Mexican Clemente Sanchez in Monterrey, Mexico in a match lined up by Cesna. Shibata preferred to pay the $100,000 rather than to defend his title in Mexico.

Marcel made good use of reach advantage, and caused the champion lots of trouble. Shibata tried repeatedly to bore in in an attempt to score with his powerful left and right hands. Marcel, however, danced away and in turn came in fast to score with a fast right hand attack to the head and body.

Rod Sherman Comes Off Injury List

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Oakland Raiders get back wide receiver Rod Sherman against the Houston Oilers Sunday but may miss the services of Marv Hubbard, Horace Jones and Gus Otto.

Despite a tender ankle and sore shoulder, Hubbard, the pile-driving fullback, said "I'll be ready."

Otto, a linebacker, has a busted rib and may sit this one out. Jones, a rookie defensive end, has a sore foot. All three players are "questionable" for the Oilers.

Raiders coach John Madden says the Oilers under former San Francisco 49er assistant Ed Hughes have "changed everything."

"Not only is the system new, the entire offensive line is new," said Madden.

Warriors To Battle Knicks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Golden State hopes Willis Reed's left knee remains tender at least one more night.

The Warriors open a fourgame road swing tonight by battling the stumbling New York Knicks at Madison Square Garden.

When they played three weeks ago, Reed, the Knicks slick center, played 45 minutes and New York turned back the Warriors 93-84. Since then, Reed has had trouble with tendonitis in the knee and has been ordered to play no more than 24 minutes in the next few games to see if that improves the condition.

The Knicks have been struggling with a 6-8 record in the NBA's Atlantic Division while the Warriors are doggedly clawing at leader Los Angeles in the Pacific Division with a 10-4 mark, one game off the 11-3 pace set by the Lakers.

Jerry Lucas, a former Warrior, has been playing in place of Reed for the Knicks. He has been averaging 12.5 points a game. Cazzie Russell, the guy the Warriors received from New York in the trade for Lucas, is averaging nearly 25 points a game.

"You know Cazzie is going to score even when he starts off cold sometimes," said Warrior coach Al Attles. Russell was one for 13 from the floor in the first half against Seattle last week but seven for 12 in the second half.

He went one for nine in the first half against Houston Tuesday night but swished 10 for 19 in the next two periods as Golden State won going away.

The Knick players who ruined the Warriors in their last meeting were forwards Bill Bradley and Dave DeBusschere. Attles says he'll pay closer attention to them tonight.

Alex Johnson Gets Four Hits

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Alex Johnson, in his first baseball game since he was suspended by the California Angels early last summer, banged out four hits in five at bats Wednesday night to lead the Caguas Criollos to a 10-3 win over the Santurce Crabbers in the Puerto Rican Winter League.

Johnson, who was given permission to play by his new owners, the Cleveland Indians, hit a double and three singles to drive in two runs and score three others.

Johnson, American League batting champion in 1970, played here last during the 1964-65 season.

NBA ROUNDUP

Lakers Wallop 76ers By 40

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

You've got to take notice of Los Angeles when the Lakers hand one of the better teams in the National Basketball Association a near-record pasting.

The Lakers creamed Philadelphia, 143-103 Wednesday night for the club's second worst defeat in its history. Gail Goodrich again showed the way with a game-high 34 points that dropped the 76ers two games back of Boston in the Atlantic Division.

Boston routed Houston, 142-103, Cincinnati stopped New York, 99-85, Milwaukee beat Atlanta, 116-110, Detroit smothered Portland, 139-122, and Chicago nailed Baltimore, 125-106.

Philadelphia, suffering its worst loss since the 43-point setback by San Francisco in 1961, was out of the game almost from the opening tap-off. The Lakers rolled up a 39-20 first quarter margin and were in front, 72-45 at halftime. Happy Hairston netted 21 points and Jerry West added 20. The Lakers received strong bench support from Flynn Robinson's 18 points. Hal Greer and Dave Wohl shared Philadelphia scoring honors with 16 points each.

Dave Cowens scored 29 points and John Havlicek tallied 28 in three periods as Boston handed Houston its 13th loss in 15 games. A merciful coach Tom Heinsohn benched his one-two scoring punch in the fourth quarter after the Celtics wrapped up the game with a 43-point third period.

Elvin Hayes led the Rockets with 30 points.

Willis Reed played 12 minutes for New York, his first game since Oct. 28, but the Knick center's presence failed to generate any spark in the lifeless defending Atlantic Division champions who now have lost eight of 14 games. Cincinnati allowed New York a 42-all intermission deadlock and then spun away with a 29-19 third quarter. Nate Archibald scored 22 points for the Royals. New York's starting guards, Walt Frazier and Dick Barnett each had 15 points.

Milwaukee, preparing for another runaway season, raised its record to 12-1 as Kareem Jabbar netted 33 points. Atlanta, led by Lou Hudson's 39 points, held a five-point lead with nine minutes remaining, but couldn't maintain the pace as it lost its fifth straight game.

Detroit made Earl Lloyd's coaching debut a winning one by beating Portland. The Piston's victory came after the Blazers took a 33-31 first quarter lead. Jimmy Walker sparked the Detroit comeback as he scored 31 points. Rookie Sidney Wicks matched that total for Portland.

Baltimore fell a game back of Central Division-leading Cincinnati in the lopsided loss to Chicago. Jerry Sloan paced the winning Bulls with a season high 35 points, including 14 in the second period when Chicago broke open the game. Archie Clark led Baltimore with 23 points.

Drivers May Boycott Over Safety Issue

GLASGOW, Scotland (UPI)— World driving champion Jackie Stewart of Scotland said Thursday some Grand Prix drivers will boycott world championship events next year unless there is an improvement in trackside safety standards.

Speaking on the eve of the Scottish Motor Show, Stewart, vice president of the Grand Prix Drivers' Association, said: "There are 15 world championship events listed for next year. I cannot see them all taking place."

The two-time world champion, who won the 1971 title in a Matra-Ford, continued: "I hope some of the tracks are taking notice. We are losing too many top drivers. Some race tracks will have to put themselves in order, or temporarily bow out.

"If this is the case, it will be my loss and everyone else's loss, but motor sport will benefit."

Stewart maintained that if safety precautions are not taken, drivers and spectators could be involved in serious accidents.

This year's Belgian GP was called off because the drivers considered the Francorchamps Course too dangerous.

They agreed to drive in the Mexican event only after receiving guarantees of better crowd control from the Mexico City organizers. The event was cancelled, however, following the death of Pedro Rodriguez on a German track in a non-championship sports car race.

Ironically, the vacant date was taken up by Brands Hatch, England for a "victory race" to honor Stewart, but it ended on a sad note with the death of Switzerland's Jo Siffert.

Walt Alston Signs For 19th Season

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—For the 19th season, Walter Alston will manage the Los Angeles Dodgers next year, making quiet news in his unflappable fashion.

The Dodgers made it official Wednesday when they announced that he has been "rewarded with his 19th one-year contract."

Dodger president Walter O'Malley, a lawyer among other accomplishments, wouldn't give his own grandmother a contract of more than one year's duration.

Alston, who will be 60 Dec. 1, got the Dodger job in the first place because he was willing to sign for just one year and he's never complained since. Charlie Dressen who had the job wanted a long-term contract and when O'Malley wouldn't give him one, they parted.

That was in 1954 when the Dodgers were in Brooklyn and Alston was an unknown minor league manager who had one time at bat as a player in the majors.

Alston won his first pennant and World Series with the Dodgers in 1955. After the Dodgers moved West in 1958, he captured the pennant and the World Series again the next year.

He thus became the only man to manage a club on both coasts and win pennants and World Series with it.

During his 18 years as Dodger manager, Alston has won six pennants, four World Series, has finished second five times, third once, fourth twice, and has had only four clubs under the .500 mark at the season's end.

In 1970, he matched the tenure of the late Wilbert "Uncle Robbie" Robinson, who had 18 years from 1914 through 1931.

History shows only three managers with more longevity —John McGraw of the old New York Giants with 31 years (1902-1932); Connie Mack of the old Philadelphia Athletics with 50 years (1901-1950), and Cap Anson of the Chicago Cubs with 19 years (1879-1897).

The Dodgers did not disclose Alston's salary. Some years ago he went over $50,000 and it seems certain he now is approaching the $100,000 milestone.

Moroski Grabs Passing Lead

Marty Moroski of Novato has taken over the passing lead, Marty Larson of San Marin has grabbed the receiving lead, and San Rafael has tied Terra Linda in total defense according to Marin County Athletic League statistics.

Moroski clicked on 13 of 19 passes for 170 yards last Friday to move past Terra Linda's Kevin Donohoe in ratings based on yardage. He has 866 yards to Donohoe's 828. Each has played five league games. Donohoe's statistics against San Francisco St. Ignatius last Saturday night do not count, since it was a non-league game.

Although he has thrown much less, Moroski has nearly as many completions as Donohoe and a much higher completion percentage, 58.0 to 41.3.

Larson grabbed three passes against Tamalpais to give him 18 receptions and a one-catch lead over John Buckley of Terra Linda. Each has played five league games. Larson also leads in yardage, 347-304.

In a statistical rarity, San Rafael and Terra Linda are now locked in an exact tie in total defense, each having given up 818 yards in five games for a 164-yard average.

San Rafael's Scott Duncan continues to hold the rushing lead, although Novato's Leo Magers gained on him for the third straight week. But Magers is still 92 yards back with only one game remaining.

Mike Connor of Redwood still clings to the scoring lead with 62 points, ahead of Duncan by the margin of one conversion run.

San Rafael still leads in rushing offense with 274 a game and in total offense with 336. Terra Linda leads the passing. Novato has the top rushing defense, 58 yards a game, and Terra Linda has restricted passers to 46 yards an outing.

East-West Basketball Classic At Terra Linda

Terra Linda High will again be the site of the second annual East-West All-Star basketball classic to be played in early February, game officials announced yesterday.

The contest will pit the top players in the Army who attended college in the East against those from the West.

In the first East-West classic which featured eight players who had received first or second team All-American recognition, Darnell Hillman (Warriors first pick who eventually signed with Indiana) paced the West to victory.

Army coach Hal Fischer, who has guided American teams in both the Olympic Games and Pan-American Games, cited the large and enthusiastic turnout (1150) for the first game as a determining factor in again awarding the contest to the Marin school.

Athletic director Don Lucas was extremely pleased when notified yesterday that Terra Linda High would again host the game. "We feel very honored to host this event for the second straight year," commented Lucas. "The last East-West game was undoubtedly one of the top sports attractions in Marin county history."

Soccer Set Sunday

There will be three games between the Ross School soccer teams and Holy Name School of San Francisco Sunday at Ross Common, beginning with the third and fourth graders at noon.

PREP NOTEBOOK

Aide's Ode: A Football Episode

By RON LENT

He's but a boy
With a mind to ploy

Grid plays to win
Titles for San Marin.

Clay Muster is the name,
Football is his game.

He yells loud, long, hard.
'Block like a pulling guard.'

'Stick 'em defense, that's the way,
Our team is tops, here to stay.'

With these sounds heard 'bove the roar,
San Rafael ups the score —

20, 30, 42 and then
'Get another, do it again!'

Come the gun, he walketh down
To pass his smile all around.

Each Bulldog receives this prize
From the pride of the coach's eyes.

For this lad is the mentor's son,
And his grid years have just begun.

FUNNY GIRL might be an apt description of the young San Rafael High School miss who dressed in a clown costume for her football team's homecoming. Possibly infested with pre game jitters and a call from mother nature, the pretty lass scurried to the restroom shortly before kickoff. Unfortunately, she walked right into the boy's facility, which caused her pretty pink cheeks to turn livid.

The little lady sped out and into the safe confines of the proper place of temporary relaxation.

IT'S OLD HAT to some, but not to San Marin High School flankerback Marty Larsen. The swift pass catcher shocked the football gathering Saturday at Novato High when he came out for the pre-game coin flip wearing — a leather football helmet.

While the fans and players peered through unbelieving eyes, Larsen calmly went through the coinage ritual. He subsequently returned the battered headgear to its owner, San Marin assistant coach Carrol Dillon.

The hat, tattered and battered, drew the following sideliner response: "if it's good enough for the coach . . ."

GREG BIBER HAD A FIT Saturday, so why change a good thing? The standout Tamalpais end methodically tapes up his worn out football shoes for each game, probably because he has grown very attached to them.

"I'll bet he has nursed them all the way since his freshman year (in 1968)," his coach, Mike Davlin, commented Saturday. "I'll bet it costs us more to tape up his shoes every week than to buy him a new pair."

"Just what is venison?"

HOCKEY ROUNDUP

Gilbert's 2 Goals Lead Rangers, 7-1

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Both Rod Gilbert and his New York Ranger teammates are finding themselves caught in a happy rut. 9 Gilbert came up with two goals for the third consecutive game Wednesday night and the Rangers continued unbeaten for the 12th game in a row as they routed the Los Angeles Kings, 7-1.

"I just hope I can continue in this kind of rut," said Gilbert, who also picked up an assist to boost his point total for 15 games to 27, tops in the National Hockey League. "I've been getting a lot of chances in the last few games and they've been going in."

The team's rut is of a different nature. Despite their nonlosing streak of nine victories and three ties, they've been unable to gain any ground on Montreal in their battle for first place in the East Division. The Canadiens have won nine of their last 10 games, including a 5-2 decision over the Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday night, to remain two points behind New York.

However, Ranger Coach Emile Francis says he isn't frustrated about his team's inability to break away despite its fine streak.

"Why should I be upset? I've been waiting all my life to win," he joked, then added, "I'm not worried about anyone as long as they're behind us. They still have to catch us."

The Chicago Black Hawks, meantime, took over undisputed possession of first place in the West by beating the Boston Bruins, 3-1, while the Minnesota North Stars were dropping a 2-1 decision to the Detroit Red Wings. In the only other game, the Pittsburgh Penguins beat the Vancouver Canucks, 3-1.

Frank Mahovlich scored his 15th goal in 14 games for Montreal and Henri Richard gained the 900th point of his career by assisting on a goal by Phil Roberto in the game played at Toronto. Richard took his milestone point in stride, explaining, "It's nothing today with all these guys getting over 100 points a season," but Mahovlich was overjoyed as he entered the dressing room yelling, "I like it, I like it."

Mahovlich, who also had an assist, added: "I didn't really set any major goals this season but I thought I'd get 30 goals. So far I'm on target."

Brothers Bobby and Dennis Hull scored power play goals in the second period to lift the Black Hawks to their sixth home win without a loss this season. Mike Walton scored the only Boston goal early in the third period as the third-place Bruins dropped seven points behind New York.

Redwood Girls Win Net Title

Redwood clinched the championship in Marin County Athletic League girls' tennis Tuesday by defeating Marin Catholic.

Final standings:

Redwood 8-0, San Rafael 7-1, Marin Catholic 6-2, Terra Linda 5-3, Drake 4-4, Tamalpais 2-6, San Domenico 2-6, Novato 2-6, San Marin 0-8.

THE SKI SCENE

Alpine Meadows Sound Financially; Good Resort

By CHARLIE COANE

Over the years, Alpine Meadows has always been a fine place to ski — especially for the family.

And, over the years, Alpine Meadows financially has ended up in the red. But not last year. The area's new president, former C.P.A. Ray Johnson, turned the tables by holding down costs and increasing business. As a result of the cash flow reversal, Alpine Meadows had an excellent year — by far its all-time best. So this year the resort is starting on solid financial ground.

JOHNSON HAS not exactly gone wild revamping the area with the new found riches, but this is a lean year for mountain improvements at all the resorts. Alpine has done more than most.

Out went the old "baby poma" lift and in its place went a new beginner chair lift — 2½ times longer or about 1400 feet. The lift, located in the same area as the old poma, is adjustable for loading and unloading in the snow. This makes it very easy for beginners to learn how to use a chair lift and should ease the crowd on the Weasel Pass lift. It also gives beginners much more area to ski.

The advanced Alpine Bowl chair lift has had the loading area rearranged and the ramp can also be adjusted for snow loading.

BEAVER BOWL, a relatively unskied area high to the right above the top of the big poma lift, will now be patrolled by the Ski Patrol. It can be reached by advanced skiers off a high traverse from the Wolverine Bowl.

Alpine is also very big on mid-week skiing and offers a $100 season pass good Monday through Friday, except between Christmas and New Year's and Easter week. Daily adult rate remains at $8.00 with kids under 13 — $5.00. There is no longer a surface lift (poma) ticket.

The skiing terrain, which begins at 6,900 feet and rises to 8,500 feet, is about half intermediate, one third beginner and the rest expert.

THE SKI SCHOOL of 60 instructors would rather switch than fight and has adopted the GLM (Graduated Length Method) of teaching. Werner Schuster commands the "shortie" ski teachers, and Bernie Kingrey is now in charge of mountain safety and avalanche control.

The well-organized NASTAR (National Standard Race) program for recreational skiers had more participants than any other area in the West and ranked number two nationally. Alpine will be full steam ahead again this season and plans the races every Sunday.

Kentucky Colonels Win 6th Straight

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Kentucky Colonels aren't about to let the Virginia Squires get away this season.

Last season, the Squires surged off to an early lead in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division and actually coasted the last half of the season with the Colonels in futile pursuit. It's different story this season.

The Colonels scored their sixth straight victory and 10th in 14 games Wednesday night with a 115-89 rout of the Dallas Chaparrals. Dan Issel led the Kentucky scoring with 26 points while Artis Gilmore and Darel Carrier added 20 each.

Joe Hamilton had 25 to lead Dallas.

The triumph left Kentucky tied for the Eastern lead with Virginia, which edged the Floridians 119-116 Wednesday night. In other action, the Indiana Pacers trounced the Pittsburgh Condors 154-125 and the Utah Stars trimmed the New York Nets 127-110.

New Faces In Pro Grid Statistics

NEW YORK (UPI) —There's a familiar note to the American Football Conference individual statistics this week.

All the leaders from last week, including Bob Griese of Miami, Billy Parks of San Diego and Larry Csonka of Miami in the passing, receiving and rushing categories, retained their No. 1 positions.

But there were some new faces on top of the NFC standings. Roger Staubach of Dallas, handed the No. 1 job by coach Tom Landry, took over the top position in the NFC passing statistics. He replaced Billy Kilmer, the Washington quarterback who was booed by the fickle Redskin fans last week for his inability to move the Skins against Philadelphia. Kilmer dropped to sixth in the standings.

Mill Valley Group To Give 49er Ducats

Two free tickets to the San Francisco 49er-New Orleans Saints football game Sunday will be given away at the meeting of the Mill Valley Junior 49er Minor Club at 7 o'clock tonight at the community recreation center.

Club members also will view a football movie. The club is sponsored by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department.

MARIN-SONOMA GOLF

Two Holes-In-One Grab Spotlight

Two holes-in-one, scored under different circumstances, grab the leadlines in Marin County golf this week.

Last Friday at Las Gallinas, June Coniglio of Novato aced the 155-yard ninth hole, using a 3-wood. Fred Lack and Walter Lack Jr. of San Rafael witnessed the shot.

Hugh Farquanar of San Rafael went farther afield to get his ace, but he may end up being well rewarded. He got his hole-in-one at Bennet Valley golf course in Santa Rosa, and the shot qualified him for the Rusty Nail Hole-In-One Sweepstakes sponsored by the Drambuie Co. of Edinburgh, Scotland. He is now eligible to win a free trip to Scotland and $1,000 in cash.

On a more conventional note, two trophy playoffs were held during the past week. Mrs. John Sauter recorded 89-16-73 to triumph at Peacock Gap, while Mrs. Anthony Dedier's 73-11-62 was good enough to win at Las Gallinas.

Al Walton and Richard Dalton tied for first place with net scores of 61 on Secretary's Day at Mill Valley. Walton had 73-12-61 and Dalton had 74-13-61.

Mrs. Stan Fogler was low gross at Indian Valley on Guest Day with 82-14-68. Mrs. A. L. Cueva won on Charm Day at Marin Country Club with 94-26-68. Mrs. William May led with 86-11-75 in San Geronimo's Turkey Shoot, and Mrs. Frank Kern and Mrs. Helvetia Walker tied for fewest putts, 28, on Friday Playday at Mill Valley.

Mill Valley Teens Can Play Tennis

New rules governing use of Mill Valley's tennis courts on weekends have been amended to allow teen-agers use of one of the three courts.

At the urging of a resident, the parks and recreation commission Monday rescinded an earlier ban on teen use of the courts and said persons aged at least 14 will be allowed to make weekend reservations for one of the courts.

The new rules, recommended by the commission and adopted Nov. 1 by the city council, are designed to make the courts available for use by residents on weekends. A fee of $1 per hour per court will be charged and reservations will be necessary, according to commission secretary Megan Nolan.

In other business, the commission recommended to the city council that a three-block strip of land separating parallel Miller and Presidio avenues be landscaped to prevent cars from driving across it.

Novato Slates Cage League, Judo Program

Basketball and judo events highlight the Novato Recreation and Parks Department November calendar.

Team signups are being accepted for the men's basketball league program. The entry fee for this double round robin play is $45. An organizational meeting pertaining to league particulars will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Recreation office, 917 Sherman.

The department is also sponsoring a Golden State Warriors' game trip Nov. 18 for children eight through 14-years-old. Those paying the $1.50 resident or $2 non-resident fees before the 50-man quota is filled will see the Warriors play the Portland Trailblazers at the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

An eight-week children's judo course will be held at Rancho School from Nov. 15 through Jan. 17. The evening class costs $14 for non-residents, $13 for residents.

Nicklaus, Trevino Picked To Win 'Cup'

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI)—Defending champions Bruce Devlin and David Graham of Australia were first on the tee today to start the 19th World Cup golf tournament, but the heavy betting was on the U. S. team of Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino.

Two-man teams from 46 countries are entered in the 72-hole tournament over the PGA's 7,096-yard East course, a tough layout anytime and tougher now because of rains that have made the ground soft and the grass long.

The golfers will be playing for glory and not for money. First prize for the winning team is $1,000 each and another $1,000 goes to the individual low scorer. As Nicklaus says, it's less than he makes for a one-minute television commercial.

But the blond "golden bear" of the U. S. professional golf tour and "Super Mex" Trevino say they'll go all out to win for the United States. They were scheduled to tee off shortly before noon, among the last of the teams.

Given the best chance of beating the Americans were Devlin and Graham, the English team of Tony Jacklin and Peter Oosterhuis, and South Africans Gary Player and Harold Henning. Player and Henning won in 1965.

Neither of the Americans was spectacular in Wednesday's proam round, which they played with Jackie Gleason and Bob Hope. Nicklaus shot a 70, two under par, and Trevino a 74 over the breezy course.

"The course is going to be a little tougher than it was for the PGA," said Nicklaus, who won that tournament in February. He said he figured if he and Trevino can each average 282 — for a team total of 564 for the four-day contest—"that ought to be pretty good."

Low individual scorer in the Wednesday round was Chi Chi Rodriguez of Puerto Rico with a 69. Player had a 70, and so did Japan's Haruo Yasuda.

Two 49ers On NFL's Injury List

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Strong safety Mel Phillips and wide receiver Dick Witcher of the San Francisco 49ers will see limited duty, if any at all, against New Orleans Sunday at Candlestick Park.

Both listed as "probable" in the weekly injury report to NFL headquarters. Phillips reinjured an ankle and Witcher cut the palms of both hands diving for the ball against Minnesota last week.

Either Johnny Fuller or Mike Simpson will fill in for Phillips while Preston Riley or Jimmy Thomas will replace Witcher.

Two former 49ers are playing for the Saints and both had a prominent role in the 21-21 tie New Orleans got against the Oakland Raiders last week.

Running back Jim Strong scored on a 10-yard run and receiver Dave Parks caught a 10-yard touchdown pass from Edd Hargett in the final seconds to lift the Saints from a 21-14 deficit into the tie.

Clemente, Robinson Head 'Glove' Team

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, head the National and American leagues' all-star fielding teams announced Wednesday by the Sporting News.

The two nine-man teams were selected in a poll of managers and coaches in the two leagues.

Clemente, making the team for the 11th consecutive year, had all but two of a possible 55 votes. He was joined in the national league outfield by Bobby Bonds of the San Francisco Giants and Willie Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The National league infield is Wes Parker of Los Angeles at first, Cincinnati's Tommy Helms at second, Houston's Doug Rader at third and New York's Bud Harrelson at short with Bob Gibson of St. Louis the pitcher and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati, the catcher.

Robinson, named to the team for an unprecedented 12th straight year and chosen this year unanimously, was joined on the American league team by three other Orioles, shortstop Mark Belanger, outfielder Paul Blair and second baseman Dave Johnson.

Boston placed two players, first baseman George Scott and outfielder Carl Yastrzemski.

Also making the team are Cleveland catcher Ray Fosse, outfielder Amos Otis of Kansas City and Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat. Otis made the team for the first time.

Ex-Giant Jansen Joins Cubs As Pitching Coach

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

CHICAGO — Former San Francisco Giants pitching coach Larry Jansen has signed in the same capacity with the Chicago Cubs for the 1972 season, the Cubs announced today.

Jansen, who was with the Giants for the last 11 years, was released earlier this season. He will replace Mel Wright, who was returned to his former position in the Cubs' scouting organization.

Jansen, who won 122 games and lost 89 in the major leagues, spent most of his career with the Giants. His last major league season was 1956.

Cubs first baseman Joe Pepitone had surgery yesterday to remove a bone chip from his left elbow. His doctor said the operation was successful and that Pepitone probably would be released from the hospital before the weekend.

SPORT SHORTS

Tennis

BOLOGNA, Italy — Egypt's Ismail el Shafei and Yugoslavia's Zeljko Franulovic last night advanced in the Bologna Open tennis tournament. El Shafei defeated South Africa's Bob Maud 6-3, 6-2. Franulovic came from behind to win 1-6, 7-5, 6-1 over Australian-born Bob Carmichael, now playing for France.

Boxing

HOUSTON — Muhammad Ali says he will knock out heavyweight Buster Mathis before the final 12th round by using a hit-and-run style.

"A couple of times I'll go inside and stay a while with him," Ali said yesterday at his training camp. "One time I'll go in and stay and it'll be over. If he tags me, well, he hits me."

Ali and Mathis meet next Wednesday in the Astrodome.

Bowling

AKRON, Ohio — Johnny Petraglia's $625 in prize money in the recent Mercury Open at Rochester, N.Y., has made him the first member of the Professional Bowlers Association tour ever to surpass the $80,000 mark in earnings in a single season. Petraglia, of Brooklyn, N.Y., has $80,490.

Golf

PALM BEACH SHORES, Fla. — The Royal Melbourne golf club of Australia has been chosen as the site of next year's world cup golf championship, it was announced here last night.

The 20th annual event will be held in Melbroune Nov. 8-12, 1972.

Five Giants Turn Disc Jockeys

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Five San Francisco Giants, including Willie McCovey and Gaylord Perry, turn disc jockeys next week over a local radio station.

Each morning, from 7 to 10, a different member of the Giants will spin records, talk baseball and do all the other things disc jockeys do over station KSFO.

Catcher Russ Gibson kicks off the week on Monday and will be followed by third baseman Al Gallagher, McCovey, pitcher Jerry Johnson and Perry.

Of the group McCovey is the only one with radio-TV experience. Willie once had a sports show on a Sacramento, Calif., television station and in recent years has filled in as a color man on Giants broadcasts when on the sidelines with injuries.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Georgia Gets Stiff Test Saturday

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Test time will come a little early this year at the University of Georgia.

Georgia's defense, one of the best in the nation, will get its stiffest test Saturday when the Bulldogs play host to Auburn and Pat Sullivan in a battle of unbeatens.

Sullivan, one of the country's top college quarterbacks, ranks third nationally in passing and is fifth in total offense. He's completed better than 58 per cent of his passes this season and has thrown 16 touchdown passes, nine to Terry Beasley, the Tigers' outstanding flanker.

"To beat Auburn we must contain Pat Sullivan," says Georgia Coach Vince Dooley, and his club has all the credentials. Since a 56-25 opening game victory over Oregon State, the Bulldogs have logged four shutouts and have permitted only one touchdown in each of their other four victories.

While the Georgia defense will get the stiffest test, the Bulldog offense may do some testing of its own. Georgia, led by sophomore quarterback Andy Johnson and replacement James Ray in the last two games, has averaged just short of 34 points a game. Auburn scouts rate Robert Honeycutt, Jimmy Poulos and Ricky Lake as the best trio of running backs they've faced this season.

Georgia (No. 6) is a three point favorite over Auburn, the No. 5 team in the nation and bowl representatives will be watching this one closely.

Elsewhere, all of the remaining top 10 teams are heavy favorites. No. 1 Nebraska is a 33-point choice over Kansas State while Oklahoma is 30 over Kansas. Third-ranked Michigan is 17 over Purdue and No. 4 Alabama is 24 over Miami (Fla.)

Penn State (7) is 30 over North Carolina State, Notre Dame (8) is 28 over Tulane, Arizona State (9) is a big choice against Wyoming and 10th-ranked Stanford is 27 over San Jose State.

Char Triumphs In Table Tennis

Russ Char defeated Bud Bowers, 21-16, 21-13, to win the Marin Table Tennis Club's handicap tournament Tuesday night at San Rafael High School gym No. 2.

Seals Start Road Swing

BOSTON (UPI) —There'll be an angry bunch of Bruins waiting in Boston Garden tonight for the surprising California Golden Seals.

The last time the teams met Oct. 28 in Boston, the upstart Seals shut out the high-scoring Bruins 2-0 behind the goaltending of rookie Gilles Meloche. It's a good bet that Meloche will be in the nets again tonight.

And only Wednesday night, the Bruins were beaten 3-1 by the Chicago Black Hawks.

But there's hope for new coach Vic Stasiuk, a former Bruin, and his young band of skaters. The Seals are 5-1-1 in their last seven games while the Bruins are 3-4.

On the road, the Seals haven't lost in three starts.

"We've got to get wins right off the bat," said Stasiuk. "We know it's tough in Boston. But if we can split on the road, we'll come home in pretty good shape."

Boston has been having problems this season with the outspoken Derek Sanderson and injuries to Ted Green, Don Awrey and Don Marcotte.

"As for us," said Stasiuk, "we have no aches or pains. That's unusual. Everybody is healthy except Tom Webster (who is hospitalized with a back ailment)."

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current regular price less the following dollar allowance:

Mrs. Tappan

Brown

THE SAN FRANCISCO architectural firm of Gensler and Associates, Inc., has appointed as vice-presidents Harold Edelstein of Tiburon and Steve C. Thompson of Corte Madera. Both joined the company in 1966. Edelstein, as chief architect, will be responsible for the production of all major architectural projects of the firm. Thompson will serve as the senior designer and participate in overall management.

A. CLYDE JONES, owner of Rafael Floor Covering, San Rafael, has been elected first vice-president of the California State Builders Exchange, an association of 18 local builders exchanges. He is a past president and currently a director of the Marin Builders Exchange.

NEW ROSS RESIDENT Mrs. Kit Tappan, who has moved here from Newport Beach, has joined the San Rafael office of Dean Witter and Co. She is a daughter of Margo Margossian, manager of Sherman Clay in San Rafael, and is believed to be the only woman stockbroker accredited by the New York Stock Exchange in the North Bay. Before going into the investment business about four years ago she was a teacher.

DOUGLAS W. BROWN of Santa Rosa has been promoted to assistant vice-president and manager of Crocker Bank's Northgate office in San Rafael. He has been with the bank 10 years, serving in managerial capacities at various offices in the West Bay region — most recently as manager of the Valencia-Mission office in San Francisco.

FORREST A. GOFF of San Rafael, owner of Easy Rentals of San Rafael, has been attending the California Rental Association convention and 25th anniversary celebration in Palm Springs this week. Equipment rental dealers from all over the world are attending and many new items are being displayed.

VILLAGE FRAMES AND GALLERY of Fairfax will sponsor its third annual art show tomorrow night through Monday at the Mill Valley Art Club. This year it will display the works of 14 artists.

DURING THE MONTH of November, the paintings of Ruth L. Schwartz and Selma G. Maas are on display at Redwood Bank in San Rafael. Mrs. Schwartz, a native of Cleveland, has lived in Marin since 1962. She won a best in oils at the Novato Oldtwon Festival this year. Mrs. Maas has been in this country from Germany since 1949 and has won several prizes. She is a member of the Marin Society of Artists and Society of Western Artists.

Insurance Firm Expands South

LOS ANGELES (BW) — California Life Insurance Co., a 50-year-old Oakland headquartered firm, has announced its expansion into Southern California with establishment of a Los Angeles office.

The new facilities will open Nov. 15 under the direction of Los Angeles-based officers.

PIE Moves Toward A Big Merger

PHILADELPHIA (BW) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has approved International Utilities Corp.'s application to acquire Pacific Intermountain Express Co., a major step toward the trucking industry's largest merger.

IU has owned Ryder Truck Lines, another major motor carrier, since 1965. PIE is the sixth largest trucking company in the country and Ryder ranks ninth.

Combined they would form the second largest U.S. motor carrier with revenues of $261 million for the 12 months ended June 30.

PIE's routes reach from coast to coast, north of the Mason-Dixon line, while Ryder operations are primarily north-south in the Eastern third of the nation.

Chicago and St. Louis are major junction points for the two companies' routes. Under provisions of the ICC order, IU is to submit a plan for merger of PIE with Ryder for ICC approval within a year.

Completion of the acquisition is awaiting action by the Civil Aeronatucis Board.

Uncertainty On Market Front

Pint-sized swingers in the electronics were in reverse gear. Airlines also came under pressure, but price movement in other stock groups, including steels, motors, chemicals, and rails, generally were confined to fractions with a downward bias.

Prices also backed off in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

On the Big Board, weak spots included IBM down 3 1-4, Westinghouse 1, Burroughs 1 3-4 Motorola 1 3-8, Zenith 1 1-2, Magnavox 1 1-8, Wrigley 2 1-2, Monsanto 1, UAL Inc. 1 1-8, Flying Tiger 1 1-4, and Superior Oil 1.

Profit Is Shown For Second Half

PALO ALTO (UPI) —Varian Associates on Monday reported profits of $1.1 million for the second half of fiscal 1971.

During the first half year it had reported a loss of $5.4 million.

IT'S THE FASTEST

Workmen make final checks on a Newell Industries Inc. of Sunnyvale tape recorder prior to its shipment to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The ADR-2015 is the world's fastest tape recorder, Newell spokesmen claim, with the capability of recording or playing up to 80 million bits of information a second. The recorder is used as part of satellite image processing systems.

Chicago Exchange's Volume On The Rise

Trades totaled 259,802, an increase of 61,598 or 31.1 per cent over the October 1970 volume. This followed a rise of 45,467 to 238,650 transactions in September, an improvement of 23 per cent over September 1970.

Trades in the two-month September-October period totaled 498,452, up 107,065 or 27.4 per cent from the year-earlier period.

"Continuing uncertainty relative to Phase II, the international monetary situation and conflicting economic hopes and fears made price protection through hedging increasingly desirable to all facets of the agribusiness world," Harris said.

"There have been fundamental changes in the supply/demand factors which affect prices of the commodities traded at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. As one example. tremendous increases of feed grains have had noticeable impact on the livestock numbers and feeding margins.

"Our major increases in volume came in frozen pork bellies, live cattle, and live hogs, all of which were listed within the current decade," he said.

Revokes Freeze

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (BW) — The Puerto Rican government's consumer service administration has revoked the long-standing cement price freeze to establish a more flexible price control system that allows increases of 5 cents per bag annually at the producer's level.

Port Of Oakland Buys 2 Cranes

OAKLAND (BW) — The Port of Oakland has purchased two container cranes at the Seatrain terminal from Seatrain Lines for $2.06 million as part of the port's acquisition of that facility.

The port completed the acquisition of the 33-acre terminal earlier in the year at a cost of $20 million to secure the only shipping facility on the Oakland waterfront not owned by the port.

The port has negotiated a lease and preferential assignment of the complex back to seatrain.

Del Monte Picks A New Executive

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Del Monte Corp. has announced the election of Warren C. Hageman, 48, to the newly created position of vice president-profit improvement projects.

Hageman, who only last February was elevated to vice president of the Diversified Food Company's U.S. production activities, thus assumes broader responsibility for achieving Del Monte's maximum earnings potential, according to Landis.

Acquires Firm

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Romaine Corp., Los Angeles-based real estate and contracting company, has announced it has agreed to acquire Capitol Tire Sales Warehouses Inc. of Sacramento for $1.8 million cash and approximately 250,000 shares of Romaine stock.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Working Capital— How It's Figured

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Could you explain how the figure for working capital is calculated? — C.Y.

A. Working capital is the remainder after current liabilities are subtracted from current assets. The latter includes cash, governments, securities, receivables, prepayments and inventory.

In other words, items that can be converted readily to cash. Current liabilities include the current portion of long term debt, dividends payable, accounts payable, income taxes and any other current debts of the corporation.

When these debts are subtracted from the above items owned by the company the difference is working capital.

This brings us to another important balance sheet ratio, the liquidity ratio, arrived at by finding what per cent cash is of current liabilities. By allowing its cash to dwindle, a corporation can find itself on the brink of bankruptcy.

According to the Department of Commerce, corporate liquidity has been improving in recent months. From a low point of 17.8 per cent in the third quarter of 1970, this ratio had moved to 19.3 per cent at the 1971 half.

Although current liabilities have risen steadily, improving profits have been responsible for the even faster rise in corporate cash positions.

Q. I hold quite a few shares of Rogers Brothers stock (OTC). They haven't paid any dividends for some time; and I need income.

Can these shares be sold without going through the New York stock market? Is there any chance of a stock dividend at the end of the year? — A.L.

A. Company hasn't paid a stock dividend since 1967, nor cash since 1969. With Phase II in effect after Nov. 15, such a change in dividend policy would be subject to regulation. In the year ended June 30, sales moved up 3.5 per cent but earnings, after extraordinary items were off 6 per cent to $2.11 a share.

Rogers processes and dehydrates vegetables primarily for sale to institutions. Earnings have been trendless and shares have little appeal.

Sale may be consummated through a broker, either a member of the New York Stock Exchange or National Association of Security Dealers.

Building Up In Petaluma

The Petaluma building inspection department issued $2,480,535 in building permits in October, $1,572,505 more than the $908,030 issued in September and $1,611,304 more than issued in October 1970.

The department granted a total of 147 permits including 65 single-family homes, 62 apartment units for Baywood Arms and 20 units for Cherry Hill apartments. The permit also included a duplex, 11 alterations, seven garages and 12 accessory buildings.

The permits brought a total of $14,508 in fees to the city.

A Safer Christmas For The Little Ones

With the "official" opening of the Christmas buying season two weeks away, the Food and Drug Administration has come up with both a warning and a reassurance about the safety of this year's Yule toys for children.

They'll be safer than last year, said the FDA — largely because the FDA itself has banned 187 toys outright and required manufacturers to make changes in many others to eliminate things dangerous to little children.

But, warned Malcolm W. Jensen, FDA's director of product safety, the administration has not been able to examine and test all the 5,000 new toys on this year's market, so buyers should do their own inspections before taking home playthings that may be hazardous.

BANNING OF 187 potentially dangerous toys this year is a welcome move by FDA, which last year banned none despite a 1969 law authorizing it to establish safety standards for toys and order off the market all that failed to meet them.

The law came too late to be of any help on the 1969 Christmas season, being signed by President Nixon in mid-November. Last year, FDA failed to take action under it. Consumers Union sued the federal agency as a result. It lost the suit — but it won its point, as the banning of the list of 187 this year proves.

Very innocent looking toys can be hazardous, as Jensen demonstrated for newsmen when he announced the bans. He showed a soft toy elephant that squeaked — adorably, except the squeaker could pop out and be swallowed by a little child, and might choke the swallower. He also showed a toy plastic lawnmower with a sharp spike exposed if a child removed the top — which was easily done. Manufacturers made corrections in these toys to eliminate the hazards. The 187 banned, said Jensen, could not be corrected.

Among the more dangerous playthings have been many of the multitude of war toys that made Christmas shelves look like arsenals for several years, until revulsion against the Vietnam War brought sharp diminution in production of such items.

But dangers may lurk in such old standbys as Teddy bears — some of which have eyes that are really pins, easily pulled out by baby. And some toy electrical appliances — stoves, washers, etc. — have posed real hazards of burns and electric shocks.

THERE HAS LONG been outcry about unsafe toys. In 1966 Congress passed what was called the Child Protection Act. But it was so full of holes as to be worthless. Two years later, it was estimated that 17 million children were injured and 15,000 killed annually by their toys.

Then Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, pushed through the 1969 act that gives FDA power to set safety standards and order unsafe toys off the market.

We're happy to see that FDA is enforcng the law this year. But when you start that Christmas shopping round for children, grandchildren or nephews and nieces, it would pay to examine the toys yourself for possible hazards. No one wants a child's Christmas joy to be turned into tragedy.

Two-Thirds Requirement Villain Of Piece

There were a few mistakes in "North Marin Water Bond Is Beaten" in Wednesday's I-J. I am 26, not 28, as reported. The years are going by fast enough without help, thank you.

Second, I did not "campaign(ed) for defeat of the bond issue" (Measure C in Novato). I very specifically stated at the candidates night, attended by the I-J reporter, that I believed the measure should pass because the taxpayers had a contractual obligation to fill and this would have been the cheapeet way to do it . . .

I did point out to the voters that the bonds would be used for one of two purposes — and the voters had no say over which purpose their money would be used for: enlarging the present pipeline or building the now defunct aqueduct. This undoubtably caused some voters to vote against the bonds, understandably so. I feel, as apparently do most of the voters in the district, that anyone asked to pay taxes is mature enough and responsible enough to say how those taxes are to be spent.

However, the reall villain in the defeat of both Measure C and Measure A is the state requirement that a bond issue must be approved by ⅔ of the voters. Conceived in age of lower government spending by local agencies, this requirement is archaic and needs revision. . .

Corte Madera Council Always Businesslike

In fairness to my fellow councilmen I cannot let your Larry Mowell's article, "Simple Matters are Toughest" in a recent Reporter's Ntebook pass without comments. It appears to me that this new reporter (it was his first appearance at a Corte Madera council meeting) either does not appreciate the democratic process that has always governed at our council meetings, or, and more likely, he did not note the reasons and the significance of the remarks leading to the actions taken.

The Corte Madera Council has been successfully using a consent calendar for several months. This plan is an ideal time saver when properly used for the approval of routine items of a non-controversial nature, such as setting dates for hearings, transfer of funds in accordance with previously approved budgets, approval of reports previously submitted to the councilmen, etc., etc. The reason so many items were removed at the last meeting was that most of them should not have been included in the consent calendar.

I asked to have four ordinance items removed and handled individually because the law requires a roll-call vote by the council on ordinance items. I consulted the town's attorney before making this request. To have passed three of these items by a voice-vote as part of the consent calendar would have been illegal.

Other councilmen had valid reasons for requesting individual action on the items they requested withdrawn from the calendar . . .

Corte Madera's council has always conducted its meetings in a businesslike manner giving every item a fair hearing. I personally resent the implication in the article that we waste our time on unimportant items at the expense of the important ones.

Alaskans Deserve Final Settlement

The United States Congress is about to settle the century-old question of the land rights for Alaska's 60,000 Indians, Eskimos, and Aleuts. The House of Representatives and the Senate have recently passed differing bills, and the differences between them are being resolved now by a House-Senate Conference Committee.

Both bills grant the natives title to 40 million acres of land, a fraction of the land they claim. The house would distribute the land over a period of 12 years, whereas the Senate would provide for immediate land selection and possession by the natives.

The natives realize that if they do not receive their entire 40 million acres now the state of Alaska will expropriate the best native lands and open them up to rapid commercial exploitation. The natives already have waited for more than 100 years for Congress to fulfill its promise to legislate a land settlement. What's more, a partial settlement would be of little economic benefit to the natives at this time. Without an economic base now, it is virtually certain that Alaska's natives will be subject to another generation of poverty. In order to insure a truly just settlement of the land rights issue it is imperative that the final bill grant the natives immediate title to 40 million acres of land. Please write or wire Sen. Henry M. Jackson and Congressman Wayne Aspinall urging support for this position.

Angela Trial Not Wanted In San Jose

This kind of "convention" Santa Clara County does not need nor want. We're speaking of transfer of Angela Davis' trial here with its estimated 200 news media people and others from throughout the world.

Also, this trial will bring many undesirables — some looking for trouble — and, conservatively, it will cost this county $500,000-plus for security even though some authorities say Marin County and possibly the state will pay trial costs. Is this the penalty a county pays for keeping its court calendar in better shape than most? . . .

Little Sutter County (43,000 pop.) —still facing the Juan Corona trial for 25 mass murders, has estimated its cost will exceed $500,000, and Marin County plainly statesit already has expended three quarters of a million dollars for security. Marin authorities admitted "breathing a sigh of relief" (exact words) as soon as move to Santa Clara County was announced. Is this justice?

The presiding judge and the DA of Santa Clara County did not (reportedly) know the trial might come here. What kind of communication does our state judicial system have, if any? Can it really stuff an undesirable, costly and volatile case down this county's throat?

Our jails are already vastly overcrowded and our county budget "way out of kilter." And when proponents for the trial being held here indicate the case has not saturated the news locally, I must laugh as it has been in the San Jose Sun, Mercury-News, Spartan Daily, Chronicle, Tribune, Examiner and others, including audio-visual media since killing of the Marin judge — and those media are widely read/viewed/heard in this valley. Take the trial elsewhere!

Two Forgotten Groups: Taxpayers, Farm Workers

SACRAMENTO — There are at least two groups of forgotten Californians in this 1971 session of the state legislature: Taxpayers and farm workers.

The taxpayers will get nothing, except withholding for their state income taxes. That may make it easier for the state to take their earnings. It will also make it easier for the state to spend it.

What the taxpayer really needs is a tax cut. The middle income groups are hurting. In fact, some leading economists, such as Elliot Janeway, see a recession coming and advise citizens to hang on to their money. This sounds great. But how? You have to use most of your Christmas Club savings to pay property taxes. So much for the taxpayer.

The farm workers will get nothing, which is often their lot. Where they once were batted around by corporate growers, they are now batted around by corporate unions.

What the farm worker really needs is protection of his right of a secret vote to join or not to join a union. But the farm worker won't get that out of the legislature any more than the taxpayer got tax relief.

THERE HAVE BEEN three attempts this session to provide the farm worker with the guarantee of a secret ballot. One by Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove, one by Assemblyman Bill Ketchum, R-Paso Robles, and one by State Sen. John Harmer, R-Glendale.

The Harmer bill made it through the Senate but died in Assembly Labor Relations. All of the bills were killed because Cesar Chavez and his United Farm Workers wanted no part of them. Union kingpins came to Sacramento and said "no." There were not enough lawmakers with enough guts to stand against Cesar's legions.

Small farmers and small farm workers came to Sacramento, too. They rallied in support of the three bills. They made it clear they want to be free men — free from Cesar, free from the sweetheart union contracts signed by the big growers.

But the majority of the legislators in committee didn't listen to them. They paid their heed to Cesar.

BUT ALL THIS may pass away next year. What legislators wouldn't or couldn't do, the public may do for itself.

A group of farm workers and small farmers have begun a signature drive for an initiative proposal which, they hope, will be on next June's ballot. The measure would guarantee farm workers the right to join or not join a union, guarantee a secret ballot, establish an election and collective bargaining process for the farm workers through the State Department of Industrial Relations.

It would also outlaw the secondary boycott which Chavez has used so effectively to whip-saw growers into submitting to UFWOC.

The initiative drive is being headed by Dolores Mendoza of Delano, a longtime foe of Chavez and his Madame LaFarge, Delores Huerta. Vice chairman is Rev. Michael Cross, a Catholic priest from Salinas.

The taxpayers and the farm workers may have been forgotten this year. They have something else in common. Both groups will probably have initiative measures on the 1972 ballot.

Which is fine. When your pockets are being picked, or your rights are being squashed, while some politicians continue to fry their own and other fish, the initiative is the way to go.

Compromise Plan Only Hope For Foreign Aid Appropriation

MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The test just ahead of foreign aid is hardly less a test of whether the system of divided powers works or not. To chop down the whole foreign aid program is a disaster. This is far more than scoring political points, since so much turns on the continuity of many of the programs.

The growing imbalance between military and economic aid was the root cause of the Senate defeat of the administration's foreign aid bill. A little-known factor was a secret study by the staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee showing that of the total to be dispensed over the next five years, $27 billion would go for military aid and $24 billion for economic assistance.

In the measure voted down a total of $1.723 billion went for all military purposes against less than half that for various forms of economic help. The result was to unite conservatives, who have long felt foreign aid spending was excessive, with opponents of the administration military policy such as Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who calls it "American imperialism."

NOW A COMPROMISE has been put together with military assistance in one package and economic aid in another. This will presumably wind up with the support of active opponents such as Fulbright. Senators Mike Mansfield, Frank Church and other Democrats, together with skeptical Republican moderates such as Senators George Aiken and Clifford Case. In short, it would be a coalition insuring passage of those parts of the package essential for the continuity of aid programs in developing countries.

Soundings by this observer indicate that the compromise is the only chance for survival of foreign aid in the Senate. Will the White House go along? If the decision is to accept it, then passage can be fairly swift, although inevitably when the separate military phase comes up the debate will be prolonged. To fight the compromise, using all the pressure tactics in the White House arsenal, will mean no foreign aid for an indefinite time as the Senate wrangles over the dry bones of past errors and present hostilities.

The administration has a lot on its side in the current dispute. As originally sent to Congress in April, the whole aid structure was to be reorganized, with the military separated from the economic. Outright military grants, the funding of military sales and support assistance for maintaining large military establishments would go into one package labeled "security assistance."

This was an overhaul long overdue. But the House Foreign Relations Committee fell back on the format of the Foreign Aid Act of 1961. Two years, the committee reported, would be required to study reorganization of the system. Therefore, more of the same would be in order for the two-year interval.

Obviously, that was not good enough, so when the tired, old bundle reached the Senate the result could have been predicted. Fifteen Republicans, including Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, chairman of the Republican National Committee, joined 26 Democrats to make the score 41 to 27.

FOREIGN AID has no constituency. That has been increasingly clear as the military share increases year by year. It has less popular support today than ever before as the scramble to cut back hits one program after another.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, the grand panjandrum of the House Ways and Means Committee, is saying privately that the deficit this fiscal year will be not $30 billion, as has been widely reported, but $35 billion. For a Republican administration bringing out of the past an inherent faith in budget balancing, that is a staggering figure. This may jazz up the economy as President Nixon, a very recent convert to Keynesianism and the spur of a deficit, apparently believes it will.

But the claims of developing peoples, already suffering from the Nixon "new economics" with the commodity prices falling, rate low as against the claims of the powerful constituencies pressing for housing, school lunches, improved medical care. For the United States, the richest nation, to be a dropout on foreign aid is intolerable.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Benevolent Despot Faces Showdown In Tunisia

by PHIL NEWSOM.
UP Foreign Analyst

As revolutions have changed the political faces of Algeria and Libya, Tunisia, sandwiched between them, has been a model of stability—thanks largely to its president, Habib Bourguiba.

Bourguiba has guided Tunisia's destinies with an absolute, though benevolent hand, throughout the 15 years of its independence from France. Now, in ill health and committed to a promise not to seek office again at the end of his present term in 1974, he seeks to prepare the way for his successor.

But power once attained becomes a habit and Bourguiba, while paying lip service to encroaching time, finds it increasingly difficult to institute the government reforms which a little more than a year ago he himself promulgated.

THE TUNISIA he seeks for the future is to be in his own image, but he argues that the people are not yet mature enough for democracy and that they must be led to it slowly.

He is particularly concerned that Tunisia is squeezed between two military dictatorships, and he believes a regime with a strong executive is necessary to insure Tunisia's survival between the two.

As "supreme combatant" during Tunisia's struggle for independence, Bourguiba has had no real rival for his authority. But now a political crisis is developing, brought on by the same emotions that war within Bourguiba himself, the one that tells him to start relaxing his grip on power, and the other that tells him he cannot.

THE CRISIS HAD BEEN simmering below the surface for two years and broke into the open in late October at the eighth congress of Tunisia's ruling Neo-Destour (Socialist) party.

It was the first such congress in seven years, having been long delayed because of Bourguiba's failing health, and even then taking place only because Bourguiba yielded to pressure.

The opposition emerged quickly.

A large group led by Ahmed Mestiri a 46-year-old lawyer recently forced from his post as minister of interior, demanded democratization of the party and liberalization of Tunisia's political life, including greater press freedom and the right of the party and the people to select Bourguiba's successor.

Further controversy developed over selection of the 14-man political bureau which is the party's chief executive group.

It had been Bourguiba's practice to select by himself the men to hold important posts both in the government and the party.

He compromised in the end, but not before Mestiri had ben suspended from the party and accused of sedition in the controlled press.

BOURGUIBA FURTHER made it clear he believed the congress's only accomplishment had been to divide the country.

On the whole it is a melancholy picture.

Bourguiba has done a good job for his country. He has been a friend of the West and was one of the few Arab leaders with the courage to talk back to the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

The voices in opposition were relatively moderate, and in stifling them Bourguiba may bring about the very power struggle over his successor he sought to avoid.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

State Test Results Tell Mostly Story Of Failure

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The preliminary report on last school year's statewide testing program presented today to the California State Board of Education tells a story of failure.

Despite increased spending, special state and federal programs, and a wide assortment of innovations, California's public school pupils continue to perform generally below national norms on the state-mandated tests. Moreover, the only improvement has been in reading in the first three grades — and a change of tests makes these comparisons perhaps invalid.

Wilson C. Riles, state superintendent of public instruction, presented preliminary results of last May's tests, given in reading in first, second and third grades: in reading, language, spelling and mathematics in sixth and 12th grades. The final district-by-district report will not be ready until next spring, he said.

RILES TOOK modest comfort from the generally depressing test results in his report to the board, noting "consistent though modest improvement" in reading in the first three grades.

In sixth and 12th grades, however, he noted slight declines in statewide test scores last spring as compared with the previous year.

First graders, from the start of the statewide testing program in 1966 through 1969, were given the Stanford Reading Test. They consistently scored far below the publisher's norms, which were based on nationwide sampling. In 1970, California switched to the Cooperative Primary Reading Test. On this, the Golden State's first graders that year still fell below the publisher's norms, but not nearly so far below as they had on the Stanford test. Last May, California first graders' median rank was actually a trifle above the publisher's norm for the new test. However, the median California first grader, tested in May near the end of the school year, still was two months below what the test publisher considered the entering level for second grade.

SECOND GRADERS switched to the new test last May, so there is no way to compare the 1971 scores with previous years — in which, like the first graders, they fell far below the publisher's norms on the Stanford test. On the New Cooperative Primary test, the second graders averaged out precisely on the publisher's norm — but again the median was two months short of entering level for third grade.

Sixth graders were given the Lorge-Thorndike "intelligence test" — a general verbal ability test — and on it fell an average of .9 of a point below the previous year's sixth graders.

Median sixth grade scores on the state-mandated Comprehensive Tests of Basic Skills in reading were down .5 of a point from 1970; in language, down .8; in spelling, down .1; in mathematics, down 2.3 In spelling, they were just about at the publisher's norm; in the other subjects, below the norm.

High school seniors were given the Lorge-Thorndike "IQ" test and the Iowa Tests of Educational Development. Last May's seniors averaged a half-point below the previous year's in "IQ." At median of the scores, they were down .3 of a point in reading, .9 in language, .1 in spelling, and .3 in mathematics. In all, they averaged below the publisher's norms.

IN FISCAL 1966-67 — the year after the state testing program started — California was spending $613 per pupil on its public schools, according to U.S. Office of Education figures. In fiscal 1970-71, the expenditure was $799 per pupil, according to figures prepared by the National Education Association.

California has increased its per-pupil expenditures by 30 per cent in four years — considerably above the inflation rate. But according to many educator leaders, including Riles, that has not been enough.

The test scores indicate that the additional spending has not resulted in increasing pupils' achievement.

Booby Trap Plan Uncovered

CAM RANH BAY, Vietnam (UPI)—American soldiers have been warned of a Viet Cong plan to mail Christmas packages to them booby trapped to explode when opened.

Guerrilla girls have been ordered to make up to GIs in restaurants, night clubs, hotels and other public places to obtain individual mailing addresses, the Army's Cam Ranh Bay support command reported today.

"Packages designed to explode when opened would then be mailed or delivered to these addresses at a later date," the command said.

Restaurant Will Be Atop Peak

KILLINGTON, VT. (UPI) — Killington Ski Area is constructing a restaurant atop 4,241-foot Killington Peak, second highest mountain in Vermont.

"We anticipate it will be in the highest restaurant facility in New England except for Mount Washington," a spokesman said. Mount Washington, a 6,288-foot peak in neighboring New Hampshire, is the highest mountain in the Northeast.

The spokesman said it is expected the restaurant will be open in time for the 1972 ski season. Observation decks will be added next year. The facility is an extension of the area's 3-mile gondola lift, longest ski lift in the world.

Court Finding Against Lumber Company Seen As Boomerang

A recent state court decision, heralded as a major victory for conservationists, could possibly have a boomerang effect in Marin County.

The District Court of Appeal in San Francisco threw out a lower court judgment in favor of a San Mateo County timber company and against the county's right to regulate logging operations by requiring a use permit.

The lower court had ruled that San Mateo County's timber operations use permit ordinance was invalid on the grounds that the State Forest Practice Act preempted the field of regulating timber operations.

In its appeal (which Marin County joined as a "friend of the court"), San Mateo County questioned the constitutionality of the State Forest Practice Act, charging that control and regulation of the timber industry was in the hands of the timber industry and that the state had unconstitutionally delegated its legislative power.

THE APPEAL COURT agreed, finding the Forest Practice Act a constitutional offense against the public.

"In the case at bench the complaint is that public injury must inevitably result from placing exclusive control of the logging industry in the hands of persons who may be expected to profit most from the gathering of logs at the lowest cost and without additional safeguards," the court said.

The decision is in a sort of limbo as it has been appealed by the lumber company to the State Supreme Court.

While the San Mateo case was pending, the State Forest Practice Act was amended by the state legislature to allow the counties of Marin, San Mateo and Santa Clara to adopt rules and regulations stricter than those promulgated by the forest practice committees, who set regulations throughout the rest of the state.

BUT, ACCORDING to Deputy County Counsel George J. Silvestri Jr., the effect of the court decision, combined with the economics of the timber industry, could be to bring lumbering back to Marin.

Because of the local regulations adopted by Marin, it is now "not economically desirable to log in Marin County," Silvestri said.

However, if the District Court of Appeal decision is upheld by the State Supreme Court, other Northern California counties might adopt regulations as strict as Marin's.

In that case, according to Silvestri, Marin could again be economically more attractive than northern counties because of its proximity to San Francisco Bay and the ships that take lumber to Japan for processing.

"There's no reason to suspect" that the northern counties —where the lumber industry is a far bigger piece of the economy than it ever was in Marin — would adopt regulations as strict as Marin's, but "stranger things have happened," Silvestri said.

AND THEN THERE'S Marilyn Ashley, a Marin Municipal Court clerk. Mrs. Ashley rushed her cat to an animal birth control clinic in San Rafael to be spayed one day last week. A wasted trip, she learned when the clinic called later in the day to report that little kitty was not pregnant, did not need to be spayed, and was a male.

The General Will Be Back — That's The Way The World Goes

WASHINGTON — The best quote to come out of the Amchitka H-bomb test can be attributed to Maj. Gen. Edward B. Giller, who has the title of "assistant general manager for military application" at the Atomic Energy Commission. After the test, General Giller told reporters, "I don't foresee another test, but I won't say we'll never come back. It depends on how the world goes."

Well, everyone knows how the world is going to go.

THE RUSSIAN military chiefs are going to say to the Kremlin, "See here, Comrade Rulers, the Americans have just exploded a five-megaton bomb 6,000 feet below surface of earth. Is important we explode six-megaton bomb 7,000 feet below surface of earth or they will think they are ahead of us in nuclear warfare."

"Is safe exploding six-megaton bomb below the earth?" the Kremlin asks.

"Who knows? But national security, it is involved, and safe is not what we should worry about. Is Spartan missile we must worry about."

"Spartan missile, Comrade Generals?"

"Is missile used in ABM system to shoot down our missile. Americans say explosion was success. Is proof that we cannot get through their defense. It giving United States such confidence they might attack us without warning. Soviets must explode six-megation H-bomb to show Washington not ahead in missile race."

"Comrade General," the Kremlin asks, "suppose this explosion is causing earthquakes all over Siberia?"

"Impossible, Comrad Rulers. The Soviet supreme court has just voted four to three that six-megaton H-bomb can't cause earthquakes."

"All right, Conrade Generals. Go with explosion. National security more important than lousy earthquakes."

SIX MONTHS LATER, back at the White House:

"Mr. President, the Soviets have just exploded a six-megaton H-bomb 7,000 feet below the surface of the earth."

"What does that mean, General?"

"We're not sure, sir. But it could mean that their Shashlik missile can penetrate our Spartan missile, which as you know is our first line of defense, whenever we get it built."

"I was afraid you'd say that, General. I would hate to be the first President to go down in history who allowed a Shashlik missile to get through our Spartan missile defense system."

"Precisely, sir. This test has given the Soviets added confidence and, unless we prove to them that we have something to stop the Shashlik, we might have to blink in our next eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation."

"WHAT DO YOU suggest, General?"

"That we lay it on the Soviets once and for all. We must set off a 15-megaton H-bomb 20,000 feet below the surface of the earth."

"Are there any environmental hazards?"

"None comparable to the risk of our national security. We might lose part of Alaska in the explosion and there could be some cracks in the western half of Canada, but that's the way the world goes."

"I'm for the test, of course, General, but I have to think of the political repercussions. Suppose the environmentalists sue and take the case to the Supreme Court?"

"But Mr. President, have you forgotten? It's your Supreme Court."

Fairfax Woman Pleads Innocence

Pamela Mae Wilson, 20, of Fairfax has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to charges of possessing stolen property and fraudulent possession of checks.

Preliminary hearing was set Tuesday for Nov. 23.

She was arrested Nov. 1 when she tried to use a credit card at a Sausalito store. Employees, believing the card was stolen, called police who subsequently found several credit cards and a checkbook in her purse.

Short-Lived Dice

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—With an approximate playing life of only two days, a finished set of Las Vegas casino dice is the culmination of more than 11 months of curing and a precision machining involving 13 separate operations.

Innocent Pleas In San Rafael Armed Robbery

George Gregory Watts, 18, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court to two charges of armed robbery.

A codefendant, Ernest Biard, 18, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent to the same charges Monday.

Preliminary hearing was set for both men for next Tuesday.

They were arrested in San Francisco Nov. 2 on a warrant charging them with being among four men who robbed a San Rafael couple Oct. 29.

John David Mackie and Sandra Ann Pazamickas were bound, gagged and robbed at gunpoint of $600 in personal possessions and cash, according to police.

Two other men still are sought.
